NAVY EIGHT AGAIN ROWS TO VICTORY

Beats Syracuse by Boat Length in Henley Regatta at Philadelphia.

PRINCETON IS THIRD

Great Day for Middies, Who Triumph Also in Junior Race.

Special to THE SUN AND NEW YORK HERALD.

PHILADELPHIA, May 29.—The Navy oarsmen gave another proof of their supremacy on the water this afternoon by winning the feature event of the sixteenth annual Henley regatta, the stewards Challenge Cup race. Coach Glendon's eight covered the course in the fast time of 6 minutes 30 1-5 seconds, bettering the time they made last year in winning this event.

The Syracuse eight, which recently defeated the middies, had to be content with second place to-day, although they made a mighty effort to wrest the rowing crown from the Navy. The Syracuse men were serious contenders all the way, and they pushed the midshipmen to the limit.

The Navy started exactly as they did in winning the Childs Cup race, with a stroke of 37, but they could not pull away from Syracuse, who matched them stroke for stroke. Not until near the bridge could the Navy show any appreciable lead, with Syracuse a good second and Princeton a half boat length behind. The Union Boat Club crew from Boston was clearly out of the race and was a poor last. Harvard did not enter the race at all.

Coming down the stretch Coach Glendon's crew, which was maintaining a 35 stroke, kept its slight lead but could not increase it. At the head of the island King, at stroke, increased the speed and the Navy began to creep ahead slowly, with Syracuse giving all they had in an effort to stay with them. Princeton could not stand the pace and fell slightly behind.

One Length in Lead.

When the Navy crossed the line they had a clear lead of a boat's length over Syracuse, with a similar distance between Syracuse and Princeton, while the Union crew was far in the rear. Syracuse covered the course in three seconds slower than the Middies.

The closest race of the afternoon was the junior collegiate eight oared race for the New England challenge cup, and the Navy as usual was the victor, but only after one of the hardest and closest races ever staged on the Schuylkill. Besides the Navy, Princeton, Harvard, Syracuse and the Union Boat Club lined up at the start.

By the time the bridge was reached the Navy had gained a slight advantage, but Syracuse and Princeton were coming strong and pushing Navy to the limit. Coming down the stretch Syracuse challenged the Navy, and from then on it was a tossup as to which of these two would win. At the head of the island they appeared to be exactly even, and when the Navy started a sprint Syracuse responded, and for a moment it seemed as though it was going into the lead. The middies, however, had a trifle more in reserve, crept ahead by inches and crossed the line with a scant five foot lead. The time was 6:31 2-5, while Syracuse was just one-fifth of a second slower. There was open water between the Syracuse shell and that of Princeton, with the Union club eight clearly out of the running.

Three Records Fall.

The weather and water conditions were ideal for the sport, and as a result three records fell during the afternoon. The first one to go was in the first doubles sculls race, when Paul Costello and Jack Kelly covered the distance in 7:19 3-5. The former mark was 7:28 2-5.

The second record went in the first sculls race when the Vesper Boat Club, again stroked by Jack Kelly, set up a mark of 6:55, beating the former figures set by the Riverside Boat Club in 1914, by four seconds.

The third record came in the special race for 150 pound crews, the Penn eight crossing the line in the fast time of 6:43 2-5. The former time, made by the Middies, was 7:02 3-5. The 150 pound race proved to be one of the best of the afternoon, with Penn, Navy, Princeton and Yale lining up at the start. The Middies seemed to have a slight lead at the bridge, but coming down the stretch they stuck too close to the west shore and thus lost some valuable distance. Penn, which had been coming strong, went into the lead, with Princeton a close second. Stroke Mitchell of the Red and Blue eight increased the stroke to thirty-seven down the stretch, and at the island raised it to thirty-eight, and the Red and Blue shell fairly skimmed across the water. They flashed over the line with a lead of three-quarters of a length over Princeton, with Yale third and the Middies last.

The freshman race also was a thriller, with Princeton and Penn fighting for first place, while Annapolis was a poor third. It looked as if the Red and Blue boys would go into the lead coming past the head of the island, but the Tiger eight was a trifle too fast and finished with a scant half length in front.

Owing to the fact that the Union Boat Club oarsmen were very late in arriving in the city this morning, the morning heat for the stewards' cup race was not held. Syracure went up to the start of the course and waited for over a half hour before it was decided to call the race off. The Syracuse and the Union boats were allowed to go into the final without rowing.

The New York Athletic Club did not show up for the race for four oared shells with the Puritan challenge cup at stake and the University Barge Club won the event unopposed.

MISS GOSS IN GOOD STROKE.

Her Volleying Is Factor in Pelham Doubles Final.

After an erratic first set Miss Eleanor Goss and Miss Helen Gilleaudeau played splendid tennis in the final round of the Pelham County Club invitation doubles tournament yesterday and defeated Mrs. Rawson Wood and Mrs. Marshall McLean. The score was 4—6, 6—3, 6—2. Miss Goss, who played rather poorly in the singles tournament was at the top of her game in the last set of the doubles final, her sharp volleying at the net being the leading factor in the victory. Miss Gilleaudeau from back court played steadily, covered a lot of ground and used good judgment in choice of shots.

The final in mixed doubles ended in a straight set triumph for Mrs. Benjamin F. Briggs and S. Howard Voshell. They defeated Miss Eleanor Goss and H. M. Blodgett, 6—4, 6—4. The summary:

Women's Doubles—Final Round—Miss Eleanor Goss and Miss Helen Gilleaudeau defeated Mrs. Rawson Wood and Mrs. Marshall McLean, 4—6, 6—3, 6—2.

Mixed Doubles—Third Round—Mrs. L. G. Morris and A. Iler defeated Mrs. Ingo Hartman and A. D. Hammett, 7—5, 8—6.

Semi-Final Round—Miss Eleanor Goss and H. M. Blodgett defeated Miss Margaret Grove and J. H. Steinkampf, 2—6, 6—4, 6—3; Mrs. B. F. Briggs and S. H. Voshell won by default.

Final Round—Mrs. B. F. Briggs and S. H. Voshell defeated Miss E. Goss and H. M. Blodgett, 6—4, 6—4.

YALE TRIUMPHS AT TENNIS.

Defeats Harvard, 7 Matches to 2, at Cambridge.

Special to THE SUN AND NEW YORK HERALD.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., May 29.—Yale vanquished Harvard at tennis here this afternoon, 7 matches to 2, and to add humiliation to the Crimson played some substitutes during the doubles matches.

The Elis without Captain Garland played as strongly as ever, winning four of the six matches in singles and three in doubles. Hawkes, acting captain, defeated Harvard's leader, George Heim, after a hot fight, 9—7, 7—5. Yale won her first four bouts in singles, the fifth and sixth men on the Harvard team being conquerors. The Elis furthermore made a clean sweep in doubles.

COLUMBIA LOSES IN GOLF CONTEST

Falls Before Gedney Farm in Match on Latter's Links by 8 to 1.

By KERR N. PETRIE.

Columbia University's golf team struck a snag as a result of its match with the representatives of the Gedney Farm Country Club played yesterday on the links of the latter, the score being 8 matches to 1, counting both singles and foursomes. Although still a youngster among the metropolitan clubs, Gedney had out a team of veterans to oppose the collegians, in the lineup being Hamilton K. Kerr, who only the week before had been runner up to Grant Peacock of Cherry Valley in the annual invitation tournament of the Garden City Golf Club. C. H. Paul led for the "Farmers," and after a stubborn battle defeated the Blue and White captain and intercollegiate champion, A. L. Walker, Jr., by 1 up, with a round of 78. In the best ball event Paul and Kerr defeated Walker and N. E. Van Raalte by 5 up and 3 to play. Kerr also scored in the singles, defeating Martin Schrieber 3 and 1.

W. B. Tower had the distinction of being the only player on the Columbia side to win a match when he defeated W. W. Lyon, 3 and 1. The Blue and White played one substitute, S. B. Sniffin, who partnered B. A. Church, giving place for the individuals to Schrieber The summary:

Practice for the Women.

As the Eastern Association and Griscom cup matches in Philadelphia will rob the metropolitan women golfers of an opportunity to practise over the links of the Greenwich Country Club next week, which is the week preceding their annual championship tournament, that organization has offered the fair players the privilege of its course for Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of this week. The Eastern and Griscom cup tourneys are scheduled for Monday, June 7, to Friday, June 11 inclusive, while the metropolitan play will begin at Greenwich on Monday, June 14. Without some such plan as that which has just been mapped out by the officials of the Women's Metropolitan Golf Association, a great majority of the contestants in the metropolitan would have to tee up without a chance to familiarize themselves with the links.

Although the winter left the Greenwich putting greens somewhat the worse for wear they are now coming around in fine shape, and it is thought that the course will be at its best by qualifying day, which is Monday, June 14. As Miss Marion Hollins has not returned from abroad the title will go undefended. Against this, however, has to be set the fact that Miss H. Arnold Jackson, twice winner of the national championship, is now resident in the metropolitan district and even now is familiarizing herself with the title circuit. It is hoped also that Mrs. Quentin Feitner, many times winner of the metropolitan honors, will be in the field, and if this should turn out to be the case the tournament will be up to the old standard despite the absence of the champion.

Collegians Fall to Play.

A dozen Greenwich Country Club caddies spent a profitless day yesterday, and the members of that organization were short that number of clug toters as the result of the failure of Princeton and Cornell to put in an appearance for their scheduled match over that course. The collegians had been granted the courtesy of the links and club house and the caddie master had been requested to save from the Saturday rush enough boys to see the teams through their encounter. Every detail was carefully attended to on the part of Greenwich, but no collegian put in an appearance. It was thought that probably the two teams had forgotten just where they were scheduled to play on that particular day.

There was a tie for first and second prizes in the ball sweepstake on the Baltusrol Golf Club links yesterday, C. E. Van Vleck, Jr., scoring 79—5—74, and Gordon Bunker 91—7—84. Dr. F. A. Steele finished in third position with a card of 83—8—75.

F. E. Aiken won the prize in class A, playing in the red card competition at Dunwoodie Country Club yesterday, his return being 81—8—73. In class B a card of 100—25—75 brought E. F. Chauvin in ahead of the field.

C. E. BACON THE LEADER.

CALDWELL, N. J., May 29.—A ball sweepstake and blind handicap were played on the Essex Fells Country Club links to-day. In the sweepstake, Class A, C. E. Bacon had 85—8, 77, and I. L. McCord, 97—20, 77, while in Class B, S. M. Tracy led with 99—26, 73. In the blind handicap S. M. Tracy was low, with 90—18, 82.

LEHIGH'S LACROSSE VICTORY.

BALTIMORE, Md., May 29.—Lehigh defeated Johns Hopkins at lacrosse to-day by score of 5 to 1.

GEORGETOWN NINE GETS FIRST DEFEAT

Fordham Checks Winning Streak of Southerners.

After going through seventeen games without a defeat the Georgetown University baseball team lost to the Fordham University nine at Fordham Field yesterday afternoon by 5 to 2.

Waters, Fordham's star twirler, won his eighth straight victory, holding the visitors to five scattered hits and issuing only two free passes to first base. He also registered nine strikeouts.

With two out in the first inning Halloran doubled to left and scored later on Finn's single. The Bronx collegians got three more runs in the sixth. Buckley led off by beating out an infield hit. He stole second and went to third when Finn grounded out to second. Lefevre lifted a high fly to Maloney, the Georgetown second baseman, who lost the ball in the sun, Buckley scoring Cousineau, the Fordham catcher, followed with a home run to left, sending Lefevre across the plate before him.

The Georgetown aggregation scored its two runs in the seventh inning. Dudack led off with a single and took second when Walsh walked. Dudack stole third. When Walsh tried to take second Cousineau threw wild to second and both runners scored as Buckley fumbled the ball in centre field.

ELI FRESHMEN WIN AT NETS.

NEW HAVEN, May 29.—The Yale freshmen tennis team defeated the Harvard freshmen here to-day 7 matches to 2. Yale's second team won all six matches from Brown's second tennis team. Not a Brown man won a set.

In the Yale interscholastic finals to-day, which were begun on May 22 and postponed because of rain, Jones of Moses Brown High School, Providence, defeated Weller of the Roxbury School in Cheshire, 6—2, 6—4. The championship team banner went to the Hotchkiss School of Lakeville.

WOOSTER ATHLETES WIN.

Special to THE SUN AND NEW YORK HERALD.

WASHINGTON, Pa., May 29.—Wooster (Ohio) College this afternoon won the first track meet ever held with W. and J. by 75½ points to 35½. In spite of the fact that they had participated in a meet yesterday with Mount Union College at Alliance, Ohio, the Buckeye track men showed decided superiority over the Pennsylvanians, winning with comparative ease.

FOX TERRIER SHOW A BIG SUCCESS

British Bred Smooth Maxim Perfection Chief Winner at Rockaway Hunting Club.

By FRANK F. DOLE.

Staged in the open on a lawn bordered by hedges and rambling roses at the Rockaway Hunting Club, the specialty show of the American Fox Terrier Club yesterday scored a decided success. Miss M. E. Lewis, the judge from England, was early at her task, and, barring a delay due to the late arrival of some Philadelphia entrants, everything went as merrily in the adjudication line as wedding bells. Miss Lewis wore a pencilled stripe white flannel suit, with a gray felt soft hat, and evinced a keen eye for the good points of a terrier.

Theodore Offerman was the steward, and the committee to aid were Archie D. Tappan, Mrs. Roy A. Rainey, Herbery Hughes, George N. Owen, Q. A. Shaw McKean, Harvey S. Ladew and Robert Sedgwick, Jr. It was a better entry than for the show of the American Fox Terrier Club at Hamilton, Mass., I superintended three years ago, and from the high quality of the 128 homebred and imported terriers in the classes I regard it as the best show of the breed ever held in this country or Canada. It was quite like old times to see Winthrop Rutherfurd as an exhibitor. The luncheon was well carried out, and William A. Hazard and other officials of the famous Polo Club did all in their power to make everybody happy.

Mrs. Rainey had a bit of poor luck, for one of her terriers, and a rather noted one, Conejo Rebellion, escaped from the motor van in which Charles Trayford brought the dogs over from Huntington. Somewhere between that town and Cedarhurst there is a black and white wire haired terrier at large that is worth $1,000 on the market.

English Dog on Top.

Miss Lewis took the smooths first. Thomas Rice Varick's Deputy Chief won in American bred dogs, but thereafter had to give way to one of the best smooth dogs seen out in many years, Maxim Perfection. Although full sized, he is particularly strong in the well filled face, which is tan with a white blaze. This is a two-year-old importation by Franklin J. Willock of Pittsburg, which was bred in England in defiance of the war mandate stopping breeding at kennels to help save food, so that Maxim Perfection is termed "illegitimate," although sired by Good Cheer—Madge Maxim, both good winners over there.

The war derelict is so good he would never have left England without being shown but for the bar sinister in his pedigree. He won the limit, open and winners' classes, Deputy Chief being reserve. In the bitch classes for smooths E. H. Ingwersan's puppy, Sandy Girl, accounted for that class and the novice, in which she beat Winthrop Rutherfurd's Warren Utmost, and later gained a higher distinction in being placed reserve in winners to the great champion Sabine Fernilke.

In wire haired dogs a wonderfully good puppy came out in Mr. and Mrs. George N. Owen's King's Point Falcon, bred by the owner and sired by Mrs. Rainey's champion Wycollar Boy. This is a typical chip of the old block and won in senior puppies and the novice, his only times before Miss Lewis until the winner's class. Mrs. A. D. Tappan was first and second in the large class for American breds with Renard Reflex and Renard Royalist, both sons of champion Aman Marvel. Renard Reflex also won the limit, and the open fell to Russell H. Johnson, Jr.'s, new importation, Rocketer. Finally, after a close analysis of the field, Miss Lewis awarded winners to the Wycollar Boy puppy, King's Point Falcon, with Rocketer reserve.

Winners, bitches, in the wires was won by the Doreda Kennels' Doreda Dame. The prize for the best dog or bitch at the show was won by King's Point Falcon, the puppy bred by Mr. and Mrs. Owen.
