Ida M. Stander alleges that Edward Stander, her husband, who conducts the "Turk" on West Broad street, has been guilty of immoral conduct with one Maggie Collins in and about the saloon building. She has therefore commenced an action for divorce on those grounds. They have three children aged from three to thirteen years.

Sarah Newcombe of Grafton, has commenced an action for divorce from her husband, Asa Newcombe, who is alleged to be a habitual drunkard. They were married in 1883 and have one boy.

The National Bank of Elyria holds a note against J. Clinton Brazee, which is secured by chattel mortgage. The Wagner Lake Ice Company have a claim against Brazee and are pushing it hard. The bank wants the property sold to pay off their mortgage note and during the pending of suit to this end want the constable, R. E. Braman, enjoined from selling off the property to pay the ice company's claim. Mary J. Brazee and others who claim an interest in the outfit are named as defendants and will be required to set up their respective claims.

Frank Didakowski, of Lake avenue, Elyria, accuses his wife, Emma Didakowski, of immoral and unfaithful conduct. They were married in February, 1883, and have no children saving an adopted boy. Frank has now commenced suit in court of common pleas for divorce and custody of child.

W. L. Jacoby was granted a deed to a lot by the Sheffield Land Company on December 5th. John Zetterland claimed that the contract on which Jacoby secured the deed had been sold to one Arvis Anderson and himself, and that the operations of Jacoby were calculated to defraud him. He has commenced suit to compel Jacoby to convey an undivided half of the property to himself and the other half to Anderson.

MRS. FRANCES AMBROSE DEAD.

The End Came Quietly and Peacefully But Unexpectedly.

The death of Mrs. Frances Ambrose, which occurred yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock at her son's residence, No. 318 East Main street, came in the nature of a shock to her friends and relatives. Mrs. Ambrose had been quite ill for some time with the grip, but in the last few days—in fact up to within a few minutes of her death—was thought to be much better, but the disease had robbed her of that vitality which at her advanced age could not be regained, and as calmly, peacefully, fearlessly as the life she had lived, she died. She was conscious until the very last moment, recognizing those about her with a smile, and her death as described by those who witnessed it, was a most beautiful exemplification of the Christian faith.

Deceased was a noble Christian lady, whose long life had been spent in ministering to the comfort and wants of others. She was a member of the Baptist church and had been associated with that denomination for 65 years.

She had resided in Dennison for about four years, living with her son, J. G. Ambrose, who is manager of the Postal Telegraph company here and who had but recently built and fitted up a neat home on East Main street for their occupancy. She had a large circle of friends and acquaintances in the city who will deeply regret her death.

Her remains will be embalmed and open this afternoon or tonight to Spencer, Ohio, the old home of deceased, and there interred in the family burial ground. J. G. Ambrose of this city, and W. H. Ambrose of McAlester, sons of the deceased, will accompany the remains to Spencer, where they will be met by other members of the family who have been notified by wire of the sad occurrence.

Mrs. Frances Ambrose, at the time of her death, was 73 years of age. She was born in Spencer, Ohio, where she resided for over 60 years. At the age of 18 she was married to Levi G. Ambrose. Seven children blessed the union, five of whom are still living—one a daughter resides in Salt Lake City, and four sons, in McAlester, I. T.; City of Mexico, Confluence, W. Va.; and Dennison, respectively. She had been a widow twenty-five years. She moved from Spencer, Ohio to Dennison about four years ago, and since that time has lived with her son, J. G. Ambrose. About three weeks ago she had a severe attack of the grip, from the effects of which she never recovered—Dennison (Texas) Herald, Feb. 9, 1899.

SPENCER, O., Feb. 13.—Not since the death of Levi G. Ambrose, nearly twenty-five years ago, has Spencer received such a shock as that caused by the death of Mrs. Frances Ambrose. Like that of her husband her life was a beautiful example of a just, good and noble person. Nearly their entire life was spent in our midst—to know them was to love and respect them. Their prominence in social and charitable work placed them in the front rank. Mr. Ambrose as a leader in the Masonic fraternity and Mrs. Ambrose a leader in church affairs numbered their friends without limit. Their children, consisting of one daughter and four sons, are well and favorably known and command the respect of all good citizens, and have the sincere sympathy of the entire community in their sad loss. J. G. Ambrose arrived here with the remains today nearly twenty-four hours behind the schedule time on account of the severe storms encountered on the long journey from Denison, Texas. The procession moved from the Wheeling train to the church where services were held, presided over by Revs. A. G. Wall, pastor of the Baptist church of Wellington, and J. H. Blackburn, of the Methodist church of this place. The remains were then laid away to rest beside that of her husband and two children. Friends from far and near faced the cold with the thermometer 18 to 20 degrees below zero to pay their last respects to one they loved dearly.

"OFFERING DAY"

OF THE GEORGE WASHINGTON MEMORIAL ASSOCIATION, FEB. 22.

A Movement in Behalf of the University of the United States—What is Proposed and What is Necessary for Accomplishment of the Desired End.

The 22d of February, 1899, will be known as "offering day" of the George Washington Memorial association, the country over. George Washington left bequest of $25,000 for a University of the United States, and designated a plot of ground covering nineteen acres to be used as the site for the university buildings. The ground is now a part of Washington city. It has, until recently, been occupied by the old Naval Observatory, and has been known as "University Square." The sum bequeathed was already invested, and the will provided for the investment of all dividends accruing, until the amount was sufficient for the purpose designated. Unfortunately, through negligence, the bequest has lapsed, and the ground is yet bare of the improvements intended to be placed upon it. Since the time of General Washington's death in 1799, one hundred years ago, the question of establishing, by the government, a national university has been agitated by statesmen and educators, but with no definite success. Adams, Jefferson, Jackson, Madison, Monroe, Grant and Hayes, among our presidents, were ardent friends of the university plan. Three times the National Educational association has endorsed Washington's idea. Scientists, jurists, and philanthropists, men distinguished for learning and statesmanship and a devoted love of country, have urged the same. The Pan-Republic congress took action by appointing a committee of one hundred eminent men, from which seventeen were chosen, who prepared and introduced a bill now pending in congress. This provides for the more immediate direction of the university. It is designed to be the "crown and root tree" of our whole educational structure, and its advantages shall be free to all desiring advanced learning, who shall be deemed by the council competent to use them. Neither sectarian nor partisan preferences shall be allowed in any form. Such co-operative relations with other institutions will be established as shall be considered advantageous to public interest.

The government now sustains at Washington under its fostering care, at an expenditure of nearly eight million dollars, twenty-four departments of science and every facility for research, open to the use of students; but these are imperfectly utilized for lack of a central administration which would bind together, in a well rounded whole, such opportunities, making a splendid foundation for the addition of endowed chairs in other departments of a true university. In its post graduate character such an institution must rise above and complete the work of all colleges and schools of learning, thus affording opportunities for the research which leads thousands of students to the institutions of the old world. A chair of music and literature have been endowed. Four other chairs are under discussion. It is believed that the establishment of the university will call forth other endowments from those who will recognize no more lofty way of perpetuating a name than to have it associated with the University of the United States.

This will insure, from the first, an equipment unequalled by the best European universities, and make it possible for America to rank with the highest in her post-graduate, as she does in her under-graduate educational advantages.

The George Washington Memorial association originated with, and enlisted the most prominent women of the country. These have banded together and perfected organization, for the purpose of carrying out the desire of the first president of this nation.

In the absence of funds which Washington provided, it is proposed to gather together $250,000 in free will offerings from the women and children of the land. The building to be erected with this fund will be known as "The George Washington Memorial." Under national officers and state committees, each congressional district is organized in thirty-five states. The corner stone of this particular edifice is to be laid July 9, 1899, the centennial of his bequest. Securing this needed sum through small amounts from individuals, will create the sentiment which cannot fail to bring action in congress. This effort has the co-operation of women's societies, such as the Relief Corps, Daughters of the Revolution, the W. C. T. U., the Federation of Clubs, the Suffragists, National Council of Women, educational societies, as well as individuals. The public schools of the country have been enlisted, and the pupils from the primary grade to the highest department, will each contribute a mite, so far as it can be done.

The Gold That Glitters.

DO RICHES MAKE HAPPINESS, OR DOES HEALTH MAKE WEALTH?

The richest man cannot always be said to be the most successful, for true success is not possible without happiness. Many a wealthy man would give all he now possesses to have the health and happiness of a young athlete. Health is not hard to get and keep if good judgment is used in caring for and supplying the needs of the system. Nature often needs assistance, you sometimes abuse nature by overtaxing your nerves, your brain, or your body, and you haven't time to relax, and take the rest that you need. You must have outside help. Pabst Malt Extract, The "Best" Tonic, will supply the extra fuel, food, and strength; it is absolutely pure—an unequalled assistant to nature in giving health, vitality and strength. It will make you eat and sleep well, and cause you to feel like yourself again, or perhaps, better than you ever felt in your life. The "Best" Tonic was awarded the 100 points of perfection at the World's Fair, and was the only Malt Extract which received that honor. Your nearest druggists carry Pabst Malt Extract, The "Best" Tonic in stock.

STATE COMMITTEE FOR OHIO.

Chairman, Mrs. Calvin S. Brice, Lima; recording secretary, Mrs. George S. Vicary, Lima; corresponding secretary, Mrs. W. A. Kellerman, Columbus; treasurer, Mrs. W. P. Orr, Piqua.

The chairmen-at-large are Mrs. J. Benson Forkner, Cincinnati; Mrs. Marcus A. Hanna, Cleveland; Mrs. A. J. Robert, president O. F. W. C., Dayton; Mrs. Estes G. Rathbone, state regent D. A. R., Dayton; Mrs. E. F. Cressinger, department commander W. R. C., Ashland; Mrs. J. B. Thresher, president W. L. C., Dayton; Miss Lella McKee, president "The Western" College, Oxford; Miss M. E. Thalheimer, president Press club, Cincinnati; Mrs. Asa S. Bushnell, Springfield, O.

The state is represented by a vice-chairman from each congressional district. Mrs. Frances W. Leiter is vice-chairman of the 24th district, composed of Ashland, Huron, Knox, Morrow, Richland and Lorain counties. All funds contributed from any source in these counties are to be sent to the district treasurer, Margaret A. Golden, M. D., Mansfield, O.

Beautiful certificates, engraved by the United States engraving bureau, bearing a portrait of George Washington, will be given for every five dollars. The coupons from these certificates will be placed in the memorial building, a living monument to those who have honored the 100th anniversary of the death of the first president by so fitting a tribute to his wisdom, as the fulfillment of his deepest desire, the establishment of the University of the United States.

MRS. CALVIN S. BRICE.

A Competitive Temperance Examination.

The competitive temperance examinations on the effects of alcoholic beverages and narcotics upon the human system, will be held Thursday, March 9.

The questions will be based upon principles taught in any standard physiology. While the booklet, "Temperance Teaching for Boys and Girls" is helpful it is not a necessity in the preparation for the examination. Without doubt such examinations are the means of fixing permanently in the minds of the pupils what they have been taught, thus securing larger practical results.

Every teacher in the county should seek to benefit the school by this. Send name, number of district, township and post office address at once to Mrs. M. B. Shurtliff, Oberlin, O. Also send the name of person in the district (with P. O. address) who is to conduct the examination, and to whom the questions will be sent, sealed, to be opened in the school hours at the hour of the examination. Teachers who have not used the booklet, or who have not had time to devote to this subject as they wished should not on this account fail to have the examination. Nor should any hesitate because their schools may not rank highest. Results will be announced by private marks known only to the individual teachers.

The silver cup will be awarded to the township which as a whole has the highest average. Give the pupils in the various townships the privilege of showing their efficiency and standing as compared with other townships.

J. P. RIECHINGER,
Supt. of Temperance Teaching in Lorain county.
North Ridgeville, Feb. 13, 1899.

Dangers of the Grip.

The greatest danger from La Grippe is of its resulting in pneumonia. If Chamberlain's Cough Remedy be taken, all danger will be avoided. Among the tens of thousands who have used this remedy for a gripe we have yet to learn of a single case having resulted in pneumonia which shows conclusively that this remedy is a certain preventive of that dangerous disease. It will cure a gripe in less time than any other treatment. It is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by W. F. Near & Co.
