IT WAS NECESSARY.

Enough has been developed in Chicago, and even in this city, to show that the hanging of four of the Anarchists was necessary. The very fact that there is in this country an utterly alien element, unappreciative of our liberty, open enemies of our institutions, who would substitute bombs for ballots, license for law, and anarchy for order, and which holds that the instigators of the Chicago slaughter committed no crime, proves that it was as needful as it was just that the law should take its course.

The terrible optical lesson of the four-branched gallows-tree may teach those who will learn in no other way that in a government by the people there is neither pretext for violence nor immunity for crimes against the state.

OPEN THE DOORS TO THE TOILERS.

Gen. Di Cossola, director of the Metropolitan Museum, personally favors the Sunday opening. But he says additional expense is involved. Why? What's the matter with closing the Museum on a week day in order that it may be opened on Sunday, the only day on which the working masses can attend?

Open the doors to the toilers. Yet the people would gladly pay the additional expense. There is a standing offer under express sanction of law of an increase of $4,000 in the city appropriation on condition of Sunday opening. This would be made larger if necessary.

BOODLE TRIALS POSTPONED.

District-Attorney MARTINE has announced that no more Boodle trials will be had until after the 1st of January, when Mr. Fellows will assume the direction of the office.

GERMANY'S WARLIKE PRINCE.

No one can forecast the full significance of the accession of Prince WILLIAM to the German throne, an event very likely to occur in the immediate future.

That a radical change in the policy of Germany will follow seems to be unquestioned. Prince WILLIAM is young and impetuous, the idol of the German army and eager for distinction on the battle-field.

France will have no difficulty in provoking hostilities with Prince WILLIAM on the throne. A hasty word, a blow, and ill-fated Europe will feel again the scourge of war.

LOOKING TOWARDS '88.

On the morning after election THE WORLD said that the Democratic victory in this State settled two things:

(1) That President CLEVELAND would be re-nominated by the Democrats. (2) That Mr. BLAINE would not be re-nominated by the Republicans.

This morning THE WORLD gives to the public ample proof of the soundness of the first opinion. In response to its solicitation the Governors and prominent editors and politicians of a majority of the States have telegraphed their interpretation of the effect of the election.

The Democrats are a unit in saying that President CLEVELAND'S nomination is assured. The Republicans are divided as to BLAINE. But the logic of the situation will soon satisfy them their favorite is out of the race.

"Consequences are unspying."

A GOVERNMENT OF LAW. Gov. OAKLEY tempered justice with mercy in commuting the sentence of two of the condemned Anarchists to imprisonment for life.

The real responsibility was with the law—the people-made and people-approved law. But the Governor met the appeal made to him to interfere in the operation of the law with calmness, consideration and courage.

His action will be commended by the sober sensibilities of the country.

BY THE PEOPLE. The cry against "the governing classes," voiced by the Anarchist, is an utterly false one.

The "governing classes" in this country are the people, and the whole people. If every citizen does not have a share in the actual government it is his own fault. The

5,000 Boidallists who voted in Chicago the other day were among the "governing classes."

The rule of the majority is not oppression. It is the most perfect form of government the world has seen.

Those who oppose it want no rule but that of their ungoverned will.

There is one thing more needed to put the Democratic party in a proper and hopeful condition for the Presidential election.

The Democratic House must pass a bill to stop the surplus by reducing the needless tax laws.

And it should do it "straightway."

FREE BALLOTS. Free ballots and fair voting are the first conditions of decent politics and honest government.

To secure these, the State should supply the ballots. At present, especially in our large cities, the nominations are made by a close corporation of office-holders; the ballots are in the hands of party agents; the elections are often a mere choice between machines.

The effect of this is to create a government by office-holders for office-holders, to encourage corrupt deals and trades, and to render elections both costly and farcical.

The State should supply the ballots. Election expenses of candidates should be strictly limited and subject to publicity. And the political "bummer" and Boss should go.

POINTS FOR JOHNNY BULL.

The education of England is proceeding auspiciously. We are about to export for J. Bull's further enlightenment an enormous cyclorama of Niagara Falls. This will enable our transatlantic friends to get a conception of a real waterfall.

A three years' course in yachting has already been given with satisfactory results. The instruction in the mysteries of bison, cowboy and reekin has been well received. Just at present London is gathering some very valuable points about the manly art from the only JOHN L.

It seems not unreasonable to entertain the hope that in the course of a few years J. Bull will realize that there is quite a little settlement on this side of the water.

THE CASTLE GARDEN CRISIS.

Affairs at Castle Garden are evidently coming to a crisis. The Sestraps have about reached the end of their rope. Enraged at Secretary FAIRCHILD'S withholding of funds, they threaten to sue him.

It is to be hoped that the needed reform at Castle Garden may be accomplished with the least possible temporary hardship to the immigrants. Secretary FAIRCHILD is doubtless giving the matter the most careful consideration.

But is it not about time to hear from Mr. OKE's report? Winter is near at hand, and, if a change is to be made, it should be made quickly.

The Sestraps need summary measures.

THE DREADFUL STORY OF BLOODSHED.

How the Police-men Died Who Fought Anarchists in Chicago Streets. The workmen of Chicago were now steeped in excitement. The atmosphere of the great city was pregnant with the promise of trouble. For forty-eight hours following the simultaneous strike of 60,000 men and women the streets of Chicago were being made on every corner, from every house-block and in every alley the speakers were pitched in and in every alley the speakers were pitched in and in every alley the speakers were pitched in.

That funny FORAKER fulminates the assertion that he and Ohio are sold for SPERMAN. Why, certainly. So was GARFIELD for SHELMAN in 1880, but somehow the woe Ohioan was nominated.

If there are any angels or even fallen angels about, it would be well for them to apply to Mayor HEWITT, as there is to be another vacancy on the Park Commission.

The fatal signal at Chicago will be heard around the world. It means that there is no place for Anarchy under a free government in the nineteenth century.

Has it ever occurred to people who don't like this country, its institutions and laws, that steering passage to other lands can be got very cheap?

That "strange Eastern bird," Massachusetts' Mugwump, plumes his feathers and softly croaks: "I'm a good deal of a rooster, I am."

When the classes have six days at the Metropolitan Museum, why can not the masses have at least one?

Dr. REID wants the fist outlawed as a deadly weapon. He will have the support of JOHN L.'s rash competitors.

Even the "tears from the sky" were frozen to snow as the hour of the Anarchists' doom was struck.

SQUIRE says he has come home for a vindication. This is a great year for vindications.

Liberty and Order—always and forever dependent upon each other.

First Snow of the Season. This morning had its first snowstorm of the season (New York) began to fall just before noon, and this preliminary skinning was succeeded by a blinding cloud of snow from the southwest, which drove many pedestrians to seek shelter in doorway. The blizzard cleared about twenty minutes, and then the air was clear again.

Executive Session of the Board of Education. An executive session of the Board of Education was held to-day at the Hoffman House to discuss the interests of that business.

HANGED!

They were executed by Inspector Bonfield and Capt. Ward. The police marched into the crowd, sweeping to the pavement and pressing it before them.

Almost simultaneously with this command a spluttering spark of fire described an arch in the dense black air from the opening of an alley and over the speaking block of the Anarchists.

The crowd seemed paralyzed for a moment, but with pistol-shots cracking like the tattoo of a drum and bullets singing in the air, the mob gave one wild yell and plunged into the dense, swirling in all directions, yelling with rage and fear.

In thirty seconds the streets about the scene of the explosion were cleared, and for sixty men who had fallen wounded to the ground.

Many of the men who had fallen wounded to the ground were taken to the hospital, but many died.

SKETCHES OF THE ANARCHISTS. Only One of Them Native Born, and He Was From Massachusetts.

The events which have just culminated in the execution of the Anarchists date back for several years.

For two years previous to this wholesale homicide Michael Schvay, August Spies, A. E. Parsons, Samuel Fielden, George Engel, Adolph Fischer, Louis Lingg and Oscar Nees had been in the city of Chicago, and in the city of Chicago.

Parsons is forty-five years old. He edited a paper called the Arbeiter-Zeitung, and was a socialist.

Lingg is a dynamiter, parliament of all, who fitted out the dynamite which was used in the Haymarket massacre.

Fielden is a native of Bavaria, thirty-four years of age. He was fairly well educated, and learned the bookkeeping trade in Germany.

Fischer is also a German. He is now serving a life term in the penitentiary for his connection with the Haymarket riot.

Nees is a young man, twenty-two years of age, who was a socialist and was a member of the Arbeiter-Zeitung.

Spies is a native of Massachusetts, thirty-two years of age, and was a socialist.

Engel is a native of Germany, thirty-two years of age, and was a socialist.

A BAD DAY FOR BEARS.

More than 100,000 Shares of Reading Traded in Up to Noon. The bulls had things all their own way this morning and made it hot for the shorts.

The movement carried up everything, and some of the specialties jumped 5 per cent. The bears were thoroughly discomfited and fairly scrambled over each other to cover.

New Ball Players for Brooklyn. Joseph Doyle, a director of the Brooklyn Baseball Club, said this afternoon that he and Mr. Abell were endeavoring to obtain six of the men who played with the St. Louis champion team this year.

Pomeroy Again Tries to Escape. Pomeroy, the notorious fugitive, was taken to trial before Judge Cowing to-day, on a charge of violating the gambling act. The case will determine the legal status of bucket-shop. John A. Hession, a real-estate agent of No. 81 Beekman street, declares that he was in the bucket-shop, and that Todd got a commission if the speculation won, and took everything if he lost.

A Bucket-shop Man on Trial. Elliot W. Todd, the alleged manager of the big bucket-shop in Broad street, was put on trial before Judge Cowing to-day, on a charge of violating the gambling act. The case will determine the legal status of bucket-shop. John A. Hession, a real-estate agent of No. 81 Beekman street, declares that he was in the bucket-shop, and that Todd got a commission if the speculation won, and took everything if he lost.

Hoda and Blackberry Brandy. Policeman Gibson, of the Charles Street Squad, was put on trial this morning before Commissioner McClone on suspicion of being drunk while on duty. This suspicion was aroused by the fact that Gibson was seen in the street, and it was learned that Hoda and Blackberry Brandy, sent his uniform to the station-house by a messenger and went home in a cab.

Horse-Dealer Carroll's Stables Afire. ELIZABETH, N. J., Nov. 11.—The extensive stables of James Carroll, a New York horse dealer, in this city, were partly destroyed by fire this morning in a fire that was taken out unharmed. Carroll's loss is over $5,000.

Major Way Escapes Again. (SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.) NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Nov. 11.—Major A. M. Way, the defaulting Empire Loan Secretary, has again escaped and has come to New York. He had been made at his home five days and no attempt was made to arrest him.

Not an Anarchist in the Morning. Hieronymus Draisgacher, who was arrested on a charge of shouting "Let's go for the police!" and proclaiming himself an Anarchist as the prosecution went by last night, denied that he had done either to-day at the Jefferson Market Court and was discharged. He is a furrier at 40 Howard street.

May Be He'll Marry the Girl. The examination of Dr. G. W. Goff, of New York, charged with having seduced Kitty McKernan, will take place before Justice Vaugha, at St. Stephen's, this afternoon. Dr. Goff hinted to a reporter this morning in a way that he was willing to marry Kitty if she would consent.

His Fate Still a Mystery. No tidings have yet been had of Meyer Brower, of Mamaronock, who is in a boat last Friday to go to the residence of Alexander Taylor, the banker of this city, on the sound, near by. A hurricane struck Brower's boat and probably captured it and drowned him.

Suspected of Burglary's Design. Policeman Carter arrested Jacob Lang, of 158 Eldridge street, at Fifth avenue and Twentieth street last night and found in his pockets a lot of tools suitable for breaking into houses. Lang was arrested for six months at the Jefferson Market Court.

Failure in the Cotton Exchange. Mr. Baum, a large cotton broker, assigned to $4,000.

Returns with the Season. (From the San Francisco Atlas.) The fellow who came a quail a day for thirty days and wins a bet of $5 has appeared as the usual persistent forerunner of a hard Eastern winter.
