Things Theatrical Beginning to Move a Little.

De Wolf Hopper and Other Old Favorites to Be Heard Again.

"The White Squadron" will have its first metropolitan production at the Fourteenth Street Theatre Monday night. It is the work of James W. Harkins, jr., and deals with the recent Congress of Nations at Rio de Janeiro "to protest against the persistent brigandage tolerated in Brazil." The principal scenes will show the Grand Plaza at Rio, a ruined monastery in the interior of South America, and the grand harbor of Rio. In the cast will be Henry Lee, Elmer Grandin, William Harcourt, Oscar Eagle, Robert Hilliard, Antoine Butler, Graham Henderson, Alice Fischer, Annie Louise Eldridge and Nellie Yale Nelson.

E. H. Sothern will begin his annual season at the Lyceum Theatre Tuesday night in Miss Marguerite Merrington's play entitled "Captain Lettarblair." This comedy had a single matinee performance some month's ago at the Lyceum Theatre, and was received with some favor. Many changes have, however, been made in the play since then, and these changes are described as improvements. Mr. Sothern plays the part of an Irish officer in the Royal Fusiliers. His leading lady will be that capital actress, and pleasant looking young woman, Virginia Harned.

De Wolf Hopper, recruited by his European trip, will again disport himself in "Wang," at the Broadway Theatre, Monday night. The management believe that the vitality of this very amusing "burletta" has not been seriously impaired, and the indications are that the managerial belief is correct. When the interest in "Wang" dies, "The Lady or the Tiger?" will be substituted. Pretty Billie Della Fox will head Mr. Hopper's company.

The preliminary season of the Standard Theatre will be opened to-night with a play new to this city, entitled "Lady Lil." The author of the play is Laurence Marston, the husband of the star, Lillian Lewis, who is not entirely a stranger to metropolitan audiences. The action of "Lady Lil" takes place in 1806, and the people of the play are Prussians, Austrians, Americans, Bonemians and Frenchmen. The cast will include Gustavus Levy and W. A. Whitecar.

"Sorry" is the name of the play that will be introduced for the first time to a New York audience at the Windsor Theatre to-night. The star will be J. W. Summers, a character actor, and the leading feminine role will be entrusted to Gracie Emmett, a soubrette. "Sorry" has been acted in England, and Mr. Summers appeared on the other side many times in the part that he will play at the Windsor.

"Cosmo Romani" will open the season of H. C. Miner's People's Theatre to-night. It will be presented by Alden Benedict's company, including Walter Lawrence and Miss Frances Field. Mr. Lawrence will appear in the title role and Miss Field will impersonate Wina, his faithless wife. There will be some very handsome scenery, showing the Bay of Naples, Vesuvius in eruption and an earthquake.

The three hundredth performance of "A Trip to Chinatown" in this city, will be celebrated at the Madison Square Theatre Aug. 20, when every evening visitor will be presented with a silver calendar, a companion to the silver thermometer that was the souvenir of the two hundredth performance. Anna Boyd and Harry Conor will, during the coming week, add new verses to their songs, and Geraldine McCann will on Monday night resume her part in the skit.

"The Mascot" remains at Palmer's Theatre, where it has patiently stayed through the intense heat—a test that would try the endurance of any comic opera. Dixie is now rehearsing a new feature called "The Seven Ages of Dancing," that he will shortly introduce into the second act. Just how long "The Mascot" will run has not yet been definitely decided, but another revival will take its place when Mr. Atskin deems it advisable to make a change.

Miss Flora Findlay-son, who made a hit on the roof of the Madison Square Garden last Sunday night, will sing again to-morrow night. She will interpret a number of English ballads and Spanish songs. Walter Damrosch has decided to give two Spanish nights each week at the Madison Square Theatre, and these performances will occur every Wednesday and Saturday night. The audiences, it is said, are always very large on Wagner nights.

Powell and Majilton have but a short time longer to remain at the Eden Musee. The illusion, "She," may still be enjoyed at this house, and the management declare that "it has never been satisfactorily explained by scientists." A number of new attractions have been secured for the opening of the Fall season, which will be, as usual, an interesting event. The Hungarian band still finishes the musical portion of the entertainment.

Amann, who is announced as Europe's "greatest mimic," will make his first appearance in America at Koster & Bial's concert Hall Monday night. The mimic, it is said, makes up and dresses the character he represents from head to foot, and he uses no mask. The opera bouffe adaptation, entitled "A Village Wedding," will be continued next week. Other attractions will be the Borant Brothers, Nada Reyval, Dorothy Denning and Mlle. Turmour.

"Sinbad," it has been decided, will remain at the Garden Theatre until Oct. 10—six weeks longer than was originally intended. This is something of an achievement when the anti-theatrical hot spell is remembered. The initial performance of the pantomime will take place Wednesday night. During the week Louise Montague and Effie Chapray have been ill. Their places were filled by Ada Dare and Gertrude Rutledge.

Eldorado is still drawing the usual "crowds." The entertainment now in its better shape than it has ever been—which means a great deal. The resort is a delightful one, suggestive of some of the pleasing resorts on the European continent. There is dancing everywhere, and the grounds alone would be enough to satisfy most folks. New features are constantly being introduced into the spectacle, "Egypt Through Centuries."

"Settled Out of Court" will begin the second week of its run at the Fifth Avenue Theatre Monday night. Many changes have been made, and a great deal of the superfluous dialogue has been removed. The play moves along much more convincingly now. The real pleasure of the performance, however, is afforded by the excellent cast, headed by Joseph Holland, who has made a hit that has stamped him as a great actor.

At Tony Pastor's Theatre next week the attractions will include John and James Rissell, James Lee, Alexander Kennedy, Granville and Stetson, Billie Barnie Thornton, John E. Drew, Marion and Post, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Morphett, in an "unfathomable mystery," laconically entitled "Oh!" Jesse K. Miles, an operatic vocalist, and Lasmar, the facial cartoonist, are also announced.

The fiftieth performance of "The Vice-Admiral" will be given at the Casino Monday night. The opera has but five weeks longer to remain. Several changes will be made in the cast. Jazzie DeMore Daly will appear in Emma Hanley's part of Serafina, and Agnes Sherwood will take Annie Meyers's place. At the concert to-morrow night Seamville, Miss Daly, Mabel Stephenson, Binns and Burns and the Navaro Quartet will appear.

The engagement of the Bedouin Arabs at Huber's Museum has been extended, and the troupe will consequently be seen again during the coming week. Their work is interesting, as they are clever swordsmen, splendid dancers and wonderful tumblers. Ladelle Brothers, trapezists and acrobats, who were so popular at this house last season, are again announced. Huber's Museum has an open roof and is agreeably cool.

The attractions at Doris's Eighth Avenue Museum next week will include Victoriana, the San Domingan "armless wonder;" Herr Strausberger's trained ourang-outangs, Rentz's acrobatic dogs, Prof. Queen's sensational suicide act, Prof. Jules Verna, a necromancer, and Mabel Gray, a thought reader. In theatre No. 1 Edith Crolius will appear in "The Rebel Chieftain," and in theatre No. 2 will be Doris's All-Star Specialty Company.

Pain's fireworks at West Brighton, Coney Island, still throw their tinted glories into the cool, salt-laden air—which is a very pretty way of putting it. This pyrotechnic display deserves all the praise it gets, for it is a capitally managed affair, and one of extreme artistic value. During the past week it has been very extensively patronized.

SPORTING NEWS AND NOTES.

Suggestion to the Metropolitan Association of the A. A. U.

Billy Plimmer, the Bantam Pugilist, Leaves for Home.

The Metropolitan Association, of the Amateur Athletic Union, is getting things under way for the annual out-door championship games, which will be held at Manhattan Field on Sept. 10. The committee having these games in charge realize the necessity of taking due care in arranging for them. The last effort of the Association in giving the indoor games which were held at Madison Square Garden in January last still lingers in the minds of of those who had anything to do with them. The coming championship games should be successful, as the athletes have not been hurting themselves with work this Summer, owing to the lamentable inactivity of athletes, and the Labor Day games ought to serve admirably as preliminary practice for the championships.

It has often been said that the A. A. U. games, whether of the National Association or the Metropolitan Association, are never successful financially, and that these associations are obliged to give boxing shows in order to make money. The Association now has a chance to redeem itself in this respect, and if the committee manage the games as they should the Association ought to clear a neat surplus. The games must, at least, pay for themselves or there will be a howl that will amount to something. Of course if the officials continue on a domineering policy, and if they slight the clubs in humble circumstances, they cannot expect anything but failure, but if the clubs that compose the Metropolitan Association go into the coming games with a will there is no reason why they cannot make enough money to pay off the indebtedness contracted at the indoor championships, and by so doing let the odious tax of $15 per club slide.

If there was a vote taken the result without a doubt would show that the scheme suggested is the one most favored. If the officials that carry the heavy end in conducting the affairs of the Metropolitan Association really have the best interests of that organization at heart, they will see to it that the coming games are successful financially.

The New Yorks and Brooklyns refrained from indulging in a championship game yesterday. The New Yorks took a turn up the State and came very near being turned down by the Middletown Asylum team. The score was 2 to 1. Neither side scored after the first inning.

The Giants have taken two falls out of Ward's wonders in the present series, but the Brooklynites rested up yesterday and will try to clinch Buck Ewing to-day at Eastern Park that they are not afraid of him or his associates, if he has come back like a ghost from the vistas of the past. John Ward would be exceedingly pleased to touch the Giants for one game out of the three.

The games scheduled for to-day are as follows:

| | |
|---|---|
| New York at Brooklyn. | St. Louis at Louisville. |
| Boston at Philadelphia. | Cleveland at Chicago. |
| Washington at Baltimore. | Cincinnati at Pittsburg. |

Little Billy Plimmer, the English bantam pugilist, left for home this morning on the Umbria. He was accompanied by his faithful trainer, Benny Murphy. Plimmer came over here about a year ago, when this country was flooded with foreign pugilistic material, but he alone of the extraordinary consignment of foreign pugs maintained his own. Plimmer has handled himself in a manner that has drawn to him a host of friends, and his departure is generally regretted by the followers of the roped square. Plimmer turned down a large number of ambitious boys in his stay here. Tommy Kelly, Kid Hogan and Jerry Barnett being on the list. He was anxious to meet George Dixon, but the match could not be arranged. Billy goes home to see his mother, who has been anxiously awaiting her boy's return for some time. Plimmer is ready to meet any man in the world at 110 pounds for as large a purse or stake as his opponent can find. He expects to return to this country late in the Fall.

Billy Dacey is training Caspar Leon, of the Granite Athletic Club, for his go with the Pickaninny at the Academy of Music on Aug. 15. Dacey says that Leon has trained hard and will be in excellent condition when he confronts the "Pick."

* * *

The Sons of St. George are going to hold a set of games at Ridgewood Park on Monday afternoon. There will be ten events. The entry list is large and contains the names of some well-known athletes.

* * *

Jim Corbett has made a number of warm friends since he has been at Asbury Park. They have arranged to give an outdoor entertainment on the grounds of the Asbury Park Athletic Club, at which Corbett will be the stellar attraction.

* * *

John L. Sullivan will be visited to-day by a corps of doctors, headed by Dr. Sargent, of Harvard College. The object of the visit is to examine Sullivan's physical condition. The big fellow was examined before he began training. To-day's examination will show what five weeks of hard work has done for the big fellow. The result of this examination, which will take place at Canoe Inn, will be looked with interest by those who have hung their money on Sullivan's form and condition.

* * *

The senior eight-oared shell race will be the last event in the Middle States regatta to be rowed on the Passaic at Newark to-day. This race will be rowed at 6 o'clock sharp.

* * *

John O'Loughlin, Secretary of the Lorillard Athletic Club, says the games to be given by his Club on Aug. 20 will be among the best of the season.

Swimming is one of the popular sports just now at Travers Island, the pretty Summer home of the New York Athletic Club.

BORROWED BABY M'KEE.

A Woman Wanted a Boy to Try on a Hat.

They tell a pleasant little story of Mrs. Harrison's affability in Washington, says the Philadelphia Times. Not very long ago an impulsive young matron went into a large clothing store for men and boys to buy her husband a cravat. Her eye fell upon a lot of boys' hats selling "for this day only" at reduced prices. She straightway determined to buy one for her own five-year-old, but was somehat hampered by the fact that she had no recollection of the size required by the youth. As she glanced about in perplexity, a middle-aged lady entered, leading a boy just about the size of the absent son.

The young mother darted over, asked breathlessly for the loan of the small boy, tried a hat on his head and returned him with a hurried word of thanks, all in the twinkling of an eye. The middle-aged lady passed on smiling, and the young borrower turned to wait for her package. The clerk leaned limply against his counter and gazed at her with horror-stricken eyes.

"Why," he gasped, "didn't you know who that was? That's Mrs. Harrison and Baby McKee."

FROM THE WORLD OF LABOR.

To-morrow the K. of L. Coopers' Assembly of this city will elect new officers.

The Labor Federation of Queensland, Australia, has resolved not to recognize Queen Victoria in any way.

Chinese laborers are being imported into Africa to teach the natives how to cultivate tea and tobacco.

The second International Congress of Printers will take place at Berne, Switzerland, from Aug. 21 to Aug. 27.

The striking cigar-makers of Herman Bros. & Lowenstein withdrew their tools from the shop yesterday afternoon.

Typographical Union No. 13, Boston, has adopted resolutions favoring direct legislation through the people, as existing in Switzerland.

Cigar-Makers' Union No. 90 has called a meeting for this evening at 193 Orchard street, to discuss the subject of "Anarchism, or Socialism?"

Eight "scabs" have been withdrawn from strike shops by members of the United Wood-carvers' Association this week. Frank W. Baines was re-elected Walking Delegate.

Electricians are very busy designing plans for the smaller towns and cities throughout the West, and quite a number of cables and electrical roads are to be built this Fall.

The clerks in the banks of Denver, Col., jointly own a cottage in the Rocky Mountains where they pass their vacations, using it in detachments during the Summer.

In consequence of the occurrences at Homestead many Knights of Labor Assemblies have recently been discussing the subject of "The rights of labor to resist illegal forces."

Secretary Edward Jennings, of Local Union No. 207, of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, has been elected City Clerk of Seymour, Ind., where his fellow-workmen hold the balance of political power.

District Assembly 82, K. of L., Railroad Employees, has elected: Thomas Nesbitt, Master Workman; A. C. Miller, Worthy Foreman; J. N. Corbin, Recording Secretary; W. L. Carroll, Treasurer; Henry Breitenstein, Statistician.

The State Assembly of the Knights of Labor of Arkansas will convene at Little Rock on Sept. 19. It is expected that independent political action will be agreed upon. The Wisconsin State Assembly meets at La Crosse on Sept. 2.

The brewery workmen of Weiler & Thomas, Philadelphia, are on a strike because the firm refuses to sign the contract by Brewers' Union No. 5. The oremen who attempted to induce the firm to sign the contract has been discharged.

An advance of wages having been determined upon by the Timbermen's Union, a meeting of shop delegates is to be held at 243 Bowery to-night to ratify this decision. On Aug. 20, an entertainment for the benefit of the strikers will take place at the Tompkins Turn Hall, 3d Fifth street.

Local assembly 5,216, K. of L., of West Hudson Mayor Wolfgang Hoffmann, Michael Hoffmann, Worthy Foreman; C. F. Arthur Eng, Recording Secretary; P. H. Croghn, Financial Secretary; Michael Pendergast, Treasurer; Patrick Comerford, Statistician; Patrick Mc-Kehoe, Worthy Guider; Patrick Conlon, Assistant.

Lynch, Recording Secretary; Thomas Fitzpatrick, Financial Secretary; Michael Sullivan, Treasurer; Frank Mackie, Statistician; Patrick Fitzgerald, delegate to the General Assembly. Assembly 300 has seven locals in its district, with 1,200 members, are affiliated with the District.

For refusing to renew his contract with journeymen barbers Union No. 7 the Lenox Hill Association has been withdrawn from Rosses Hall, 87 East Third street, and Joseph Schleck, 421 East Seventy-third street. The following Boycotts: Schneider, 22 Avenue C, and Louis Lox, 514 Fifth street, were ostracized this week.

The first great labor singing festival will take place at the Union Hill Schuetzen Park to-morrow. Twenty-eight societies of New York and Vicinity, Philadelphia, Hartford and New Haven will participate in the exercises. The proceeds are to be given towards establishing a new Labor Lyceum in this city.

The Carpenters' Union, of San Francisco, lately finished their eight hour built on the plan of a Sunday "raising." Seven houses had already been built in this way. The men, nine in number, started in at 8 A. M. on Sunday and finished the house in eight hours, complete, with no cost to the owner for labor. Of course, these houses are only built for members of the Union.

Manage, Wiener & Co., of Philadelphia, whose cigar-makers are on strike since April 25, have applied to Judge Allison, of the Philadelphia Court of Common Pleas, for an injunction against J. Seldon Barnes and twenty-eight other union cigar-makers to prevent them from picketing the factory. The case will come up for next week.

Since 1886 we have had 6,075 strikes of building trades workmen in the United States, involving over 112,000 persons. Of these strikes 3,781 were successful, 1,257 have been compromised and 1,019 were lost. The strikers lost $3,661,580 in wages and the loss to the bosses is estimated at about $2,840,000, only 5,372 "scabs" could be found to replace the strikers. On an average wages were raised 25 per cent. through these strikes.

J. L. Sullivan has been commissioned as Organizer by the National Executive Board of the Hotel and Restaurant Employees' National Alliance. Julius Lenz was elected Vice-Secretary in the place of the new National Secretary, Theodore Birk, of Local Union No. 1. Charges have been preferred against Otto Fuller, of the Long Island Waiters' Association, it being alleged that he took "dishonorary fees from waiters out of employment in getting them places."

In his farewell to the members of the Ad-ler Eduard F. X. Sweeney says, "The Eastern Protective Union is on a firm footing—rich and powerful. It will go on adding to the material and intellectual advancement of all that are benefitted enough to be connected with it. The labor has been discontinued for personal reasons and differences, but sometime may arise in a labor organization. It is expected that the paper, which was of great service to the Union, will be revived by the next National convention.

There are at present 107 branches of the Painters' Alliance in New Jersey, with 2,200 members. At their annual session the following state officers were elected: W. O. Ward, President; Benjamin Bird, Vice-President; H. F. Updyke, Secretary; Jonas Sharp, Treasurer; Rev. William Stout, Chaplain. Wages are now with Lackawanna, Sussex, Morris, Somerset, Union, Richmond, Business Agent; A. S. Silvertharn, C. P. Atkinson, E. C. Harris, Executive Committee. The State convention will assemble at Library Hall, Trenton, on Sept. 6, 10 A. M.

Oh, the Envy of the Sex!

From the Brooklyn Weekly.

Jack—Will dines Mrs. Pilmper pin her hair back on her breast this Summer?

Jenks—I guess she has her bathing suit in her watch pocket.

An Exception, Perhaps.

From Judge.

According to the papers, blondes are getting gray soon.

I don't know about that. My wife's a brunette, and there is a good deal of rage about her at times.

Frightful and Nothing Less

Are the ravages in physical stamina caused by the cares of the ordinary and bolder, oftentimes sooner, they are swiftly progressive to a fatal termination. Beginning with the simple inactivity of the digestive organs, they are followed by indigestion, dyspepsia, biliousness, nervousness, sleeplessness, and other woful ills in the direction of the kidneys. This is terrible enough, but the worst remains to be told. Any one of these symptoms is sufficient to undermine the power of assimilating the blood, and of supplying the kidneys with the proper nutriment. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is most efficient in such cases, as well as a general tonic and corrector of unwrought excellence. It performs a three-fold office for the system in promoting secretion of the kidneys, in the most effectual expulsion through these channels impurities which produce rheumatism and dropsy. Malaria, constipation, biliousness, liver trouble, nervousness, dyspepsia, all succumb to its beneficent action.
