G. O. P. OHIO TICKET

Former Governor Wins His Senate Race With Good Majority Over Brown.

COX GETS A SETBACK

Man With Irish Backing Runs Sensational Race Against Governor's Choice.

By a Staff Correspondent of THE SUN and New York Herald.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Aug. 11.—As the outstanding surprise in the results of Tuesday's primary election, the returns from which were approaching completion to-night, is the remarkable race for the Democratic Senatorial nomination made by A. F. O'Neil, police judge of Akron, against W. A. Julian, shoe manufacturer of Cincinnati, whose candidacy had the backing of the State Democratic organization, a machine controlled by Gov. Cox.

With two-thirds of the vote tabulated, Julian was leading O'Neil by an extremely narrow margin, a little more than 1,000 votes out of a total of 85,000, and there was a possibility that O'Neil might emerge from the race victorious.

Those who studied the situation closely saw in the remarkable showing made by O'Neil in the face of the Democratic organization something of a slap at the League of Nations. Furthermore, they saw something of a slap at the Cox organization, which used such influence as it believed necessary on behalf of Julian.
O'Neil, as may be inferred from his name, is of Irish descent, and it is accepted after study of the precincts in which he got his heavy vote that he won much Irish support. The Irish in Ohio are vigorously opposed to the League of Nations on account of the effect of Article X on the cause of Irish freedom.
Julian has been vice-chairman for Ohio of the League to Enforce Peace, and as such has stood firmly for the League of Nations. Up until last night, when the returns began to show a heavy vote for O'Neil he really had not been considered as a possibility by State political leaders.

Under the Ohio primary system it is necessary for voters to declare themselves, Republican or Democrat, before they receive their ballots. Democrats who wanted to vote the Republican ticket could not do so unless they advertised their change in politics, or vice versa. Democrats who did not want to go on record, therefore, had no other course than to display their disaffection in this way.

It is now evident that the winners on the Republican ticket are Harry L.
Davis, former Mayor of Cleveland, Ex-Governor, and Frank B. Willis of Ada for Senator. With the return nearing completion Willis has a lead over his nearest opponent, Walter F. Brown of Toledo, of more than 50,000. The Republican contestants for Governor and Senator had been the most absorbing of the primary campaign.

Republican leaders generally were satisfied with the results, figuring that with Davis and Willis at the head of the State ticket, they had an unbeatable combination, even though it might be a combination hardly dreamed of before in Ohio politics.

Davis is a liberal, called wet by some, and there is no question as to Willis being one of the drierest of the dries.
Some Republicans took satisfaction in the deduction that for the first time in twenty years the issue of wet and dry had disappeared from its powerful influence in Ohio politics. This was based on the fact that thousands of votes which went to Davis went also to Willis.
Such a combination, if nothing else, Republican leaders figure, should sweep Ohio in November. The importance of this comes in the general acceptance of the view that the National ticket which will win will have to carry Ohio with its twenty-four electoral votes.

Tuesday's primary results will help Senator Harding; they are not consulting for Governor Cox.

NORTH CAROLINA
'WILL NOT RATIFY'

63 Members of Lower House So Wire Tennessee.

RALEIGH, N. C., Aug. 11.—Sixty-three of the 120 members of the lower house of the North Carolina Legislature tonight sent a telegram to the Tennessee Legislature assuring that body that North Carolina would not ratify the Federal suffrage amendment and asking that the amendment be not forced upon the people of North Carolina by Tennessee.

A petition from the Maryland Legislature asking that North Carolina reject the Federal woman suffrage amendment was presented in the Senate to-day by Senator Lindsey M. Warren of Beaufort county, who, it is understood, will lead the fight against ratification of the amendment in the upper branch of the Legislature. The petition was not put in the form of a resolution, but it is understood this will be done later.

The Senate was in session only thirty minutes, adjourning until 11 o'clock tomorrow, when Gov. Bickett is expected to send a special message to the Legislature advocating ratification of the suffrage amendment.

SHOPLIFTER ONLY AFTER INSPIRATION

Artistic Endeavor Failed to Touch Judge, Though.

To the many novel excuses given for shoplifting was added yesterday the defense of Miss. Gastain Lachanes, 21 years old, who said she was a French scenario writer and artist, and who said she stole some chignon from a department store on June 28 in order to feel the sensation of being locked in jail, and to obtain material for a motion picture story.

"I am in favor of allowing her to complete her work by a term in the workhouse," said Justice McInerney, when he heard the defense. Justices Freschi, McInerney and Edwards in the Court of Special Sessions, fined Miss.
Lachanes $50, with the alternative of ten days in the workhouse. The fine was paid by a friend of the young woman.
In imposing the fine, Justice Freschi said that her defense, which was given by her attorney, was "rot and ridiculous."

"The woman who goes out and steals deliberately without regard for the law," he said, "should be severely punished.
There appeared in this court to-day a poor unfortunate woman who had been arrested on a similar charge. She told the court that she had stolen because she had seen another woman steal and get away with it. How do we know that this is not the very woman whose ridiculous act caused that poor mother to steal?"

PLANS TO EDUCATE STATE'S ILLITERATE

State Board to Siphon Out 382,039 Adults Here.

There are 382,039 residents of New York State between the ages of 21 and 50 who are illiterate or cannot speak English, according to the 1919 Federal census. The State Department of Education, which has the names and addresses of all these people, will undertake an extensive campaign to draw them into the night schools and into vocational and extension classes.

Dr. John H. Finley, State Commissioner of Education, secured the cooperation of Gov. Smith in obtaining the list from the Government in advance of official publication for the first time, thus making it possible to reach the large number of illiterates whose addresses may be expected to change.

The data has been compiled according to school districts, and to every superintendent of schools has been sent a list of all persons in his school district who are illiterate or cannot speak English.
In many cases the work is already in progress, and a permanent record of adult illiterates is being kept. The Department of Education is placing its immigration education staff at the service of local education officials.

Pennsylvania Gets Transfer Tax of $40,197.

HARRISBURG, Pa., Aug. 11.—Pennsylvania to-day received a check of $40-197.67 as the State transfer tax upon that part of the estate of Andrew Carnegie within this state. Mr. Carnegie died a year ago to-day and the Home Trust Company, New York, executor, filed statements with Auditor-General Snyder showing that at the time of his death his estate was worth $31,855,937.29 and that he had given away during his lifetime $250,000,000, of which a considerable part had been in Pennsylvania.
The only property left in Pennsylvania, which was taxable was given as $1,227-612.94, consisting of stocks and realty, and when this was verified by Wilson C. Parker of Pittsburgh, settlement was made.

Balloon Race Shifted to Chicago.

Club of America, announced last night that they have transferred the national balloon race, September 11, for which there are fifteen entries, including three from the Army and one from the Navy, from Indianapolis to White City Park, Chicago. The international balloon race scheduled for October 23 also has been transferred to the Chicago field, of eleven entries in the international event, eight are from foreign countries. The international race was held in White City Park twelve years ago.
