LAS VEGAS, NEW MEXICO: FRIDAY MORNING, JANUARY 11, 1884.

NO. 229.

J. J. FITZGERRELL,
THE LIVE
REAL ESTATE AGENT,
NOTARY PUBLIC
CONVEYANCER.
RANCH PROPERTY,
Grants and Cattle for Sale

I AM in position to contract for the spring delivery of any number of Texas stock cattle. Call and see me.

THE ONE-HALF interest in a magnificent stocked cattle ranch in Western Texas can be bought at a bargain. Cattle men should investigate this property.

I HAVE a magnificent Water Front ranging on the Pecos river north of Fort Sumner for sale at a bargain. To stock raising desiring to establish themselves on the Pecos river this property will bear investigation.

I HAVE for sale several Mexican land grants, both confirmed and patented and unconfirmed, that are the best stock ranges that can be procured. All grants recommended for confirmation by the survey general are covered from the public domain. These grants are the only valid bodies of land that can be bought in New Mexico, and range in price from 25 cents to $2.50 per acre, owing to title and quality of lands, and are in bodies of from 2000 to 60,000 acres. I will cheerfully give all the information possible regarding this class of investments.

No. 612. Is a range on the Pecos river that will support 70,000 head of cattle, the owner of which desires to lease or make an arrangement with some one to run the range for five years, at the end of which time he will return 20 per cent increase.

No. 613. Is a range capable of supporting 60,000 head of cattle. There is at present 2,000 head of cattle on the range, together with all the paraphernalia connected with a well equipped cattle ranch successfully. This is a magnificent range, well stocked, fine grass, and well watered, it is at one time divided into two sections, and is worked by the attention of capitalists.

No. 614. Is a fenced unimproved grant, of over 100,000 acres, with cross fence to separate the beef cattle from the general herd. The cattle, some 4,000 head, are in the hands of a party of full blooded bulls. This is one of the best equipped ranges in the territory. The owner of which is connected by telephone with one of the railroad stations on the Santa Fe road, while the different stations on the ranch are connected by telephone with the home ranch. This is one of the best equipped paying properties in the territory, and is worthy of attention.

FOREIGN INTELLIGENCE.
EGYPT.
CAIRO, Jan. 10.—The following will probably be the new cabinet: Sobeh Fasha, minister of the interior; Mahomet Taha Pasha, minister of public works; Under Arabi, minister of internal affairs; Abou Elkader, minister of war; Mustapha Fasha Feinbi, minister of finance.

The khedive in a conversation said he was convinced his action was right in accepting unreservedly the advice of England, whose motives were only good, and therefore identical with his own. He said England alone had helped him in the hour of adversity.

ALEXANDRIA, Jan. 10.—It is stated that the king of Abyssinia has left Duna with an army and is marching on to Masowah.

A Turkish gumbuz will be sent to the Arabian ports of the Red Sea, where emissaries of El Mahdi are inciting the populace to arms.

LONDON, Jan. 10.—It is stated that the French cabinet have not decided upon the Egyptian question. Ferry thinks the present a good time for France to regain her position in Egypt, while some of his colleagues deprecate any action in the matter.

IRELAND.
DUBLIN, Jan. 10.—At a meeting of the national league Sullivan, M. P., said the orator who attended the recent meeting at Drogheda were imported hirelings. He deplored the death of those orators, but laid the men's death at the door of the landlords, who brought the ignorant dupes to Drogheda to assail a peaceful meeting.

DUBLIN, Jan. 10.—A bill named Simms, returning from Tullamore in court last evening, was fatally shot by an unknown person.

GERMANY.
BERLIN, Jan. 10.—The Vassische Zeitung states that Bismarck has directed inquiry to be made as to whether the exemption laws which allow Bremen and Hamburg provision ships to land with American pork should not be extended to Prussian ports.

RUSSIA.
ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 10.—It is rumored that a nihilist recently attempted to murder the chief of police in this city.

Mississippi Appropriations and Soldier Votes Wanted by Everybody.

CONGRESSIONAL.
House.
WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—O'Neil, of Mo., asked leave to offer a resolution directing the committee on Mississippi levees to investigate the present manner of improving the Mississippi river.

King introduced a joint resolution for the immediate appropriation of $1,000,000 for the preservation, repairs and construction of certain works for the improvement of the Mississippi river. Referred.

Springer offered a resolution authorizing the committee on expenditures in the department of justice, in making investigations, to send for persons and papers. Adopted.

Wood offered the following, which was adopted: That the secretary of the treasury be requested to state to the committee on gold certificates issued by the treasury department between December 1, 1878, and December 1, 1881, and if none were issued his reasons for the non-issuance. He is requested also to give the amount issued during 1882 and 1883, and his reasons for the limited issue thereof in those years, and his reasons for discontinuing the issue of silver certificates since 1881, and for not issuing the gold and silver certificates required by law.

Lamb introduced a bill fixing the hours of work for laborers for the government. Referred.

Senate.
Daves introduced a bill providing for the creation of a United States postal telegraph company, under the direction of the postoffice department, and the creation of the office of fourth assistant postmaster general. This official is to be president of the board of directors of the company, and for the establishment of the postoffice department, and the creation of the office of fourth assistant postmaster general. This official is to be president of the board of directors of the company, and for the establishment of the postoffice department, and the creation of the office of fourth assistant postmaster general.

The chair laid before the senate a communication from the secretary of the interior transmitting correspondence concerning matters in Yellowstone Park, which shows that the authority regarding hotels, granted since the last session, is contained in a lease executed to Robert Douglas and Rufus Hattis. There has been trespassing and depredations on the park, game has been killed and timber cut in violation of the rules. The superintendent is powerless to prevent such violations of the law, and there is a great deal of bad feeling between the improvement company's people and the superintendent.

Petitions were presented by Sherman from the ex-soldiers and sailors, asking for a grant of land.

By Yeochers, from posts of the grand army of the republic, praying for the passage of a bill now pending repealing the statutory limitation in regard to arrangements of pensions.

By Logan, from many ex-soldiers, asking for the return of the grand army of the republic in Michigan, asking for further awards to ex-soldiers.

Miller, of New York, presented a bill to amend the act in relation to a law to give effect to the recommendations made by the cattle commission in their report transmitted to congress in February, 1883, for the extinction of the lung disease among cattle.

Maxey stated that the farmers of the States, who ask no protective tariff, are, as a matter of fact, competing today with the pauper labor of Egypt, India, Austria, Poland, Russia and China, and the time will come when even New England will demand the destruction of the tariff.

Morrill did not know what the question of the tariff had to do with the protection, but he said that the tariff on Great Britain did not decline from 1824 to 1848, when the English maintained protection. The repeal of the corn laws was the greatest measure of protection the English manufacturers could at that time have received.

Beck said there would never be a revival of American shipping until men were allowed to buy ships where they pleased.

Frye was delighted to hear the opinions of the other side of the chamber, and pressed so unreservedly for free trade. He hoped he would hear other senators on that side expressing themselves to the same effect. The tariff had been some doubt for some months past just where the democratic party stood in regard to free trade.

Morgan stated that there was not a leading man in the democratic party of the United States, certainly not in either house of congress, who has thus far given expression to the idea of free trade in the sense the gentleman from Maine (Frye) would imply. The democrats favor a modification of the existing tariff for the purpose of reducing the unnecessary burden of $100,000,000 a year of unjust taxation placed upon the country by the republican party. Neither party had the courage to bring up a bill for the repeal of the existing tariff of the odious navigation laws. It seemed as though the people had organized a general muster and beat the long roll upon congress. Thousands could induce congress to do anything in the question. Spending the people's money seemed to be the gravest consideration among legislators, and poverty and woe were branding around the country with a score of which Lazarus might be ashamed. Strikes were held in various parts of the country, and tens of thousands of men all over the land, in the depth of cold winter, are without food, clothing for themselves or families, and compelled to implore the charity of those who by whom they were surrounded. The democratic party, Morgan said, would notwithstanding the objections and recommendations of republican members opposing high tariff until justice was done the people. We are a rich government and a poor people, and the good for the poor for the sake of the poor, if heard in the senate as heard elsewhere, would have done the very worst of winter, yet these are people as to whom there must be silence in that chamber.

The motion of a vote was agreed to. Without reaching a vote on the rule the senate went into executive session and soon after adjourned.

WASHINGTON MATTERS.
Facts, Opinions and Gossip Around the National Capital.
By Western Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—At a meeting of the ways and means committee, Morrill announced the following sub-committees: Changes in tariff laws, Mills, A. S. Hewitt, Kelley; changes in internal revenue laws, Blinn, H. A. Hays; refund of custom duties, A. S. Hewitt, J. K. Jones, McKinley; refund of taxes on tobacco, Blackburn, Herbert, Hiseock; refund of taxes on spirits and malt liquors, Herbert, Blackburn, Russell; refund of miscellaneous internal taxes, Hull, Bond, Russell; refund of land United States, Topka & Compens, J. K. Jones, Hiseock. The committee decided that the question of revision of the tariff should be taken up by the sub-committee, but should be considered in the entire committee. Mills says this question will not be before the committee for ten days or so, and during the interim information will be gathered to aid in the work of initiating steps to be taken.

The house committee on public lands will hear an argument Monday on the question of the Texas Pacific land grant, now claimed by the Southern Pacific railroad, for $500,000 alleged indebtedness, including 10 per cent net earnings.

At a meeting of the senate committee on commerce the Gibson joint resolution appropriating $1,000,000 to be immediately available to construct improvements of the Mississippi was agreed to.

Confirmed—Norman A. Comp, United States assayer, Boise, Idaho; Kansas. Nominations—Brewster Cameron, receiver of public money at Tucson, Arizona; Thomas D. Boyd, Honey Creek, Texas; Charles Evans, Fort Worth, Texas; L. N. Hibbs, Lewistown, Idaho.

Immediately after the adjournment of the senate a caucus of republican senators was held to consider the expediency of proceeding at once to the election of a president pro tempore. Friends of Senator Anthony reported the caucus as having been held, but that to the advisability of his undertaking the duties of the presidency pro tempore. A committee was appointed to confer with him on the subject and further action postponed.

THE YELLOWSTONE PARK.
In the Yellowstone correspondence transmitted to the senate today, there appeared a letter from Supt. Conger to the secretary of the interior, which he letter to consider private. In it he says the hotel company's people help themselves to wistover they want inside or outside of the government enclosure, running timber and allowing their herds to overrun the government grounds, wilfully break down and destroy fences erected by the superintendent. He does not favorably regard the proposition to build a railroad through the park, and considers the apparent necessity for a railroad will disappear upon the completion of a system of good wagon roads.

Contagious Cattle Diseases.
WASHINGTON, D. C., January 10.—The committee appointed at the convention of cattle men recently held at Chicago to prepare a memorial to congress setting forth the damage to stock interest by reason of contagious diseases which exist to a limited extent in this country, and suggest legislation best calculated to protect the cattle interests, met at the department of agriculture.

Senator Miller in addressing the committee said the trouble heretofore in securing legislation on this subject was in the action of the states. He expressed the opinion that the senate was ready and willing to pass any measure that would protect the country. The bill failed to pass last congress because, unfortunately, it was not fully explained when introduced.

Hatch, chairman of the house committee on agriculture, said he was adopted by the committee while he was chairman which proposed reference of diseases among cattle to any branch of the government except the department of agriculture. He was of the opinion that within the next twenty days the committee would report a bill to the house, and he believed it would pass with a large majority as did bills on the same subject which were passed by the last congress.

By Western Associated Press.
WESLEY, IDAHO, Jan. 10.—A masked mob took Charles Dieter, the murderer of Hank Borze, from the jail cell, shot and beat him and then dragged him half a mile to a slaughter house and hung him to a windlass used for butchers.

Business Troubles.
By Western Associated Press.
SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 10.—M. Waterman & Co., grain dealers, have failed. Liabilities, $1,500,000. The failure is due to the decline in charter and the fall in the price of wheat in England. They had under charter some thirty thousand tons at an average of 25 shillings. A large portion of the tonnage is already here, with average rates of 27 shillings, making the loss on charters about $200,000.

Buckley & Co., dry goods, have assigned. Liabilities about $200,000; assets about $250,000; preference aggregate, $120,000.

A French Move in the Railroad War.
By Western Associated Press.
SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 10.—The Chronicle is in possession of a circular issued recently by the freight managers of the Union Pacific, Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe, Denver & Rio Grande, Missouri Pacific, Burlington & Missouri, Illinois & Pacific, Central Pacific, and lines under the control of the latter, reading: We are instructed by Albert Fink, commissioner of the trunk line association, to notify all contracting merchants that goods shipped via the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western road from New York and New England points will be charged full local rates west of the Missouri river. The circular is countersigned by G. W. Ristine, commissioner of the transcontinental association. The same journal asserts a similar circular has been issued by the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy.

The names of those buried who have been identified are: Mrs. Mary Prior, Mary Jerome, three sisters, Modesta, Angela and Edwina, and pupils Katie Urbans, of Vandavia, Ill.; Gertrude Stranch, of Hingham, Ill. The remains were buried in the cemetery. The bodies of the unidentified victims were also buried and will be buried in one coffin Sunday. The debris in the ruins of the convent having been overturned and no additional bodies found, search was stopped. About noon the jury held a consultation to agree upon a verdict.

An Indian Fight.
By Western Associated Press.
WAUSAN, Wis., Jan. 10.—News is received of a fight between bands of Chippewas and Potawatomi Indians belonging to reservations in this state. The fight took place within the borders of what is known as the township of Hull. A short time ago a band of Potawatomi and Menominee encamped for a time in that section. The camp was moved and subsequently a band of Chippewas encamped in the same place. Two parties belonging to the Chippewas assumed a hostile attitude, which resulted in one of their number being shot by a Potawatomi. A few days later the bands came together and in the engagement which ensued five were killed. No other details.

Murdering a Child.
By Western Associated Press.
RIVERHEAD, R. I., Jan. 10.—George Jeffrey, indicted with his wife for the murder of a child of the latter by a former husband, makes the statement that he killed the child by holding its body between his knees and twisting its head one way until he thought he had broken its neck, and then he twisted the head the other way to make sure he had killed it. Jeffrey contemplated killing the child a long time, and thought he could do so by continued cruelties and not be held guilty of crime. Failing, he at last broke its neck. He hated the child because he was not its father, and its existence interfered more or less with his wife earning money for him. He had no other motive for the crime. Being informed of his wife's confession, the statement of Jeffrey became very lighthearted. She said she was present when he killed the child, and she made no resistance. She could have no comfort in life while it lived.

The Funeral of Dr. Lasker.
