

PICTURES

Of Supposed Swindlers Indicted.

Grand Jury Acts on Norris' Suggestion.

The Detective Obtained $200 From Kepler.

Says He Once Had Both Swindlers Under Arrest.

Harry Bell, alias about 14 other names, and Harry Mead, alias Harry Worthington, etc. were indicted by the Grand Jury on charge of swindling Huston Kepler out of $5,000. Practically speaking, the pictures of the men were indicted, and Detective John T. Norris has gone to bring the originals.

Detective Norris has obtained $200 from Mr. Kepler, with which to pay car fare and other incidentals while bringing the men to Akron to stand trial. He claims to have had experience in capturing these men once before on a swindling charge. "Bell," he said, "once forfeited a bond, and skipped out after I had him arrested."

Mr. Kepler's friends are still worrying over the fact that he gave so many different descriptions of the swindlers and finally settled upon the pictures shown by Detective Norris. The photos give an appearance very different from that Mr. Kepler gave of the men.

It is said that Liveryman Camron, from whom the swindlers obtained rigs, was not called to identify the pictures.

N. R. STEINER IS DEAD.

Acquity, and—ceased. Mrs. Steiner and daughter Hazel, who were Mr. Steiner's most patient and thorough nurses, were with him when death came.

Funeral services will be held Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from his late home.

Noah R. Steiner was 47 years old. He was born in Milton township, Wayne county, O., in 1854, and lived the life of a boy on a farm. His educational advantages were confined to the country schools, until, by his own efforts, he entered Cornell College at Cedar Rapids, Ia., whither he had gone upon becoming of age. There he made his home for five years and afterward spent three years in Mt. Vernon, Ia., where he was engaged in teaching. Afterward he became a traveling salesman, and also for three years represented the Union Central Life Insurance Co. of Cincinnati. For some time he taught, also, in Wayne county, and later conducted a clothing store at Sterling.

It was as a poor man comparatively that Mr. Steiner came to Akron in 1890. But his credit was soon established and he began real estate transactions on a large scale in South Akron. That section of the city, under his work, grew rapidly. It was prospering greatly when the panic of 1893 came. To weather that financial storm required all of Mr. Steiner's ability and strength, but he saw it through.

BAR-BEN THE GREAT RESTORATIVE 60 TABLETS 50¢ FEELING NERVOUS? That's the way it begins. Little things disturb you. You are irritable, restless and worry over trifles. Your heart jumps and palpitates at every noise, you can't concentrate your mind on your work, your memory fails and you do not sleep well at night. In the morning you feel weak and exhausted, with no appetite for food and no ambition for exertion of any kind. Nervous prostration has no terrors for those who use BAR-BEN RESTORATIVE.

It stops the nervousness, soothes the irritation, quickens the pulse, stimulates the digestion, induces refreshing sleep and infuses energy and vigor into the whole system. Bar-Ben is especially efficacious for weak women. Write for free sample. All druggists 50 cents, or mailed on receipt of price. THE BAR-BEN REMEDIES CO., Cleveland, O.

though carrying an enormous load. Before and after that crisis he secured factories for Akron, about 20 in all, which though they benefited him somewhat, benefited the city at large four times as much. Acres of farm land, under his push and energy were transformed into city property.

After South Akron, Mr. Steiner's next undertaking of magnitude was the White City, and then, more recently came Kenmore.

Mr. Steiner was also a principal founder of the Pathfinder, in 1898, of which order he was the supreme president. He helped to organize the Home Building & Loan Association of which he was a director. He was also instrumental in the erection of the Main St. M. E. church, of which he was a trustee. The Akron Realty Co., which has done much for Akron in the past year, was organized by him and he was its president. Probably no one man, at least in recent years, has done more for Akron than Mr. Steiner. As a member of the Chamber of Commerce and afterward as its president, he was faithful in the work early and late.

Mr. Steiner was a member of the Royal Arcanum for 19 years, and a member of the Modern Woodmen of America, The Elks, Ben Hur, Protected Home Circle, Home Guards and the Pathfinder. He gave liberally to many charitable undertakings, and could always be relied upon to put a shoulder to the wheel in any movement which would advance the city's interests. He was the friend of the poor and of the rich, alike. He took no active part in politics, but was a Republican.

In 1882 Mr. Steiner was married to Miss Elizabeth May, of Bluffton, O. Their home for a couple of years following was at Sterling, O., when Mr. Steiner was for a time engaged in the clothing business. Mrs. Steiner and two daughters, Hazel and Helen, survive the husband and father. Miss Helen has been in school in Cincinnati since September.

PERSONS

Indicted by the Grand Jury

Will be Arraigned Friday and Monday.

All prisoners in the county jail, under indictment and all persons indicted, who are out on bond, and can be reached, will be arraigned in Common Pleas court Friday, at 9 a.m. The others under indictment will be arraigned Monday morning, at 9 a.m. RECALLS THE WALDRON CASE.

The case of Grafton S. Whittier vs. A. B. & C. Railway Co., has been settled out of court. Whittier was the motorman who exchanged places temporarily with Conductor Waldron, shortly before the accident in which Waldron was killed. Waldron's widow, it will be remembered, was given judgment against the A. B. & C. for $10,000 damages.

$500 FOR AN EYE. The case of Dr. Geo. L. Starr vs. The Traders' and Travelers' Insurance Association was also settled out of court. The suit was to fix the value of an eye, whose sight the doctor has partially lost. He was given $500.

LANDLORD'S PETITION. Wm. H. Her, proprietor of the Broadway house, has petitioned in Common Pleas court for judgment against Geo. W. Sanger, to the extent of $400. The money is asked for as damages. Her states that Sanger injured his business by circulating among the boarders a report that it was one I. E. Rittenhouse, and not Her, who was proprietor of the house. This the plaintiff avers, caused several boarders to pay Rittenhouse instead of him, and by not getting the money due, his credit was seriously damaged.

A Great Awakening

The past few days has brought into our vast establishment some very remarkable new offerings in different departments of the store. We cannot enumerate them all, but invite a call from all who may be interested in seeing the latest in styles the market affords. There's but one place in Akron to go to get the latest styles as fast as they appear in fashion's realm. We are in such close touch with the New York markets, and our arrangements are such that as fast as anything new appears in New York city it is hurried to us, and we intend keeping abreast of the times in all things pertaining to the establishment and maintaining a first-class dry goods store in Akron, and know that with our facilities for buying and selling, we need fear no competition in Northern Ohio.

The Great Dress Goods Section

Has been strengthened this week with many new materials for suitings and skirtings that will win favor. There has never been a time when our dress goods business was so satisfactory as at the present. We are working with the materials of today and invite a call from all who are looking for the latest, choicest articles of dress and waist materials.

Underwear

JEALOUSY

Caused Arrest of Talbert and Vera Dale.

It was jealousy that enabled the police to fasten on Harry Talbert and Vera Dale the charges of stealing goods and receiving stolen property. Talbert, so the story goes, was not the only young man that liked Vera, but it appears that he was almost the only fellow that Vera liked. At any rate, she bade all others stand back and is alleged to have explained that Talbert was supplying her with all the clothing and finery she needed.

A jealous rival lost no time in giving the "tip" to the police. Harry Talbert was taken to the county jail Thursday morning, after his father had paid his fine—$100 and costs. He was to have been sent to the workhouse.

Vera also paid her fine of $100 and costs, and the workhouse sentence was suspended if she leaves Akron within a week.
