These Letters Recommending Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Will Interest You

Youngstown, Ohio.—“Last fall I began to feel mean and my back hurt me and I could hardly do my little bit of housework. I was played out when I would just sweep one room and would have to rest. I would have to put a cushion behind me when I would sit down and at night I could not sleep unless I had something under my back. I had awful cramps every month and was just nearly all in. Finally my husband said to me one day, ‘Why don't you try Lydia E. Pinkham's medicine?’ and I said, ‘I am willing to take anything if I could get well again.’ So I took one bottle and a second one and felt better and the neighbors asked me what I was doing and said, ‘Surely it must be doing you good all right.’ I have just finished my eighth bottle and I cannot express to you how I feel, the way I would like to. If you can use this letter you are welcome to it and if any woman does not believe what I have written to be true, she can write to me and I will describe my condition to her as I have to you.”—Mrs. ELMER HEASLEY, 141 S. Jackson St., Youngstown, Ohio.

“I was very nervous and run-down,” writes Mrs. L. E. Wise of 706 Louisa St., New Orleans, La. “I would often sit down and cry, and was always blue and had no ambition. I was this way for over a year and had allowed myself to get into quite a serious condition. One day I saw your advertisement in the daily paper and began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once. I have improved ever since taking the third bottle and find it is the best medicine I have ever taken.”

Benefited by First Bottle

“I was completely run down and not able to do my housework. I just dragged myself around and did not have energy to get up when once I sat down. I read advertisements of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in your paper ‘The Indiana Daily Times,’ and learned all about it. I received results from the very first bottle and now I am doing all my own work, even washing and ironing, and I never felt better in my life. I tell all my friends it is due to you.”—Mrs. ELIZABETH REINHOLD, 403 N. Pine St., Indianapolis, Indiana.

You should pay heed to the experiences of these women. They know how they felt before taking the Vegetable Compound, and afterwards, too. Their words are true.

Honestly, do you like a fancy pipe?

You know the kind we mean. It comes in a beautiful velvet-lined leather case and arrives on your birthday or Christmas. And when you have company, and they talk pipes, you go to the drawer, pull out your fancy pipe, polish it with the palm of your hand and perhaps fill it up and smoke with your best company manners.

And then, when all the folks have gone—or before they have gone, if they stay too long—you reach for your favorite briar, fill her up just right, and then the world is pretty good again. The people who seemed terrible bores a few minutes ago look like regular human beings as you see them through a transparent haze of curling smoke. In the meantime, the fancy pipe has been relegated to its glorious case for another period of oblivion.

It's the same with tobacco, too. Somebody smoking a fancy brand offers you his pouch, and just to be a good fellow you take a pipeful (feeling a little pang of conscience as you push the unfamiliar tobacco into your pipe). And you smoke it. It may be very good tobacco. Perhaps you can't even decide what, if anything, is the matter with it.

But if isn't your brand, and when you get near the end, perhaps just a little hastily, you knock out the fancy tobacco and pull out your own, fearful lest the too-friendly pouch appear again and you may have to refuse gently but firmly.

Have you had such an experience? And isn't it almost worth it to know how much you really like your Edgeworth?

We don't claim that Edgeworth pleases every man. But we do want every pipe smoker to try Edgeworth—to find out for himself if it isn't just the taste and strength to suit him.

We gladly take the burden of proof on our own shoulders. So we will send generous samples of Edgeworth, both Ready-Rubbed and Plug Slice, to any pipe-smoker who will ask for it.

Send us a postcard with your name and address, and we'll put the samples into the hands of Uncle Sam's messengers just as quick as we can. Then, when you get them, light up your pipe, puff away to your heart's content and you can be the whole jury and the judge. If you'll add the name and address of your tobacco dealer, we'd appreciate the courtesy.

Address your card for free samples to Larus & Brother Co., 44 South 21st Street, Richmond, Virginia.

To Retail Tobacco Merchants: If your jobber cannot supply you with Edgeworth, Larus & Brother Company will gladly send you prepaid by parcel post a one- or two-dozen carton of any size of Plug Slice or Ready-Rubbed for the same price you would pay the jobber.

Harvey Burckett was found guilty of second degree murder in his trial at Fort Sumner, charged with the killing of Ora Hall, near Ricardo, Feb. 6, and sentenced to forty to fifty years in the penitentiary. His attorney gave notice of appeal. The men were ranchers, and the killing followed a dispute over range land.

The tippie at the Weaver coal mine at Gallup was burned recently. Indications are the fire was of incendiary origin. Authorities are investigating. The loss of the tippie caused a complete suspension of operations at the mine, throwing 172 miners out of work temporarily. The damage was estimated at $40,000.

Committees are hard at work on the plans for the big Indian fair which is to be held in Gallup, Sept. 28-29 and 30 in the City park. Ray Arlrich and Mike Kirk, Indian traders, have lined up Indian dances as follows: The fire dance of the Navajos, the Comanche war dance of the Isletas, the Eagle and the Butterfly dance of the Hopis.

The nude body of Guy Derner, well-known in Phoenix and throughout Arizona, was found floating in the Arizona canal, near Black Cañon road, about eight miles from Phoenix. On the throat was found a deep abrasion and the chest was bruised in a number of places. About half a mile up stream from where the body was discovered Derner's automobile was found standing on the banks of the canal. On the seat his clothes had been neatly arranged.

Two brides in a double elopement who are being detained in Albuquerque following the arrests of their husbands on a charge of having stolen the two automobiles in which they came here on their honeymoon, requested officers to allow them to obtain work in Albuquerque and not be returned to their homes in Laramie, Wyo. Preliminary statistics by the Department of Commerce reveal a decrease of 38.8 per cent in the lumber cut of Arizona and New Mexico mills during 1921 over the preceding year. These figures are the result of a careful census of the lumber industries in these states conducted by the bureau of the census, Department of Commerce, acting in co-operation with the forest service, United States Department of Agriculture. New Mexico's output fell off 14 per cent, while that of Arizona has shrunk to almost one-third of its 1920 production estimate. The falling off in lumber production in the two states during 1921 is attributed by the forest service to the general slump in business conditions. Some thirty-seven mills were idle in the two states through the year.

George Langford, game warden at Chamberino, N. M., was shot in the back with a pistol the other day while driving near the Deck farm at Chamberino. He is in a serious condition in Providence hospital in El Paso. Deputy Sheriff Felipe Lucero of Las Cruces, who investigated the case, arrested three men. Mystery surrounds the shooting. Two men are said to have been riding in the automobile with Langford. When Langford was shot his car turned over and he was badly bruised.

Ungallant.

The car was crowded, for it was the time of day when workmen were returning home from their work. Among the straphangers was a woman who, not being pleased with the service she was receiving, was trying in a roundabout way to induce a certain man to give up his seat. Finding her efforts useless she said in despair, “He would not get up for his grandmother.” The man referred to, feeling that forbearance had ceased to be a virtue, turned to his tormentor: “Do you think a woman should vote like a man?” he asked. “I surely do,” she answered. “Then stand like a man,” was his reply.—Indianapolis News.

HAD TO MAKE FULL ROUND

Clergyman Who Wanted to Test Virtues of the Treadmill Given Full Opportunity. A Britisher tells a story of a member of the clergy who took too large a mouthful on one occasion. He was visiting the county jail and explained to a friend who was with him on the virtues of the treadmill. Warming up with his theme, he declared that he often wished he had one at home to give him the gentle exercise he required, and to remove his friend's skepticism, he asked the warden to give him a turn. Round went the wheel, the clergyman declaring that the movement was delightful; but after two minutes he had had enough and desired the officer to stop the mill. To his horror the officer answered: “Very sorry, sir, but I can't. It's timed to go 15 minutes and won't stop.”

Two With a Single Thought. While hunting deer in northern Wisconsin I hid in the grass near a river. Soon I saw something move across the stream bank of a log; a bear, I decided, and moved into position to get a good shot. All at once the supposed bear jumped up, waving both arms and shouting: “Don't shoot! I thought you were a deer, and was waiting to get a good shot at you.”—Chicago Journal.

SAM SURELY MISJUDGED MULE

Libelous to Call Animal Blind When Its Only Fault Was Absolute Lack of Fear.

Mose was trying to sell Sambo a mule. The mule was lying on the floor of the barn. “I doan' wan no daid mule,” said Sambo. “He ain't daid,” said Mose; and with his whip he forced the mule to a standing posture. But Sambo remained cold on the proposition. “Ah see he ain't daid,” said Sambo. “But he kaln't run, an' Ah doan' want a mule as runs.” Mose, thus challenged, with a vigorous kick so energized the mule that away it went, running down the street, with marvelous speed.

But Sam's delight at the activity of the mule was short-lived, for bang, the mule ran head-on into a tree. “Fo' de lord,” exclaimed Sam, “he ain't daid; he kin run, but he's blind. Ah, doan' wan no blind mule.” “What's dat you say?” cried Mose. “You all calls a mule like dat blind?” “Yes, lordy, lordy, boy, dat mule ain't blind. He jes doan' give a whoop!”—Judge.

Two Wayfarers.

Two wayfarers met on the road to Normalcy. “How's everything?” asked the first traveler. “Rotten,” said the second traveler. “How's everything with you?” “The same way. What's the name of that tavern down the road?” “It's called ‘Reduced Wages,’ and offers food and beds to all who come.” “I know a better inn back this way, a bit, called ‘Idleness.’ The food and beds are poor, but the oratory's great.”—Birmingham Age-Herald.

MODERN DANCE SUMMED UP

Many Will Say That Farm Hand Was Not So Much Out of the Way, in His Description.

Irene Castle said at a luncheon at Palm Beach: “Some men dance in a way that reminds me of a story. ‘Howdy, Josh,’ a farm hand said to another farm hand. ‘Why ain't ye been comin' to the new dancin' class in the Elks' hall down in the village?’ ‘‘Dancin' class?’ said the second farm hand. ‘Haw, haw, haw! I couldn't never learn dancin'.’ ‘‘Sure, ye could,’ said the first farm hand. ‘Why, it's dead easy. All ye got to do is keep turnin' round and wipin' yer feet.’”
