Col. Sanford Knows

What It Is to go Against the Machine.

He Has Been Dreaming
About the Ring.

Here Is Still Another Old Line Republican

Who Does Not Worship at Mark Hanna's Shrine.

At the last moment, orders went forth to down Col. H. C. Sanford.

Everything and anything that the Machine could do to bring about this result was done.

An edict was issued from the Hanna Ring headquarters, to lieutenants in the various precincts, to defeat Sanford. He had refused to bow down and worship at the shrine of Marcus Allpowerful Hanna. This indication of independence sealed his political doom.

After the battle was over, when the smoke had lifted just a trifle, Col. Sanford could see the true conditions that had brought about his defeat. He realizes something of the handicap that he was up against.
He does not mince words in expressing his opinion of the methods used against him. He is another of the "dreamers" who believe that there is a Court House Ring in Summit

"The Ring opposed me because it did not believe I was an enthusiastic Hanna man. Well, I am not, I do not approve of his political methods.
Recently I said that if half the stories told of Senator Hanna were true he was not the man for Senator.
This reached the ears of the Machine and it was afraid to trust me. In reference to doing as Senator Hanna dictated. For that reason I was defeated. The Ring did not fight me in the open. It's work was all under cover. Since the primaries I have heard of the methods used against me."

Col. Sanford claims that in Greenburg, the Ring agents, headed by Wash Johnston and Squire C. C.
Foster, carried matters with a high hand. Referring to the primaries in that precinct he said: "My friends in Green tell me that both Wash Johnston and Squire Foster worked against me. A week before the primaries I had assurances from both that they would support me. Johnston had told me repeatedly that he would carry the precinct for me by a large majority. Two days previous to the primaries he was in Akron.
On that visit he told me that there was to be a large picnic of Green township farmers the day of the primaries. I asked him if that would not interfere with getting out the vote. He told me that it would not.
He said they would be through with the picnic exercises by five o'clock, and that he and Squire Foster would line all of them up for me when they came home to do their chores. One of my friends was at the polls that evening. I was getting a large vote.
Johnston and Foster had received their order from the Ring and they were working against me. This friend of mine was near enough to hear Johnston say: 'Sanford is getting a large vote. We must hustle for Seese or he will be downed here.'" The primary officials at Greenburg were evidently red hot Hanna-ites. Col. Sanford has been informed that they were so zealous in their work for Seese that they marked ballots before turning them over to voters. As they handed out the slips they stated that the ballots were already marked. And it was in this way that Col. Sanford was defeated.

A few days after the primaries he met "Wash" Johnston here in Akron. The Greenburg statesman was cordial in greeting Col. Sanford. He regretted the fact that Green had not given him a larger vote.
"I was one of the first to vote for you," said Wash.
"I felt like telling him he was a liar," said Col. Sanford, "but I did not believe that would be exactly gentlemanly. Instead I reached into my pocket and pulled out a $10 bill and offered to bet him that amount that he had not. 'I will bet $5 that I did,' was the answer, but he did not produce the money. I do not know why Greenburg's returns were so late in being forwarded to Akron."

They were a day and a half late in reaching Akron.
"The funniest feature of the whole thing was up in Stow," said Col. Sanford. "A week before the primaries I drove to Monroe Falls. I learned that Rev. Frank Green had been there ahead of me. You know I defeated him once for Representative.
He had been working against me. I found that he had fixed things there pretty well, so I decided to pay a visit to Will Lodge at Silver lake.
He was not at home at the time. Two days later I again went up to the lake and found Lodge. He was for me and with the assistance of a young man employed on the grounds they had soon prepared a list of 18 names, each and every one of which was to vote for me. I then agreed, believing it would be perfectly legitimate, to furnish a conveyance to take the entire party to the polls. For this purpose I left $2. Well the Ring heard of this and they went to the lake. On the day of the primary, 15 of the 18 were hauled to the polls at my expense and voted for Seese." Col. Sanford has received reports from all sections of the country, telling of the work of the Machine against him. In every precinct the methods pursued were similar. No effort was made to get out votes, unless it was certain that the men were true worshippers of "Your Uncle Mark."

ing Baughman was working at the she is to take the share allowed her by law, the balance to be divided be-amount due was $2,486.45.

Natural Gas

Notice to the Citizens of Akron:

In order to introduce into all homes in the city of Akron in the shortest possible time the use of Natural Gas, The East Ohio Gas company will give

A Discount, From the Present Fixed Rates, of 5c For Each 1,000 Cubic Feet.

Of gas used for domestic purposes during the year commencing July 1st, 1899, and ending July 1st, 1900.

As the company is making all house connections at actual cost of materials and labor, it believes that this saving in the price of gas will go largely towards the expense of piping the houses and will give the company the advantage of having every citizen (even the poorest) as a consumer, thus affording to all the best and cheapest fuel. To encourage the use of gas by manufacturers, special rates will be given on application at the office.
