DECORATION DAY.

Tomorrow, May 30, is Decoration Day, when the soldiers of the Civil War are remembered by the placing of flowers on their graves. The observance of this day is a national custom, and is observed in every part of the country. It is a day of remembrance and of prayer for the souls of the brave men who died for their country.

BREAD LIKE MOTHERS.

The bread breakers are now telling us that the bread they are making is not good. They are making good bread at a price that they are saying the mothers of today can afford to pay. They are striking the bread "strike" from mother's tea-table calendar.

There is no one quite good and bad. It is hard to define either term correctly. One defining both to a fault is said to have good luck. One, talking of a twenty-story building and breaking bricks and rain, but meaning death, is also said to be lucky. Thus it will be seen that conditions as wide as the ocean can define good luck, all of which leaves a doubt in our minds as to the real definition.
