

The Glided Road to Grace,

Some one of the small papers has been giving the world valuable information as to the salaries of the metropolitan clergymen...

Dr. Adams, says our authority has $3,000 and a rich wife. Dr. Hawks has $6,000 a year and a house. Dr. Taylor, of Grace church, has $10,000 and the fine parsonage adjacent to the church.

We know of no better plan for securing good sleep to persons not specially invalids than to observe the following: 1. Take a very light supper, not later than 6 P. M.

2. Heat the bare feet before a fire, for the last fifteen minutes, and before a night. 3. Occupy a large room, with a window open, and a fire-place unobscured.

4. Go to bed at a regular hour. 5. Get up at the moment of waking the next morning, at whatever time that may be. 6. Do not on any account sleep a moment in the day time.

The result of these observations will be in all cases where there is not a serious disease body or mind, that the person will in a few days, go to sleep promptly and wake the very moment that nature has had all the repose needed.

Society and Early Marriages. Old Blackwood, that Nester of magazines, indulges in the following sensible remarks. They were written for the other side of the Atlantic, but will bear transportation.

"Seriously, I do not think the clubs alone have to answer for the decrease in early marriages. Other modern improvements in society must bear their share of blame. I would back the hearts of the girls—against the clubs any day, only give them fair play.

"I have read somewhere, or have been told, that any woman, three or more from a Gorgon in personal attractions, can make any man propose to her if she has the chance of living in the same house with him for a month.

"The word 'eruelty,' shall not be held to mean smoking in the parlor and library. That no mother-in-law's evidence shall be credited in favor of her own offspring.

"I'm losing flesh," as the butcher said when he saw a man robbing his car. The toothache may be cured by holding in the hand a certain root—that of the tooth.

Mothers, save Your Children.

What person of mature age can look on a sleeping child, and not envy the unconscious luxury of that undisturbed repose, especially if it is one's own child.

The lady correspondent writes: "From utter exhaustion, I slept all night like an infant. How ineffably soothing and refreshing was that sleep, three nights since. This power of resting, even for one brief night, encouraged me greatly."
