RAILROAD HAS LAUGH

Federal Regulation Caused Delay of Troops and the Railroaders Saw the Joke.

Los Angeles, March 17.—For many months railroad men have fumed and sworn at some laws of the government, but one day last week they actually smiled while they watched federal officers fume and swear at one of these same laws. Now this particular law is undoubtedly a good one and railroad officials realize that it is just, but occasionally it pinches and causes much labor. Well, it pinched the government the other day and railroad men stopped roasting some of the other anti-railroad legislation to laugh. It was their revenge.

The particular law in question was that which provides that railroads must not handle livestock that does not receive 10 hours rest and feed in every 28 hours. Uncle Sam moved about 75 cars of troops and army equipment last week from San Francisco to the border line. The Santa Fe railroad had contracts to handle them from Los Angeles to San Diego.

In each of the three special trains there were a number of cars of horses and mules.

When the Southern Pacific delivered the trains to the Santa Fe the time was about exhausted in which the stock could be kept on the road without rest. The Santa Fe refused to move the trains when the situation was discovered until the stock had the rest as required by law.

This meant a delay of 10 hours at Los Angeles, considerable more than the government wanted the trains to stop in this city. The army officials were after a record for quick mobilization and they wanted the trains to proceed, rest or no rest for the stock, but there was nothing that would relieve the responsibility of the railroad company and so the trains did not move until the time was up.

THINK OF HIS VICTIM

This Is Plea of Widow of Man Killed by Murderer Who Seeks Pardon.

Atlanta, Ga., March 17.—With scores of pleas for the pardon of Edgar Stripling, former chief of police of Danville, Va., being circulated in Georgia and Virginia, and with petitions signed by thousands, and letters from prominent Georgians in the hands of the prison commission, the first important note in the case from the widow of William J. Cornett, the man Stripling murdered.

"Let the law take its course."

"The public only thinks now," she writes, "of stripling and his wife and his children. They have forgotten the widow and the children of the man who was slain.

"Sentiment is all right, but it does not support widows and fatherless children, or it did not in my case. My father came to my rescue as I was without support, and welcomed me back to his home."

Mrs. Cornett has married again. She is now Mrs. G. M. Nelson.

WOULD TATTOO CHINS

New Zealand Minister Has Novel Plan for Marking Married People.

Chicago, March 17.—Fewer "mashers" would show traces of discolored collar and the stock excuse, "I didn't know she was married," no longer would avail should the suggestion of the Rev. Francis Dawel, a native Methodist minister of New Zealand, be put into effect in America.

Speaking before the Cook County Teachers' association the Rev. Mr. Rawel advocated the tattooing of married women's chins in order that men seeking to be conquered by the charms of the fair sex might gladly gulch oats—on those in and out of the matrimonial mart.

"I think this is a magnificent custom," the Rev. Mr. Rawel said as he caused to be thrown on the canvas a picture of a New Zealand woman thus tattooed. "These marks are put on the chin in order the young men may know that a woman is married. When I go to Washington, I am going to suggest this to President Taft as a very convenient manner of conveying information of women's married state."

MOVING DAY NO MORE

Chicago Real Estate Men Decide to Make Leases for Any Time in Year.

Chicago, March 17.—May 1, long unpopular because of the inconvenience suffered by that part of the population which changes its residence annually, will be a terror to the flat dweller and the family man for the last time this year.

May 1, as an institution entitled "the annual moving day," is a thing of the past. It was so decreed by a meeting of the Chicago Real Estate board and ratified by the Cook County Real Estate board.

A resolution was adopted by each of the boards providing for the making of leases from any time in one year to any time of the next year. The action in both cases was unanimous and was accompanied by cheering. The action came as the result of a suggestion made by L. M. Smith.

"It just occurred to me that it would be better to have the thing decided up so that all the business would not have to be be done at one particular time of the year, said Mr. Smith tonight. "For instance, if some one wants to rent a place to live in until the school year closes, or until the school year opens, he may be accommodated. Under the new system everybody will not be moving May 1, and the time for making repairs on buildings will not be confined to that particular time. It will benefit the repairer and the householder, the real man, the real estate man and the tenant.

"The leases expiring May 1 will be renewed for such periods as the tenants desire, or made to new tenants as they wish. May 1 this year will be the last time that the date will be called the annual moving day."
