A musical organization has been formed in this city, called the Arion Quartette, for the purpose of assisting in entertainments of any and all kinds. Its members are John R. Callahan, J. Noble Shaw, Nat H. Wolfstein and John Gornor. These names are recommendations enough to those acquainted with the gentlemen, and to strangers we would say that better singers are very rare.

Easter Sunday was a beautiful day, bright, warm and pleasant until evening, when there was the usual thunder shower, foretelling seven rainy Sundays in succession, according to the old proverb. The Easter Sunday services and the pleasant weather brought out large congregations at all the churches. St. Mary's Episcopal Church especially being crowded at the afternoon service. The altars were all beautifully decorated with flowers, etc.

Ice! Ice! Ice!!! I have made arrangements with the Crysl-Lake Ice Company so I can deliver in any quantity the season through at the lowest price. Remember that the Crystal Lake Ice is far superior to ice cut from ponds or creeks. Lake Ice is pure, clean and healthy. D. Kocou.

Fire. A stable, situated on the premises of Joel Spurgur, on Southern Avenue, caught fire last Friday about noon. It was discovered by some of the neighbors, who gathered in at the scene and extinguished the fire by the application of a few buckets of water. When discovered the flames were burning and the fire extended to the hay mow. No alarm was given. It is not known how the fire originated.

Death of Mrs. Elizabeth Irvin. Mrs. Elizabeth Irvin, widow of the late James Irvin, mother of Mrs. Am. Raynes and Mrs. Kittie Graban, and sister of Mr. John Mitchell, died at her residence on South street on Tuesday last week, after a long illness. She was a native of county Leitrim, Ireland, and came to this country in 1836, settling near Hillsboro in 1839. She was an exemplary Christian lady and a devoted member of Saint Mary's Episcopal Church, where her funeral services were held Thursday afternoon, conducted by the pastor, Rev. E. Bradley.

The Children's Home. Errors News—Two articles have been recently published in the Gazette that are doing harm and misleading the people in regard to a children's home. The law says the directors shall remove the children from the infirmary. "Highway Nut" in the Gazette says there is only one child there. Now he knew that was a mistake, as there were eleven at that time, and there are seventeen at this time. Now it is the duty of those in authority to comply with the law. We never look to this class to find violators of law, but we expect them to be examples in their obedience. And we think it wicked for any one to so misrepresent as to tempt them to do wrong. J. C. Rose, Health Officer.

T. A. Walker, R., 383; D. F. Scott, R., 316; E. L. Ferris, D., 150.

The run for Assessor in the North Precinct was very close, Newell, Rep., beating Wiggins, Dem., only two votes.

Republican Victory in Marshall Township.

The Republicans of Marshall, that old Democratic stronghold, stole a march on the Democracy last Monday and elected five of the eight township officers, viz: A. J. C. Blount, Assessor, 14 majority; W. A. Blount, Clerk, 14 majority; Dr. J. F. Blair, Treasurer, 3 majority; Geo. W. Miller, Trustee, and Jacob Butler, Constable, by small majorities.

Penn Township Redeemed.

The Republicans of Penn rallied on their colors last Monday and adopting the motto "nary scratch," elected their whole township ticket for the first time in ten years, by majorities ranging from 25 to 60.

The Prohibitionists ran a separate ticket, which received 12 votes, but did not help their Democratic allies to any considerable extent.

Well done, Penn.

Death of Mr. Edward L. Shinn.

Mr. Edward L. Shinn, who was so severely injured by an accident in Tennessee about two months ago, died on Tuesday last week, and his remains were brought home, reaching here on Thursday. Funeral services took place from his mother's residence on South street Friday morning, and were conducted by Rev. Dr. McSweeney.

The deceased was a worthy and industrious young man, devoted to the support of his widowed mother, who has the sympathy of our whole community in her sad bereavement.

He was born on Good Friday, April 13th, 1855, the morning of President Lincoln's assassination, and by a singular coincidence his funeral occurred on Good Friday, 1885.

Progress in Penmanship.

In this fast age, when news is transmitted by electricity, and freight and passengers are moved by steam, economy demanded that time shall be gained in every possible way by abbreviating processes and eliminating needless details. Such a demand applies to penmanship as well as to every other practical department of business, and the flourishes and fancy strokes that were the pride of the professors of the chirographic art for so long, are now considered to consume time valuable to the scribe, and the tendency is towards their elimination.

The requisites for plain, economic and rapid writing seem to be attained in a system of penmanship exhibited in the Ohio Educational Department by Prof. Detwiler, of Hillsboro, Ohio. Every essential stroke of the pen is avoided, and yet the letters are so simply and plainly made that the utmost legibility is secured.—New Orleans Daily Picayune.

To the Hon. Mayor and Board of Health of Hillsboro.

Having been requested to make a statement through the papers in reference to the sanitary condition of Hillsboro, O., I will say that we are just emerging from a severe and protracted winter, as a rule necessarily resulting in the accumulation of animal and vegetable remains and debris, after which being exposed to the rays of the sun will speedily decompose, indubitably producing an insupportable condition which will certainly produce disease in almost every family where the non-removal of such accumulations exist. Therefore, I advise that every property-holder see that their premises be at once placed in a good sanitary condition and that all accumulations in the streets and alleys known to be deleterious to health be immediately removed by the authorities. I congratulate the citizens of Hillsboro for the good keeping of their premises during the past year and have confidence that they will still continue to aid the authorities in carrying out the strict sanitary regulations, so that it may be said, should cholera or any other epidemic make its appearance, that we have done all in a sanitary point of view for the safety-keeping of our city, beautiful and transcendent for its literary genius, for its size, of the many literary in Southern Ohio. Very respectfully,

H. C. Rose, Health Officer.

March 31, 1885.

"HE SLEEPS HIS LAST SLEEP."

Death of Major Martin Buck.

Major Martin Buck, one of the bravest soldiers of the war of the Rebellion, and one of our best known and most respected citizens, died of consumption, after a lingering illness, at his residence on South High street yesterday morning.

He was born in Northfield, Vermont, February 4th, 1822, being 63 years of age last February. He came to this county in 1867, and was engaged as a miller in the employ of the late Col. Trimbale.

At the outbreak of the Rebellion he took an active part in support of the Union and raised the first company in the first Regiment of Cavalry organized in the State. He was elected Captain of Company H, and afterwards promoted to Major and served with great gallantry and efficiency until after the battle of Stone River, in which he took part, and where the Colonel of his Regiment was killed. Failing health then compelled him to resign and return home, where he organized an independent Cavalry Company for home service, which took part in the pursuit of Morgan in the Fall of 1863. After the war he resumed his occupation as a miller until a few years ago he was compelled to abandon it on account of his health.

Major Buck was married in 1858 to Miss Bessie Stuart, by whom he had three children, one son and two daughters. After her death he married Miss Matilda McFadden, with whom he resided for some time and the children of his first wife are left to mourn the death of a kind husband and an affectionate father. Modest and unassuming in his manners, genial and intelligent, and of strict integrity in all his dealings, Major Buck was respected by all who knew him, and his death will be sincerely mourned by a large circle of friends. His funeral services will take place from the M. E. Church this afternoon at 3 o'clock, under the auspices of J. M. Barrere Post G. A. R.

Peace to the memory of a gallant patriot and soldier.

"He sleeps his last sleep, he has fought his last battle. No sound shall awake him to glory again."

For Sale—Fire, Lightning and Windstorm, Life and Accident policies by H. D. Waddell, General Insurance Agent, Hillsboro, O. None but first-class companies represented.

CORRESPONDENCE.

PRICETOWN.

Mr. Perry Withrow and sister Sarah, of the Hill City, visited friends at this point last Sabbath.

Milton Fount, of Buford, was at the home of his parents here, and Mrs. Jonathan Garrison, of Hillsboro, visited on Monday.

Elder J. B. Paris closed his series of meetings at Golar, on last Tuesday night. His labors resulted in the organization of a church at that point and the first meeting of one of our churches, wanting saying done by Holcomb Bros., at their present location on Mr. Perry McLaughlin's farm, will have to be expeditions to the latter place, where we will acknowledge the loss of a good citizen and genial gentleman.

Mr. A. J. Swain is engaged in the grocery business. He commenced operations last Saturday, making a No. 1 article in the list of groceries, with service and family articles as his first-class goods. He has secured articles as his first-class goods. He has secured articles as his first-class goods.

On last Wednesday night about twenty young ladies and gentlemen, guests of the residence of Mr. Elijah Hight, to celebrate the twelfth anniversary of the birth of his daughter Emeline. Each lady took besides her gift a number of other persons. He contemplates making his future abode in Pike county, Illinois. Thus one of our citizens are departing for the western clime, and when they return home, where we will acknowledge the loss of a good citizen and genial gentleman.

Mr. G. W. Evans, of this place, and Major Rogers, of Hollowtown, have made a wagon of $25, concerning the sales and purchase of an imaginary sled. "A solid charger for $99; bought him back for $29; again sold him for $100. How much did he gain by the operation?" is the way the question is stated. Mr. Evans contends that $10 equals his gain, while Rogers claims that it is the rate of answer. We claim that the problem is logical, therefore no legitimate result can be obtained until we get into the rate of cost of an article before we can calculate the rate of gain or loss. Probably the man raised the rate of gain and never got anything to eat, except what he got by the rate of cost of grain, then of course when the owner sells him for $25, the money is worth more than the horse, as it didn't cost him anything and he took to him, while the horse cost him cost him anything, it did neither him. Will some of our worthy correspondents give their expeditious of the matter.

Last Saturday morning, Rev. Lewis Gihler, of Golar, came to our village in the quest of Elder J. B. Paris, having found him the week reported to the residence of Rev. W. H. Custer, about a quarter before the great luminary of day had reached the meridian of noon. It was manifest that our otherwise serene atmosphere was very much agitated. Many citizens crowded in the street, discussing the probable object and destination of a large delegation of persons, seen coming down the pike from the west. The delegation was led by Elder J. B. Paris, who had with one accord, they halted in front of Elder J. B. Paris' residence. Some forty persons soon took possession of the premises, and presented to the host a number of their privileges to behold. At this point Mr. Paris arrested, and his surprise was completely comical. Also Henderson declared enough was for a small army of men. Paris received many valuable presents of various kinds. Mr. Gihler, on behalf of the donors, presented the delegation to the host, and in a few words meaning of all this, for surely there was some cause which prompted the action, and were told that it was but a token of the love and respect which these persons had for our subject, and also as an appreciation of his efforts in their behalf, during the late series of meetings he conducted at this point. Surely all this is encouragement for Elder J. B. Paris.

MARSHALL.

Farmers are busy plowing.

Mr. John Turner is on the sick list.

Mrs. Julia Tempin is teaching in Liberty township.

Maidie Burcos says we are going to have a wedding soon.

Warren L. Kelly has commenced a two months' school in Marshall.

Miss Louisa Smith is visiting her sister, Mrs. Shewmaker, in Ross county.

Miss Emma Tempin has commenced her spring school near Resnan, Adams county.

Miss Emma Lyle and her sister, Mr. Hugh Evans, will leave Ohio soon, the former going to Missouri, the latter will join her husband in Illinois.

After the spring schools have closed, we hope that some person will teach a select school in this village for the benefit of the scholars and others who desire to attend.

The Presbyterian Sunday School was re-organized last Sunday, with Quinton Dick Superintendent, Dr. Blair Assistant, and E. J. Campbell secretary. Mr. Paris, Treasurer, Lettie White Librarian.

Moving seems to be in order. Mr. James Hughes and family have moved in Liberty township. John Kato and family will move to Marshall soon, and Mr. Frank West and family will move on Mrs. Anderson's farm, two miles west of Marshall.

RUNSELL'S.

April 6th, 1885.

Little Norman Burnett is quite ill at this writing.

Mrs. J. B. Hallett visited relatives at Westport Monday.

E. O. Doughty returned home last Saturday from Iowa.

A. A. Hallett was at Cincinnati last Monday on business.

Anst Brooks, who got badly burned in a critical condition.

Townsend Murphy, of Newton, Iowa, is spending a few days with friends here.

Rev. A. D. Malloch preached a very able Pastor sermon last Sunday, and all were well pleased that heard him.

BRLEFAST.

April 8th, 1885.

The farm belonging to the heirs of Josiah Smith, deceased, was sold April 2d, for two thousand dollars, J. V. D. Smart being the purchaser.

Mr. John Olbert closed his school at Wild Wood this week with an entertainment, consisting of gymnastics, declamations, speeches, etc. Good order, everything passing off quietly.

Mr. Joseph Oskalk, of the Highland House, Hillsboro, who lately became a citizen of Belfast, has sold his property here, but has some trouble in continuing the sale, as three persons to be some defect in the title.

We anticipate considerable improvement in the village this summer. A new schoolhouse, and the present of the Methodist Church, are badly needed, and should receive our first attention, while other improvements of minor importance should not be neglected.

The Democracy of Jackson township met in council last Saturday, March 25th, to discuss their rights under the administration of Mr. Cleveland, the result of which was to fall in line and adopt the civil service act, placing the present incumbents on the ticket for reelection, with few exceptions, who they thought had earned their country long enough for the present. The following gentlemen were nominated: For Townships—Henry Palmer, John Matterfield, and Joseph McCoy. Treasurers—Frank W. H. Cochran, W. H. Sweeney and Frank Storer. It is talked of by some of our friends that by the time Mr. Swain fills his next term of office he will be sweeping off the judicial chair of Jackson township. Convention harmonious.

RAINBORO.

April 6th, 1885.

Phillip Roads returned from Kansas today after having spent the winter in that State.

Considerable area were seen, and some ground broken for corn during the favorable weather this week.

A. W. Redley has been confined to his home several days past with sickness, but is slightly better at present.

Isaac Taylor, administrator of Alford Taylor, deceased, will sell her personal effects at her late residence next Saturday.

Three years ago today the peach trees were full bluing, and the wheat was six or eight inches high. Not so this spring.

O. N. Sams came home from Lebanon, where he is taking a course in the National Normal, and spent a few days with his mother, but returned again the first of this week.

H. L. Garrett has taken Miss Alice Taggart's place in the Boardman school. The latter was compelled to quit on account of sickness. She is now improving in health, but will not try the school room again this spring.

Wesley Roads, a ten year old son of Phillip Roads, was considerably hurt last Saturday evening by a fall from a tree.

Thomas L. Barrett and Miss Rachel Sloan, of Morris's Creek, were the guests of friends in town on Wednesday. Miss Sloan changed her name while here. My success attend them in life's future, is the wish of the News correspondent.

Rev. Samuel Wickesham and daughter, Miss Emma, of Westport, passed through Hillsboro on their way to Cincinnati. They found time to make a call on their mother and family a pleasant call. He was fresh from a gracious revival of religion in Westport, and was full of religious enthusiasm.

NEW MARKET.

April 6, 1885.

A. D. McCannaghey is now a resident of this village.

C. W. Murphy and wife are visiting his mother at this place.

A. Whittier will move his farm on Lewis Gihler's farm this week.

Miss Lizette Arnett will teach the spring term of school in this district.

The rain on Easter Sunday will bring seven Sundays of rain, according to the old adage.

Dr. N. B. Van Winkle, of Blanchester, paid his parents of this place, a short visit last week.

James McCannaghey, son of J. A. McCannaghey, cut his foot badly with an ax while chopping.

What is making a better showing although some of our farmers have sowed out on their own ground.

Rev. Hollingsworth has returned from his trip to northern part of the State and has several locations tendered him, but has not accepted any as yet.

Dr. D. M. Barre, in company with his mother and two sisters, left last week for New Market, Ohio, where they will make their future home. The Dr. has been located in New Market quite a while and reports a very good practice.

The officers elected for the ensuing year at the Baptist Sunday school on Sunday last are: William Valentin, Superintendent; Y. B. McCannaghey, Assistant Superintendent; Miss Ella Vance, Secretary; Lizette Arnett, Assistant Secretary; Martha Parly, Treasurer; Wm. Van Winkle, Librarian; Charlie Harris, Organist.
