

OPPOSE MARGIN TRADES

FROWNED UPON BY CONSERVATIVE FINANCIAL POWERS IN NEW YORK.

(By Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—The impression got abroad in the stock market today that the kind of operations which began to make themselves felt yesterday were not approved by the conservative financial powers whose efforts are bent at the present time to a mending of the situation and there was a discontinuance of small ventures on margin which came into notice yesterday. This left the market uncertain and poorly supported. Weakness in the copper group intervened in this state of affairs and there was no power of resistance to the sympathetic influence of this factor. There was a disposition to bring into the question, in a comprehensive way, the effect on the earning power of corporations and probable dividend payments and of the set back to trade which must follow financial entanglements.

FEDERAL CONTROL IS ADVOCATED

PRESCOTT, Ariz., Nov. 12.—Robert Mather, president of the Rock Island system here last night, declared that he emphatically endorsed President Roosevelt's policies for the government regulation of railroads. "I believe," he said, "that a uniform system of federal regulation of railroads would be advantageous to both the roads and the people. Certainly, no railroad in the country, which is conducting its affairs honestly, need fear the inauguration of such a plan as is proposed by the president, but even honest roads are seriously menaced by spasms of legislation which have been so numerous of late in various states.

"The trouble is that people grow excited over the revelations of some railroad affairs, who have been guilty of rebating or other infractions of the law, and become unduly radical, the result being that all roads alike become the objects of their hostility without discrimination."

TRIPLE MURDER AND SUICIDE

RAYMOND, Alberta, Canada, Nov. 12.—A triple murder and a suicide at an Indian camp near here was revealed here this week when three boys were riding along the borders of the lake near this town. The boys, as soon as they found evidence of the crime, notified the police officers. It was soon found that three Indians had been murdered. As soon as this discovery was made another Indian at the reservation, about twenty miles from here, committed suicide. Near the lake where the evidences of the crime were first found, the officers discovered the bodies of three Indians, two men and a woman. The men were shot with a shotgun through the left eye in each instance. The woman's wound was found in her neck and it is thought that she was shot while in a kneeling posture. No motive was suggested by the evidence at hand.

The Indian who committed suicide was the paramour of the woman who was killed. One of the Indians murdered was the suicide's son. A horse, wagon and some tentage found at the scene of the murder was later found to be the property of the suicide.

It is believed that the murders of the three Indians were the culmination of a whisky revel participated in by all four Indians, who went to camp together before the tragedy occurred.
