

Be Prepared.

In the present condition of the country, it would be well for everybody to prepare themselves for the worst. Home Guards should be formed in every city throughout the North, and every citizen able to bear arms learn to use them effectually—that in any emergency thousands, or millions, if necessary, can respond to a call for home defense, or a demand of aid from the Government.

The Great Rebellion.

The anticipated attack upon Washington has not yet commenced, although there seems to be some reason to believe that such an event may soon take place. J. F. Davis is reported to be on his way to Richmond with a large body of troops, in compliance with a call of the Virginia Governor.

Ohio Volunteers.

The State Journal learns that Ohio volunteers to the number of thirty thousands have been already organized into companies. This is more than twice the amount asked from Ohio, by the Secretary of War, and it would seem that it is to be quadrupled before the ardor and the population of the State are exhausted.

Kentucky Doubtful.

There is reason to fear that Kentucky may yet be forced to yield to the secession influences, notwithstanding a large majority of her people are in favor of the Union. This has been brought about mainly through the influence of John C. Breckinridge, who, while he was Vice President, and a candidate for President of the United States, was plotting with Davis, Toombs & Co., for the overthrow of the Government.

Southern Piracy.

The steamship Star of the West, owned in New York City, but under charter by our Government, and sent down to Indiana, with provisions, &c., to take off the United States troops still remaining in Texas, has been captured by the armed steamer Maryland in the service of Jeff. Davis' government.

Telegraphic Supervision.

The Philadelphia papers learn that Thomas A. Scott, Esq., a able energetic Vice President of the Pennsylvania Railroad, has been called by the Governor to take charge of the telegraph lines of the State, and is now in Harrisburg engaged in this important and responsible department of public service.

The Nineteenth of April. There are some incidents connected with this day which make it memorably a day of Revolutions. On the 19th of April, 1776, the first blow for freedom and national existence was struck at old Concord, Massachusetts, and the first blood shed in that war was the blood of Massachusetts men.

The Right Tail.

The Newport (R. I.) News reports the following: A correspondence, of which the following is the substance, is said to have passed between Gov. Hicks of Maryland and Gov. Sprague of Rhode Island, on Friday or Saturday of week before last, by telegraph.

The rebellion in Virginia was inaugurated with even more treachery and dithering than that which distinguished the Gulf States. She kept her ordinance of secession secret while her brigades seized all the Northern vessels that, relying on her good faith and on the legal formalities that were prescribed before an ordinance of secession could be adopted.

Tennessee seems rapidly plunging into Secession. Her Governor refuses troops to defend the Government, and notifies the President that Tennessee will furnish troops to attack it.

—Now it is reported that the Virginians are fortifying Arlington Heights; and now it is said that the United States are planting batteries upon the same elevations.

—The delusion under which our Southern brethren labor in regard to the sentiment of the north, is one of the amusing features of this sad business of an internecine war.

—It gives us pleasure to be able to state, that Lieut. Slemmer's loyalty has not been questioned at Washington, and that he has simply been superseded in the command at Fort Pickens by a superior officer sent thither with reinforcements.

—A few weeks ago, in apprehension of a descent upon Harper's Ferry, the Government quietly removed fifty-five thousand stand of arms from the Armory to Washington, leaving but fifteen thousand and behind, which were of an inferior quality, and which have been destroyed.

—The Cincinnati Enquirer understands that a letter was received in that city on Saturday, from a member of the cabinet, which stated that within a few days after the inauguration an agent was sent to Europe with orders to purchase five hundred thousand stand of arms, and that these arms would now be arriving by every steamer at New York.

—A. P. Stewart, of New York, gives one million dollars to the Government. Commodore Vanderbilt offers the Government all his steamers, ready to man, free of cost.

—At Green Lake, near Indiana, Texas, at last accounts, 650 U. S. troops, having $3,000 belonging to the paymaster's department were encamped. They were waiting for the Star of the West. As that steamer has been seized by the rebels, there are just reasons to apprehend that they have before this surrendered, and that the money has fallen into the hands of traitors.

—The Memphis papers are fuming with rage over the occupation of Cairo by the U. S. troops.

—The Governor of Delaware has issued his proclamation calling out the troops required of that State by the President.

—A Virginia paper states that there are 10,000 troops at Richmond, four thousand at Harper's Ferry and three thousand at Norfolk.

—A privateering office is publicly announced in the New Orleans papers.

—Repairs on the railroad between Philadelphia and Washington are being made with all possible dispatch, and when completed will be placed in charge of a powerful force of armed guards, and be kept open for transportation of mails and passengers only.

—The secessionists have seized Fort Smith Arkansas. Government loss about three hundred thousand dollars.

—Leslie Coombs has applied to the government for arms to be used by Union men of Kentucky in self-defense.

—It is reported that the secessionists have seized seventy thousand stands of arms at the Factoryville Arsenal.

—Senator Johnson, of Tenn., was mobbed at Lynchburg, Va., on Sunday last.

—The secession organ at Washington has been suppressed by the people of the city.

—A letter from a business firm in Philadelphia states that 250,000 Enfield rifles have arrived from England, and as many more are on the way.

—A schooner from New York, towed by a tug, was brought to by a shot from fortress Monroe, which went through the tug. The cargo was seized. It consisted of military stores for Va. and a full light artillery battery.

—Mr. Evans, the editor of the Baltimore Patriot, has been driven from that city by the traitors, and arrived in Philadelphia Tuesday. He declares he will return to the city if he can get a military escort.

COURT OF COMMON PLEAS, WOOD CO.

Henry Phillips and Albert Heuser vs Charles Stahler et al.

The defendant Levi Whitman will take notice that on the 29th day of March, 1861, the plaintiffs Henry Phillips and Albert Heuser filed their petition against Charles Stahler, his wife Adeline Stahler, Levi Whitman and others in the Court of Common Pleas, within and for the county of Wood and State of Ohio, and which is in and to the effect that the object and prayer of said petition is to obtain an order for the sale of the following premises situate in Freedom township, Wood county, Ohio, and being the north-west fractional part of section eleven in township five, north range twelve east, lying on the north side of Portage river, supposed to be 12 acres more or less; also the south-west part of the east part of the south-east quarter of section ten, town five north, range twelve east, containing ten acres, more or less; also the east part of the north-west fractional of section eleven, town five north of range twelve east, containing seven acres, more or less; and for the application of the proceeds arising from the sale of said premises to the payment of the amount due said plaintiffs upon the note of said defendant Charles Stahler, dated September 20th, 1856, for the payment to said plaintiffs of $477 in one year after date with interest from date until paid at the rate of ten per cent per annum; also to pay to said plaintiffs a mortgage upon said premises; said plaintiffs aver in said petition that a certain mortgage executed by said Stahler and wife and delivered to said Whitman and recorded in vol. 3 of mortgages, page 459, of Wood county records, has been fully discharged.

Said defendant Whitman will also take notice that unless he answers said petition on or before the 23rd day of May, 1861, judgment will be rendered against him by default according to the prayer thereof.
