The colored people of Mississippi gave a Fair at Jackson, the State capital, commencing October 27th. It is to be a permanent organization, giving an exhibition annually.

General George B. McClellan, the last survivor of the great commanders of the Union forces in the late war, died at his beautiful country seat in Orange Mountain, New Jersey, last Thursday morning at 3 o'clock. Neuralgia of the heart caused his death. The funeral services took place from the Madison Avenue Presbyterian Church last Monday morning at 10 o'clock.

In discussing the changes in the Bench of the Second Sub-division of the Fifth Judicial District, caused by the retirement of Judge Minshall and the end of Judge Gregg's term, the Gazette has some very pleasant things to say of Judge Huggins, a successor for whom will be selected next year. After commending Judge Huggins' ability and conduct while in office, the Gazette goes to the extent, not usual with partisan papers, of urging the Republicans of the district to select him as his own successor. (We wish now to call the Gazette's attention to its commendation of Judge Huggins. We give that paper notice that we are going to save the paper containing it for use during next fall's campaign.) Under its present management the HERALD could certainly do nothing less than echo the Gazette's non-partisan opinion of Judge Huggins. That gentleman has steadily grown in public favor during his occupancy of the Bench. Among the members of the bar both at home and abroad and among his fellow Judges he occupies an exceptionally high position, and is looked upon as one of the most substantial and ablest Judges in Ohio. We are not advised of Judge Huggins' plans for the future but can safely say, both on behalf of the bar, whose good opinion he has always possessed, and also on behalf of the people at large, some of whom know him better than they did three years ago, if he desires a re-nomination he will have no opposition in his party.—Herald.

The people, as far as we are advised, have regarded the re-election of Judge Huggins to the Common Pleas bench as a matter of course, if he would accept it. His integrity is unquestioned, his ability is acknowledged by all. No man has labored more untiringly and devotedly to meet in a faithful, just, upright manner the requirements of his position, and we think no just complaints have been or can be made to his administration of the law while he has been on the bench.

We also take pleasure in announcing that Judge Huggins has yielded to the earnest and oft-repeated solicitations of friends from all parts of the circuit, both Democratic and Republican, to be a candidate for re-nomination. And we heartily second the motion.

The Greenfield correspondents of the Herald, News and Gazette will sail for Turkey, Thursday, November 25th.—Greenfield Address-Booker Spring must have seen our address written upon a perfumed envelope, which we are unable to acknowledge our thanks for, surely nothing would contribute more to our general good health than a Thanksgiving turkey dinner. We will accept, thank you, and be sure to reserve a cover for the News man.

Rev. J. L. Smith, pastor of the Baptist Church, handed in his resignation on Sunday morning, to take effect on or before the first of December. His successor, the late pastor received and accepted a call from the Baptist Church in Zanesville, Ohio, and will commence his duties in the latter part of this month. Mr. Smith is a young, intellectual and talented minister, whose gifts of oratory, and beautiful descriptive powers are well known to every attendant at the Baptist Church, and his indefatigable work during his ministerial labors, covering a period of eight years, has resulted in quite a nice increase of membership. The new pastor is a much larger one and will therefore enable him to work to the full extent of his ability, and in the change we wish him unlimited success.

The Republican justification on Saturday evening, proved quite an interesting affair, and the number of people in town gave evidence of how well the committee of arrangements performed its duty. There were three brass bands, and the Hillsboro drum corps, in attendance. Our own band, the colored band of the South Union bank, for two hours gave the large crowd numerous well rendered musical treats and it was not until nearly eleven o'clock, before the last note was sounded by the Salem boys, on their tubas. About seven o'clock a large amount of fireworks were disposed of in the public square, which was one of the principal attractions of the evening. From some cause, quite a lot of roman candles and rockets were accidentally exploded during the progress of the display, and for a few moments it was thought that the fireworks would surely receive serious injuries, but fortunately no person was hurt and the flames were extinguished with but a slight loss of material. At the conclusion of the pyrotechnics, the Salem band marched East on Main street to Hays's Hotel and soon returned as an escort to the first speaker of the evening, Hon. Alphonso Hart.

In the march west on Main street, there appeared quite a number of visitors and members of our own Hillsboro, who, by the way, were quite as white as snow, and the escort made a very nice appearance. The hall was packed early in the evening, and the meeting presided over by his Honor, Mayor Smith, who, by the way, was a most successful speaker. Hon. A. Hart and Capt. Barrett, did not rain nor interfered with the outdoor musical program, our citizens would have been very glad to see them. The entertainment from the three visiting bands, but taking all things into consideration the justification was a big success and the Republicans are exceedingly well pleased with the evening's program.

A Lady's Opinion.

Mrs. Geo. Gilbert, Bryan, Ohio, writes: "Dr. S. H. HARTMAN & Co., Columbus, Ohio: I commenced on the fifth bottle of your PERRINA this morning, and should just as soon think of doing without my meals as without my medicine. I have been doctored for about four years, and kept getting worse all the time and was just giving up in despair when I got one of your books, 'The Pills of Life.' I was in bed at the time, and read and re-read your book and felt like trying your medicine. My folks thought there was no use in trying anything more, I was too far gone, and might as well make up my mind to die. I told them PERRINA was the medicine I needed, and I intended to try a bottle. It proved a success in breaking the chills, and if it had not done one thing more, I would have been satisfied. But it has done more, and I feel like another person. Every body who sees me is surprised to see me looking so well, as they all thought I was dying with consumption, and now my own folks have as much to say for the PERRINA as I. I recommend it to everybody I see.

There were two of our neighbors in yesterday inquiring about the PERRINA. I gave one my book to read; told her to bring it back, as I prized it very highly. The other got the name of the PERRINA to send to his son in Chicago. He is a telegraph operator. My disease is something similar to Mrs. M. Ingram's, though nothing coming to being so bad. There was a lump raised on my collar bone, and it was a long time before it looked like opening. The doctor said he would have to lance it in a few days, but thought I would attend to that myself, so I put a little fly blyster on it and it opened; then I put a poultice on and then seized, and kept the salve on all the time. It got so bad and spread upon my left shoulder, and one place under my left breast. When there were two places on my head, one near the temple and one back of my ear that was just dreadful. No tongue can tell what I suffered. My head felt so strange sometimes, I thought I was going crazy. Since I have used the PERRINA (I don't use the salve any more) my aches healed up right away. And oh what a relief it is to get around without chilling and having to suffer with my aches. I feel like letting everybody know what I have done.

John Ferguson, Gallatin, Pa., writes: "Your PERRINA is a good medicine, and we sore lots of it. Will you please send us some more 'Pills of Life,' with a few German."
