Peace Conference Now Likely to Meet in a Hostile Atmosphere.

Special Cable Dispatch to The Sun. LONDON, April 22.—The most significant thing in connection with the peace conference at The Hague is the complete change in the attitude of the Dutch people there concerning the delegates, who will assemble in a hostile instead of a friendly atmosphere.

VENUE. April 22.—The vision of a Central European alliance to resist the inroads of American energy and ambition is once more revived. It will be recalled that Minister Gelibowski, in addressing an Austro-Hungarian delegation in November, 1897, when the hostilities between the United States and Spain were anticipated and nobody had the remotest idea that America was on the eve of a radical change in her foreign policy, declared that it might be necessary before long for the European States to combine for mutual defense against the destructive competition of the transatlantic countries, meaning almost exclusively America.

THE RIOTING IN SYRACUSE.

Mayor Says the Attack on the Railroad Was Made with Pre-Meditated Intent.

SYRACUSE, April 22.—The indignation of the north side citizens against the Syracuse Rapid Transit Company, which led to the tearing up of the company's tracks in Butternut street last night, continues at a high pitch and was stirred to fever heat at noon to-day, when the directors of the company failed to keep an appointment arranged to sign a petition for the formation of a citizens' committee. The committee adjourned until Wednesday next, when the Rapid Transit company are expected to give their decision as to whether the demands of the north side regarding the improvements in the car line will be met.

PROBABLE DREYFUS DECISION.

Some Hope That the Court May Admit That the Heir's Name Did Not Implicate Him.

Special Cable Dispatch to The Sun. PARIS, April 22.—It is still impossible to indicate definitely by what path justice for Dreyfus will be reached. The latest report from the Court of Cassation holds that while the majority will reject the Henry forgeries, etc., as inadmissible grounds for revision, they will grant a petition on the ground that the revelations in the borderland did not demonstrate that Dreyfus was connected with the affair. This would render unnecessary any subsequent proceedings and quash the trial on the ground that secret evidence was admitted in the case.

OUR CONTROL OF CHINESE TRADE.

Special Cable Dispatch to The Sun. LONDON, April 22.—Mr. John Barrett, former British Minister to Siam, who has been studying the trade situation in that country thoroughly, has written Lord Charles Beresford, chief secretary to the Foreign Office, a letter pointing out that the United States should insist upon the right to trade in the Far East for the sake of their own interests. The lion's share of the trade is now going to Germany and Great Britain, while the imports have changed from 70 per cent. British to 70 per cent. American within seven years.

THE IMPERIAL SET AFIRE.

ADJOINING LOCKED ROOMS FIRED SEPARATELY LAST NIGHT.

First Fire the Hotel Force Attended To—When the Second Came the Firemen Were Called In and There Was a Scramble for the Elevators and Stairways.

Fires in two rooms on the sixth floor of the Hotel Imperial, Broadway and Forty-second street, disturbed the guests last night and drew a crowd on Broadway. The fires were of such a nature that Firemen Lee believe they were set, and will notify the Erie Marshal.

Night Watchmen George Henderson and Michael Devlin were passing through the hall on the sixth floor at 8:30 o'clock, when they discovered a fire in a room on the sixth floor. They traced it to room 175, which faces Thirty-second street. This room had been occupied by Judge Coine of Genesee up to 6 o'clock, when he left the hotel. His baggage had been removed and the room was locked.

The detectives got a pass key from a chambermaid and opened the door. They found the curtains at the window, the woodwork of the window frames and the carpet in front of the windows in flames. Henderson ran to the office and reported the fire to Manager Lee. Devlin pulled down the curtain, got a bucket of water and put it out the fire. Manager Lee sent bellboys to the rooms on each floor notifying the guests that there was a small fire on the sixth floor. There were 475 guests in the hotel, but there was at that time no panic. The guests kept cool and took the elevators to the street and awaited developments. In the dining room, which was full, the diners heard nothing of the fire.

When Manager Lee, Detective Mcullen and Watchman Henderson got to room 175 they found the door locked. With their aid it was soon extinguished. Manager Lee investigated and could find no cause for the fire. It is believed that the fire was set by a man who had been unoccupied for more than two hours and a half. The gas jets in the room are electric. The gas jets in the room are electric. The gas jets in the room are electric.

Manager Lee and the men left the room. The woodwork and the carpet were damaged. We had better investigate. We can take chances, said Manager Lee, and the jasky was taken away when the door was opened. He found the identical state of affairs that had been discovered in room 175. The curtains, the woodwork and the carpet were damaged. In this case the fire amounted to considerably more, as the flames had had time to start. They threw up another window in the room and shouted "Fire!" A cabman on Thirty-second street, who was driving toward Broadway and Thirty-first street, where he turned in an alarm. In the meantime the fire had spread to room 176, and had also got a lot of fire hand in a few moments three engines, two ladder trucks, a fire patrol wagon and Chief Murray's hose were in front of the Hotel Imperial. The men ran a line of hose through the Thirty-second street window and made an attempt to carry it upstairs. Their arrival made the guests of the hotel believe that the man who had set the fire was still in the upper floors. Those in the dining room and the bar were ordered to leave. The crowd in the streets became so dense that the Broadway street cars were blocked. The fire was established with the fire lines were established with the fire lines.

The hotel is of fireproof construction. The fire was set in a room on the sixth floor. The police and hotel people began an investigation. Although rooms 175 and 181 are adjacent, the fire did not spread to room 181. The fire was set in a room on the sixth floor. The police and hotel people began an investigation. IMPEACH THE PRESIDENT.

That, Says Winslow, Is the Thing to Do Instead of Talking of Treason.

BOSTON, Mass., April 22.—Concerning THE Sun's despatch from Washington to-day to the effect that the Administration had discovered that the anti-expansionists in this country had been sending messages to the Philippine Islands, Mr. Winslow, Secretary of the Anti-Imperial League, said to-day that the charge was ridiculous, concerning the implication of treason in such an act. Mr. Winslow said that there was no such thing as treason except an overt act against the Government. Constructive treason was not recognized by the Constitution of the United States. He declared that it was of course impossible to tell what some individuals might have attempted to do, whose indignation had been excited by the President's action. He should be to be any punishment inflicted on the people of the Philippines with the avowed purpose of destroying their army and of depriving the people of the Philippines of the sovereignty of their Government, while it is pretended that this war was declared by Congress and that it had been approved by Congress, in which body alone, under our Constitution, the right to declare war exists.

CAPT. COGHLAN SAYS IT AGAIN.

The Germans Were Continually Nargling Us, Damn Them, and We Were Hearing Them.

Capt. Joseph B. Coghlan and the officers of the Dolphin were the guests of the Army and Navy Club last night at the clubhouse, 19 West Thirty-first street. The Captain made a speech, in which he reiterated everything he had said about the Germans the night before at the dinner given in his honor at the Union League Club. His utterances were cheered and his remarks were enthusiastically received.

Capt. Coghlan was escorted to the club from the Waldorf-Astoria by a committee composed of the following army and navy officers: Brig-Gen. Gilbert McKibbin, Capt. Richard Leary, lately retired, Capt. Coghlan, Gen. O. M. Gen. W. D. Whipple and Paymaster George Barton. A reception committee of twenty received the Captain upon his arrival. Gen. Fred Pierpont, President of the club, welcomed the guests as follows:

"When the first gun was fired at Manila it was the first shot of the war. It ushered in a new era for the United States. That grand old man Admiral Dewey has planted the Stars and Stripes in the Far East, and we all want them to stay there. The flag is the emblem of Christianity and good government. I now take great pleasure in introducing our esteemed guest, Capt. Coghlan and his officers of the United States cruiser Raleigh."

Capt. Coghlan had evidently expected to be left without a speech, but his admirers would not have it so. He said: "I thank you sincerely for myself and officers and my commander, Admiral Dewey. Since they have not had a chance to speak, I have some remarks to make. I am almost afraid to say anything now. What I did say last night was true. I said what I did about a certain power because its representatives hampered us in our work. They were all shouting in our ears, damn them, and we were ready for them. I have read a good many stories in the newspapers about what Admiral Dewey had to contend with, but not one of them placed our gallant old Admiral in the proper light."

"I will reiterate everything I said last night if any one is anxious to hear it. I spoke as I did because I wanted to place Admiral Dewey in the proper light.
