AT THE CAPITAL.

Congress Petitioned to Increase Pensions to One-Legged and One-Armed Soldiers.

The Levying of Political Assessments Likely to be Thoroughly Investigated.

Miss Stokes, the Arkansas Murderess, Acquitted--Negro Murderer Killed.

Congressional Proceedings.

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—Senators Voorhees, Sherman, McDill, Vest, Ingalls, Chilcot and Miller (of N. Y.) presented petitions for the passage of a bill to increase the pensions of one-armed and one-legged soldiers. Referred.

A bill was introduced by Brown to repeal the internal revenue act of 1864 and all other laws and parts of laws enlarging, extending or amending. Referred.

Senator Vest offered a resolution, which was adopted, directing the secretary of war to send the senate copies of any contracts made by the interior department in regard to leasing the Yellowstone national park, or any part thereof, to any person or company, with the privilege of running their stages thereon.

At the close of the morning hour Beck called up his resolution for an investigation into political assessments during the last campaign and said that, having but little personal knowledge on the subject and thinking discussion in advance of the ascertainment of facts unprofitable, he would content himself at present with asking a vote on the resolution.

Hale thought that if the conduct of the last campaign was to be investigated by the senate, the investigation ought to extend to both parties; therefore, he offered a substitute, setting forth the names of the members of the congressional executive committees of both parties; reciting the allegations that the democratic committee had levied contributions on liquor dealers, brewers and other associations, and directing the committee on judiciary to investigate these charges, as well as those made against the republican committee.

Beck said the substitution proposed to investigate matters over which congress has no control and was evidently intended to embarass the legitimate legislation proposed in the original resolution. After discussion the substitute was ordered printed and at the sugestion of Harris the matter went over till to-morrow.

At 2 o'clock the senate resumed consideration of the bankruptcy bill.

Garland spoke in defense of the bill as prepared by the judiciary company, and the some committee amendments reported by Ingalls were agreed to. Vest moved to strike out the provision that a man who fails for twenty days to discharge an attachment against his property in a civil suit shall be deemed a bankrupt. Agreed to.

The secretary of war was directed to furnish estimates of the Mississippi river commission for the work of improving the river during the next fiscal year.

The time was extended for filling claims for horses and equipments lost in the United States service. Adjourned.

HOUSE.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—Kelly, chairman of the committee on ways and means, reported a concurrent resolution printing 20,000 copies of the report of the tariff committee. Passed. Also a resolution setting apart Wednesday the 13th of December, for the consideration of certain bills on the calendar previously reported from the committee. He stated that the bills referred to relate exclusively to administration of law. Adopted.

Mr. Haskell, of Kansas, presented a memorial from the non-Mormon people of Utah. Referred.

The house then went into a committee of the whole, Page, of California, in the chair, on the Indian appropriation bill. The total amount of appropriations provided for in the bill is $5,208,999, only being $724,200 less than the appropriation of the current year and $1,516,776 less than the estimates.

Ryan, of Kansas, who has charge of the bill, explained that a reduction was necessary in the appropriation for subsistence. In explaining the reduction in the number of Indian inspectors from five to three, he said the committee based their action upon the suggestion of the secretary of the interior that if it allowed two additional agents he could dispense with two inspectors.

After discussion the committee of 225 arose and reported the Indian bill to the house and it was passed.

At three o'clock the house again went into committee of the whole on the state of the Union.

A bill authorizing the government to obtain a title to certain lands in Erie, Pennsylvania, and establish a home for indigent soldiers and sailors was discussed at length and opposed for the same reasons given during the consideration of these measures the last session. Hewitt, of New York, moved to strike out the enacting clause, the committee agreed and the house later confirmed its action. Adjourned.

THE COMMITTEE ON PUBLIC LANDS.

House committee on public lands to-day discussed the bill known as the Brush fence bill, to prevent unlawful occupation of public land. A disposition was shown by the committee to amend the bill for the purpose of making it stronger.

THE COMMITTEE ON MILITARY AFFAIRS.

The house committee on military affairs to-day authorized the chairman to appoint a sub-committee to visit the soldiers home at Hampton, Va., to investigate charges of mismanagement.

Miss Stokes Acquitted.

LITTLE ROCK, Dec. 7.—An Arkadelphia special says: The case of Sallie Stokes, on trial for the murder of Malinda Stephens, was given to the jury at noon. Two hours later the jury appeared and rendered a verdict of not guilty. Immediately Miss Stokes was surrounded by her cousel and friends, who extended congratulations. She requested that the jury should visit her at her room that she might thank them in person. About three o'clock the jury called in a body, when the stoical heroism maintained throughout the trial forsook her and she gave way to hysterical exclamations of grief mingled with her thanks. The jury were profoundly impressed, while there was not a dry eye in the assemblage. Miss Stokes will leave for her home in Howard county to-morrow morning. It was ascertained after the jury had been discharged that the verdict was found as soon as they reached the room, not a negative being heard upon the first inquiry as to what the verdict should be.

Paid in His Own Coin

CHARLOTTE, N. C., Dec. 7.—Joe Ross, the negro who murdered J. N. McDowell, at Camden, Thanksgiving day, was killed Wednesday night at Joy & Co.'s mill, on the Calway river, Lancaster county, South Carolina, by a ferryman named Alonzo Hunley. The pursuing party were close behind and Ross asked the ferryman to take him across. The ferryman identified him and tried to arrest him. Ross resisted and the ferryman shot him. Before dying the negro confessed the murder of McDowell and also Bob Hengan, in Mecklenburg county, years ago.

Base Ball.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Dec. 7.—The National Base Ball League adopted an amendment making liable expulsion any player under contract with a league club who shall, without the consent of such club, agree to enter the service of any other club after the expiration of his contract. The playing rules are amended to the effect that a pitcher's hand in delivering a ball must pass below his shoulder instead of his waist. The rules are further amended by a provision for the appointment of four league umpires, at an annual salary of $1,000. A committee was appointed to consider the advisability of recognizing contracts with the Northwestern league.

At the evening session, A. G. Mills of Chicago, was elected president. New York and Philadelphia were admitted in place of Troy and Worcester. A return to the old distinguishing colors in the uniforms of the older clubs was agreed upon. Detroit, Chicago, Boston and Philadelphia will name the board of directors. Adjourned.

A Forbidden Frolic.

CLEVELAND, Dec. 7.—On the evening of November 28th, nearly the whole body of students of Adebert college and Western Reserve college indulged in the forbidden traditional frolic termed by them a "tempus." They had a banquet, one of the principal features of which was cider, and a high old lark in the east end armoury, though as far as known they did nothing worse than be boisterous and possibly burlesqued college attaches. This sort of spree has been an annual affair for some years, but this year was interdicted. The faculty of the last meeting decided to administer a rebuke commensuate with the offense, and to-day expelled the entire juior class, numbering seventeen. This afternoon all students except three, two of whom were not able to be present, met and unanimously adopted resolutions that they will quit the institution and go to other colleges unless the class is reinstated. The resolutions were presented to-night to the faculty whose response thereto is expected to-morrow.

Iron and Steel Troubles.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Dec. 7.—This afternoon Secretary Martin, of the amalgamated association, received word from President Jarrett, who is at Chicago, that the conference between the Bessemer steel manufacturers of that place and their employes to fix the rate of wages for the next year, which was to have taken place this week, has been postponed. It is stated that the postponement is the result of a determination on the part of the manufacturers to suspend operations after January 1st, until the report of the tariff committee has been acted upon. Pittsburg manufacturers refuse to confirm or deny his report, while the employes believe here will be a suspension after the date mentioned.

Attempted Murder.

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 7.—This morning between three and four o'clock, in Wm. Berris & Co.'s large dry goods store, J. B. Culla, a clerk in Lonbrie's store, shot twice at Tom Carpening, a clerk in Migent & Bros. store. Culla had taken Carpening to Barris' for the purpose of confronting him with his wife, who is employed at Barris', about whom he charged Carpening had lied. Just as the men got inside Barris' store, Carpening refused to go any further, when Culla pulled a revolver and fired twice. The bullets missed Carpening, but one grazed the left cheek of Joseph Johnston, a clerk at Barris'.

Zinc Works.

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 7.—The Age of Steel has information and makes the announcement that a strong combination is being formed to purchase and operate the zinc works at St. Louis and other points in the west. The parties interested are negotiating with some of the local establisments with a view to purchasing planks and also have options on others outside of the city. It is not yet published who all the parties in the combination are, but among them are several large manufacturing concerns of St. Louis, Cincinnati, Cleveland and other cities in the east.

The Dickson Case.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—In the police court to-day in the Dickson case, Bowen testified that he had known Conelly since 1873; had a conversation with him at Driver's restaurant August 3d; Cameron was not present; he denied emphatically having offered Dickson $2,500 for a right to influence his vote in the star route trial; he also said he was not authorized by the department of justice to make any proposition in relation to the trial and had made none. This finished the examination.

A New Railway.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 7.—A San Diego dispatch says: Ground was broken on the Baja, California and Sonora railroad to-day at Lia Juana Valley, on the Mexican side of the line. The contract for the first section of twenty miles is being let and grading will be rapidly pursued. The road runs through lower California, crossing the Colorado river near its mouth; thence through Sonora to Calabasas, in Arizona. It is understood the capital for construction has been raised in England and that the enterprise is in the hands of large holders of Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe.

The Tariff Commission.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—The ways and means committee this morning unanimously adopted a resolution to proceed at once to a consideration of the tariff commission report, and to frame tariff bills. The clerk of the committee was directed to prepare schedules of rates now existing and those proposed by members of the committee.

MERCILESS MASSACRE.

The Red-Handed Ju Spreading Death and Destruction in Chihuahua, Mexico.

The Entire Male Population of Casa Grande Butchered—Women Made Captive.

Great Excitement Over the Philadelphia Cemetery Robbery—Much Indignation.

Ju on the War Path.

DENVER, Dec. 7.—An Albuquerque special of the 6th says: Full particulars have been received here of the wholesale slaughter by Ju and his band near the lower part of Casa Grande, in the arroyo Dencinillas, in the state of Chihuahua, of Americans and Mexicans. Ju and his band has been committing various depredations for some time past, and a few days before went to the ranches of Jose Politico, of Caliano, and Don Juan, of Candirle, and stole many head of sheep and cattle. They visited the ranches of other citizens and drove off many more. Politico and the other sufferers gathered a band of about thirty men and started after the Indians. They came upon them and before they knew that Ju and his band were any where near they were surrounded by the Indians in the arroyo. Politico as soon as he saw the number of the band, which was over 200 dispatched one of the men for assistance, who managed to escape. Arriving at Galliano, he got together about seventy men and at once started for the scene. Ju sent out a party who engaged in a fight with him, preventing them from going to Politico. The rescuers saw the slaughter, but could do nothing for their unfortunate friends. Every one of the pursuing party with the exception of the men who went for succor, were butchered by the savages. They then retreated to the Sierra Madras. When the friends of the unfortunate victims went out to bury the dead they found not far from the site where the massacre occurred the bodies of the five Americans who had fallen victims to the Indians. Two of these Americans, it has since been learned, were from Grant county, in this territory. Their names were James Biggs and W. D. McDowell. They had been in Chihuahua for some time buying cattle and were then on their way home. It was Ju and his band who sometime ago murdered several prominent citizens of Chihuahua, amongst whom were two near relatives of Governor Terasas.

ANOTHER DISPATCH.

DENVER, Dec. 7.—A special dispatch from Chihuahua, Old Mexico, says: The late massacre by a roving band of 500 Apaches, proves to have been one of the most bloodthirsty and outrageous ever committed in Old Mexico. The Indians had been unusually quiet for some time past and the people were wholly unconscious of any danger, when the savages came down upon the little settlement about daylight in the morning and with wild, demoniac yells commenced an indiscriminate slaughter. Nearly all the men and children in the pueblo of Casa Grande were murdered and the women and girls carried off. The people who were murdered were among the wealthiest and most respectable of this portion of Chihuahua. Thirty families were destroyed. As near as can be ascertained at this time, fully seventy-five men and children have been murdered and the women to the number of between thirty and forty, carried away to a fate worse than death. Troops were dispatched to the vicinity of the massacre as soon as possible and are now on the trail of the Indians. The greatest excitement prevails throughout that portion of the state.

The Ghouls.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 7.—An indignant meeting of colored people was held this afternoon and resolutions adopted giving heartfelt thanks to the proprietors and attaches of the Press for the arrest and imprisonment of the grave robbers. When a trustee of Lebanon cemetery named Burton appeared on the platform there was great excitement and several razors and pistols were drawn and nearly everybody shouted for vengeance, while Bishop Campbell and other clergymen invoked peace. The peacemakers were successful but the meeting was at once adjourned.

An announcement has been made that a subscription to prosecute the ghouls would be received at the Press office. Thirty graves were opened today, from about one-half of which the bodies had been stolen. The health board is not going to allow any more graves to be opened until is known whether the people died from contagious disease or not.

The Western Union's Tribute to Science.

CHICAGO, Dec. 7.—To secure a satisfactory observation of the transit of Venus it was indispensible that astronomers should have exact Washington time, whereby the planet was scientifically observed. The public will be interested to know that this was done and that the Western Union Telegraph company did the service free to all points, sending the time signals for three days, requiring almost exclusive use of a wire all over the country, for nearly fifteen minutes each day. This is the last day that transmissions of these signals will be necessary. Although storms in the east and blizzards in the west have dismantled wires, the service was rendered with infinite care and satisfactorily done.

Casualties.

INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 7.—Thomas Wilson, a clerk for Walling & Co., wholesale druggists, was run over by a train near the Union depot to-night and killed.

A man named Addrew Shellinge, employed at the Indianapolis cabinet works, fell in a tank of boiling water and was scalded to death.

LOUISVILLE, Dec. 7.—This afternoon a little colored child five years old, left alone in a room, approached the grate, her clothing caught fire, and before the flames could be extinguished she burned to death.

Victims of Yesterday's Disaster.

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 7.—Frank Hill, Chatanooga; Wm. Fitz, aged sixteen; Sarah Young, colored, scalded by the the Steamboat Morning Star have died. Of the twenty-one persons on board at the time of explosion five only are now alive.

Cheap Silver.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—The treasury department to-day purchased 265,000 ounces of silver at a rate lower than for several years.

A $23,000 Blaze.

CAIRO, Ill., Dec. 7.—A fire at Paducah this morning destroyed the Southern hotel and three big houses valued at $23,000. Insured for $11,000.

Miss Bond.

TAYLORVILLE, Ill., Dec. 7.—Miss Bond had another violent paroxism yesterday. The grand jury returned indictments against J. C. Montgomery, W. J. Montgomery, Levi Pettis and Edward Clements.

A Fatal Race.

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 7.—Passengers saved from the steamboat Morning Star which exploded her boilers yesterday, stated that she was racing with the Sunbeam when the disaster occurred.

A Big Cargo.

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 7.—The steamship Carmona cleared to-day for Liverpoll with 10,361 bales of cotton, 12,000 bushels of wheat and 2,050 staves. This is the largest cargo of cotton ever carried by one vessel. Total value of cargo $642,000.

A Fatal Quarrel.

CINCINNATI, Dec. 7.—A quarrel arose between a hack driver and parties going home from a ball at Turner Hall at five o'clock this morning. When a policeman appeared to keep peace one of the drivers, Tom Prtterson, a notorious character, drew a revolver and fired at the policeman. The ball missed the policeman, but struck Joe Coke, another driver, in the head, killing him instantly. Patterson escaped.

Severe Storm.

BUFFALO, Dec. 7.—A severe storm, accompanied by considerable snow, prevailed the greater part of the day. Towards nightfall the velocity of the wind greatly increased and at night became a gale. All trains are from two to six hours late and on the Grand Trunk all trains are abondoned. Telegraphic communication is difficult by crossing wires.

A Chapter of Accidents.

SYRACUSE, Dec. 7.—This afternoon a stock train bound east on the New York Central railroad broke asunder near Memphis and Dairy and another stock train following dashed into it. The St. Louis Express going west then rushed into the shattered cars, making quite a respectable and total of disasters in a comparatively short space of time. Considerable live stock was killed and the damage to railroad property heavy. No lives were lost

They Have It in England.

LONDON, Dec. 7.—Telegrams from various parts of the United Kingdom report the snow storm unusually severe. Railway traffic in many districts is almost if not wholly suspended. Trains were snowed up all last night at Chesshire and the passengers suffered acutely. Telegraphic communication between Glasgow and London is broken. Elsewhere messages are greatly delayed. The loss is heavy in many places.

Extreme Cold.

CHICAGO, Dec. 7.—It was extremely cold last night and to-day over the whole northwest, the thermometer ranging last night from zero to fifteen degrees below. It was a terrible night on the lake and several crafts were unable to make harbor, being iced over this morning.

MINNEAPOLIS, Dec. 7.—A polar wave swept over Manitoba, Dakota and Minnesota yesterday. Specials to the Tribune report sixty-seven degrees below zero at Winnipeg, Manitoba, this morning; 37 at Bismark, 36 at Grand Forks, 28 at Fargo, 29 at Jamestown, 30 at Lake City, 28 at Breckenridge, 28 at Winona, and from 15 to 20 below at other Minnesota points. In this city it was 26 at 3 a. m., 11 below at 5 a. m., 6 below at midnight.

The Trinidad Democrat thusly comments on the grief of Brigham Young's widow:

They say that Brigham Young's grave is looking as bare and desolate as a boulevard now. At first, while her grief was fresh, his widow used to march out there five abreast and just naturally deluge the grave with scalding tears, and at that time the green grass grew luxuriously, and the pigweed waved in the soft summer air; but as she learned to control her emotions, the humidity of the atmosphere disappeared, and grief's irrigation failed to give down. We should learn from this that the man who flatters himself in marrying a whole precinct during life he is piling up for the future a large invoice of ungovernable woe is liable to get left. The prophet's tomb looks to-day like a deserted buffalo wallow, while his widow has dried her tears and is trying to make a mash on the Utah commission.
