THE DECLINE IN PRICES.

San Francisco Papers on the Cause.

The Report of yesterday consoles its readers who are dealing in stocks as follows: 'The comparatively high prices and the halt in the upward movement of the Comstocks brought out some realizers this morning at the first session, and their sales were supplemented by the operations of the shorts.'

And the Post, which has hitherto advised its readers to get it at once before it should be too late, yesterday advises its readers to 'go slow,' as follows: 'There was great trepidation in the stock circles this morning, and recent buyers were rapidly transformed into sellers.'

SHAWHAN, THE STOCK BROKER.

John E. Jr. Shuts Up Shop for $5500 Liabilities, Assets Nothing.

Hearing that John E. Shawhan, Jr., had closed his stock broking business in Virginia for want of funds to carry it on, a News representative proceeded to his office to ascertain if such was the case.

Not gaining any information from the clerk further than the office would not again be opened for business, the reporter vended his way to the office of Mr. Shawhan to learn of Mr. John E. Shawhan, Jr., the cause of his failure in business.
