All About the Happenings and Special Events in their Immediate Vicinity.

BRIGHTON. March 4, '89.

Surprise party Wednesday evening at Andy Gill's; Thursday evening at C. D. Stocking's. Feed mill of Bond & Day running night and day to keep up with its work. Mrs. George Knapp has gone to Crawford county on a visit to her father.

March 4, '89. Lulu Gould has been quite sick with lung fever; is better. Geo. Blinn has had a severe attack of quinsy.

D. Chaffee's family, from Kansas, are settled on the Farnsworth place and feel quite at home. Elder Hodder was calling on old friends Friday. Mrs. L. A. Stealy, of Lodi, visited at E. Mann's on Monday.

The ladies sewing society of the Disciple Church meet at M. Smith's on Wednesday to sew for Mrs. Hayne. There is a wedding so near that we fancy we can smell the orange blossoms.

M. B. Parment, of Dayton, spent a few days of the week here and then accompanied his niece, Louise Campbell, as far as Cincinnati on her journey South. She goes to Texas to visit her father; also to Louisiana in her cousin's, taking in Mardi Gras at New Orleans.

Miss Corinne Rice concluded her school on Saturday, the 2d. Deco. March 4, '89.

ROCHESTER. In Sullivan; February 25, 1889, Dean Nathan F. Rogers, aged 77 years, 3 months, and 1 day. Mr. Rogers came from Eastern New York and settled here in 1837. He united with the Baptist church at the early age of seventeen years, walking in the ordinances of the church for sixty years.

He endured the intense suffering the last two years of his life with heroic fortitude and sublime resignation, assured that his blessed master "doeth all things well." His wife died March 23, 1882. Their family consisted of six sons and three daughters, all of whom are living and were present at the funeral with the exception of Mrs. Sage, of Michigan. A large and sympathizing audience were present at the obsequies, which took place Thursday, February 28, Rev. F. Hoelder, his former pastor, officiating. RES

PITTSFIELD. March 5, 1889.

The ladies of the W.C.T.U. gave a social at the town hall on Wednesday evening, the 27th ult. A very fair attendance and a very enjoyable time.

Mrs. Hall, familiarly known as Aunt Cetta, died Friday evening, the 1st, in her 93d year. Another of our old settlers has passed away, one who was well acquainted with the difficulties and the necessity of rigid economy when the comforts of life were not as easily obtained as now.

Our winter schools are closing preparatory to the opening of our sugar camps, which are now beginning; some have tapped already. A petition in favor of inspecting animals slaughtered for food is in circulation and receiving many signatures. The good to be obtained is largely problematical as it will be found difficult to find properly qualified inspectors, at least so thinks M

AMHERST. March 4, '89.

A sad day for Grover. The excitement occasioned here last week has subsided considerably. Since Mr. Cone has been serving his sentence in the workhouse quite a number of throats have been committed, which goes to prove there is a gang of miserable and god-damning scamps about here who do not get an honest living. We sincerely hope every one of them may be expelled and punished to the full extent of the law.

Dr. F. Freeman, who has just finished his course in Chicago, is residing for the present with his father in this place. We wish Frank the best of success.

Miss J. E. Shepard finished her term of school in East Amherst last week and is now attending duty as librarian of the South Amherst Library Association.

A. A. Eggleston sold at auction sale last Thursday all his farming implements, stock, etc., and will soon remove to Elyria his future home. We are sorry to see Egg go.

Durand & Wyatt are on a business trip to Sandusky. Mrs. Wm. Harper is very sick, but hopes of her recovery are entertained.

T. Jones has rented his house and lot and moved into Mrs. M. Porter's house on Main street. Mrs. J. Rockwood, of Toledo, is a guest at A. Wright's.

G. G. Clark, of Cleveland, has again been drawn here by some mysterious power. Strange, but true. Miss Hattie Cobb, of Oberlin, is visiting her sister at H. Collins.

Mr. Walker, residing on the Russia road, while taking care of a horse a few days since, received a kick on the arm from the animal, breaking it in two places below the elbow.

Mrs. Jones will entertain the ladies' dime social on Friday of this week. Rev. English has closed the meetings at the M. E. church of this place and is now holding them in North Amherst.

The youngest child of Mr. and Mrs. E. Bryant accidentally fell into a tub of hot water, scalding it so severely as to cause death. The funeral services were held on Friday, conducted by Rev. English. Particulars unknown further than this. O. B.

LA GRANGE. March 4, '89.

Right side up with care. Farmers have begun sugar making. Charles Raur has bought Mrs. Dallou's house.

Will Richmond has moved into Mrs. Webster's house. Mr. Laiff has been drawing hay to Cleveland this winter.

One load last week weighed entire 9350, hay 7800. Mason Powers entered Oberlin Business College in October. He graduated a few days ago; average 98%.

A. W. Benschoten has moved into the home of his father-in-law, H. A. Wilcox.

Will Hastings has just closed his school in the quarry district. This is his third term in that district and we presume he will be called upon again. He is in good demand.

W. T. Hubbard received a certificate for five years last Saturday. Several of our young people tried the examination, with what result they will know in the future. We understand that a young man from Wellington is about to establish a new store in town containing a various selection of the necessities and the unnecessary of this terrestrial sphere.

We understand that he has some money. If so our advice is that he had better leave it in the bank. The closing school recitations are this week Friday and Saturday evenings. Admission only five cents. YOURS DRVLY.

HUNTINGTON. March 4, '89.

This is a very warm spring day, mercury stands 60° in the shade. Lovely day for inauguration.

Meetings closed last Thursday evening. Pastor Long looks quite tired. His little boy has a very hard cold.

Dr. Thomas' little baby is very sick with lung trouble. The roads are in quite good condition and loads of goods are passing constantly being moved from one farm to another.

Lewton Gillett has rented and moved on the Luke Chapman farm. Lorenzo Blocker has moved onto Norris Kelsey's farm.

Mrs. Kelsey's health is very poor this spring. Mr. J. B. Robinson had a nice visit from his mother, who lives in Centerton, and his uncle, J. Holiday, from Michigan.

They left here last Wednesday. Mr. Clem Gardner has bought Mr. Gun's house and lot at the center and moves into it this month some time.

H. Hiram Tilton and his wife returned from their California trip last Friday. Miss Ada Nimocks returned from Elyria last Wednesday.

J. B. Robinson goes to Virginia prospecting Tuesday of this week on an excursion. I have heard that some from here are going with him, but know nothing definitely.

Grandma Lawson is much better again. Walter Miner brought a car load of cows from Kansas and has been at his grandfather Miner's.

Dr. Thomas is having his house at the center finished up so they move into it soon. Mrs. Benjamin Pratt spent Sunday in Wellington.

Mrs. Lucretia Elwood is very sick with pneumonia. Mrs. Edson Clark and her aunt, Mrs. Belle Perkins, are visiting Mrs. Parnis Lewis. They also take in Washington. I was mistaken last week in saying Mr. Clark went.

Last night J. B. Robinson's baby had a severe attack of croup and is now very sick, so his journey to Virginia will have to be postponed. S

ROCHESTER. March 2, 1889. Last week one day, the home of Bradley Mann was invaded by a host carrying baskets, boxes, and things too numerous to mention and quietly informed the folks that it was Mrs. Mann's birthday and that they had come to celebrate the event.

Several came from New London bringing musical instruments to make the occasion more pleasant: the surprise was perfect and all went away feeling that they had experienced a good time and wishing many repetitions of the same. Our new blacksmith is located and rushing business.

M. Goss & Co., have put an attachment in their mill for grinding corn on the cob. No doubt the arrangement will be appreciated by all who use ground feed for stock.

M. E. quarterly meeting last Saturday and Sunday. Revival meetings are in progress at the Baptist church.

We suppose now there will be a change in all political offices and as a matter of course our Post office will be changed again. H. C. Leach is soliciting orders for fruit trees.

Colonel Garrison has small Zoological Garden in his Drug Store, admission free. HALL COLUMBIA.

PENFIELD. March 4, '89.

JACKSON—At her home in Farnaw, Nob., January 19, Mrs. C. E. Jackson. Mrs. Jackson was the daughter of Mr. R. Rice, of Olmstead, O.; married Mr. C. E. Jackson, of Penfield, O., in 1832. Mr. J. has the heartfelt sympathy of many friends and relatives here. We cannot speak too highly of Mrs. Jackson; she was one of those sweet dispositions that make those who know her best love her most.

She was a Christian and her works will live on in the hearts and lives of her friends, and when the time came death found her ready and waiting for the master. S Washington Letter.

(From our Regular Correspondent.) WASHINGTON, March 1, 1889.

Gen. Harrison and party arrived here on Tuesday, and Mr. Morton and family on Wednesday. A little incident in connection with the arrival of Gen. Harrison's party has served to greatly enhance the popularity of the President-elect. A smart fleck in charge of the inaugural committee that met the special train between this city and Baltimore, ordered the train run on side track in the lower end of the city and had the Presidential party driven through side streets to their hotel, to the great disappointment of hundreds of people who had gone to the station to see the distinguished arrival and other hundreds gathered on each side of Pennsylvania avenue to get a glimpse of the party as they drove past.

General Harrison did not know of the trick played upon the people until he had arrived at the hotel, but as soon as he had learned of it he lost no time in denouncing the authors of it, and saying that he wished the people to understand that he as well as they had been tricked.

The vigorous words of the President-elect must have taken the conceit out of some of the inaugural committee who somehow seem to have gotten the idea into their little seventy nine heads that the inauguration of a President was a matter concerned only them and their friends and that the public was not to be taken into the question.

On Wednesday evening the President and Mrs. Cleveford gave a dinner in honor of the President elect and Mrs. Harrison. The hotels are rapidly filling up, may prominent republicans being among the visitors, and Gen. Harrison since his arrival in the city has had a continual stream of callers. At the president writing the Cabinet slate is still incomplete, and from the best information obtainable only four names are regarded as certain. These are Messrs. Blaine, Wadsworth, Winthrop and Noble, and there is even doubt as to the last of these being retained.

The death of Dr. Bliss, Gardfield's physician, is the demise of literally the last notable figure in the trial of the assassin of Gardfield, and yet that event only occurred eight years ago. The President has issued the usual proclamation ordering an extra session of the Senate to meet at 12 o'clock March 4th, to receive and act upon executive communications, which means, to confirm the nominations of the Cabinet, etc. By the way, since the passage of the bill admitting the Dakotas, Montana and Washington, there has been a decided change of sentiment in regard to an extra session.

Many members who were in favor of holding one at an early day are now either opposed to it altogether, or else in favor of postponing it until the fall.
