

WHO'S "IT," NOW?

Mr. Kimberly Says the General Paper Co. Will Reorganize on New Lines.

GOVERNMENT'S ACTION DOES IT.

Unconditional Surrender Was Made in Short Order by the Paper Trust.

The Fact That the Government Wins All Its Points Considered a Great Victory For All Concerned in Prosecution.

St. Paul, Minn., May 12.—The United States government secured an unconditional surrender in the United States circuit court before Judge Sanborn of the paper trust against which the attorney general began a suit to dissolve a combination between the General Paper Co. and 23 other defendants on the ground that an agreement had been entered into by the defendants in restraint of interstate commerce.

The suit is one that has been prosecuted with vigor by the government, which has been backed by the American Newspaper Publishers' association. Suit was brought last year at St. Paul. The suit was brought in the northwest on account of the large number of wood pulp paper factories turning out material for the daily papers located in that section. The fact that the government wins all its points may result in other cases and is considered a great victory for the government and for the ones back of the prosecution.

Appleton, Wis., May 12.—The General Paper Co. will reorganize on entirely new lines, according to James A. Kimberly, president of the alleged paper trust. This decision is the result of a meeting held in Milwaukee when steps were taken to withdraw an answer to the government. Kimberly would not say how the company will avoid violating the anti-trust law, but he felt confident that such a selling agency can be organized without further fear of government action. It is generally believed that steps have already been taken to form a new company to dispose of print paper manufactured in Wisconsin, Minnesota and Michigan. It is said that the new company will include all mills which withdrew from the General Paper Co. after the government commenced suit in addition to those who were members when the company was dissolved by court.

He is the ruler of the state of Baroda, which has a population of 2,000,000 and an area of 8,000 square miles. His brother acts as his secretary. There were many persons on the pier to see the ruler of Baroda, but who expected to see a man decked in Oriental trappings and hung with jewels, were disappointed. Descending the gangplank came a dapper little man who would have been taken ordinarily for a prosperous East Indian merchant.

A DECISION IS RENDERED

In Kansas Supreme Court in Famous Litigation Lasting Half Century.

Kansas City, May 14.—By a decision just rendered by the Kansas supreme court, property located just over the Missouri state line here and running to Kaw Point on the Kaw or Kansas river, valued at between one and two million dollars, was awarded to the heirs of the original owners. Much of the property, which is in what is known as the West bottoms, is occupied by bigger concerns, who must now vacate or purchase the land.

The case has been in the courts for half a century. The land originally was settled upon in 1857 by Silas Armstrong, an Indian of the Wyandotte tribe, living at Upper Sandusky, O. Several whites settled upon some of the land. Suits followed, ending in Armstrong disposing of the greater portion of his property. In time the river cut a new channel and left part of the land on an island. Later the river resumed its natural channel and the island with accretions was settled upon by numerous business enterprises. Among those who will benefit by the decision are three families of Wyandotte Indians, the Mudeater, Rabittale and Buzzard families, descendants of Armstrong, who live on reservations in the Indian territory and who will receive a small share each.

Those who will lose the heaviest by the decision are the Fowler Packing Co.; the National Waterworks Co. and H. M. Meriwether, all of whom had settled upon portions of the land.

CONGRESS BREAKS RECORD

On Pension Legislation and Senate Still Talks Rate Bill.

Washington, May 12.—Three hundred and twenty pension bills were passed by the house in one hour and a half. This record has never been equaled in the disposition of pension legislation. Mr. Hepburn made a vigorous attack upon the court-martial system of the navy, and especially criticized the officers responsible for the accidents that have happened to ships of the navy. The house committee on foreign affairs authorized favorable report on the diplomatic and consular appropriations bill. The measure as amended carries a total of $2,744,000, an increase of about a quarter of a million. Senator Bailey's non-suspension amendment applying to orders of the interstate commerce commission as covered by the railroad rate bill, which has occupied so much of the attention of the senate in connection with that bill, was adversely disposed of by the decisive vote of 23 to 54. The rate bill is still under discussion.

IN A FREE FIGHT.

Dowie Meeting Broken Up By Opposing Faction, Assisted By Number of Outsiders.

WAS ADDRESSING CROWD OF 600

"First Apostle" Asserted Voliva Faction Were Thieves and Robbers, Which Started the Trouble.

A Second Disturbance Was Caused By Reading of a Letter Stating That Dowie's Wife Had Been Healed By His Prayers.

Chicago, Ill., May 14.—A meeting over which John Alexander Dowie presided at Zion City Sunday afternoon was broken up by a number of followers of the opposing faction, assisted by several outsiders, and before the crowd dispersed a free fight occurred.

Dowie was addressing the audience, numbering about six hundred, and made the statement that the overseers of the Voliva faction were thieves and robbers. At once a number of those in the audience were on their feet shouting "No, you are the robber; why don't you pay your debts?" The disturbance became so violent that a Zion guard was sent to restore order. The guard took hold of an old gray headed man who was loud in his demands for Dowie to pay his obligations, and this was a signal for a free fight. A dozen men seized the guard and were about to drag him down the aisle when Gladstone Dowie and Deacon Arrington mounted the platform and called upon the audience not to create a disturbance and to take their seats.

A riot call was sent to the police station and Captain of Police Walker, with four men, hurried to the tabernacle in a wagon. By the time the police arrived most of the audience had left the building. In the midst of the trouble, H. B. Bursielch, the negro attendant of Dowie, rushed upon the platform and placed himself at the First Apostle's side, while those of the uniformed Zion guards who have taken sides with Dowie formed a line of defense in front of the platform. No attempt at violence was made against Dowie, however.

Dowie was so weak that he had to be carried from his carriage into the tabernacle by two attendants. It was announced at Shiloh house, however, that he had eaten a hearty dinner and that he felt no ill effects from the excitement of the afternoon.

At an afternoon meeting called for Dowie adherents only, but which was invaded by a large number of those who were riotous at the former meeting, Dowie precipitated a second general disturbance. He caused to be read a letter from one of his supporters, stating that the writer's wife had passed safely through the crisis of a serious illness while Dowie prayed for her. This fact Dowie compared with the case of Mrs. Cantel, wife of an overseer, who died last Friday without medical attention while Voliva and his supporters were offering prayers for her recovery. Dowie declared that he feared the woman would die because she had associated herself with the rebels. Immediately there was a storm of hisses and shouts of "Shame, shame!" "There is death in store for more of you if this rebellion keeps on," continued Dowie. Again the people sprang from their chairs, shouting and gesticulating, until the tumult became so general that Dowie was again obliged to bring the meeting to a close.

THE CONTROVERSY

Between Senators Tillman and Chandler on Rate Bill Growing Very Warm.

CORRESPONDENCE MADE PUBLIC.

It is the Principal Topic of Conversation in Political Circles in the Capital City.

Chandler Says President Was Much Troubled by Advocacy of Unlimited Court Review by the Senate Lawyers.

Washington, May 14.—Senator Tillman, who made a statement in the senate covering the details of his and Senator Bailey's negotiations, through ex-Senator Chandler, with President Roosevelt regarding the rate bill, made public a portion of a written statement made to him by Mr. Chandler of his various conferences with the president on the subject.

The portion given out by Mr. Tillman is largely a repetition of the first part of his statement in the senate. It covers, however, that portion where Mr. Tillman had quoted Mr. Chandler as saying that the president had stated that he had come to a complete disagreement with the senatorial lawyers, who were trying to defeat or injure the bill, naming Messrs. Knox, Spooner and Foraker, regarding which statement Senator Lodge subsequently said he was authorized to say from the white house that it was an unqualified falsehood.

On this subject Mr. Chandler, referring to the president, said in his written statement: "He said that he had been much troubled over the advocacy of an unlimited court review by some of the lawyers of the senate, naming Senators Knox, Spooner and Foraker, as trying to injure or defeat the bill by ingenious constitutional amendments, but that he had come to a complete disagreement with them. He made this point emphatic by repetition."

The statement given out by Mr. Tillman follows: "Senator Tillman said to-day that on Saturday, May 5, he insisted on having from ex-Senator Chandler a written statement of the various conferences by the latter in connection with the plan of the president to control railroad rate legislation by alliance with the democrats of the senate, and Mr. Chandler gave him such a statement, made prior to Saturday, May 12, and signed by Mr. Chandler. Mr. Tillman said that he would give out a portion of the statement relating to the interview of Mr. Chandler with the president on March 31, which had become a subject matter of dispute, but would retain the remainder for use in case any other parts of his statement in the senate on Saturday should be denied."

PIERCED BY HOT NEEDLES.

Skin of New York Men Perforated as Test to Prove Loss of Sensation.

New York.—One of the most startling exhibitions ever seen in a courtroom was given a few days ago before Judge Edward B. Thomas and a jury in the United States circuit court in Brooklyn, when Joseph Lipsitz was bared to the waist and a white hot needle was applied to the skin in more than 50 places. The purpose of the exhibition was to show that there was complete anaesthesia and Lipsitz never flinched as the needle burned its way into the flesh.

Lipsitz, who now lives in New Boston, Mass., was a passenger on a New York, New Haven & Hartford train on March 21, and in a collision near Waterbury, Conn., was thrown from his seat. He sustained an injury to the spinal cord affecting the sensory nerve so that it was alleged there was a complete anaesthesia of the body below the neck.

He brought an action to recover $50,000 damages, and the case was on trial at the time the experiment took place. It being agreed by the attorney for the railroad company to have the demonstration before the jury, Lipsitz' back was bared, and Dr. Richard M. Burke, the attending physician, produced an instrument similar to one used by pyrographers in burning wood and leather. It was a steel needle, heated by a benzine flame and bulb, and the needle was at a white heat when it was applied. Lipsitz did not make the slightest move when it was applied.
