

What Shall be Done with Mexico.
The Cincinnati Commercial in one of the few opposition papers that has a proper appreciation of the Black Republican platform. It very truthfully observes that "the doctrines of the Republican platform have never constituted the real issue before the people, at any election. At the last presidential canvass they gave anything but strength to the party, and yet they were kept out of sight by a practical issue which eclipsed the dogmatic one. Since that time they have been seldom recognized as a political element for any purpose. The recent anti-administration victories had nothing to do with them. They did not speak the sentiment of the people of the North when they were announced; they have not done so at any time since, and there is no probability that they will do so in the future. And if the time shall ever arrive when, at the election of a President, an issue is fairly made up upon them, we do not entertain the slightest doubt that they will be signally and conclusively condemned, by the North as well as by the South."

Second "Squelched."
The Cincinnati Gazette predicts that some other man than "the said Seward," will be the next Republican candidate for the Presidency. The Commercial, in commenting on the famous Rochester speech of "the said Seward," says:—"With this speech as an antecedent, his election to the Presidency, if he is elected, will result from some enormous crime, weakness or folly of the opposite party or its candidate, and not from any strength of his own. He will not be a safe man for any party to nominate; for the time is past when doctrines such as he enunciates are to find a paying demand anywhere in the American Union."

Go! Husband! Go! He!
A Happy Home.
The first year of married life is the most important era in the history of husband and wife. Generally, as it is spent, so is almost all subsequent existence. The wife and husband then assimilate their views and their desires, or else conjure up their dislikes, and so add fuel to their prejudices and animosities forever afterward.

I have somewhere read," says Rev. Dr. Wise in his "Bridal Greetings," of a bridegroom who gloried in his eccentricities. He requested his bride to accompany him into the garden a day or two after the wedding. He then threw a line over the roof of their cottage—Giving his wife one end of it, he retreated to the other side and exclaimed:—"Pull the line!"
"I can't," she replied.
"Pull with all your might," shouted the whimsical husband.
But in vain were all the efforts of the bride to pull over the line, so long as the husband held on the opposite end. But when he came round, and both pulled at one end, it came over with great ease.
"There," said he as the line fell from the roof, "you see how hard and ineffectual was our labor when we pulled in opposition to each other; but how easy and pleasant it is when we both pull together. It will be so, my dear through life. If we act together, it will be pleasant to live. Let us, therefore, always pull together."

In this illustration, homely as it may be, there is sound philosophy. Husband and wife must mutually bear and concede, if they wish to make home a retreat of joy and bliss. One alone cannot make home happy. There must be union of action, sweetness of spirit, and great forbearance and love in both husband and wife, to secure the great end of happiness in the domestic circle.

A Funny Sell.
Doctors are very wise men sometimes. This fact is fully illustrated by the following from the New Bedford Mercury.
In a certain flourishing village down eastward, where flourishes a literary institution, a gentleman took one of a family of infant puppies, and, gaining access to a neighbor's house before the folks were wide awake enough to know what he was about, checked the little creature among a litter of kittens, of like tender age. Puss made no distinction between the stranger and her own offspring, and he on his own part took kindly to his new nurse. Great was the astonishment of the household, when it was discovered (as they supposed) that their cat was the dam of a puppy.
The news spread over town like wild fire. People came in flocks to see the sight. The fortunate possessor was offered five dollars for the little minister, but he declared he would not part with it for five hundred dollars. That the case might not fail of due authentication, two physicians, of the first respectability, were summoned to inspect and report upon it. They jointly and severally scrutinized the animal, and found that it was certainly a puppy, having all the characteristics of the dog race, except the pass. Those were pronounced to resemble cat's claws. The perpetrator of the joke could not hold out any longer. The cat was out of the bag in a twinkling, and if the doctors' outlive the memory of their essay in comparative zoology, they will be more lucky than most victims of a "sell."

BRADRETH'S PILLS
PURIFY THE BLOOD.
Continued pain or uneasiness in any organ generally cured by one or more doses of Bradreth's Pills. They have personally cured the undersigned fully justly the assertion. Dr. James L. Smith, N. Y., says:—
"I have cured the most deplorable outbreaks of the bowels with Bradreth's pills, when every other remedy failed, and the patient was given up to die. Skin diseases of a venereal and painful character, such as erysipelas, salt rheum, and all humors of the face, are cured by their use. I have cured rheumatism, the epileptic, the paralytic and the consumptive with these excellent pills, and in the judgment and all affections of the liver, dyspepsia, dysentery and diarrhoea, pleurisy, sudden pains and inflammations, female obstructions, scorbutic and scrofulous, venereal and neuralgic affections, have given way to the use of this medicine, and now after twenty years' experience, my estimation of Bradreth's Pills continues to increase."
A young lady, beautiful and healthy, took cold, which caused a serious obstruction for two years; her health was broken down and her beauty departed. At length Bradreth's Pills were tried, she recovered in four to five weeks, and in fifteen days preceding the usual period. Regularity was restored, and her health and good looks recovered.

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT
The free admissions of all Nations, as well as the verdict of the leading Hospitals of the Old and New World, stamp this powerful remedial agent with the greatest healing preparation ever made known to suffering humanity. Penetrative qualities are more than marvelous, through the external orifices of the skin, invisible to the naked eye, it reaches the seat of the internal disease; and in all external affections, it has invariably succeeded to the surprise of all who have used it, and of the nature's great ally.

Erysipelas and Salt Rheum
Are two of the most common and violent disorders prevalent in this country, and are entirely cured by the use of this Ointment. It is especially antagonistic to "honey sores," and is first to eradicate the venom and then to soothe the inflamed surface.

Bad Legs, Old Sores, and Ulcers.
Cases of many years standing that have pertinaciously refused to yield to any other remedy, are cured by the use of this Ointment. It is especially antagonistic to "honey sores," and is first to eradicate the venom and then to soothe the inflamed surface.

Piles and Fistula.
Every form and feature of these prevalent and painful disorders, is cured by the use of this Ointment. It is especially antagonistic to "honey sores," and is first to eradicate the venom and then to soothe the inflamed surface.

Both the Ointment and the Pills should be used in the following cases:
Blisters, Mercurial Eruptions, Swelled Glands, Burns, Piles, Sore Legs, Stiff Joints, Chapped Hands, Rheumatism, Scrofulous Eruptions, Tetter, Chilblains, Ringworm, Ulcers, Psoriasis, Salt Rheum, Sore Throat, Gout, Neuralgia, Toothache, Skin Diseases, Wounds of all kinds, Lumbago, Skin Diseases.

DR. J. WOOD & CO.,
Proprietors, 112 Canal Street, New York.
The Rev. Dr. Bellows, of New York, in an excellent address on "Mirth," remarked:—"For my part, I say it in all the solemnity, I have become sincerely suspicious of the piety of those who do not lose pleasure in any form. I cannot trust the man who never laughs; who is always sedate; who has no apparent outlet for natural springs of sportiveness and gaiety that are perennial to the human soul. I know that nature takes her revenge on such violence. I expect to find secret vices, malignant sins or horrid crimes springing up in this hot-bed of confined air and imprisoned space; therefore it gives a sincere moral gratification anywhere and in any community, to see innocent pleasures and popular amusements resisting the religious bigotry that frowns so unwisely upon them. Anything is better than that dark, dead, unhappy social life; a prey to enervating and morbid excitement, which result from unmitigated puritanism, whose second crop is usually unbridled licentiousness or infamous folly."

A TOUCHING DIRTY IN PROSE.
When Seth got home from making, he sought his Sarah Ann, and found that she, the heartless one, had found another man. And then most awful tight he got, and then he went away, and bound himself to eat live oak all down in Florida. He pined upon in the shades; his axe grew heavy in his hand, all in the wild wood glade. Mosquitoes bit him everywhere, no comfort he did get, and oh! how terribly he swore whenever he got bit. At last, despairing of relief, and wishing himself dead, he went into the woods spice and chopped off his own head.

Laughter.
Some philosopher of the last century says there are very alarming kinds of laughter, described to by sensible people, which might operate to prevent its indulgence, for instance it has been ascribed of some and by some, that they were convulsed, or 'ready to burst,' or 'splitting their sides,' and, lastly, 'dying with laughter.' True, it may be answered that such effects have actually occurred. It is related that Crispinus died laughing, because, having invited an ass to sup with him, the brute very courteously complied. It is also affirmed that one of the Popes burst with laughter when a monkey came to his bedside and put on the holy tunic. Dr. Johnson describes laughter as 'convulsive merriment;' but there is little fun going into convulsions. Therefore, don't laugh extensively.

MOTHERS, SAVE YOUR CHILDREN.
An Invaluable Book for 25 Cents. "Even Family should have a Copy."
DR. HUSTON'S MEDICAL MANUAL AND HOUSEHOLD PHYSICIAN FOR THE AFFLICTED—containing an outline of the origin, progress, treatment and cure of every form of disease contracted by promiscuous sexual intercourse, by self-abuse, or by sexual excess with advice for their prevention written in a familiar style, avoiding all medical technicalities and everything that would offend the delicacy.

REMP'S VEGETABLE WORM PASTILLE
They are infallible for the cure of INTERNAL WORMS!
The peculiar properties which belong to Remp's Lozenges, have never before been combined in any preparation. They are attractive to the eye, as a confection, and sweat out of Delicacious Flavor, rapid, yet harmless in their operation, composed solely of VEGETABLE MATERIAL, and require no Mercury to be taken before or after them. They do their work more roughly than any of the nauseous Vermifuges of the day.

THE PRIMARY CAUSE OF DEATH
is considered by the most distinguished Physicians to be worms among children. It is scarcely necessary, therefore, to put mother on their guard against this insidious complaint, for so momentous is the danger, that it prompts to remove it by the use of the only true remedy REMP'S PASTILLES, presented in such a palatable form, that children take them eagerly without coaxing. Sold by D. T. LANMAN & KEMP, 69 Water Street, New York, and by all druggists, at 25 cents per bottle. For sale by BROOKINS & SON, April 3, 1857—ly.
