

RATIFY THE TREATY DEMAND OF A. F. OF L.

Delegates Likewise Want League Adopted Without Injurious Reservations.

WOULD OUST PALMER

Make Plea in Convention for Recognition of Soviet Russia—Condemn Burelion.

MONTREAL, June 8.—Ratification of the peace treaty without any reservations that would injure the effectiveness of the covenant of the League of Nations was demanded of the United States Senate in resolutions presented today by delegates for adoption by the American Federation of Labor.

The convention also was asked to make "emphatic and earnest protest against the tactics in Congress which have prevented ratification. This was in support of the report of the federation's executive council, which has asserted that "in addition to the broad interest in the treaty from the broadest of American citizenship it has a specific and definite interest in the labor section of the treaty."

Plead for Soviet.

The council also has pointed out that American labor is deprived of representation in the International Labor Bureau, a matter of "vital importance," until the treaty is ratified. Among 200 more resolutions also referred to the resolutions committee at today's brief session was one urging "development of friendly, harmonious and cooperative relations with the great bona fide body of organized farmers."

Other resolutions offered demanded a "hands off" policy toward Mexico; public ownership of railroads with democratic administration; reestablishment of the right of Ireland; appointment of a committee to lay foundations for an American labor party; lifting of the blockade of Soviet Russia; reestablishment of trade relations with Russia, and recognition of the Soviet Government.

Impachment of Attorney-General Palmer; condemnation of Postmaster-General Burelion; condemnation of industrial courts; repeal of recently enacted railroad legislation enforcing compulsory arbitration and establishment of an educational system on management for the workers.

The resolutions committee probably will make its report to-morrow. To await this report, the convention was adjourned after the auditor's report had been read and minor business transacted.

Steel Workers Balk.

The defence fund of the Federation now amounts to $164,074, after payment of $67,912 in strike benefits last year, according to the auditor's report.

D. J. Davis, assistant president of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers, said his organization never would rejoin the national committee of the A. F. of L. in its campaign to unionize the steel industry.

"We are through with this committee for all time," Davis said, "unless its officials get out. We do not agree with their methods of organization and could not with honor continue to cooperate with them. The committee would have us violate our contracts with the independent steel concerns, which we are honor-bound to respect."

BRASHER WILL CONTESTED.

Daughter, Cut Off by Codicil, Seeks $10,000 Bequest.

A contest over the will of Mrs. Martha Brasher, who divided her estate of $200,000 between the Church Charity Foundation and distant relatives and friends, was begun yesterday before surrogate Wingate and a jury in Brooklyn by Mrs. Martha Bain, the dead woman's daughter. Mrs. Bain was cut off entirely in the codicil of the will after originally having been a beneficiary to the extent of $10,000 in cash and a trust fund of $40,000. Mrs. Brasher was a member of a prominent Brooklyn family.

URGES ADVERTISING AS TRADE ASSET

Hurley Says It Should Be Part of Year's Budget.

INDIANAPOLIS, June 8.—Advertising today is an asset, Edward N. Hurley, formerly chairman of the United States Shipping Board, told the members of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World at their annual convention. Mr. Hurley said the time has arrived when manufacturer and merchant must carefully figure advertising cost and carry it on his budget as an expense just as essential as rent or labor, and properly charge it against each article and product.

"Advertising has been hurt by emotional appropriations—by sporadic flares," he said. "For instance, some men still advertise only when they have spare money, and never put out a line when times are dull and they need business. The amount and nature of advertising is to be planned with the production scale. Only then can we stabilize manufacturing, merchandising and advertising."

"The name of the small merchant today who has foresight and judgment in the merchandising of his products may be as well known as John Wanamaker in his particular locality, or even throughout the nation. His products are known by his advertising, and his success depends on the merits of the products he furnishes to the customer that the advertising brings to him. And the manufacturer or merchant who is advertising wisely today is not only laying the foundation for greater business for himself, but is selling the public on his industry. His success will be the guide post for his competitors, and the ship will always read: 'Advertise.'"

SHIP LINES ASK INCREASE.

Coastwise Companies Would Equalize Freight Rates.

WASHINGTON, June 8.—Coastwise steamship companies today asked the Interstate Commerce Commission for increased freight rates in the same proportion that advances may be granted to railroads. The application, filed on behalf of coastal lines operating between Atlantic ports and between Atlantic and Gulf ports, did not give any estimate as to the increased revenue sought by the companies. It said the advance was necessary to preserve a proper relation between rail and water rates.

Shippers and State commissioners continued the cross-examination of railroad witnesses at the advanced rate hearings before the commission.

CUSTOMS FIFTY YEARS AGO

Who among us would say to-day, "I never use a Dentifrice, I never have to?" Yet fifty years ago, odd as it may seem, not one person in 1,000 used a Dentifrice—or even a tooth brush.

So to-day, after more than 30 years of persistent publicity of Allen's Foot-Ease, the Antiseptic Powder for the Feet, not many well-turned-out people care to confess, "You know I never have to use a Powder for the Feet!"

More than One Million five hundred thousand pounds of Powder for the Feet were used by our Army and Navy during the war.

The reason is this: Confining the feet in Leather or Canvas Shoes is bound to create friction, more or less. Allen's Foot-Ease removes the friction from the shoes. It is this friction which causes callouses, corns and bunions. You know what friction does to your motor-car axle. Why not remove it from your footwear by shaking into your Shoes to-day, Allen's Foot-Ease, the cleanly, wholesome, healing, Antiseptic powder? Get the habit, as millions now have it, who inhibit our, as yet, imperfect world.—Adv.

NET TO BE SET FOR U. S. TAX DODGERS

Luxury, Jewelry and Other Levies Are Aimed At.

WASHINGTON, June 8.—"Flying squadrons" are to be sent by the Internal Revenue Bureau into all large cities in a general tax drive which is expected by officials to result in the collection of millions of dollars in delinquent taxes and penalties.

Commissioner Williams announced that special attention would be directed to the collection of the excise tax on sales by manufacturers, the so-called luxury tax, the jewelry tax, the tax on toilet articles and proprietary medicines, the soft drink tax and the admission tax.

The Commissioner said the bureau had received reports from many sources that numerous dealers and other persons responsible for the return and collection of miscellaneous taxes were failing in their duty.

GOV. EDWARDS'S PLEA SAVES MAN FROM JAIL

Employee of Bank Won Chance by Repaying $43,000.

The penalty imposed on Edgar C. Kohlhepp of 576 Summit avenue, Jersey City, for the misappropriation of $43,000 while he was employed in the Merchants National Bank there was limited to a fine of $500 yesterday when he was arraigned in the Federal Court, Newark, for sentence. Judge J. Warren Davis said he was disposed to lighten the sentence, as the prisoner had saved the State the expense of a trial and made repayment of the money.

"I have given much consideration to your case," he said to Kohlhepp. "I have concluded that I am willing to risk the mistake of being too lenient in order to give you a chance to undo what you have done."

Gov. Edwards and other members of the Board of the bank asked that the former employee be let off with a light sentence.

No C. O. D. No Exchanges. No Credits.

Unimpeachable Evidence That This Is the World's Greatest Retail Shoe Sale is the Eddying Throng and Masses of People From Almost Everywhere That Are Flowing in a Continual Human-Stream Into the Closing Out Shoe Sale for the Nemours Trading Corporation in the Grand Central Palace, Located on Lexington Avenue, Between 46th and 47th Streets.

Hundreds upon hundreds of thousands of pairs of shoes for men, women, growing girls, growing boys and children are waiting their turns to be brought from the store and stock rooms to meet the insatiable demand.

Day and night activity is being speeded up and quickened in replenishing the broken sizes as fast as the on-rushing, anxious buyers deplete them. New styles that never saw the light of day until they landed here are being added almost hourly. These fresh varieties, comprising fashion's stunning demand, will add new thrills as they are sampled out on the tables in this remarkable closing out shoe sale. This occasion will linger long in the appreciative hearts of this splendid people.

My every statement should be taken seriously. I want the public to receive what I say as one hundred per cent. par value true. I am aiming to tap New York's unlimited reservoir of public confidence and good will. I am anchoring all of my faith in the unalterable, unflinching influence of God's noblemen in this community for help in passing the good news of this opportunity along to all your friends.

Mr. Alfred I. du Pont is the President and Mr. Charles W. Mills is the Vice-President and General Manager of this extensive corporation. Every wish of those true-blue, splendid business men is being carried out in perfect harmony in dealing with the public in this tremendous vital event. We have dug down deep beneath the quicksands of deceit and hypocrisy to the dead level granite rock of truth unswayed by any other pretence than that of wanting the shoes turned into cash, without profit.

I have not intentionally by the slightest intimation abused my sacred position between the public and the firm I am serving by illuminating this great shoe sale occasion with sterilized moonbeams.

This is a genuine closing out sale of what is admitted as probably the largest stock of shoes in the world. Struggling humanity will of necessity be benefited, the high cost of living will of course be set back for those who buy the shoes.

Without doubt this sale will help many a worthy individual to cross a troublesome bridge in the pathway of life, yet I want to emphasize that none of these things, noble as they may be, are the real incentives or purposes back of this mammoth undertaking.

Mr. du Pont and Mr. Mills from the first promised me a free hand to write in my own way the news about this sale. The value and importance of the following statements cannot fail to fasten themselves on the good judgment of more and more uncounted thousands of prudent shoe buyers.

This Is a Closing Out Shoe Sale. This Firm Is Retiring From the Shoe Business, Therefore the Shoes Are Sold at Profitless Prices and No Rent Is Charged for the Main Floor of the Grand Central Palace Where This Shoe Sale Is Being Held.

Daniel Webster once said "Life—Life—how curious it is." Fate says "What must be, shall be." In a former editorial I unveiled and laid bare to the public gaze the extraordinary high type of men that I found Mr. du Pont and Mr. Mills to be. May I not call attention as a lesson to all to the personal attitude of these two big, clever business men, who are frequently seen in the thick of the crowds at this sale cheerful and courageous in the face of the financial loss this closing out shoe sale will bring to them.

Their fortitude teaches us that no one should bemoan his lot in life. Time in its flight may never bring back pre-war-day conditions, but we must admit and observe as the world grows older it will change in order to progress. It is up to the individual if he would not be left standing at the post to remember "Duty riseth with you every morning."
