THE WAYS OF WOMAN FAIR.

The tennis show suggested the new rackets shoe, made of rubber and canvas to prevent slipping while walking on the wet deck.

Miss Bertha Robinson, daughter of Mrs. J. Hood Wright, has an income of her own amounting to $25,000 a year.

THE BABY FUND.

There are certain things which it is good to jog the memory about frequently. The American temperament is particularly forgetful of those things which are out of sight.

THE FOURTH OF JULY.

The readers of The Evening World will find their favorite sheet in a patriotic garb to-day. Columbia's fair colors, the "Red, White and Blue," flash proudly from the printed pages of this Fourth of July paper.

INCREASED TRAVEL.

Over one thousand cabin passengers sailed in yesterday's ocean liners. The immense number of Americans who go abroad every year is an indication of the increased wealth and greater cultivation of Americans.

SPOTLETS.

Canteens are now employed in picking coffee. They still prefer picking the bones of a toothsome moustache.

ATHLETES IN REPOSE.

C. M. Murphy, of the Kansas County Wheelmen, besides being one of the leaders of the club bicyclist, is a capital entertainer and story-teller.

HER PREFERENCE.

They stood on the beach by the billow sea, For he had just returned from the sea.

MAKING HIM HEAR.

St. Louis wants to be counted all over again. She won't a bit satisfied with the showing she makes in the census returns.

THE WORLD'S FAIR CITY.

The World's Fair city has been chosen and Chicago was cooled down. Canes and offset by Mrs. Louis Leland, Proprietor.

HEALTH GIVERS.

You Can Be One by Helping the Free Doctors' Fund.

Increase the Corps and Add to the List of Saved.

Neil Nelson Tells How to Make Up a Garden Party.

THE SUBSCRIPTIONS.

The Evening World's $100,000 Free Doctors' Fund. The fund is now $100,000 and is being used to help the sick and suffering.

Another Fifty-Dollar Check.

Inclosed please find our check for $50 in aid of the Free Doctors' Fund.

Two King's Daughters.

Inclosed $1 for the Sick Babies' Fund in the name of two King's daughters.

Proceeds of a Raffle.

Please find enclosed $1.50. This amount was received for a hat and a pair of shoes.

A Nurse's Gift.

Inclosed $1 for the Sick Babies' Fund. It is my best wish for the good work of The Evening World.

From a Country Boy.

I am a little boy living in Flatbush and feel as if this 25 cents I send may give some little baby a breath of fresh country air.

Collected by Harlem Girls.

Minnie Steinberg, aged thirteen, Carrie Glanzer, aged thirteen, and Estelle Babin, aged nine, of Harlem, request me to send you $3, their savings, and collection from Harlem workmen for the benefit of the Sick Baby Fund.

BUN'S GARDEN PARTY.

Neil Nelson Green Valuable Hints on How to Arrange It.

Billiard Table Profits Given.

One of the most enthusiastic supporters of The Evening World's Sick Baby Fund is Joseph B. Hill, of 215 Broadway.

There'll Be No Overworking.

The big crowd of Fourth of July travelers will be provided for by the Iron Steamboat Company.

STOLEN RHYMES.

The Fair-Minded Kicker. We don't like the men who forever complain, And who from their blinding will never abstain.

A Morn in June.

A lane of poplars across an azure sky, A road of music from the breeze, and a slight breeze from the poplars, and a slight breeze from the poplars.

Her Preference.

They stood on the beach by the billow sea, For he had just returned from the sea.

OUR OWN HOUSE.

Suburbs Where Every Man Pays Rent to Himself.

How Wage-Earners Can Buy Land and Build Their Homes.

Hints to an Inexperienced Couple on Furnishing the New Home.

When William B. Astor found himself the possessor of the vast estate left by his father, the old lawyer John Jacob Astor, which the younger man had managed for many years, he went about securing a realization of his life's dream.

A handsome new station is being erected at the Battery, and will be ready for occupancy in a few days.

The city was small in those days of forty years ago. The population of New York City at that time was only 200,000.

Along with this wonderful growth has steadily advanced the movement for improvement in the habitations of those who earn their bread by the sweat of their brow.

The development of the street-car systems of New York, Brooklyn, Long Island City, and Jersey City.

It is no exaggeration to say that when we get our feet on the ground in the morning, we find that we are surrounded by the products of the machinery of the past ten years.

During the last decade "home building" in the trust sense of the term has occupied the attention of thinkers, who have tried to solve the problem of how best to house those who are unable to do so for themselves.

Why, in the town of New Utrecht, Kings County, within two years not less than 2,000 homes have been built.

The progress in this direction during the last few years is wonderful, and the patriarchal veteran, stroking his long grey beard, would be amazed to see the results.

Thousands of homes have been built in East New York and between Brooklyn and Manhattan.

The dry bones of the angels who inhabited some of these suburbs 200 years ago, must rustle in their coffins at the sound of the rush and push going on in their old battlefields.

Take Flushing, for instance. In 1645 some English people who had tried to enjoy their religious liberty in Holland for a time came over to the New Netherlands and settled on the shores of the beautiful bay which they called "Flushing Bay."

There still stands the stately residence of Geoffrey John Bowne, one of the old Quakers, and up to a very few years, almost all the houses in the neighborhood were built by him.

Along the West Shore Railroad there are the sites of many beautiful suburban settlements like those which already dot the landscape.

One of the most beautiful of these is the site of the present-day Flushing Meadows, which is now a park and playground.

The network of elevated and surface railroads and street cars, and the improvements in the traveling facilities in the city and suburbs.
