New Mexican Printing Co., Santa Fe, New Mexico.

The New Mexican is the oldest newspaper in New Mexico. It is sent to every Post Office in the Territory and has a large and growing circulation.

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 7.

The New Mexican weekly crop bulletins make mighty interesting reading these days.

It is significant that the boom in wheat ceased when the silver quotations quit advancing.

GALLUP was dry. With characteristic grit Gallupites bored for water and got it. Good for Gallup.

Gov. Richards, of Wyoming, solemnly announces, with evident and strongly confirmatory sorrow between the lines, that only one Bannock was really killed in the late Jackson Hole trouble.

The kindergarten must have recognition in New Mexico. The Santa Fe city school board feels that it can not get that far this year, but the seed the New Mexican is sowing has already fallen in fertile places.

What has become of McKinley? The press dispatches haven't mentioned him as making one of those "polished period" speeches anywhere for several days.

It is doubtless true that a good deal of exaggeration has been indulged in by the daily press of the territory and the west in reporting the extent of and damage done recently by the floods at Silver City and Socorro.

CONSIDERING all the circumstances, the bankers' panic, the drought and consequent light crop returns, the great strike and many other drawbacks, the A., T. & S. F. Railroad company certainly comes out of the past year with flying colors.

ELECTRICITY'S PROGRESS. The electrical era is rapidly approaching. Hundreds of the best minds of the age have been at work on the transportation problem for three years past.

ty, Cal. A large part of the mining industry of that region has been suspended during recent years because of the great difficulty and cost of securing power to run the machinery.

PRESS COMMENT.

New Mexico Agriculture.

The monthly crop report, just issued from Washington, gives in tabulated form the averages of various crops in the states on July 1. In these New Mexico leads in all that she grows, thanks to climate and irrigation.

The Spanish Language.

The Globe-Democrat recently said: The Philadelphia Record has a sensible article on the neglect of the Spanish language in American schools and colleges.

On this, Consul General Crittenden, writing from the City of Mexico, says: "I think the Spanish language should receive marked attention in our public and more advanced schools.
