

A DESPAIRING WOMAN.
Weak, Nervous and Wretched From Wasting Kidney Troubles.
Mrs. Henry A. Reamer, Main and Garst Sts., South Bend, Ind., says: "When I began using Doan's Kidney Pills I was so weak I could hardly drag myself across the room. I was wretched and nervous, and had backache, bearing-down pain, headache, dizziness and weak eyes. Dropsy set in and bloating of the chest choked me and threatened the heart. I had little hope, but to my untold surprise Doan's Kidney Pills brought me relief and saved my life. I shall never forget it."

Tumors Conquered Without Operations

Unqualified Success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in Cases of Mrs. Fox and Miss Adams.

One of the greatest triumphs of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the conquering of woman's dread enemy, tumor.
So-called "wandering pains" may come from its early stages, or the presence of danger may be made manifest by excessive monthly periods accompanied by unusual pain extending from the abdomen through the groin and thighs.
If you have mysterious pains, if there are indications of inflammation, ulceration or displacement, don't wait for time to confirm your fears and go through the horrors of a hospital operation; secure Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once and begin its use and write Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., for advice.
Read these strong letters from grateful women who have been cured:
Dear Mrs. Pinkham:— (First Letter.) "In looking over your book I see that your medicine cures tumors. I have been to a doctor and he tells me I have a tumor. I will be more than grateful if you can help me, as I do so dread an operation."
Dear Mrs. Pinkham:— (Second Letter.) "I take the liberty to congratulate you on the success I have had with your wonderful medicine.
"Eighteen months ago my periods stopped. Shortly after I felt so badly I submitted to a thorough examination by a physician, and was told that I had a tumor and would have to undergo an operation.
"I soon after read one of your advertisements and decided to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. After taking five bottles as directed, the tumor is entirely gone. I have again been examined by the physician and he says I have no signs of a tumor now. It has also brought my periods around once more; and I am entirely well. I shall never be without a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in the house."
—Fannie D. Fox, Bradford, Pa.
Another Case of Tumor Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.
Dear Mrs. Pinkham:— "About three years ago I had intense pain in my stomach with cramps and raging headaches. The doctor prescribed for me, but finding that I did not get any better he examined me and, to my surprise, declared I had a tumor.
"I felt sure that it meant my death warrant, and was very despondent. I spent hundreds of dollars in doctoring, but the tumor kept growing, till the doctor said that nothing but an operation would save me. Fortunately I corresponded with my aunt in one of the New England States, who advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound before submitting to an operation, and I at once started taking a regular treatment, finding to my great relief that my general health began to improve, and after three months I noticed that the tumor had reduced in size. I kept on taking the Compound, and in ten months it had entirely disappeared without an operation, and using no medicine but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and words fail to express how grateful I am for the good it has done me."
—Miss Lucella Adams, Colman Hotel, Seattle, Wash.
Such unquestionable testimony proves the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and should give confidence and hope to every sick woman.
Mrs. Pinkham invites all ailing women to write to her at Lynn, Mass., for advice.

Two Cows Collected

We collected two cows for Thomas Hillyard of Smithfield, Utah. This was in settlement of an old bill thirteen years of age. It had been in our hands a little over a year.
Have you got any bad debts that need collecting? Do you need some cows? If Mr. Hillyard had turned this bill in twelve years ago, he might have had a herd of cattle by this time.
Turn in your bad debts. The longer you wait the longer the people who owe you will wait.

JUST MAKING A FRESH START.
Boy Well Knew Bishop Wasn't Near End of Sermon.
The late Bishop Eastburn of Massachusetts was a man of very imposing appearance, and when robed in his big-sleeved cassocks gave the impression of sailing under full canvas. In the pulpit he had a habit of drawing himself up at intervals, with chest raised and head thrown back, which gave him a very pompous air.
A little boy of Newburyport, not fully inured to long sermons, and wearying under his heavy periods, mildly suggested to his mother that he would like to "cut the rest of it," but she tried to beguile him with the assurance that the good man was just ready to stop, when he eagerly replied: "Oh, no, mamma, he isn't, 'cause he's just blowed hisself up again."
Excellent Neighbors.
Col. Quackenbush built his new house at the edge of a cemetery. "Wherefore?" questioned friends, protesting against the choice of situation. "Just a fancy of my own," replied the colonel. "The dead are excellent neighbors."

COWARDICE OF CAPTAIN PREVENTED SAVING LIFE

It is Claimed That Many of the Unfortunates on the Valencia Might Have Been Rescued by the Queen.

San Francisco, Cal.—The steamer Queen, Captain James Cousins, has arrived from Puget sound ports and the scene of the wreck of the Valencia. Directly conflicting stories are told by those on board regarding the failure of the Queen to rescue any of the people who were seen clinging to the rigging or huddled on the afterdeck of the rapidly sinking vessel.
Chief Boatswain's Mate C. P. Jorgensen of the cruiser Philadelphia, who with twenty sailors belonging to that vessel came down on the Queen, severely scores the officers of that vessel. He says:
"I was standing on the forward deck and could plainly see the men and women on the Valencia. I volunteered to man a lifeboat with my men and attempt to rescue some of the imperiled ones. It was a life and death chance, but we all were willing to take it. The captain would not consent, and so we had to stand by and watch the signals of distress. After two hours, during which no attempt was made to launch a boat, the Queen put back to Victoria."
Chief Boatswain's Mate D. S. Sullivan corroborated Jorgensen's statement that the Philadelphia's men were willing to undertake to save all the lives possible, but they were prevented from doing so by Captain Cousins. Sullivan also charges that the officers of the Czar and Salvor were too timid to take the risks necessary to rescue those on the Valencia. Captain Cousins denies the statements of the bluejackets, saying:
"It's a lie that these fellows were ready to go out in a small boat. Not one of them said a word. If they had, I would not have allowed them to go to certain death in the heavy sea that was then running."

Starch Factory for Box Elder.
Salt Lake City.—As a result of the investigations of the Manufacturers and Merchants' association, and its committee on industries, it is altogether likely that a factory for the purpose of manufacturing starch from the potatoes of the state will be effected in a short time in Box Elder county. On the occasion of the excursion that was given by the association to Kaysville, Brigham City, Ogden and Logan, the members of a committee that had broached the starch factory proposition to the association boarded the train at Brigham City, and showed the association members the proposed site of the factory. It is understood that work will be begun early in the spring on the plant.

HORRORS ON LIFE RAFT.
One Man Went Mad When the Queen Sailed Away.
Victoria, B. C.—Chief Cook Hancock, a survivor of the Valencia's life raft found in Barclay sound, in telling of the experiences of those who were with him on the raft, said so poignant was the disappointment of the shipwrecked men when the steamer Queen failed to see their signals and sheered away that one went mad and a few minutes later died. The others, to lighten the raft, pushed his body overboard. Then another passenger, with a cry, slipped off the raft, leaving eight. Four of the men only lived to reach the shore.

Clarence Long, a smelterman, aged 35 years, committed suicide at Great Falls, Mont., in a room in a lodging house occupied by Miss Mary Mickelst, with whom he was in love and of whom he was jealous.
Services Brief and Simple.
New York.—An imposing military pageant passing across Brooklyn bridge, brief services at St. Thomas' Episcopal church on Fifth avenue and an escort across the North river ferry to Jersey City, where the body was placed on a train to be taken to Washington for interment in the National cemetery at Arlington, marked the funeral Sunday afternoon of Brigadier General Joseph Wheeler, one of the most prominent generals of the Spanish-American war.

ASSERTS HIS INNOCENCE.
Sentence of Death Passed Upon Murderer of Mabel Page.
Cambridge, Mass.—Charles L. Tucker, convicted of the murder of Mabel Page of Weston on March 31, 1904, has been sentenced to death by electricity during the week of June 10. When asked if he had anything to say, Tucker addressed the court as follows:
"Your honor, all I have to say is that I am absolutely innocent of this crime."
Bandits Again on the Warpath.
Algeciras, Spain.—Advices received here from Tangier by the delegates to the conference are to the effect that serious disorders have been renewed between Raisuli, the bandit chief, and the Anjera tribesmen. One of the Anjera chiefs were killed and others of them, with large followings, are uniting for the purpose of aggressive struggle with Raisuli. Some of the Moroccan specialists attending the conference hastily returned to the Tangier.

Jack the Stabber.
St. Louis, Mo.—While walking along Kosuth avenue after nightfall, Bertha Riley, aged 11 years, was apprehended by a young man who stabbed her in the back and fled. The girl ran home and was given medical attention, the physician stating that the wound was not serious. This makes the sixteenth girl who has been stabbed in the streets after night within the past two weeks, presumably by one young man who is designated as "Jack the Stabber."

CLERGYMAN ACCEPTED THE FEE.

"Bluff" of Bridegroom That Met With Deserved Failure.

A good story is told on a young clergyman in the suburbs who was recently married and who was properly punished for trying to make a "front". It is a well known rule among clergymen not to take a fee from dominie for marrying him. The general custom is, however, for the best man to go through the usual form and present the officiating clergyman with an envelope containing the fee. The minister then pays a graceful compliment to the bride and presents the envelope to her. Aware of this custom, the young minister thought he would make a big showing before his bride and placed $100 in the envelope, smiling in anticipation of her surprise when she should open it and see what her lover was willing to pay for being united to her.
The young man's consternation can be imagined when the other clergyman calmly pocketed the envelope and made no movement to return it. The officiating minister had heard glowing reports of the rich bride his young friend was getting and decided that the fee would do him more good than the newly married couple, and therefore for once departed from the usual rule. The bridegroom is still sore about the $100, but the joke was too good for the best man to keep to himself.—Philadelphia Record.

Teal Slip Out of Hunters' Reach.
Teal leave the water with astonishing smartness, and if the shooting is in brush the gunner is likely to be reminded of the thunderous grouse, by the way those brown bantams, the blue-wings, slip out of reach of his sudden storm of lead. And how they can go when they discover what their danger is! I have stood in the cat-balls by a pond at evening when the teal were coming in to roost and have seen them burst into a speed, upon detecting me, that required a 20-foot swinging lead to stop at 40 yards. They are handsome birds, too, these teal, and gross is the man that can chuck them in his shooting coat without a glance of admiration at the trim lines of them.—Lynn Bogue Hunt, in "Shooting Ducks on Middle Western Ponds," in The Outing Magazine.

For the Indoor Garden.
There are four essentials for a successful indoor garden—even temperature, cleanliness, unremitting attention to ward off insects, and careful watering, neither drowning, which produces sourness of the soil and yellowness on leaves, nor droughts, which cause a general withness, not to mention premature decease.—Exchange.

Importance of Proper Diet.
The basis of all foods consists of at least four essential elements; but it does not follow that all these elements will be present in equal proportions in various life sustaining substances. Thus, weight for weight, bread contains more carbon than meat, and meat more nitrogen than bread. These theoretical considerations are borne out by observed facts. Modern researches have shown that there is an intimate relation subsisting between the quality and quantity of food taken and the kind of work of "energy" into which it is eventually transformed. Hence a man's diet ought to depend in great part on his work.

Virtue Coming In.
There is not much scandal going the rounds. Recklessness has been found not to pay and, happily, women—ever the greater sufferers—think the game is not worth the candle. The word respectable is not yet in favor, but it has ceased to be synonymous with dulness.

Domestic Help in London.
In the more prosperous parts of London eighty mistresses of households out of every hundred have domestic help. In the East End only five families in each hundred can afford household assistance. In the provinces generally one family in every four has a servant for "help."

Swift & Company

Year 1905 Sales.
The total distributive sales for 1905 exceeded $200,000,000.
This total is realized from the sale of fresh meats (beef, mutton and pork), provisions, produce (poultry, butter and eggs), soaps, glues, oils, bones, fertilizers, feathers, casings, hides, wools, pelts and other by-products derived from cattle, sheep, hogs and poultry.

Margin of Profit.
The industry is operated on a margin of less than 2 cents to each dollar of sales. Swift & Co. do not sell at retail. Their entire output is sold at wholesale to many thousands of dealers in various parts of the world. There are hundreds of local slaughterers throughout the United States, who buy their live stock in competition with the packer doing an interstate and international business. Likewise the packer must sell in competition with the local slaughterers. There are no secret processes in the industry, no complicated and expensive factories, and as live stock can be purchased in almost every hamlet and city, and the preparation of meats is simple in the extreme, local slaughtering will long remain a factor in the production of fresh meats and provisions.

Economic Advantages.
The large packing houses will, however, always have these advantages: Locations at the chief live stock centers, with the opportunity to buy the best live stock; manufacturing in large quantities, at the minimum of expense; utilization of all waste material; refrigeration; mechanical appliances; highly efficient business management. These advantages are reflected in the quality of the packer's output, a quality that has reached its highest development in the products bearing the name and brand of "Swift."

Purchasing Live Stock.
The principal live stock centers are Chicago, Kansas City, Omaha, St. Louis, St. Joseph, St. Paul and Fort Worth. The same methods of purchasing cattle, sheep and hogs prevail at all cities. At Chicago, which is the largest market, there are about two hundred and fifty buyers, representing packers, local slaughterers in various cities and exporters. Of this number, less than a score are employed by Swift & Company.
The farmer ships his live stock to Chicago, consigns them to a commission firm at the Union Stock Yards, who sees that they are unloaded and put in pens. Then the buyers inspect them, make their offers to the commission dealer, who accepts or rejects as his judgment dictates. All buying must be finished at 3 o'clock each day, and the buyer must pay spot cash. If the commission man has no satisfactory offers, he can hold his stock over to the next day. He gets his commission from the farmer, and naturally strives to get the highest possible price for his client.

Wholesale Distributing Houses.
A wholesale distributing house is a giant refrigerator, but instead of shelves there are trolley rails, from which are suspended hooks to hang the carcasses. Some of the houses cost as much as a hundred thousand dollars to build and equip. As a rule they are of pressed brick, the insides being lined—floor, walls and ceiling—with highly polished hardwood. The floors are covered daily with fresh sawdust, and all are kept spotlessly clean. There are over three hundred of these wholesale houses in various cities of the United States, and the public is always welcome to visit them.

Packing Plants.
All the Swift & Company plants are located at the great live stock markets, in the heart of the great agricultural sections, where can be purchased the finest grades of cattle, sheep and hogs. We have seven packing plants, employing at each from two to eight thousand persons.
The following gives the locations and sizes of the different plants:

City	Buildings, Acres.	Floor Space, Acres.	Land, Acres.
Chicago	44 1/2	87 1/2	47
Kansas City	7	30	19 1/2
Omaha	6	28	23
St. Louis	7 1/2	19 1/2	31 1/2
St. Joseph	6 1/2	25 1/2	19 1/2
St. Paul	5	12	16
Fort Worth	3	15	22

Employees.
The total number of persons employed in all the Swift packing plants and branch houses aggregate over 26,000 persons. Conditions for employees in the various manufacturing and operating departments is continually improving with the construction of new buildings and the installation of new and up-to-date equipment.

Sanitation and Hygiene.
The housewife makes no greater effort to keep her kitchen clean than we do to keep in sanitary and hygienic condition our abattoirs. They are thoroughly scrubbed at the close of each day's operations, and automatic appliances are used wherever possible in order to eliminate the personal handling of meats. Rigid rules governing these points are strictly enforced; laxity means dismissal.

Visitors Always Welcome.
No other industry in the world gives such a cordial welcome to visitors as Swift & Co. We keep open house the year around, and maintain a corps of specially trained guides, with special elevators and rest rooms. In one year we have entertained over a quarter of a million of men and women; in one day—Grand Army Day, 1901—we entertained 23,000. Among our visitors have been ambassadors from foreign governments, princes, noblemen and distinguished citizens from every state in the Union. We wish to familiarize the public with our methods, and the best way to do that is to let the public see for itself. We have no secret processes or methods in any department.

Swift's Premium Hams and Bacon.
Swift's Premium Hams and Bacon are more widely and favorably known than any other brand. Their popularity is due to the uniform quality and flavor of the meat, and to their fine appearance when received from the dealer. Each piece is branded on the rind, "Swift's Premium U. S. Inspected," and wrapped in cheesecloth and white parchment paper.
Look for the brand, "Swift's Premium," when buying hams and bacon.

Swift's Silver Leaf Lard
Is a strictly pure lard, kettle rendered, and put up in 3, 5 and 10-pound sealed pails. It is America's Standard Lard, and enjoys a high reputation and an enormous sale.

Swift's Soaps.
An interesting feature of a trip through the Chicago plant is a visit to the soap factory, one of the largest and most complete in this country. There we manufacture numerous toilet and laundry soaps, and washing powders.
Among which are:
Wool Soap, widely and favorably known; for toilet and bath, and washing fine fabrics.
Crown Princess Toilet Soap, highly perfumed.
Swift's Pride Soap, for laundry and household use.
Swift's Pride Washing Powder, unsurpassed for all cleaning purposes.
