CAMP DODD IS DEDICATED TO BOYS OF OHIO

In Spite Of Adverse Weather And Bad Roads Service Is Held Saturday

DELEGATES LEAVE FOR HOMES MONDAY EVENING

Dedicatory Address Is Made By Dr. J. Knox Montgomery Of Muskingum College

Weather conditions interfered with but did not wholly prevent the dedication of the Y. M. C. A. boys' camp near Brink Haven on Saturday afternoon. On Thursday and Friday that section of the county in which the camp is located was visited by rains of great severity which made the roads all but impassable, especially for heavy automobiles.

However, a crowd of considerable proportions was able to reach the camp. These with the members made up a company of considerable proportions. B. B. Williams, of Mt. Vernon, a member of the state Y. M. C. A. committee, who was to have presided at the camp dedication, was one of those who were unable to reach the grounds. In his absence Boys Secretary W. G. Cartlich presided.

A short talk was given by State Secretary I. B. Rhodes. He talked of the camp, of its inception and the manner in which the funds were raised by which the grounds were acquired. He touched upon the future of the camp, also, mentioning the things that are in prospect and the possibilities that may be worked out as the plans for the camp develop.

Dr. J. Knox Montgomery, president of Muskingum college, who had been at the camp since the opening day, gave the chief address of the afternoon. In the course of his address he described the opportunity Camp Nelson Dodd presents to the high school boys of Ohio. He is convinced that it promises to become a vital element in the high school life of Ohio. The camp is supposed to be founded in its application, touching the physical, mental, spiritual and service development of the boys of Ohio visiting it.

At the camp fire held Saturday evening the campers pledged themselves to raise a fund of $500 for the purchase of canoes and the construction of a dock in the river.
Sunday morning, Dr. Bridges, pastor of the First Baptist church of Canton, addressed the campers. In the afternoon the camp delegations made plans for activities for the coming year by the H-Y clubs of the year.

The closing feature of the camp program was the camp fire held Sunday evening with W. G. Cartlich as chairman. The campers formed a double circle about a big camp fire and for a season gave thought and consideration to those intimate things and projects that have brought them together.

The camp broke up Monday morning the delegates leaving for their homes. Camp Dodd is now deserted. During this week a group of industrial workers is to hold a three days session at the camp. The members of the state Y. M. C. A. committee also are to hold a two day session.

BOARD TO MEET
The city board of education will hold a regular meeting this evening at the office of Supt. Elliott.
