The Fighting Preacher.

We have heard an excellent story of a reverend gentlemen, once a citizen of Pittsburgh.

He was what old ladies call a "dear good man," and young misses a "duck of a fellow." His charity was not confined to those who were his immediate followers, and in all private relations of life he bore the character of an honest and upright man. It was said, however, that he possessed a violent temper, and when anything disagreeable occurred, behaved in a manner by no means clerical.

On one occasion, a member of his congregation, as passionate as himself, reproved him for using language in the pulpit highly improper in itself, and altogether unbecoming one professedly devoted to the service of his Divine Master. The clergyman replied that he was governed by his own sense of propriety, and that he would permit no puppy to speak to him in that manner.

To this, a blow was the only reply. A dreadful fight was the consequence, which continued for the space of thirty minutes, at the end of which, the layman cried:

"Hold, enough!"

"The battle ended, and the preacher, with an injured face, walked home in triumph.

News of the quarrel spread like wildfire through the congregation. Old ladies put on their bonnets, and ran over the city to hear all the particulars; fast young men called on the reverend gentleman, complimented him highly for behaving so well, and left with assurance of their great regard and distinguished consideration.

The Sunday following, the church was crowded to excess—all present being anxious to hear the minister's explanation. People of all ranks, all conditions—women, men and children—saints and sinners—professors of the manly art of self-defence—and individuals who, till that time knew not what the inside of a church was made of, were assembled there.

Just as the great bell struck for the last time—the clergyman entered the church. Deliberately he wended his way to the pulpit, and contemplated the scene before him. The choir sung the psalm commencing with:

"Blest is the man who shuns the place,
Where sinners love to meet—"

After which the preacher made a short and fervent prayer. He then took his text, and delivered the following address, which has been handed to us by a gentleman who was present.

Brethren:—We are commanded to love our enemies and respect those who despitefully use us. It is our duty to do so. Forgiveness is the finest quality in the Christian's character. It distinguishes him from all others, and causes him to be looked upon with respect and admiration. He who is able to forgive an injury is far above his fellows, and is conscious of possessing parts to which others are strangers. In my short chequered career, I always endeavor to overlook every little injury I have received. In most instances I have been successful—thus proving that the immortal triumphs over the mortal, and that the Christian rises far above the mere man. But my dear brethren, it has not always been so. Frequently my proud heart and violent passions prevail over the commands of wisdom, and the voice of prudence. A few days since I forgot my position and struck the offender. I am well aware of the fact, that we are commanded, when smitten on the right cheek, to turn the left, and I think it only proper to do so; but, my brethren, when a man undertakes to cave in my head, I'm there!

The sporting characters present gave three terrific yells, which created so much confusion, that the services were immediately concluded for the day.

AMERICAN HYPERBOLE.—Upon a certain occasion, a curte gentleman, who is a physician by profession, was called upon to testify before a jury with regard to the effects of a severe whipping given by a woman to her servant child. The counsel for the prosecution asked him—

"Doctor, what, in your opinion, must be the necessary result of such blows as those you have heard the witnesses swear were given to this chiid by the respondent?"

Just as the doctor had begun to make his reply, the defence objected to the question as leading, and the doctor was told to give no answer. The counsel for the prosecution, bent on getting the doctor's opinion in some manner or other, framed the question in a different manner, and put it to the doctor half a dozen times, but always with the same result. Tired at last of being badgered in this way, the doctor turned short round to the jury, and said:

"Gentlemen of the jury, if a jackass had the skin of an alligator for an overcoat, and a piece of boiler plate underneath, and that jackass were to be flogged one half as bad as that woman whipped that child, all creation couldn't save the jackass from dying!"

☞ A lad, a day or two since, was called to the witness stand in the Common Pleas Court, whose tender years raised doubts as to his competency as a witness, by not understanding the nature and obligation of an oath. The first question put was, "Are you a son of the plaintiff?" The little fellow crossing his legs, and deliberately putting about half a paper of tobacco into his mouth, replied with the utmost coolness—"Well, so it's reported." He testified.

☞ A pert lawyer in the south, lately insulted the Judge, who fined him fifty dollars.

He repeated the fault, and the judge doubled the fine; he tried it the third time and it was repeated. Finally he asked permission to go home.

"What for?" said the judge.

"Why, to buy your honor's paper at ten per cent. to pay my fine!"

Judge—"Humph! I remit the fine."

☞ It is difficult for a woman four feet three to marry "beneath her," let her try ever so hard.

The Voice of Dead Nations.

Mr. Alger in his recent celebrated oration, uttered the following impressive passage, which ought to be written on the statute books of every State in the Union:

"The dead nations whose giant skeletons now lie bleaching and crumbling on the sands of time, all die of sin. It was their crimes that dug their graves, and pushed them in. Licentious luxury sapped the foundation strength, and rotted the live virtue of one—and it disappeared beneath the green pool of its corruption. Brutal war made it a business of and carried in every direction, drew upon another the combined wrath of the world—and it was dashed upon the rock of its own barbarous force. Domestic bondage, grown enormous, trodden under foot, and goaded to madness, rose on another—and buried it in the conflagration and slaughter of its own provocation. Internal antipathies based on sectional differences, fed by selfish interest and taunting debate, finally exploded in the quarrelsome parties of another—and hurled its dissevered fragments to ruin by the convulsive eruption of its own wrong and hatred. Of all the mighty empires whose melancholy ghosts now pace the palid margion of oblivion, not one ever sunk but its own fall was through internal iniquity in some way or other. Shall the stately shade of republican America too go down to join the doleful company of crowded spectres, moving them beneath to rise up at her coming with the sardonic mock, "Art thou also as we!" If we would avoid their doom of vengeance we must not tread their path of guilt.

☞ "I am very incredible," said Mrs. Partington, looking up from the paper, and glancing over her specs at Ike, who was making a wind-mill out of the frames of his slate, "and believe as any rational personal person ought to. I have believed all apout the Devilport boys, and the other boys, and all that has been said against 'em; and the story of a man climbing a pole and pulling it up after him, and the actor who held himself out at arm's length; but it is beyond my belief that a cargo of molasses could 'change hads." She passed the paper from the right hand to the left, just as though it were a hogshead of molasses, and then resumed her reading, with a profound idea that the editor, in making that statement was humbugging her.

TO UNHINGE.—The editor of an exchange, just married to a Boston gal, discourseth in this fashion,—

"A pair of sweet lips, a pressure or two of delicate hands, and a pink waistribbon, will do as much to unhinge a man as three fevers, the measles; a large sized whooping-cough, a pair of lockjaws, several hydrophobias, and the doctor's bill."

☞ "Sonny, I don't see anything growing about here; what does your father raise on this land?"

"Wall, he raises hackmatack, grasshoppers, hop-toads, and some other vegetables. Yesterday, he raised a double-breasted pig-pen right under the window, and mother raised Cain.

☞ Mrs. Peter Piper's baby was making a tremendous noise, and a friend asked Peter why it was so cross?

"It has a stormy mother," said Peter, with a sigh; "you needn't wonder if it's a little squally; its quite natural."

☞ If you want to know whether an editor is wicked enough to swear, just steal his exchanges some day, and you will know all about it.

☞ At Worcestor, a drunken housekeeper, who was smashing up his beds, tables, and chairs at a furious rate, told the police officer who interfered, that he was "breaking up housekeeping."

☞ Why is a loafer in a printing office like a shade tree? Because we are glad when he "leaves."

A MEDICAL REVOLUTION?
THE WORLD UNANIMOU

HOLLOWAY'S OINTM T
THE GREAT COUNTER IRRITANT

The virtue of disease often makes its way to the internal organs through the pores of the skin. This penetrating Ointment, melting under the hand as it is rubbed in, is absorbed thro' the same channels, and, reaching the seat of inflamation, promply and invariably subdues it, whether located in the kidneys, the liver, the lungs, or any other important organ. It penetrates the surface to the interior, through the countless tubes that communicate with the skin as summer rain passes into the fevered earth, diffusing its cool and regenerating influence.

Skin Diseases and Glandular Swellings.

Every species of exterior irritation is quickly reduced by the anti-inflammatory action of this Ointment. Angra Eruptions, such as Salt Rheum, Erysipelas, Tetter Ringworm, Scald Head, Nettle Rash, Scabies (or Itch) &c., die out, to return no more, under its application.—Hospital experience in all parts of the world proves its infallibility in diseases of the skin, the muscles, the joints and the glands.

ULCERS, SORES AND TUMORS.

The effect of this unrivaled external remedy upon Scrofula, and other virulent ulcers and sores, is almost miraculous. It first discharges the poison which produces suppuration and proud flesh, and thus the cures which its healing properties afterward complete are safe as well as permanent.

Wounds, Bruises, Burns and Scalds.

In cases of the fracture of bones, injuries caused by steam explosions, Bruises, Burns, Scalds, Rheumatism, Stiffness of the Joints, and contraction of the sinews, it is employed and warmly recommended by the faculty. This marvelous remedy has been introduced by its inventor in person into all the leading Hospitals of Europe, and no private household should be without it.

UNDENIABLE TESTIMONY.

The Medical Staff of the French and English Armies in the Crimea have officially signed their approval of Holloway's Ointment, as the most reliable dressing for sabre cuts, stabs, and gun shot wounds. It is also used by the surgeons of the Allied Navies.

Both the Ointment and the Pills should be used in the following cases:

Bunions, Mercurial Eruptions, Swelled Glands, Burns, Piles, Sore Legs, Stiff Joints, Chapped Hands, Rheumatism, Sore Breasts, Sprains, Tetter, Chilblains, Ringworm, Ulcers Fistula, Salt Rheum, Sore Throats, Gout, Venereal Sores, Scalds, Sores of all kinds, Wounds of all kinds, Lumbago, Skin Diseases,

Sold at the Manufactories of Professor Holloway, 80 Maiden Lane, New York, and 244 Strand, London, by all respectable Druggists and Dealers in Medicine throughout the United States and the civilized world, in pots, at 25 cents, 62½ cents, and $1 each.

☞ There is a considerable saving by taking the larger sizes.

N. B.—Directions for the guidance of patients in every disorder are affixed to each pot.

HEALTH OR SICKNESS?

CHOOSE BETWEEN THEM.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS

The blood furnishes the material of every bone, muscle, gland and fibre in the human frame. When pure, it secures health to every organ; when corrupt, it necessarily produces disease. HOLLOWAY'S PILLS operate directly upon the elements of the stream of life, neutralizing the principle of diseases, and thus radically curing the malady, whether located in the nerves, the stomach, the liver, the bowels, the muscles, the skin, the brain, or any other part of the system.

Used Throughout The World!

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS are equally efficacious in complaints common to the whole human race, and in disorders peculiar to certain climates and localities.

ALARMING DISORDERS.

Dyspepsia, and derangement of the liver, the source of infirmity and suffering, and the cause of innumerable deaths, yield to these curatives, in all cases, however aggravated, acting as a mild purgative, alterative and tonic; they relieve the bowels, purify the fluids, and invigorate the system and the constitution at the same time.

General Weakness---Nervous Complaints.

When all stimulants fail, the renovating and bracing properties of these Pills give immediate to the shaking nerves and enfeebled muscles of the victim of general debility.

DELICATE FEMALES,

All irregularities and ailments incident to the delicate and and sensitive organs of the sex are removed or prevented by a few doses of these mild, but infallible alteratives. No mother who regards her own or her children's health should fail to have them within her reach.

SCIENTIFIC ENDORSEMENTS.

The London "Lancet," the London "Medical Review," and the most eminent of the faculty in Great Britain France and Germany, have eulogized the Pills and their inventor.

Holloway's Pills are the best remedy known in the world for the following diseases:

Asthma	Diarrhœa	Indigestion
Bowel Complaints	Dropsy	Inflamation
Coughs	Debility	Fever and Ague
Colds	Inward Weakness	Female Complaints
Chest Diseases	Headaches	Liver Complaints
Costiveness	Stone and Gravel	Lowness of Spirits
Dyspepsia	Secondary Symptons	Venereal Affections
Piles	Worms of all kinds

Sold at the Manufactories of Professor Holloway, 80 Maiden Lane, New York, and 244 Strand, London, by all respectable Druggists and Dealers in Medicine throughout the United States and the civilized world, in boxes at 25 cents, 62½ cents, and $1 each.

☞ There is a considerable saving by taking the larger sizes.

N. B.—Directions for the guidance of patience in every disorder are affixed to each box.

☞ CAUTION!—None are genuine unless the words "HOLLOWAY, NEW YORK AND LONDON" are discernable as a WATER-MARK in every leaf of the book of directions around each box or pot; the same may be plainly seen by holding the leaf to the light. A handsome reward will be given to any one rendering such information as may lead to the detection of any party or parties counterfeiting the medicines or vending the same, knowing them to be spurious.

MARRIAGE GUIDE—YOUNG'S GREAT PHYSIOLOGICAL WORK: THE POCKET ESCULAPIUS, or Every One his own Doctor by WM. YOUNG, M. D. It is written in plain language for the general reader, and is illustrated with upwards of One Hundred Engravings. All young married people, or those contemplating marriage, and having the least impediment to married life, should read this book. It discloses secrets that every one should be acquainted with; still, it is a book that must be kept locked up, and not lie about the house. It will be sent to any one on the receipt of twenty-five cents. Address DR. WM. YOUNG, 152 Spruce St., above Fourth, Philadelphia Pa.
