5 CENT TABLETS

You can drop into a stationery store most anywhere in the east and purchase a pretty fair sized tablet for five cents, but the merchant in the west finds his assortment somewhat limited in his small tablets, owing to the fact that an ordinary small profit is entirely eaten up by freight charges. These are conditions that cannot be overcome. However, we have decided to put profits to the winds in this case and offer you the largest and best assortment of five-cent tablets you ever bought here or anywhere else. We have a splendid line right at a good calculated bid paper, rag stock and an elegant bond, anything you want, ruled or unruled, in all sizes, at five cents each.

IRVINE'S STRANGE IDEA

Socialist Preacher Says Christianity Is Impossible Under Present Conditions.
"In the next 20 years, when the Socialists have been swept into power, it would be a strange thing if we would have to call on the million to compel confessed Christians to show the precepts of the Bible," thus spoke Rev. Alexander Irvine, the former pastor of a fashionable metropolitan church, before a large and comprehensive audience including many women, at a socialist rally at Macomber hall, Ulen.
It was Mr. Irvine's contention that the Christian ideal was impossible under the present state of society. He declared that "capitalism is everywhere for himself, and the devil take the hindmost." By dispense this illogical and heartless system with a universal brotherhood, he said, was the aim of the Socialists.

DEAF MUTE IS FINED FOR BREACH OF PEACE

St. Louis, March 15.—With all the eloquence he could throw into his fingers, Charles Faith, a deaf mute, tried to convince Judge Kleiber that he could not possibly be guilty of breach of the peace, the charge preferred against him by Miss Rose Smith, a comely saleswoman.
There was a big laugh when the complaint was read charging Faith with having made "loud and unusual noises and having used unseemly, profane, obscene and offensive language."
Faith immediately put his fingers to work and when he finished his explanation they were as limp as staked chickens.
"I'll fine you $10 and bind you over to keep the peace," said the court.
Faith paid the $10, but said he was at a loss to know just how a deaf mute could emphasize the peacefulness which nature had bestowed on him. His lawyer suggested that he wear a muff or have his fingers amputated.

MANY HEAR LORING

Vivid Word Pictures Were Drawn by Naturalist Who Traveled With Colonel Roosevelt.
A well filled house greeted Prof. J. Allen Loring last evening, when the eminent naturalist and hunter stepped before the footlights of the Elks theatre, and, after introducing himself as the survivor of the Roosevelt expedition in Africa, proceeded with the details and adventures of the most famous story told with the lucidity and emphasis that only a personal story can have.
The thrilling narrative of the African hunt by Prof. Loring elicited enthusiastic applause and the splendid views depicted from photographs taken by Col. Roosevelt and Kermit Roosevelt in the jungles bore the stamp of reality that seemed to rivet guests with life. The dangers of the hunt, as contrasted with the romance and heroic adventures, was told in vivid and picturesque scenes the adventures of individuals of the party.
With the exception of one view that was pointed out the views were taken on the scene of conquest by pioneering members of the caravan, and the graphic pictures by the fearless leader of all the expeditions—Col. Roosevelt.
The proceeds from the seat sale last evening goes to the University Athletic association.

MANY GIRLS MISSING

Evidence seems to Point to Moving Picture Show Fall in New York City.
New York, March 15.—Evidence indicating that 45 moving picture houses in this city have been used as recruiting grounds by white slave agents, has been turned over to the district attorney.
Records of the police department show that since Jan. 1, more than 100 girls between 11 and 16 have been reported missing from their homes. The Children's society says the evidence it has developed warrants numerous indictments and that similar effort will be made by various societies to reform the moving picture business in this city. One plan is to prohibit exhibitions in darkened auditoriums.
