

THE SALVATION ARMY.

WHO PURPOSE CARRYING OUR CITIZENS OF SIN BY STORM.

An Interview With Gen. Moore, Commander of the American Salvation Army—A History of This Wonderful Organization and Its Founders.

NEW YORK, April 2.—There are few newspaper readers who have not heard of the campaign against old "Nick," which is being carried on by the Salvation Army on the Atlantic seaboard.

GEN. THOMAS E. MOORE.

No one would suppose to look into the pleasant face and mild eyes of Gen. Moore that he would be able to cope with such a crafty and treacherous enemy as his is said to be.

It is said that it was Mrs. Booth, the wife of Gen. Booth, of the Salvation Army in England, who first suggested the idea.

Gen. Moore says the "hides" originated with the apostles, was taken up by Ignatius Loyola in the sixteenth century, but revived in its fullness by William Booth in 1865 in London.

The army overran England in fifteen years, when they undertook the conquest of this country. In 1861 the invaders landed on our coast and effected a footing in Baltimore.

CAPT. EMMA WEST, FIELD INSPECTOR M. BROOK, "STONEWALL JACKSON." K. LIGHT, "KANASSA JACK."

Out of some 300 officers stationed in the 100 posts in this country are selected two of the typical ones. Capt. Westbrook was one of the first Salvation "hisses" to land on our shores.

Until 1864 the Salvation Army in this country was under the charge of Gen. Booth of England, Gen. Moore being simply a commissioner.

When a convert enlists in the Salvation Army he does so on the condition that he obey his superior absolutely. He is not to expect any compensation for his services.

Another horror is reported from New England, a dozen people having been drowned in their beds like rats in a hole by the bursting of a reservoir.

"Barracks" in the town, after which they parade the streets with a band and drum.

Ridiculous as all this may appear, don't our people do just such fool things in campaign times!

THE NEW TALKING BOARD.

The Mysterious Amusement Which is Fascinating Ohio People.

Many of our readers will still remember phantoms, the strange little heart-shaped board with a pencil at its point which used to walk over yards of paper and write no end of sense and nonsense if the finger tips of two persons touched the upper surface of the board.

Phantoms had its day, and mostly died out. But the same mysterious force which used to impel it is moving now another kind of little board, and setting whole communities of eminently sober and respectable Ohio people on their heads.

You see how it is made. A bit of board, say 18x30 inches, is lettered, rather large, with the alphabet, A, B, C, D, etc. The letters are put a small distance apart.

Then a tiny table is made with four legs. It is three or four inches high and very thin and light. Two persons sit opposite each other and take the board upon their knees as in the picture.

THE TALKING BOARD.

The two sit down and become quiet, asking the question: "Are there any communications?" After a few minutes the little table begins to move over the board.

One man who thought his family was spending too much time over the talking machine burned it up. Then he left home on a journey. When the talking board could not be found some one made another, and the amusement went on as before.

Many an old theatre goer will hear with a melancholy feeling of the death of this well known actor. A man of splendid physique, he ought to have been in his prime, for he was not as old as Henry Irving or Edwin Booth.

BERNARD MACAULEY.

Bernard Macaulay was born in New York city in 1837. In 1864 he appeared in that city as Armand Duval to Matilda Baron's Camille.

Afterwards he fell into difficulties and lost his property. The last play of any note that he appeared in was "The Messenger from Jarvis Section," with which he went on the road for several years.
