

YOUNG SEMINARIAN HAS BEAUTIFUL PASSING AWAY

Vincent Paul Vail, Who Had Desired From Early Boyhood to Become Worker for God, Dies Here Yesterday.

Partaking but a few moments before death of the blessed sacrament, which he since early boyhood had desired to some day consecrate and administer himself as a Catholic priest, Vincent Paul Vail, 21 years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edmund E. Vail, of 7012 Union avenue, Cleveland, Ohio, passed away at 5:30 o'clock yesterday morning at his rooms, 614 South Water street.

The hand of death, heavily veiled, always sudden, was laid lightly and came gently to young Mr. Vail. Accompanied by his sister, Miss Lillian A. Vail, and by his uncle, Thomas Moore, Mr. Vail came to Albuquerque three months ago, close study as a seminarian in St. Mary's seminary in Dayton, where he had spent five years preparing for the priesthood, had undertaken the young man's health. He came to Albuquerque in April, hoping that the sunny climate and the dry altitude would restore his lost health, and that he would fulfill his life ambition of one day being ordained a Catholic priest and ministering at the altar of God.

Early Sunday morning Mr. Vail evidently had a presentiment that he would not live through the day. He requested of his uncle as early as 4 o'clock to telephone to Father Mandari to bring the blessed sacrament at 5 o'clock.

"Why 5 o'clock?" asked Mr. Moore. "That is very early for you and the father."

But at 4:30 again the young man asked that a telephone message be sent to Father Mandari. At 5 o'clock the priest arrived with the viaticum, young Vail, perfectly conscious, received the sacred host, closing his eyes, he made a fervent thanksgiving which occupied a few moments, then bidding his uncle and sister farewell, he slowly sank into the last sleep. Death came at 5:30.

A few moments after he had received his Maker for the last time, young Vail was standing before Him, for whom he had determined to give up home and friends and everything.

Accompanied by Mr. Moore and Miss Vail, the body of Vincent Paul Vail will be sent at 8 o'clock tonight to the family home in Cleveland, where a mother and father, two sisters, Catherine and Loretta, and a brother, Edward, are left to mourn his loss.

ENCHANTED MESA TO BE VIEWED ON A MOTOR TRIP

No longer will it be necessary to make an all-day trip out of a ride from Laguna to the Enchanted Mesa, Aztec, Pocono or any of the numerous points in the vicinity of Laguna, the historic Indian village 45 miles west of Albuquerque. E. F. Eckerman, proprietor of the Hot Springs Hotel, near Laguna, was in Albuquerque yesterday, wandering about the town. He wandered down to Harry Johnson's automobile store to buy some batteries. Harry took him into camp and told him a most interesting story. Eckerman being easily convinced that an automobile could pay for itself through the tourist business and prove much more popular than a carriage and team, Eckerman and his son, Ed, had had a side-trip to Laguna, but a side-trip in an automobile was more attractive. Johnson volunteered to act as chauffeur and the party left here at 3 o'clock, arriving in Laguna at 8:30. The automobile indicated 67.8 miles and the clock showed five hours actual running time. Harry Johnson returned to Albuquerque on the train early yesterday. According to Mr. Johnson the roads between Albuquerque and Laguna are something fierce. No trouble was encountered, however, and the Ford made the trip in a manner that delighted the purchaser of the car. The only excitement of the day happened when the party arrived at Malpais Jct., just east of Sumanee. At the foot of the hill a man with a team met the motor. He told the motorists that a car had never gone up the hill and that he would lead them up for five dollars. Whether Harry Johnson doubted the man's reputation for veracity regarding the steepness of the hill, or there wasn't five in the crowd, is not known. Anyway, the Ford went up the hill, motorists, however, said, 45 degrees incline and all, without a stop.

The teamster, mouth agape, stood at the foot of the hill, wondering how it happened.

With the automobile it will be possible to make trips to the Enchanted Mesa, Aztec and other places in a very easy manner, the roads about Laguna being first class.

SCHMIDT WINS IN CIRCUIT COURT IN ST. PAUL

The case of Franz H. Schmidt, trustee, versus the Bank of Commerce, a suit which was an outgrowth of the J. N. Broyles bankruptcy and of considerable local interest, is now settled for all time, a decision in favor of Schmidt having been rendered by the United States circuit court of appeals in St. Paul, Minn., recently. Francis E. Wood, of Marston & Wood, attorney for Schmidt, returned Saturday night from St. Paul, where he went to argue the case. It will be remembered that the case was argued before Judge Ira A. Abbott in the second judicial district court here, the plaintiff winning a favorable decision. An appeal was taken to the supreme court of New Mexico, in which court the Abbott decision was affirmed. The defendants appealed to the United States circuit court of appeals in St. Paul, on the ground that the circuit court of appeals has no authority to review a bankruptcy case after a decision has been made by the supreme court of New Mexico, the circuit court of appeals have a decision very quickly after the arguments were made which practically means that there will be no further litigation as far as the Schmidt-Bank of Commerce case is concerned.

Mr. Wood said today that it is very warm in St. Paul and roasting hot in Kansas City, and that he is glad to get back to Albuquerque.

NOISY PERFORMERS AT THE CRYSTAL

With wooden shoes and infantile brogues Martin and King "Tin noisie pair" are at the Crystal theatre for an engagement. Martin and King are marvels with the wooden shoes and can do more fancy steps in a minute with them than the average club dancer can do in five. The pair are sweet singers and have a bunch of new and catchy German songs. The act is clever and refined and the Crystal will doubtless enjoy full houses while Martin and King are on the program. The Markets

HEAVY BUYING IS STREET FEATURE

Impetus Given Railroad Stocks By Harriman Decision Saturday Is Beneficial to Sales. (By Evening Herald A. P. Leonard Wire) New York, June 26.—The movement of stocks was wide during the morning and trade was active. The impetus which was given on Saturday by the Harriman merger decision resulted in a heavy buying movement in the opening which was influenced by weather reports of rain over large sections of the west. After displaying pronounced strength, however, the market became decidedly weak, due to realizing by professionals. The sudden mounting up of Norfolk and Western to 116 1/4 had only a momentary effect in checking the decline and renewed selling sent prices to a still lower level. By noon many stocks were selling large fractions below Saturday's close.

STATEHOOD IS ASSURED

BUSINESS IS PICKING UP

Heading all over Albuquerque and activity among the business men shows that Albuquerque is on the verge of a happy time worth while. Once in a while you will hear some merchant complain, but at the same time his business shows up even better than the corresponding time last year. You can't sign a chronic lister. As J. Sam Houston "How is business?"

He will say "Great! Over twenty-two hundred people at the Air dome last night," but if the truth were known there were not more than fifteen hundred.

Tonight the usual big crowds will be at the Air dome to see Jesse James; with west comedy, vaudeville, and the new pictures.

BUZZ WAGON LAMP IS CAUSE FOR EXCITEMENT

Excitement was caused last evening at the band concert at Robinson park when a tail lamp upon the Oldsmobile owned by E. G. Garcia, caught fire, and threatened to burn up the machine. The flame mounted quite high and attracted the attention of passersby, including some boys romping on the grass. Chester Belber, a caller at the Santa Fe roundhouse, rushed to the threatened Olds and kicked the lamp off before serious damage was done. The blaze was caused by a defective wick.

MACHINIST STRUCK BEHIND THE EAR

Lee Caulk Sustains Serious Injuries to Face and Head When He Is Hit by Machinery.

Standing too close to a fast revolving piece of machinery in the Santa Fe machine shop, proved serious for Lee Caulk, a machinist, of 201 Easton avenue, at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon, when he was struck behind the ear and in the face, thereby causing him to be rushed to the hospital. An indentation of considerable size behind the ear is Caulk's most serious hurt, although his face is quite badly cut up. Advice from the Santa Fe hospital today is to the effect that the young man is resting easily and will be able to go to his home within a few days.
