

MORNING LEADER.

PUBLISHED BY E. COWLES & CO. FRIDAY MORNING, JUNE 11, 1888.

PLAIN AND ORNAMENTAL PRINTING. The Secretary of War has been doing a land office business for Uncle Sam since Mr. Buchanan came into power.

Secretary Floyd's Land Speculations. The Secretary of War has been doing a land office business for Uncle Sam since Mr. Buchanan came into power.

The Secretary of War has been doing a land office business for Uncle Sam since Mr. Buchanan came into power.

The Secretary of War has been doing a land office business for Uncle Sam since Mr. Buchanan came into power.

The Secretary of War has been doing a land office business for Uncle Sam since Mr. Buchanan came into power.

The Secretary of War has been doing a land office business for Uncle Sam since Mr. Buchanan came into power.

The Secretary of War has been doing a land office business for Uncle Sam since Mr. Buchanan came into power.

The Secretary of War has been doing a land office business for Uncle Sam since Mr. Buchanan came into power.

The Secretary of War has been doing a land office business for Uncle Sam since Mr. Buchanan came into power.

The Secretary of War has been doing a land office business for Uncle Sam since Mr. Buchanan came into power.

The Secretary of War has been doing a land office business for Uncle Sam since Mr. Buchanan came into power.

The Secretary of War has been doing a land office business for Uncle Sam since Mr. Buchanan came into power.

The Secretary of War has been doing a land office business for Uncle Sam since Mr. Buchanan came into power.

The Secretary of War has been doing a land office business for Uncle Sam since Mr. Buchanan came into power.

The Secretary of War has been doing a land office business for Uncle Sam since Mr. Buchanan came into power.

The Secretary of War has been doing a land office business for Uncle Sam since Mr. Buchanan came into power.

The Secretary of War has been doing a land office business for Uncle Sam since Mr. Buchanan came into power.

The Secretary of War has been doing a land office business for Uncle Sam since Mr. Buchanan came into power.

The Secretary of War has been doing a land office business for Uncle Sam since Mr. Buchanan came into power.

The Secretary of War has been doing a land office business for Uncle Sam since Mr. Buchanan came into power.

The Secretary of War has been doing a land office business for Uncle Sam since Mr. Buchanan came into power.

The Secretary of War has been doing a land office business for Uncle Sam since Mr. Buchanan came into power.

The Secretary of War has been doing a land office business for Uncle Sam since Mr. Buchanan came into power.

The Secretary of War has been doing a land office business for Uncle Sam since Mr. Buchanan came into power.

The Secretary of War has been doing a land office business for Uncle Sam since Mr. Buchanan came into power.

The Secretary of War has been doing a land office business for Uncle Sam since Mr. Buchanan came into power.

The Secretary of War has been doing a land office business for Uncle Sam since Mr. Buchanan came into power.

The Secretary of War has been doing a land office business for Uncle Sam since Mr. Buchanan came into power.

The Secretary of War has been doing a land office business for Uncle Sam since Mr. Buchanan came into power.

The Secretary of War has been doing a land office business for Uncle Sam since Mr. Buchanan came into power.

The Secretary of War has been doing a land office business for Uncle Sam since Mr. Buchanan came into power.

The Secretary of War has been doing a land office business for Uncle Sam since Mr. Buchanan came into power.

The Secretary of War has been doing a land office business for Uncle Sam since Mr. Buchanan came into power.

The Secretary of War has been doing a land office business for Uncle Sam since Mr. Buchanan came into power.

The Secretary of War has been doing a land office business for Uncle Sam since Mr. Buchanan came into power.

The Secretary of War has been doing a land office business for Uncle Sam since Mr. Buchanan came into power.

The Secretary of War has been doing a land office business for Uncle Sam since Mr. Buchanan came into power.

The Secretary of War has been doing a land office business for Uncle Sam since Mr. Buchanan came into power.

The Secretary of War has been doing a land office business for Uncle Sam since Mr. Buchanan came into power.

The Secretary of War has been doing a land office business for Uncle Sam since Mr. Buchanan came into power.

The Secretary of War has been doing a land office business for Uncle Sam since Mr. Buchanan came into power.

The Secretary of War has been doing a land office business for Uncle Sam since Mr. Buchanan came into power.

The Secretary of War has been doing a land office business for Uncle Sam since Mr. Buchanan came into power.

The Secretary of War has been doing a land office business for Uncle Sam since Mr. Buchanan came into power.

The Secretary of War has been doing a land office business for Uncle Sam since Mr. Buchanan came into power.

More of the Swindlers Exposed.

It is astonishing to what extent the Post Office Department is used in the way of giving the multitude, and in swindling multitudes by bogus lottery schemes, gift enterprises, quick, etc., pretenses.

Sergeant Derney visited Albany and stopped over a day or two recently, and effectually routed an infamous swindle that has flourished in that city for three years past, giving an extensive business in all parts of the United States.

It was an indignation for the sale of love powder, charms and a variety of nostrums, by Dr. Duval, Dr. Rees, Dr. Fanciel, Dr. Mont, Dr. Brevoort, Dr. Bowie, all assumed names by a swindler who did his business through the Post Office by means of circulars and advertisements calling every day and taking out his letters.

Some two hundred addressed to the various "Doctors" were detained at the Sergeant's suggestion and sent to the Dead Letter Office.

Sergeant B. also explicated another Albany swindle managed under the name of Dr. La Croix, Dr. Hansen and Dr. La Salle. Lucknow, the real operator, pretended to cure every disease in the world, and made piles of money.

The letters to his "Doctors" now go to the Dead Letter office.

A third swindler calling himself Dr. A. Moriarty, who advertised to sell receipts for making cures left Albany on the Sergeant's arrival.

Some fifty letters to his address were disposed of like those of his brother swindler. It is stated that Andrews, the love powder man, has amassed a fortune of $60,000 in three years, by selling his wondrous, wiper rings, obsecp books, quack medicines, &c.

Mayor Tieman's police made another descent on the swindlers in New York a few days ago, and broke up nineteen obscene bookstores and medical quacks. The account says:

Yesterday Sergeant Brinkley made a descent upon a certain representative by the name of "Fayette, Harper & Co.," who are in the obscene bookkeeping business. They now profess to represent the firm "Henry G. Barclay," "Henry L. G. Smith," "G. J. Gillis & Co.," "James Hamilton," "Henry R. G. Barclay," and other fictitious firms. As they advertised to do all their business by letter, and positively refused to see anybody personally, it was difficult to get hold of the real persons engaged in the business. In fact, they were not to be found on any terms and all that can be done is to notify the public that all letters addressed to such firms are useless, and will be stopped and sent to the Dead Letter Office.

From the Mayor of Philadelphia, he received, by Mayor Tieman, a letter from the following is an extract:

"This subject (bogus lotteries, quack medicines, &c.) has engaged the special attention of my detective office for several days. My efforts shall be spared to attain a result which, equally with yourself, I heartily desire."

ALBANY HENRY.

For the Leader.

From the Tramp of Fame, the first newspaper printed on the Connecticut Western Reserve, edited by Thomas D. Wagon, who still resides at Warren, the following columns at Cleveland—Republicanism vs. Federalism—are copied:

At a meeting of a large and respectable number of the Republican electors of the county of Cuyahoga, convened at the house of George Wallace, Esq., in Cleveland, on the 11th day of April, 1878, for the purpose of consulting upon and adopting measures to be pursued at the Congressional election, the Hon. Timothy Doane was chosen chairman, and Horace Perry, Esq., clerk.

The following resolutions were then unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That we view, with sentiments of the highest disapprobation and concern, the nomination of Gen. Simon Perkins as a candidate to represent the Sixth Congressional District of the State of Ohio to supply the vacancy occasioned by the death of John S. Edwards.

The next resolution is mostly destroyed by the mice, but was something like this:

Resolved, That we consider Gen. Perkins an enemy to the Administration and opposed to the war, and that a statement made by him was intended to deceive the electors of this district with respect to his political sentiments and intentions as evidence of his intention to desert and to betray his political faith to purchase his election. Both of which motives we consider as equally base and dishonorable.

Resolved, That we will use fair and honorable means to prevent the election of Gen. Perkins, and that although we would gladly unite with our Republican brethren in the adjoining counties in the support of any respectable friend of the Government who would unite the votes of the neighboring counties; yet that under existing circumstances we deem it our duty to support Gen. Resain Ball, whom we consider as a friend of the Administration and the vigorous prosecution of the war, as the most probable means of preventing the election of Gen. Perkins, whom we believe an enemy to both.

Resolved, That copies of the proceedings of this meeting be transmitted to the editors of the Tramp of Fame and Ohio Patriot for publication, and that other copies be circulated as extensively and as speedily as possible.

HORACE PERRY, Clerk.

The curiosity of this matter is that upon the surrender of Gen. Hull, leaving the whole frontier open to Indian depredations from Detroit to Cleveland, Gen. Perkins forthwith marched out his Brigade and took position at Harmon, ordered to join Gen. Harrison at the Maumee. One Battalion of the command under Major Cotgreve was despatched to the support of Gen. Winchester, who had incautiously advanced to the River Raisin (now Monroe) and was the refugees from that disastrous conflict. The Brigade rendered the most efficient service in building Fort Meigs and protecting the frontier. No Brigade of Militia was ever better officered, had better men, or was better disciplined. Rayne and Hayes were the Colonels, both men of great business capacity, and every way efficient; and no officer in camp was more to be relied upon for the general purposes of war than Gen. Perkins; and those very men who passed these denunciatory resolutions, retained their scalps on their heads by his protection. The secret of their boiling-over patriotism was, that certain citizens of Cuyahoga county failed to save the Government when Gen. Perkins was in camp, and a certain individual who probably drew these resolutions wanted a place in Congress himself at the next term, and did not want a neighbor in the way.

Mr. Madison sent Gen. Perkins a Colonel's commission in the regular army, which he declined to accept, believing it would not pay to be shot at for the benefit of the "electors of Cuyahoga county" and their like.

A letter to Gen. Perkins to become a candidate, and his reply, will be published hereafter.

G.

DRORER MARK EATY.—The Lafayette, Ind. Journal says that at present, two thousand people from other States, sojourning in Illinois and Indiana, for the express purpose of getting rid of their husbands and wives

Mr. Giddis goes to his Post.

The Ashtabula Sentinel of the 10th says: Mr. Giddis returned to Washington on Saturday morning last. He saw by the reports that the session was to be prolonged at least a week, and that the subject of the violation of suspected slave vessels, was referred to the Committee on Foreign Affairs, under circumstances making it probable that it would come up for the session of the House on Monday.

He felt it upon by duty to return to his post. He had intended to go to the city, at which time his opponent will be at liberty to use his vote. The question is one of real importance, and Mr. G. started at once upon receiving information. He leaves home in good health and spirits.

Gen. Hayes-Cov. Cummins's Despatches. A special Washington dispatch of the 9th to the Cincinnati Gazette says:

Col. Harney has been appointed to the command vacated by the death of the late General Persifer F. Smith, with the rank of Brigadier-General.

The President has received voluminous despatches from Governor Cummins of Utah, the contents of which will not be divulged for some days. There is every appearance that peace and good order will be established in the Territory. Consequently, the two regiments will not now be ordered out.

ANOTHER NATIONAL HORSE SHOW.—The people of Springfield, Mass., have the best show grounds in the United States, for which they are mainly indebted to such enterprising gentlemen as Mr. G. M. Atwater, formerly of this city, and his associates. The National Horse Fair held at Springfield, have been very successful, and from the 13th to the 17th of September next, a show is to be held in eclipse all previous exhibitions. The prices range from $10 to $200, and a banner worth $100 is to be awarded to that State, for the use of the State Agricultural Society, that sends the largest number of horses to the show. Massachusetts is excluded in the honor list.

BLOODLESS CONGRESSIONAL DEBATE.—As many as three or four duels have been on the tapis between ferocious Democrats during the present session of Congress, but not a drop of precious blood has been spilled. Wounded honor has been easily satisfied, or else the terms of meeting, as in the recent case of Harris, of Illinois, and Hughes, of Indiana, have made the challenging weak stomachs for the fight. Col. Harris, who has seen real service in Mexico, when challenged by Hughes, aimed the weapons and buck shot, distance ten paces. Hughes concluded to take back the challenge rather than take the buck shot.

Senator Benjamin, of Louisiana, challenged Senator Davis, of Mississippi, for some previous received during a passage of words in the Senate on the 8th, but settled the matter without a fight the next day.

DISSEMBLING CASUALTY.—A and occurred took place on Lake Pepin a few days ago. Four men and four women from Lake City were out for a pleasure sail on the Lake, and when near the middle of a wind-capsized the boat.

They along to the boat, but three of the women and one man became exhausted and sunk before relief arrived. Two of the ladies were daughters of Judge Stout, of Lake City.

FLOOD AT ST. LOUIS.—All the great rivers pouring through the Mississippi channel at St. Louis were at flood height on the 6th, and the greater portion of the levee was covered with water on the 7th. The upper part of Bloody Island was submerged, and the great American Bottom was becoming flooded.

MAILED.

W. J. BROWN, JR., of St. Louis, Mo., is the author of "The History of the Republic of the United States," published by H. W. Derby, New York.

W. J. BROWN, JR., of St. Louis, Mo., is the author of "The History of the Republic of the United States," published by H. W. Derby, New York.

W. J. BROWN, JR., of St. Louis, Mo., is the author of "The History of the Republic of the United States," published by H. W. Derby, New York.

W. J. BROWN, JR., of St. Louis, Mo., is the author of "The History of the Republic of the United States," published by H. W. Derby, New York.

W. J. BROWN, JR., of St. Louis, Mo., is the author of "The History of the Republic of the United States," published by H. W. Derby, New York.

W. J. BROWN, JR., of St. Louis, Mo., is the author of "The History of the Republic of the United States," published by H. W. Derby, New York.

W. J. BROWN, JR., of St. Louis, Mo., is the author of "The History of the Republic of the United States," published by H. W. Derby, New York.

W. J. BROWN, JR., of St. Louis, Mo., is the author of "The History of the Republic of the United States," published by H. W. Derby, New York.

W. J. BROWN, JR., of St. Louis, Mo., is the author of "The History of the Republic of the United States," published by H. W. Derby, New York.

W. J. BROWN, JR., of St. Louis, Mo., is the author of "The History of the Republic of the United States," published by H. W. Derby, New York.

W. J. BROWN, JR., of St. Louis, Mo., is the author of "The History of the Republic of the United States," published by H. W. Derby, New York.

W. J. BROWN, JR., of St. Louis, Mo., is the author of "The History of the Republic of the United States," published by H. W. Derby, New York.

W. J. BROWN, JR., of St. Louis, Mo., is the author of "The History of the Republic of the United States," published by H. W. Derby, New York.

W. J. BROWN, JR., of St. Louis, Mo., is the author of "The History of the Republic of the United States," published by H. W. Derby, New York.

W. J. BROWN, JR., of St. Louis, Mo., is the author of "The History of the Republic of the United States," published by H. W. Derby, New York.

W. J. BROWN, JR., of St. Louis, Mo., is the author of "The History of the Republic of the United States," published by H. W. Derby, New York.

W. J. BROWN, JR., of St. Louis, Mo., is the author of "The History of the Republic of the United States," published by H. W. Derby, New York.

W. J. BROWN, JR., of St. Louis, Mo., is the author of "The History of the Republic of the United States," published by H. W. Derby, New York.

W. J. BROWN, JR., of St. Louis, Mo., is the author of "The History of the Republic of the United States," published by H. W. Derby, New York.

W. J. BROWN, JR., of St. Louis, Mo., is the author of "The History of the Republic of the United States," published by H. W. Derby, New York.

W. J. BROWN, JR., of St. Louis, Mo., is the author of "The History of the Republic of the United States," published by H. W. Derby, New York.

W. J. BROWN, JR., of St. Louis, Mo., is the author of "The History of the Republic of the United States," published by H. W. Derby, New York.

W. J. BROWN, JR., of St. Louis, Mo., is the author of "The History of the Republic of the United States," published by H. W. Derby, New York.

W. J. BROWN, JR., of St. Louis, Mo., is the author of "The History of the Republic of the United States," published by H. W. Derby, New York.

W. J. BROWN, JR., of St. Louis, Mo., is the author of "The History of the Republic of the United States," published by H. W. Derby, New York.

W. J. BROWN, JR., of St. Louis, Mo., is the author of "The History of the Republic of the United States," published by H. W. Derby, New York.

W. J. BROWN, JR., of St. Louis, Mo., is the author of "The History of the Republic of the United States," published by H. W. Derby, New York.

W. J. BROWN, JR., of St. Louis, Mo., is the author of "The History of the Republic of the United States," published by H. W. Derby, New York.

W. J. BROWN, JR., of St. Louis, Mo., is the author of "The History of the Republic of the United States," published by H. W. Derby, New York.

W. J. BROWN, JR., of St. Louis, Mo., is the author of "The History of the Republic of the United States," published by H. W. Derby, New York.

W. J. BROWN, JR., of St. Louis, Mo., is the author of "The History of the Republic of the United States," published by H. W. Derby, New York.

W. J. BROWN, JR., of St. Louis, Mo., is the author of "The History of the Republic of the United States," published by H. W. Derby, New York.

W. J. BROWN, JR., of St. Louis, Mo., is the author of "The History of the Republic of the United States," published by H. W. Derby, New York.

W. J. BROWN, JR., of St. Louis, Mo., is the author of "The History of the Republic of the United States," published by H. W. Derby, New York.

W. J. BROWN, JR., of St. Louis, Mo., is the author of "The History of the Republic of the United States," published by H. W. Derby, New York.

Mr. Giddis goes to his Post.

The Ashtabula Sentinel of the 10th says: Mr. Giddis returned to Washington on Saturday morning last. He saw by the reports that the session was to be prolonged at least a week, and that the subject of the violation of suspected slave vessels, was referred to the Committee on Foreign Affairs, under circumstances making it probable that it would come up for the session of the House on Monday.

He felt it upon by duty to return to his post. He had intended to go to the city, at which time his opponent will be at liberty to use his vote. The question is one of real importance, and Mr. G. started at once upon receiving information. He leaves home in good health and spirits.

Gen. Hayes-Cov. Cummins's Despatches. A special Washington dispatch of the 9th to the Cincinnati Gazette says:

Col. Harney has been appointed to the command vacated by the death of the late General Persifer F. Smith, with the rank of Brigadier-General.

The President has received voluminous despatches from Governor Cummins of Utah, the contents of which will not be divulged for some days. There is every appearance that peace and good order will be established in the Territory. Consequently, the two regiments will not now be ordered out.

ANOTHER NATIONAL HORSE SHOW.—The people of Springfield, Mass., have the best show grounds in the United States, for which they are mainly indebted to such enterprising gentlemen as Mr. G. M. Atwater, formerly of this city, and his associates. The National Horse Fair held at Springfield, have been very successful, and from the 13th to the 17th of September next, a show is to be held in eclipse all previous exhibitions. The prices range from $10 to $200, and a banner worth $100 is to be awarded to that State, for the use of the State Agricultural Society, that sends the largest number of horses to the show. Massachusetts is excluded in the honor list.

BLOODLESS CONGRESSIONAL DEBATE.—As many as three or four duels have been on the tapis between ferocious Democrats during the present session of Congress, but not a drop of precious blood has been spilled. Wounded honor has been easily satisfied, or else the terms of meeting, as in the recent case of Harris, of Illinois, and Hughes, of Indiana, have made the challenging weak stomachs for the fight. Col. Harris, who has seen real service in Mexico, when challenged by Hughes, aimed the weapons and buck shot, distance ten paces. Hughes concluded to take back the challenge rather than take the buck shot.

Senator Benjamin, of Louisiana, challenged Senator Davis, of Mississippi, for some previous received during a passage of words in the Senate on the 8th, but settled the matter without a fight the next day.

DISSEMBLING CASUALTY.—A and occurred took place on Lake Pepin a few days ago. Four men and four women from Lake City were out for a pleasure sail on the Lake, and when near the middle of a wind-capsized the boat.

They along to the boat, but three of the women and one man became exhausted and sunk before relief arrived. Two of the ladies were daughters of Judge Stout, of Lake City.

FLOOD AT ST. LOUIS.—All the great rivers pouring through the Mississippi channel at St. Louis were at flood height on the 6th, and the greater portion of the levee was covered with water on the 7th. The upper part of Bloody Island was submerged, and the great American Bottom was becoming flooded.

MAILED.

W. J. BROWN, JR., of St. Louis, Mo., is the author of "The History of the Republic of the United States," published by H. W. Derby, New York.

W. J. BROWN, JR., of St. Louis, Mo., is the author of "The History of the Republic of the United States," published by H. W. Derby, New York.

W. J. BROWN, JR., of St. Louis, Mo., is the author of "The History of the Republic of the United States," published by H. W. Derby, New York.

W. J. BROWN, JR., of St. Louis, Mo., is the author of "The History of the Republic of the United States," published by H. W. Derby, New York.

W. J. BROWN, JR., of St. Louis, Mo., is the author of "The History of the Republic of the United States," published by H. W. Derby, New York.

W. J. BROWN, JR., of St. Louis, Mo., is the author of "The History of the Republic of the United States," published by H. W. Derby, New York.

W. J. BROWN, JR., of St. Louis, Mo., is the author of "The History of the Republic of the United States," published by H. W. Derby, New York.

W. J. BROWN, JR., of St. Louis, Mo., is the author of "The History of the Republic of the United States," published by H. W. Derby, New York.

W. J. BROWN, JR., of St. Louis, Mo., is the author of "The History of the Republic of the United States," published by H. W. Derby, New York.

W. J. BROWN, JR., of St. Louis, Mo., is the author of "The History of the Republic of the United States," published by H. W. Derby, New York.

W. J. BROWN, JR., of St. Louis, Mo., is the author of "The History of the Republic of the United States," published by H. W. Derby, New York.

W. J. BROWN, JR., of St. Louis, Mo., is the author of "The History of the Republic of the United States," published by H. W. Derby, New York.

W. J. BROWN, JR., of St. Louis, Mo., is the author of "The History of the Republic of the United States," published by H. W. Derby, New York.

W. J. BROWN, JR., of St. Louis, Mo., is the author of "The History of the Republic of the United States," published by H. W. Derby, New York.

W. J. BROWN, JR., of St. Louis, Mo., is the author of "The History of the Republic of the United States," published by H. W. Derby, New York.

W. J. BROWN, JR., of St. Louis, Mo., is the author of "The History of the Republic of the United States," published by H. W. Derby, New York.

W. J. BROWN, JR., of St. Louis, Mo., is the author of "The History of the Republic of the United States," published by H. W. Derby, New York.

W. J. BROWN, JR., of St. Louis, Mo., is the author of "The History of the Republic of the United States," published by H. W. Derby, New York.

W. J. BROWN, JR., of St. Louis, Mo., is the author of "The History of the Republic of the United States," published by H. W. Derby, New York.

W. J. BROWN, JR., of St. Louis, Mo., is the author of "The History of the Republic of the United States," published by H. W. Derby, New York.

W. J. BROWN, JR., of St. Louis, Mo., is the author of "The History of the Republic of the United States," published by H. W. Derby, New York.

W. J. BROWN, JR., of St. Louis, Mo., is the author of "The History of the Republic of the United States," published by H. W. Derby, New York.

W. J. BROWN, JR., of St. Louis, Mo., is the author of "The History of the Republic of the United States," published by H. W. Derby, New York.

W. J. BROWN, JR., of St. Louis, Mo., is the author of "The History of the Republic of the United States," published by H. W. Derby, New York.

W. J. BROWN, JR., of St. Louis, Mo., is the author of "The History of the Republic of the United States," published by H. W. Derby, New York.

W. J. BROWN, JR., of St. Louis, Mo., is the author of "The History of the Republic of the United States," published by H. W. Derby, New York.

W. J. BROWN, JR., of St. Louis, Mo., is the author of "The History of the Republic of the United States," published by H. W. Derby, New York.

W. J. BROWN, JR., of St. Louis, Mo., is the author of "The History of the Republic of the United States," published by H. W. Derby, New York.

W. J. BROWN, JR., of St. Louis, Mo., is the author of "The History of the Republic of the United States," published by H. W. Derby, New York.

W. J. BROWN, JR., of St. Louis, Mo., is the author of "The History of the Republic of the United States," published by H. W. Derby, New York.

W. J. BROWN, JR., of St. Louis, Mo., is the author of "The History of the Republic of the United States," published by H. W. Derby, New York.

W. J. BROWN, JR., of St. Louis, Mo., is the author of "The History of the Republic of the United States," published by H. W. Derby, New York.

W. J. BROWN, JR