GERMAN REPORT SHOWS IMPORTANT VICTORIES

Berlin Affirms Advances in Western Field and Overwhelming Gains in Eastern Zone During Past 24 Hours

London, Nov. 13 (11:25 a. m.)—The British casualties in the war up to October 31 was approximately 57,000 men of all ranks. This estimate was given by Premier Asquith in the house of commons today in reply to a question by Edward T. John, member of the house from East Denbighshire.

Berlin, Nov. 13 (By Wireless)—According to information given out to the press today in official quarters, German aviators have flown over the English seaports of Sherness and Harwich.

Valparaiso, Chile, Nov. 13.—The German cruisers Leipzig and Dresden steamed into Valparaiso harbor this morning and at once started taking on supplies of provisions.

Lima, Peru, Nov. 13.—The withdrawal on the night house at Port Corral, Chile, reports that on Wednesday, November 11, he saw six cruisers steaming south. His opinion was that they were German cruisers. He could not identify them definitely, but believed that the schooner, the Condessa and possibly the Leipzig were among them.

Paris, Nov. 13 (11:25 a. m.)—A special from Dunkirk states that a French torpedo sank a German submarine off Westende, Belgium.

The submarine, it appears, was trying to torpedo the French warship, when the latter's commander caught sight of her periscope, put on full speed and charged down on the enemy which disappeared. A large quantity of oil rose to the surface, marking the spot where the submarine sank.

London, Nov. 13 (12:30 p. m.)—The military engineers and long since the two opposing forces joined since nearly a month ago in the Flanders campaign could almost be covered by a surgeon's chain. Despite the limitations of the field and intensity of the fighting, both fronts still breathe one another in an unbroken barrier along the Yser. Day by day and foot by foot the advances and retreats are being continued and still the final outcome is not in sight. To

VILLA MOVES TO ATTACK TAMPICO TODAY

San Luis Potosi Occupied Without Firing a Shot. Villa Reported Removed from Command by Aguas Convention

AGAIN DETERMINED TO LEAVE TROOPS ALONE

Washington Finally Decides not to Move Funston's Command Until it is Decided Who is Boss in Mexico.

San Antonio, Tex., Nov. 13.—A message from the Carranza press bureau in Mexico City today said it was announced there that the Aguas Calientes convention had ordered Villa removed from his command, but that Gutierrez, provisional presidential choice of the convention had refused to remove Villa.

General Natera was given as authority for the report.

Washington, Nov. 13.—Not until it is determined which of the competing Mexican factions can exercise control of Vera Cruz and execute the guarantees requested by the United States, will American troops be ordered from the southern port. That decision by President Wilson and his advisers should today as the American attitude toward the tangled Mexican situation which threatens a renewal of civil strife. Coupled with it is the desire not to interfere in the controversy among the military leaders of the republic.

Washington, Nov. 13.—General Villa has ordered an attack on Tampico. His army is spreading from the city of San Luis Potosi, which was occupied without firing a shot. Official dispatches received here today say the people received Villa with an ovation. It will be several days before the Villa troops will be in a position to

MOOSE SANITARIUM MAY BE LOCATED THIS WEEK

Denver, Colo., Nov. 13.—Colorado, New Mexico, Arizona and southern California are being colonized by the Loyal Order of Moose as locations for their proposed $2,000,000 sanitarium. A. A. Motiee of San Diego, chairman of the sanitarium committee, Mr. Motiee is expected to attend a meeting of the supreme council of the order, at which it is expected the location of the hospital will be selected.

Today's War Summary

Conflicting reports came today from the opposing sides on the main European battlefields. From the German military headquarters came official announcement of important successes. The French war office said that the battle in Belgium was becoming less violent and that the German advance had made no further progress.

The Berlin official statement refers to heavy fighting on the Belgian sea coast, near Nieuport, where it is said German marines have inflicted heavy losses on the enemy. At Ypres in the south, near the French border, claim is made to another German victory with the capture of 1,000 prisoners, several French attacks at other points along the battle line are reported.

Nothing of this character is hinted at in the statement of the French war office, in which it is said that the German attacks near Ypres and elsewhere have been repulsed, and that the allies have advanced in a few localities.

What the war is costing in human life, as well as in men wounded or held prisoners, can only be surmised. Occasionally, however, bits of authentic information are obtainable from which may be gathered a vague idea of what it all means. Premier Asquith, for example, said today in the house of commons that the British casualties up to October 31 were approximately 57,000. Lord Kitchener stated recently that England had sent 300,000 men to the front. In other words, one Englishman out of every six engaged in the war, roughly speaking, is dead or has been wounded or taken prisoner. The loss of life among the British nobility has been heavy.

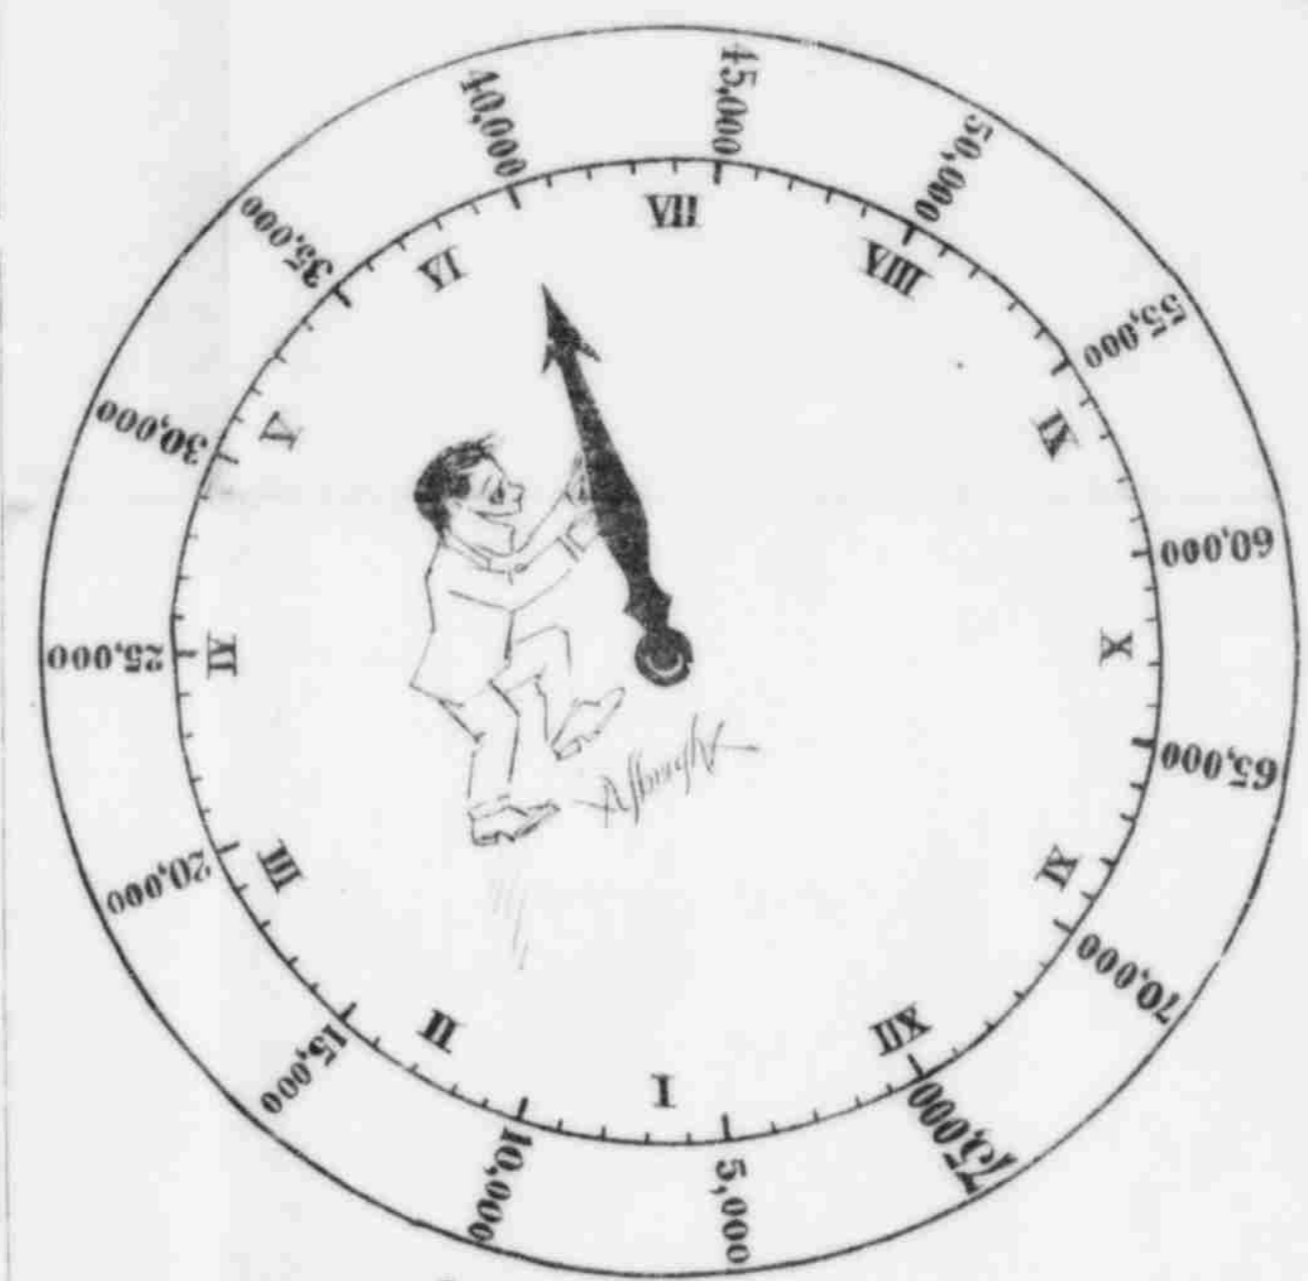

The death of Lord Charles Gordon Lennox was announced today. In Berlin the obituaries of four university professors have just been printed. A note reports that 80,000 prisoners of war are now being held in the Austrian concentration camps.

Parliamentary interest was attached to today's French announcement for the reason that the battle in Belgium was considered by both sides as probably marking a definite turn in the course of the war.

The French statement asserted that several attempts at German to cross the Yser canal, around which has occurred some of the most deadly struggles of the war, were checked. These attempted advances were made in the western outlet from Dinant, which the Germans wrested from the allies a few days ago, and the way along which the Germans sought to push their forces, leading straight to Dunkirk on the channel. Attacks around Ypres also were repulsed, the French announced. Elsewhere on the main line of battle, including the capture of a town north of the fighting. At several points violent fighting is in progress, a circumstance which corroborated early official advices from Paris that the battle of the Aisne was being resumed with its original intensity. Military experts in France and England have been predicting that the allies would make fresh efforts along the center or on the eastern wing in an attempt to compel the Germans to send reinforcements there and relieve the pressure in Belgium.

From the other fields of battle there is little new information. In Berlin was received a dispatch from Vienna which, while stating that the Austrian operations in the northeast were developing "without hindrance from the enemy," also contained the admission that central Galicia had been evacuated by the Austrians and that the Russians had crossed the lower Vistula and occupied Bressan, which lies on the line of the Russian advance toward Cincin.

TOTAL OF FORTY THOUSAND DOLLARS IN Y. M. C. A. FUND THIS AFTERNOON

On the sea valley, east of Poznan, however, a Russian defeat is reported by Vienna. A Petrograd dispatch has it that the Germans suffered a severe defeat beyond Kalisz, leaving many dead on the field. This report, however, has not been confirmed.

Vienna states that the campaign against the Servians is proceeding successfully and that the enemy has been forced to abandon fortified positions and is in full retreat. Fighting centers along the banks of the river save, which separates northwestern Serbia from Austria. At one position, according to Austrian reports, 1,300 Servians were captured.

In the Caucasus the fighting continues with severity and Turkish reports are to the effect that the Russians are now being attacked on their second line of fence. Beyond further admissions that the Turkish attack was severe, Russia has given few details of the fighting in this theater.

Great Britain is calling for another million of men to pour into the war, a supplementary estimate providing for this force was introduced today in the house of commons.

Indications point to another naval battle in the Pacific. The German fleet apparently is remaining close to the South American coast, and reports from various places suggest that Japanese and British warships are drawing in on the Germans. Destruction of a German submarine is reported unofficially from Dunkirk. A French torpedo boat attacked by the submarine is said to have run it down.

$50,000 IS SET AS MARK TO REACH TOMORROW AT NOON

Surprise Said to in Store in Way of Pushes to the Band Wagon on the Downhill Pull.

NO REASON WHY WORK SHOULD STOP SUNDAY

Team No. 2 Brings in $13 on Friday the 13, but the Hoodo Fails to Work.

Forty thousand perfectly good dollars—$40,000, exact—emerge in the fund for the Albuquerque Y. M. C. A. building this afternoon.

At noon today the teams reported contributions bringing the total subscription to $57,898.50, while subscriptions taken this afternoon brought the total to a little more than $40,000.

The mark to be reached tomorrow at noon is set at $50,000 and the teams, made confident by their successes thus far, are certain they will reach it.

Stories of reaching the $50,000 mark tomorrow is made doubly sure by rumors of surprises in the way of large contributions as the Y. M. C. A. band wagon starts its trip on the downhill pull. The crest of the hill was surmounted this morning.

Victory, say the leaders and captains, is now certain.

There is no reason why the Y. M. C. A. work should not continue Sunday, secretary Bill-hunter declared today that the work was especially in work to be done on Sunday and ministers present at the noon day luncheon, wounded him in the statement, so the workers will get only make it an eight hour day, but Sunday as well.

The attendance at the Monday luncheon today, served by the ladies of the Central Avenue Methodist church, was the largest thus far recorded.

It was also the most enthusiastic crowd. The enthusiasm has grown with every difficulty presented. This Y. M. C. A. crowd, with the festing it has today, simply cannot be whipped. It is out to win.

THE UNPARALLELED NERVE OF BUSINESS MAN'S TEAM NO. 2.

This was Friday, the 13th, and every Y. M. C. A. worker began his work this morning with fear in his heart and his fingers cramped. But the mythical hoodoo failed to get in his work. If he was on the way of results, and as if in front his weakness in his face, Team No. 2 of the biz-
