Mrs. Lucinda Hoopes died in Beloit last week, aged nearly 74. She is survived by four of her seven children.

Mrs. Lucinda Hoopes, aged 74, died in Beloit and was buried Saturday afternoon in Beloit. She leaves three sons and a daughter.

Mrs. Elizabeth Blackburn died the latter part of last week at her home in Beloit, aged nearly 91 years. She spent her entire life in Westville and Beloit.

The Erie Co. has built a new freight station in Warren and citizens of the town are pleased. They now hope to run a new passenger station, needed for something like a half century.

Judge Lodge Riddle of Lisbon has been appointed chairman of the Columbiana County War Savings organization, succeeding W. H. Mullins of Salem, who had charge of the county W. S. S. campaign last year.

Easter comes exceptionally early this year. Ash Wednesday falls upon March 5 and consequently Easter falls upon April 0. The date of the Paschal full moon is April 15 and Easter comes the first Sunday following that.

Mrs. Eva Flester, who died recently in Newton Falls, was born in Lisbon June 22, 1837. She was educated in the Catholic and Poland schools and on April 12, 1860, was married to Dr. J. N. Flester. With her husband in 1864 she went to Newton Falls which had since been her home.

Kent state normal school has already brought to that town an investment of $90,350, including the valuation placed on the site, according to figures compiled by State Auditor V. Donaghy in an inventory of state property. Canfield tried hard for this school long before Kent thought of it but lost out in the contest.

THE MAHONING COUNTY HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY

Will Meet Somewhere—Sometime.

Don't know just where, nor when. But what I want you to remember is that it's sure to be an interesting meeting. I have told you about our recent meeting; it's interesting addresses discussion and features.

But the next meeting will be better. Just as sure as ten times ten is greater than five times ten. You know we have fifty members, all alive. When we meet again we will have 77, all alive and bustling, and some of them talking.

You, reader, should identify yourself with this organization, right away quick. For "Horticulture" is practically every operation and line of work from the city and suburban lot, to the small and large farms; excepting the production of the cereals and live stock. Wider in its meaning than "Agriculture."

The greater diversity in the operation and activities pertaining to horticulture easily accounts for the possibility of interesting subjects for discussion at our Horticultural Society meetings. Everything from the lowly little Fragaria Virginiana, to the big, red, luscious () Ben Davis; from the little Physalis, the big yellow cornucopia, Pecho, from the lowly but fragrant little Viola odorata, to the brilliant, stately, non-odoriferous Holly hock; all come under the general term "Horticulture," and you are liable to hear their culture discussed at any of our Horticultural Society meetings.

Doubtless, many a time, when it became your duty and privilege to transplant a tree, shrub or flowering plant on your home grounds, you have wished to know more about it; its requirements as to sunshine or shade its habit of growth and general characteristics. Many of these you will also learn at our meetings.

But what's the use for one to take up valuable space in the Dispatch columns telling you what you can learn at our meeting. Become a member and get it first-hand, and in large enough doses to do you permanent good.

And, if there are ever periods when you feel a little "lank" under the belt, just manage to have them come at the time of our Horticulture meetings; then bring with you a half bushel basket of "doughnuts" or any other edible you like, and see if you don't get filled up to full capacity—once. But first, be sure that you are a member of the society.

Doors closed again non-members? No, that's not it; but you will like us better and we'll like you better if you are one—so, see if you don't start to finish, you will be in at the next if you have to crawl through the window.

"What's the price?" is generally the first question when buying things of value that you need. Here, I've been telling you what you need and almost forgot to mention the price. It's only 50 cents per year; and our secretary gives you a receipt to prove that you are a member of the only Horticulture Society in Mahoning county.

Send it—the 50 cents—to the secretary. But it's safer—and better—to send a dollar-bill, and get two receipts; for yourself and wife. That will improve your chances for an abundant feed of "chow" as our soldiers call it—at the next meeting.

Our secretary's address is C. O. O. But you may find it more convenient to call at County Agent Lehman's office; his secretary, Miss Overhulter, will take the money and give you the receipt. Better drop in soon, lest you forget.

Tours for a big crowd and big time at our next meeting. Watch the Dispatch for the date.

M. B. TEMPLIN, Sec'y-Treas.

Second interest coupons on the Third Liberty loan bonds will be due March 15. The Ohio War Savings committee is issuing an appeal to help the government meet its continued war expense by converting these coupons into War Savings Stamps.

According to available records, the holdings of Third Liberty loan bonds in Ohio amounts to $225,000,000. The semi-annual interest payment on these bonds will amount practically to $4,700,000. Reinvestment of this amount in War Savings Stamps will materially relieve the government of war-time obligations.

A WISE LEGACY

(The testator of this will, an inmate of the Cook Insane Asylum at Dunmurry, Ill., was said to be insane, but in reading over this posthumous document, it will occur to most of us that he was gloriously sane.)

I, Charles Lounsbury, being of sound mind and disposing memory, do hereby make this, my last will and testament, in order as justly as may be, to distribute my interest in the world among succeeding men.

That part of my interest which is known in law and recognized in the sheep-bound volumes as my property, being inconsiderable and of no account, I make no disposal of in this will.

My right to live, being but a life-estate, is not at my disposal, but these things excepted, all else in the world I now propose to devise and bequeath: Item: I give to good fathers and mothers in trust for their children, all good little words of praise, and encouragement, and all quaint pet names and endearments, and I charge said parents to use them generously, as the needs of their children may require.

Item: I leave to children, inclusively but only for the term of their childhood, all and every, the flowers of the fields, and the blossoms of the woods, with the right to play among them freely, according to the customs of children, earning them at the same time again thistles and thorns. And I devise to children, the banks of the brooks, and the golden sands beneath the waters thereof, and the odors of the willows that dip therein, and the white clouds that float high over the giant trees. And I leave to children, the long, long days to be merry in, in thousand ways, and the night and the moon and the train of the milky way to wonder at, but subject, nevertheless, to the rights hereinafter given to lovers.

Item: I devise to boys, jointly, all the unused idle fields and commons where ball may be played; all pleasant waters where one may swim; all snow-clad hills where one may coast; and all streams and ponds where one may fish, or where, when grim winter comes, one may skate; and I hold the same for the period of their boyhood. And all meadows with the clover blossoms and butterflies thereof; the woods and their appurtenances; the squirrels and the birds, and echoes and strange noises; and all distant places which may be visited, together with the adventures there found. And I give to said boys each his own place at the fireside at night, with all pictures that may be seen in the burning wood, to enjoy without let or hindrance and without any encumbrance of care.

Item: To lovers, I devise their imaginary world with whatever they may need; as the stars of the sky; the red roses by the wall; the bloom of the hawthorn; the sweet strains of music, and aught else they may desire to figure to each other; the lastness; and the poems of their love.

Item: To young men, jointly, I devise and bequeath all boisterous, inspiring sports of rivalry, and I give to them the disdain of weakness and undaunted confidence in their own strength. Tho' they are rude, I give to them the power to make lasting friendships, and of possessing companions, and to them exclusively I give all merry songs and brave choruses, to sing with lusty voices.

Item: And to those who are no longer children or youths or lovers, I leave memory, and a bequest to them of the power of Burns and Shakespeare and of other poets, if there be others, to the end that they may live over the old days again, freely and fully, without tithes or diminution.

Item: To our loved ones with snowy crowns, I bequeath the happiness of old age, the love and gratitude of their children until they fall asleep.

THE DARING Q-BOAT

Which Lured to Its Doom the U-Boat of the Hun.

Many chapters of romance were added to the lore of the British navy during the grave days of the world war, and prominent among them is one that concerns the adventurous exploits of the heretofore unmentioned Q-boats, as strange craft as ever floated an unscrupulous foe.

The Q-boat was deadly bait for the U-boat. It was so because it bore the lamblike outward appearance of a tramp merchantman, but within carried the British lion unleashed. Concealed guns were mounted in false deckhouses that collapsed like cards on a deck stripped for action when the instant to deliver the death thrust was signaled. Think of a ship sailing the merchant lanes for months, offering itself as a target to hidden foes in order that it might fight, even though crippled first. And then imagine the foaming wake of a torpedo suddenly extended across its path shortly after dawn on a fine spring morning.

Outwardly the tramp held to its course and observed nothing. On board the man-of-war, however a long-awaited alarm rang clearly and men crawled to battle positions. Presently a submarine broke the surface several hundred yards away and fired across the tramp's bow. That was the signal for the curtain to be run up on the strangest of war dramas. The engines were stopped, steam poured from the exhaust and the ship rocked in the trough of the waves. The panic crew became hysterical. On the bridge the Captain executed the gesture of a slap-stick comedian and rared order after order. In a fit of apparent confusion the panic crew faced to the small boats.

The single blast of a whistle blown by the Captain was the signal to cease acting and begin fighting the decoyed submarine, which had now come sufficiently close to be a good target. In less than three minutes from the time the commander issued the order to lie to and light a hit was registered that foundered the U-boat—Popular Mechanics.

Can Join Calf Club

There is yet time to make entry for the Mahoning County Calf Club. Any boy interested in dairying and pure-bred livestock should make application at once. The heifers will be younger this year and the Club of longer duration. Write for an application blank, H. A. Lehman, County Agricultural Agent.

Spring Cleaning Time Is Near

If a house needs spring cleaning, how about the human body after a winter of indoor life and heavy food? Don't suffer from indigestion, biliousness, bad breath, bloating, gas or constipation, when relief can be so easily had. Foley Cathartic Tablets clean stomach and bowels and tone up the liver.

The adoption of many new labor-saving devices will not bother the man whose chief worry was to dodge the work-or-fight order.

Many discharged soldiers might have greater difficulty in getting home if the government did not permit them to wear their uniforms.

Prices are reported as coming down, but the change has not yet become sufficiently marked to be visible to the consumer's naked eye.

Weary as the world is of war, it would resume fighting in an instant if it imagined that the ideals it has fought for were endangered.

An invention has been perfected to permit ten people to talk over a wire at once. That seems to be the trouble with domestic phones today!

Every time a nation takes its pencil and pad of paper and figures up its war bill Germany gives another shudder and starts another political movement.

The grand duchess of Mecklenberg Schwerin thinks Germany made a mistake in starting the war and there are some grounds for believing that she is right.

Since discharged soldiers are to be allowed to keep their uniforms, it would only be fair to permit the fair workers in munition plants to retain their overalls.

Hotel restaurants and cafes are said to be operated at a loss. What a fine world this is, when people go to so much trouble and expense merely for accommodation.

Canadians are figuring out that if they cut down the size of their huge cent pieces they can save a lot of high-priced copper and still buy as much with what's left.

To automobilists that new "H.erty fuel," said to be cheaper and more efficient than gasoline, will be a demonstration that the war has made the world safe for democracy.

Five hundred and ninety-eight German and foreign military and naval uniforms have been found in the ex-kaiser's private wardrobe in Potsdam. And none of them saw active service in the war.

The announcement that flying the Atlantic has been postponed until next summer will take a heavy strain off credulity and curiosity at a time when they need all their resources at other points.

TOLD IN CANFIELD

A Resident Known to all Our Readers Relates an Experience.

Readers of the Dispatch have been told again and again of the merits of that reliable, time-proved kidney remedy—Doan's Kidney Pills. The experiences told are no those of unknown persons, living far away. The cases are Canfield cases, told by Canfield people.

A. S. Porter, retired carpenter, says: "I had a dull ache across the small of my back. My kidneys acted irregularly and I had to get up several times at night to pass the kidney secretions. I bought a box of Doan's Kidney Pills and gave them a trial. Doan's helped me a great deal and I have had little trouble with my kidneys since. I still have great faith in Doan's Kidney Pills and recommend them highly."

Price, 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Porter had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfgs., Buffalo, N. Y.—adv.

Jaunty English Tweed Dolman Coats

Coats that make their strongest appeal to those young in spirit—you'll like them, you just can't help it. So smart, so "ripping," so to speak, as dear old England might say.

Two Groups at Popular Prices

$29.50 and $35.00

One model at $29.50 is of grey English Tweed in full inverted pleat back style, with side pleat in front, 3-inch belt, and collar and cuffs smartly taped.

One model at $35.00 is of Copenhagen and grey mixture English Tweed, with deep square collar, inserted pockets, gathered front on yoke and finished with large buttons.

Another model at $35.00 is of brown English Tweed, with belted back, raglan sleeves, large collar trimmed in brown suede inserted pockets, and finished with leather arrow heads.

Misses' and Young Women's New Spring Walking Oxfords of Mahogany Calfskin at $5.95

A neat and dapper perforated model of appealing newness and rare smartness, conceived along English lines with comfortable walking heels. Made with sewed Neolin soles. Excellent values at just $5.95 the pair.

The Refinement of Costly Jewelry at Little Prices

—May be enjoyed by women if they make their selections here.

Women who love artistic adornments will be delighted with this new collection of inexpensive jewelry. Each piece has been carefully designed and tastefully finished after patterns that originated with pieces of much higher price. New in pattern, fresh and brilliant, they have an extraordinary charm that is truly unusual at such small cost.

Sterling Silver Bar Pins, Circles, Crescents, Ovals, etc., set with white and colored stones—75c to $3.75. (Main Floor, Old Bldg.)

The First "Made in America" Set of Dishes Since Washington's Time

—Has recently been added to the collection of former presidents at the White House, according to a recent dispatch. It is interesting to know that this particular Set is heavy, in burnished gold and blue enamel, and in the center is embossed gold is the seal of the United States.

This is cited to show the tremendous strides in late years, that this country has made in the art of pottery making. Another fine proof is our own splendid collection of American-made China that this Good Store is featuring. Other makes, of course—French and English designs that will harmonize with your interior decorations—likewise worthy of note. Border spray and conventional Sets for 12 to 12 persons—$7.50 to $200. (Third Floor, New Bldg.)

The New Dress Woolens Ask for Your Attention

—Some are special values, others are at their regular prices—all are especially commended by their good, sturdy quality and stylishness, which insure satisfactory results when developed into new suits, coats, skirts and the like.

$6.00 Broadcloth Suitings and Coatings, $4.50—They're 54 inches wide and have the weight of Kersey. In Brown, Taupe, Green and Black. Very special!

$3.50 and $4.00 French Serges, $3.00—54 inches wide, in the fashionable Navy Blue. Good weight; they make up nicely.

$3.00 French Serges, $2.50—In the 50 and 54-inch widths. The fine Navy Blue. Specially priced!

All Wool Plaids, $2.50 and $6.00—Large bar plaids, stylish and striking in effect; very smart for New Spring skirts.

New White Eiderdown, $2.00—Double face quality, and double weight. One of the season's favorites.

For Their Majesties, The Babies—New Spring Carriages Are Ready

Babies were never so important as they are this minute! The State puts a higher value on them; experts are more earnestly concerned about their health; even fathers and mothers may be said to care more about them—if that were possible!

All of which suits the little plutocrats to perfection.

And here are New Carriages and Strollers which we believe will please the Little Cherubs equally well. The famous "Thayer" make, fine well-built vehicles with many new features that will meet with the approval of fond parents—windows in the hood tempered steel springs, reversible gears on Pullmans, hoods that swing on an axis, various finishes and trimmings, body and hood of genuine reed—$23.50 to $64.50.

New Line of Sulkies—That have just arrived at very moderate prices.
