Lena Horne in Europe
NEW YORK, Nov. 1. (ANP)—Movie star Lena Horne sailed for London last week, her first European trip.

"I need a change from the furious tempo that has characterized my life in recent months," Miss Horne said in her People's Voice column. "I need the kind of relaxation that you can't get in a dressing room or at 4:30 a. m., when I get home from work. I think I need a change of scenery and atmosphere."

Miss Horne's first London engagement will be the famous Casino theater. Afterward, she is scheduled to play the Elysees club in Paris.

"I have been told that there is a general absence of racial prejudice and that jim crow is just about unknown," she said among other things on the eve of her departure. "That'll be a welcome change after some particularly unpleasant recent contacts with Old Man Jim Crow here."
