BRILLIANT NAVAL TRIUMPH IN GOLDEN GATE WHEN BATTLESHIP FLEET COMPLETES ITS TRIP

ATLANTIC FLEET OFF THE PACIFIC COAST AFTER LONG JOURNEY AROUND SOUTH AMERICA

FAIRBANKS TO SECOND PLACE ON TAFT TICKET

He Has Been Approached With Offer of Vice-Presidency if He Quits Race.

ALLIED FORCE IS BREAKING UP

Washington, May 6.—The last solemn rites are practically all that now remain for the Fairbanks-Cannon-Foraker-Knox presidential combination. The sorry state of the alliance was disclosed today when a rumor was permitted to ooze glibly from the Fairbanks camp that the vice president was being approached by the Taft boom, which was ardently seeking to attach him to the second place on that ticket. The Taft press agency paused long enough in their labors to insist they didn't know anything about it.

The "allies" have been allies in name only for some weeks. The breach in the combination developed immediately after the Florida convention. It was charged that Hughes had been instrumental in sending Peabody Wemyer, a negro lawyer of New York City, to that convention in an effort to bring instructions for Foraker, Hughes, while not an active member of the combination, was regarded as in sympathy with its objects. When this evidence of interference was discovered there was trouble in the Foraker division. Senator Dick, Foraker's manager, had Representative McKinley, Representative Burke and Senator Hemenway, managers for Cannon, Knox and Fairbanks, respectively, cooped up in his committee room within an hour. Senator Crane, general manager of the alliance, also was present.

Dick made them angry. He insisted that unless there was no interference with the pledging of southern delegates to Foraker, the alliance might as well take down its sign and go out of business. The negro delegates belonged rightfully to Foraker, he contended, and any attempt to split the strength in the south would end in disaster.

Hemenway and Crane left the conference in a "huff." It also brought a broadside from Knox, who announced coldly that if the "allies" continued their campaign of fighting the president it would wind up in a wreck. The conference marked the beginning of the end. An effort was made only a short time ago to strengthen the organization by enlisting the services of LaFollette. Overtures were made to the Wisconsin senator and inducements held out to him if he would work in the interests of the combination in certain territory. The territory to include Wisconsin, Minnesota, North and South Dakota, Nebraska and Kansas. LaFollette refused.

Still Have a Press Agent.

Driven to desperation, the "allies" sought to shell the political woods by making a strong show of activity and giving evidences that all was harmony within their ranks. They engaged a press agent jointly and for several weeks have been actively striving to keep up with the output from the Taft men. The publicity agent is practically the only tie that now binds the four applicants. An indication of the desperate plight in which the allies are reduced is seen in their present willingness to throw up their hats and cheer for the principles laid down by Senator Bourne. They are willing to swallow even a second-elective-term argument if only they can beat Taft. All their efforts now are directed to this end.

INDIANA MURDER CASE RIVALS FAMOUS CRIMES

Explanation Is Sought for Eleven Deaths Occurring Near Laporte.

BELIEVE WOMAN IS RESPONSIBLE

La Porte, Ind., May 6.—La Porte today is in the throes of a murder mystery that takes rank with the crimes perpetrated by Dr. Holmes of Chicago and the Bender family of Kansas. Eleven deaths was the total this morning for which an explanation is being sought.

Five bodies, some of them dismembered and the parts seen in gunnysacks, were unearthed yesterday in the barn yard of the burned Guinness house one mile out of town. These, with the four imperfectly identified bodies recovered from the ruins of the house since the fire April 28, which led to the arrest of Ray Lampper, a carpenter, on suspicion of murdering Mrs. Belle Guinness, her two daughters and a small son, makes nine bodies to be identified.

Mrs. Guinness is believed to be the murderer of the men and children. One dead man was lured to the Guinness home by a matrimonial advertisement. Two of Mrs. Guinness' husbands died under suspicious circumstances and both were insured. Twice fire destroyed her property and in both cases she collected insurance.

Today it is even intimated that she may not be dead but that she procured a female corpse, set fire to the house and fled. There are several more suspected places in the grounds about the ruins and the authorities resumed a search of the property today.

A gang of men excavating on the Guinness farm under the direction of Sheriff Smulzer came upon another disturbed spot within six feet of where yesterday four bodies were dug up, and upon digging down three feet struck a wooden box which contained the skeleton of a man lying face downward. Continuing their digging in the same place they came upon the skeletons of two more persons but it is impossible to tell whether male or female.

Digging in and around the yard continued this afternoon with the expectation of further developments. One theory advanced is that some of the bodies found were shipped here from Chicago or some other point for burial.

From out a mass of tangled and sensational evidence which indicated that Mrs. Belle Guinness was one of the most monstrous murderers of the century and that the farm was a clearing house of assassination and crime, there developed today the startling theory that the woman did not die in the fire which destroyed her home on the night of April 28, and that she is still alive. This theory is strengthened by the fact that the head of the body of a woman found in the ruins after the fire is still missing. Unless the head is found today the police will make a post mortem examination of the remains and try to learn if it is Mrs. Guinness or one of her female victims. In case it is her female victims, in case it is very likely that she is also guilty of the murder of her three children.

SAN FRANCISCO EXTENDS WELCOME TO SAILORS ON BATTLESHIP FLEET

Entertainment at Golden Gate City Is Culmination of Efforts of Californians and as Such No Effort Is Being Spared to Impress Officers and Men With Idea That the Country Is Glad to See Them After Greatest and Most Successful Undertaking the Navy Has Ever Attempted in Times of Peace—Admiral Evans Commands Fleet as It Enters Harbor and Receives Official Welcome Which Begins Program.

San Francisco, May 6.—Four months and twenty days out from Hampton Roads, the Atlantic fleet of battleships and the second American torpedo boat flotilla, with accompanying coilers, steamed majestically within the Golden Gate today and cast anchor in the harbor of San Francisco, where a welcome characteristic of western hospitality awaits them.

The combined fleet, sailing from Santa Cruz yesterday afternoon, arrived off the outer lighthouse at 9 o'clock last night and all right lay at anchor, gently rolling in the swell of the Pacific, with the six accompanying black-hulled destroyers in the rear of the big ships, which were in double column formation.

The glow of the lights from the city and its suburbs could be plainly seen from the ships, while on the top of the highest hill around the bay an immense electrical sign bearing the word "WELCOME" intermittently flashed its message to the visiting sailors. The ships were in communication with the land station by wireless all night long, and messages during the night told of the uneventful trip from Santa Cruz, the last stopping place, and of the condition of the ships and men.

The information of greatest interest to San Franciscans and the thousands of visitors in the city concerned Admiral Evans, who rejoined the fleet at Monterey yesterday and who triumphantly commanded its entry into the harbor today. Admiral Evans' stay at the Paso Robles hot springs since he left the fleet at Magdalena Bay has benefited him greatly, and while he is still lacking the vitality that has characterized his career in the navy, it is stated that he is sufficiently recovered to participate in the welcome that San Francisco will extend to the fleet, in part at least.

The movements of the fleet corresponded to the exact schedule made out in advance. The vessels left their anchorage this morning and the movement was so timed that the flag-ship Connecticut, with Admiral Evans on the bridge, passed the headlands of the gateway, Point Bonita on the south and Point Lobos on the north, at exactly 12 o'clock. Admiral Evans remained on the bridge from the time the Connecticut started until anchor was dropped in the historic harbor of the western metropolis.

As the vessels steamed through the Golden Gate and into the harbor the guns at the coast defenses around the bay boomed a salute and were answered by the guns on the ships. Whistles screeched on land and sea and the thousands of people lining the bay and covering the decks and rigging of boats in the harbor waved flags and cheered the sailors.

Visitors From Many States.

The official welcome will be extended today to Admiral Evans and his officers and the lengthy program of entertainment will then be on in earnest. It includes balls, banquets, parades, sporting events and hundreds of affairs for both officers and men, and is designed to be the culmination of the entertainment provided by the citizens of California, which has been in progress every minute of the time since the fleet sailed into San Diego Bay after the long trip around South America.

It is estimated by the railroads that more than 300,000 visitors are in town.

ORCHARD IS REPRIEVED UNTIL FIRST WEEK IN JULY

Governor Gooding Postpones Execution so Pardon Board Can Act on Petition.

NO OPPOSITION TO LIFE IMPRISONMENT

Boise, Idaho, May 6.—Governor Gooding today granted a reprieve to Harry Orchard, who was sentenced to hang Friday of next week, until July 2. This action was taken because the question was raised as to the legality of the board of pardons acting on new matter at a special session.

When the Orchard case came up before the board a petition was presented asking that the sentence of death be commuted to life imprisonment. The attorneys representing Orchard were prepared to introduce support for this request and there would apparently have been no opposition if the board had decided to change the punishment to be meted out to the self-confessed murderer. The board decided, however, that its action at this session would be illegal and on this decision Governor Gooding issued a reprieve so that the board will have an opportunity of acting on the petition at a future meeting.

WILL SETTLE THE RIVALRY.

London, May 6.—The directors of the Covent Royal Garden opera, in spite of English conservatism, have arranged an operatic combat between Melba and Tetrazzini, and with a determination to settle their relative standing once for all, the rival prima donnas have agreed to the trial. Both prima donnas will appear at a gala performance on May 24 in the same opera, "Les Huguenots," and the public will be given an opportunity to judge of the relative merits of the two stars, one who has ascended in a single season, the other whose brilliancy is undimmed by many years of shining.

ALLEGED BANK ROBBER IS ARRESTED AT DENVER

He Is Said to Be One of Two Men Who Locked Cashier in Vault in Kansas Town.

THE CASHIER SAYS HE IS RIGHT MAN

Chautauque, Kan., May 6.—William Tennant was arrested in Denver yesterday, charged with the robbery of the Citizens' State bank of Chautauque April 17 last. He is well known here. He has been missing since the robbery.

Cashier Walterhouse of the bank, shortly after the robbery, stated positively that Tennant was one of the two men who held him up.

The hold-up of the bank was one of the most daring ever executed in this part of Kansas. Walterhouse had scarcely opened the bank and placed the currency on the counter when the two robbers entered. They made their way to the cashier's window and covered him with a pistol. One held up a lone customer and the cashier and customer were shut up in the vault.

After locking the bank doors and drawing the curtain the robbers helped themselves to the money in sight and passed into the street. A few blocks away they mounted horses and made for the Oklahoma line. Poses were organized but the men escaped.

SOME NAVAL ACCIDENTS.

Peace has its terrors as well as war. Life on an armored cruiser or a battleship is never just like dwelling in a sanitarium for nervous troubles. This is shown by the numerous accidents which have occurred on the fleets of the world in the last few weeks.

April 26—British cruiser Gladiator and S. S. St. Paul collide off Yarmouth, England—28 killed.

April 28—Cylinder head United States battleship Missouri blows out at Santa Barbara—no casualties.

April 28—Torpedo boat Gales run down by coast Attentive off British coast at Kentish Knocks—2 killed.

Torpedo boat Ribbe nearly sunk in same collision.

The wounds of Peraso and his wife are believed to be fatal while those of the three barbers are serious but probably not fatal. The boy escaped. The police believe the boy is an agent of a Black Hand gang.

KILLS THREE AND SUICIDES.

Washington, May 6.—Bert Devaney, aged 43, white, a well known horseman, last night shot and killed Lida Bird, aged 23, a colored girl, and fatally wounded her mother. He then ran into the barn of Silas Shackelford. Refusing to come out, Shackelford went after him and was shot and killed by Devaney. Later Devaney committed suicide. He is thought to have been insane. Devaney shot the girl and her mother when he called at their house and was refused admittance.

CANADA DOESN'T WANT HINDOO EMIGRANTS

People Are Alarmed at Movement and Will Ask Assistance of England and India to Prevent It.

Ottawa, Ont., May 6.—It has become apparent that the statement of Great Britain have been converted to the view of those of Canada as to the undesirability of Oriental immigration and that Canada should be a country for the white man. This fact is announced by Deputy Minister of Labor W. L. MacKenzie King, who has just returned to Ottawa from London, where he has been negotiating an understanding through the imperial ministry with the authorities in India relative to Hindoo emigration to Canada, a movement which has become alarming to Canadians.

King announced that the imperial authorities view the question of immigration of Orientals into overseas countries as one of the largest and most complex of the present world problems. They appreciate the Canadian view that the question could best be met by sympathetic co-operation on the part of Great Britain, India and Canada.

Memphis, May 6.—Three dead, several injured and considerable property loss and demoralization of traffic resulted from a storm of wind and rain which swept over southern Arkansas, western Tennessee and Mississippi yesterday. The wind raged a number of small buildings and tangled the wires, while the rain caused numerous washouts on railroads.
