INGRATITUDE IS DIAZ TERM FOR REBELLION OF HIS REPUBLIC

The People Forgot What He Had Done for Them. Declares Aged General in First Public Utterance.

POINTS TO ARMY OF BUT 14,000 MEN

(By Evening Herald A. P. Leased Wire)

Corunna, Spain, June 17.—Physically ill, enfeebled and sick at heart, General Porfirio Diaz, an exile from the republic of which he was chief ruler for 30 years, has yielded to a self-decreed silence. In a formal statement he just issued his administration as president of Mexico and reproached his countrymen for what he describes as their ingratitude.

This expression, the first of a personal nature since he was forced from office, was made on board the steamer Ypiranga during the brief stop of the vessel in the harbor last night. When he was approached by newspaper representatives, at first he seemed to be resentful, pleading indisposition and expressing that though the troublesome south had been restored it still suffered from an abscess in the lower jaw. However, after consultation with members of his party, the following statement was given to the Prensa agency the official press association of Spain:

"General Diaz is saddened by the recent events in Mexico and the ingratitude of his countrymen. He voluntarily sacrificed his ambition in the hope of obtaining tranquility for the nation, conceding that if he could not end to defend his cause, it might afford a pretext for intervention.

"The bitterness and deep disappointment which he felt was mitigated by the warmth of the manifestations of sympathy on his departure from Vera Cruz.

"Much has been said about a military dictatorship but can one thus define a regime which rested on an army reduced to 14,000 men? General Diaz, when he assumed power, had to deal with conditions requiring energy and afterward the nation enforced and was more able to direct itself, constitutionally. General Diaz's later policies were interpreted by his adversaries as a sign of weakness.

"General Diaz, confident of the good sense of the people, thought that the agitation would disappear but the people, easily forgetting the merits of the Diaz administration, allowed themselves to be dragged into a reactionary movement."

During the night the Ypiranga proceeded for Santander and Havre. According to present plans Diaz will land at Havre and go with his family to Switzerland.

UNITED STATES IS NOT CAUSE OF TROUBLE

Paris, June 17.—A dispatch to the Temps from San Sebastian says that General Diaz declared at Vigo that his resignation of the presidency of Mexico was his final service to his fatherland as he had been convinced by his friends that only through his withdrawal would peace be restored. Nevertheless he believed that he could have remained and won over the revolutionists.

When he left Mexico the treasury showed doubtful about $11,000,000 which he believed would not be misappropriated by revolutionists. In conclusion General Diaz insisted that the United States government was in no way responsible for his resignation.

(By Evening Herald A. P. Leased Wire)

Washington, D. C., June 17.—The Lorimer investigation committee of the senate today practically decided to summon as witnesses in the inquiry the entire membership of the Illinois legislature which elected Senator Lorimer. Cyrus H. McCormick, president of the International Harvester company, and former Governor Richard Yates, of Illinois, will be heard by the committee Tuesday. Messrs. The decision to summon as witnesses practically all the Illinois legislature is accepted as proof that the committee's purpose to examine every one having the slightest knowledge of the facts surrounding the election of Mr. Lorimer.

(By Evening Herald A. P. Leased Wire)

Cincinnati, O., June 17.—Edgar Cooke was today declared not guilty of embezzling $24,000 from the Big Four railroad. The jury was out about three minutes less than two hours.

Then Mrs. Jeannette Stewart Ford, accused of blackmailing Warriner, was tried in February, 1910. The jury in her case disagreed.

Cooke sat impassive as the formal verdict was read, but Mrs. Cooke, who had been at his side for days, put her face in her hands and then approached the jurors and shook each one by the hand.

TRAIN ROBBERS ARE STILL AT LIBERTY WITH BOOTY

They Are Both Young and Wore No Masks; Both Evidently Knew What Mail Sacks to Rifle.

(By Evening Herald A. P. Leased Wire)

Drain, Ore., June 17.—Officers of three counties are searching for the two bandits who rifled the mail car of the Southern Pacific fast passenger train known as the Shasta limited shortly before midnight last night between Drain and Yoncalla. The passengers were not molested.

So far as known the robbers took nothing except the registered mail pouches.

Just after the train pulled out of this place two men entered the forward door of the mail car, and point in revolvers at the clerks ordered "Hands up." The mail clerks complied. One of the robbers, evidently the leader, selected the mail sacks he wanted, while the other kept the mail clerks covered.

The leaders gathered the sacks into a heap near the door. The robbers then asked how far it was to Yoncalla and ordered one of the mail clerks to stop the train for them.

They said they were laboring men and worked near Drain.

The clerk pulled the cord and as the train came to a stop the robbers picked up the mail sacks and left the train. They ran through the town and into the woods on the other side.

Yoncalla is not a stopping point for the Shasta limited, and when the train slowed up the trainmen ran forward to see what had occurred.

They informed the town constable and he at once aroused the citizens and started in pursuit of the robbers.

At daylight other posses took up the search but so far no trace of the robbers has been found.

The men who committed the robbery were both under 30 years of age, of medium height and were clean shaven. They were roughly dressed and wore no masks.

Washington, June 17.—For palpably unnecessary reasons the senate territories committee in executive session at noon today decided it would not try to hurry out the report on the Flood resolution this afternoon, despite the waiving of all contentions entirely by a big crowd of New Mexican Republicans and Democrats present.

The committee set next Saturday as the definite time for formal action on the resolution. It was generally announced by Chairman Smith and members of the committee yesterday that an understanding had been reached all around to bring the question to a vote this afternoon, as the result of urgent demands and generous concessions from the Republicans made to expedite statehood. When the forenoon session of the committee was about to be closed today Senator Chamberlain of Oregon, a member of the committee, arose and asked the crowd of Republicans and Democrats if there was any objection to the committee taking immediate action on the Flood resolution. Not a single objection was made. Judge Fall, Governor Curry and other Republicans announcing with the Democrats that all objection was waived and asking for an immediate report.

Then the committee went into executive session, at the close of which the announcement was made by Chairman Smith that a decision had been reached to postpone action for one more week. Chairman Smith says that Senators Lippitt and McLean, both members of the committee who are out of the city, wanted to be on hand when action was taken and that they could not act earlier than the latter part of next week because Senator Johnson would be absent the first half of next week. Therefore, it was decided to have one more meeting to consider possible amendments originating among the committeemen, and the committee reconvened until next Friday with an agreement to vote Saturday. In view of the attitude of interested persons from New Mexico and Arizona, the committee's decision was considered unqualified for. The absence or presence of two or three senators is deemed of no consequence. What the possible amendments are like was not intimated.

The speakers this morning were Judge A. B. Fall, Charles A. Spless of Las Vegas, George Curry and J. P. Owen of Phoenix, Ariz., all for prompt action, they told the committee.

New York, N. Y., June 17.—Fifty stewards of the steamship Mornus plying between New York and New Orleans in the marine department of the Southern Pacific railroad, struck today. They said they would take forty others with them and 190 seamen, stokers and coal passers would follow the forty.

The men quit without disorder.

Organizers of the coastwise seamen have said they control between 15,000 and 20,000 men. The general situation will be considered Sunday at a mass meeting of the International Seamen's Union of America. The men ask pay for overtime; better rations and stopping quarters.

The Mornus did not sail at noon although she continued to take on passengers until a few moments before she was due to cast off. At half past eleven the crews of four Southern Pacific tugs, detailed her to help her straight in the stream, also struck. El Cids, another Southern Pacific ship, due to sail at 3 o'clock, was also having trouble with her crew and the strikers said that forty stewards of the Cryfolal of the Panama Railroad Steamship company had walked out in sympathy and would take more men with them.
