Court of Common Pleas.

The case of Frank Cobb of Oberlin vs. Harriet Walton, of Pittsfield, was tried in the court of common pleas Wednesday, and occupied the greater part of the day. A large number of witnesses were in attendance. The case was one that was carried up from Justice McKoberts' court, of Pittsfield. The plaintiff alleged that he bought of the defendant 125 cords of wood, a year ago last February, and was to pay for the same $1 per cord. He further stated that but 29 1/2 cords were delivered and for which he paid the sum of $30. He asked damages to the amount of $47.50. The defendant contended that there was only a verbal agreement by the terms of which but 30 cords of wood were sold. The case went to the jury shortly after 5 o'clock and after being out about 20 minutes, returned a verdict in the defendant's favor, who was represented by attorney Blinn of Wellington.

On Friday morning the matter was finally adjusted to the mutual satisfaction of all parties concerned. JOHN M. HACKETT MARRIED

He and His Bride are Guests of Wellington Relatives.

John M. Hackett, who left Wellington a dozen or more years ago, returned to his old home here Thursday for a short visit with relatives and friends. Mr. Hackett was married at Dunkirk, N. Y. on November 29, where he has been engaged for several years as civil engineer. He brought his wife with him, and they will remain here the rest of the week.

The Dunkirk Evening Observer gives the following account of the wedding: Miss Cecilia Florence Welsh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas C. Welsh of No. 518 Elk street, was married to John Matthew Hackett at St. Mary's church at seven o'clock this morning, by the Rev. Lewis Bellew, who celebrated high mass. The bridesmaid was Miss Celestine Otilda Maidel and the best man, Joseph A. Welsh, a brother of the bride.

The bride's gown was a grey Venetian cloth trimmed with braided white silk and black ribbon velvet. Her hat was black velvet trimmed with lace and ostrich plumes. The bridesmaid wore a gown of green peplum trimmed white applique, and a black hat with black trimmings.

A wedding dinner was served to the bridal party and relatives at noon at the home of the bride's parents.

The wedding gifts were handsome and valuable.

Mr. and Mrs. Hackett departed this afternoon for Cleveland and Wellington, Ohio, the latter place being the home of Mr. Hackett's mother. They will also visit Mr. Hackett's brother, Edward Hackett, in Pittsburg, Pa.

They will be at home at No. 518 Elk street about the middle of December.

Thanksgiving Banquet at the Oberlin Business College.

The annual Thanksgiving Banquet, given by the officers and teachers of the Oberlin Business College, in honor of the students, was held Wednesday evening of last week, in the beautiful rooms of the new college building. For many years this has been the great social event of the year in this school when teachers, officers, directors and students meet and mingle together, and the one held last week, on account of the large increase in the attendance, was the largest as well as the most successful ever held.

One hundred and fifty plates were laid by caterer Hobbs, who, in a few hours, converted the Business Department into a veritable banquet hall, filled with long tables laden with the best the land affords. The toasts, responded to by students and others, were brilliant and witty and elicited rounds of applause, while the farce, "That Rascal Pat," given in the Short-hand Department entirely by the students, took the house by storm.

Graduates of the college, from out of town, were present from Cleveland, Elyria, Lorain, Wellington, Vermillion, Johnston, Peru and other places. The Oberlin Business College believes that nothing is too good for its students, and is the only business college, so far as we are informed, that gives its students a Thanksgiving Banquet.

Decision Day.

All Sunday School in Ohio have been requested by the Ohio Sunday School Association to observe Sunday February 11, as "Decision Day." This new day in the Sunday School Calendar was born in Pennsylvania, last January, when concerted action on the part of the Sunday Schools of Philadelphia resulted in the conversion of about 3000 souls. It is now proposed that on February 11, 1900, Ohio Sunday School workers unite in an effort to earnestly present to their classes the claims of Christ as a personal Savior. The plan of the day, and the reasons for observing it, are briefly set forth in a circular which will be freely furnished any person who will send for it to Joseph Clark, General Secretary, No. 79 "The Buggery," Columbus, Ohio.

J. D. Bridges, Editor "Democrat," Lancaster, N. H., says "One Minute Cough Cure is the best remedy for croup I ever used." Immediately relieves and cures coughs, colds, croup, asthma, pneumonia, bronchitis, grippe and all throat and lung troubles. It prevents consumption. Dr. J. W. Houghton.
