The troops are expected to arrive at Pomeroy about noon today.

Two other cavalry troops, one at Cleveland and the other at Columbus, mobilized in their armories.

In a statement, Governor Davis declared here "action was in furtherance of the state's precautionary attitude that troops be available for possible immediate emergency service in different sections of the state where the conditions might demand it."

The governor stated that still further mobilization might be necessary.

The two Cincinnati units en route to Pomeroy are Troop C, 107th cavalry, commanded by Capt. Richmond, and the headquarters squadron of the 5th cavalry brigade, commanded by Capt. Sanders. They left Cincinnati at 12:30 this morning over the Pennsylvania railroad.

"I don't show any more of my legs than your English girls in short skirts!" she exclaimed, "and besides, I'm dressed to please myself alone."

CAVE-INS RETARD SEWER BUILDING

Workers On West Vine and West Gambier Streets Encounter Difficulty

Cave-ins are delaying the work of excavation for the sewer work being done on West Vine and West Gambier streets. The gravelly nature of the soil and the depth of the excavation make the work quite hazardous for the workmen. Thus far, however, there has been no mishap and no one injured or caught under the falling gravel. The trench sides are shored up by timbers, and the trench is left open as brief a time as may be necessary to lay the tile for the sewer.

After an interval of several days, the laying of concrete on East Chestnut street was resumed Wednesday afternoon. The concreting was stopped because of a short supply of gravel due to inability to secure a number of teams to keep up with the concrete mixing crew. A sufficient amount of gravel has been laid down now to insure the completion of the street to Park street. It is expected that the concrete work will continue without further interruption until it is completed.

The brick situation remains unchanged. The contractors have been unable to secure any shipments of brick and have no definite assurance when shipments will be made.

On leaving the White House, Mr. Jewell said he would meet again with Mr. Harding this afternoon. Acting as spokesman, Mr. Jewell said the morning conference was confined to a general discussion of the strike situation in which the labor leaders endeavored to give the president their view as to the controversy.
