The Castalian Fount.

(From the New York Tribune.) SHERIDAN. WINCHESTER AND NEW ORLEANS. With trumpet cry and roll of drums, This was the tide of battle o'er; All the vast spaces of the hills Long and darkly blue, that meet in rout, confusion and defeat.

But one man stood in Southern aid; Not one, though all besides should fly, Not yet, though faithful victory Perches on Rebel flag forever.

And he who led our legions onward, Not less in peace than in war great, But as he marched an army, ruled a State— Straightforward, pausing not, nor turning, All his great heart to the honor of the Free.

THE Campaign. John Sherman on the Constitutional Amendment. Senator SHERMAN spoke at Canton, Stark County, on the evening of the 20th ult. In opening, he gave his reasons why the Constitutional Amendment should be adopted.

Why the Ballot should be given the Negro. Senator SHERMAN spoke at Canton, Stark County, on the evening of the 20th ult. In opening, he gave his reasons why the Constitutional Amendment should be adopted.

charged him as his legal adviser, and as the Law officer of the Government, that it was his sworn duty to re-enforce and stand by Fort Sumter, and in addition, to bring to bear everywhere, against treason and traitors, all the powers of the nation.

The Democratic Issue. The proposition presented to the people of Ohio by the Democratic leaders are these: Our party tried to break up the nation, and plunged the country into civil war, which has entailed a great calamity.

Edwin M. Stanton. A correspondent of the Cincinnati Gazette has the following concerning Hon. E. M. Stanton: "Sometime in the future, when the secret history of the great rebellion is fully written up, it will be discovered that at least twice in its progress, our country was saved from absolute destruction by one man alone, and that man Edwin M. Stanton.

How to Become a Millionaire. John McDonough, the millionaire of New Orleans, has engraved upon his tomb a series of maxims he had prescribed as the rule for his guidance through life, and to which his success in business is mainly attributed. They contain so much wisdom that we copy them:
