Wild Flowers.

Yellowstone is truly one of the "seven wonders." As a place of grandeur and scenery it is unsurpassed by the famous Alps. Wild flowers abound there in great profusion.

In order to furnish the public with a souvenir within reach of all, the Northern Pacific Railway has prepared a dainty publication, containing twelve specimens of the most beautiful wild flowers in the Park, which have been pressed and mounted in portfolio form.

This attractive souvenir, which also contains six full page halftone illustrations, will be mailed prepaid upon receipt of 50c.

Little News for Fish Seiners.

A bill passed the legislature during its closing hours, which will add to the woes of those who expect to continue robbing the streams of the fish with other than pole or line. The bill is known as the Harper law, and makes it a crime to keep fish nets, traps, lines with more than three hooks, or other device for catching fish except ordinary lines. The penalty may be a fine of $25 to $200, or imprisonment from one to six months. This will be a good thing for the local possessors of such parphanalia who expect to make a campaign this season.

Have you weakness of any kind—stomach, back, or any organs of the body? Don't dope yourself with ordinary medicine. Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea is the supreme curative power. 35 cents, Tea or Tablets.

GARRETT & AYRES.

CATARRH A GERM DISEASE.

Breathe Air Medicated by Hyomei and Kill the Germs.

Now that physicians and scientists universally agree that catarrh is a germ disease, the reason for the failure of the old-fashioned stomach-dosing in this trouble is readily seen.

Prior to the discovery of Hyomei, a treatment which cures catarrh by filling the air you breathe with germ-killing and healing medication, statistics showed that at least ninety-seven out of every hundred persons in this state were suffering from catarrh of some form.

The treatment with Hyomei is very simple and pleasant; a small inhaler comes with every outfit and three or four times a day Hyomei is breathed through this, making the air at that time like that found on the mountains where the pine forests give off their fragrant and healing.

The complete outfit costs but one dollar, while extra bottles can be obtained for 50 cents. The W. R. Smith Co. have seen such remarkable results from the use of Hyomei that they sell it under an absolute guarantee that it costs nothing unless it cures.

Letter to Mayor Enoch Costello, Hillsboro, Ohio.

Dear Sir: You are interested in the prosperity of your town. You can contribute to it materially, and give it a far more prosperous look at the same time.

Perhaps the public property needs a good coat of paint.

Devoe will supply that coat with two thirds of the number of gallons required of any other. Devoe will last twice as long as any other. Devoe is all paint and full measure. Devoe is the strongest paint known. Devoe will take care of the property, in the long run, for half the money required by any other.

The reason is stated above: Devoe is all paint and full measure: the strongest paint known.

E. D Jewell, Corry, Pa., painted his house 5 years ago with a mixed paint; took 14 gallons. Last Spring he repainted with Devoe; bought 14 gallons and had 4 left. Saved $15 to $20, for painting costs two or three times as much as the paint.

Yours truly,
F. W. DEVOE & CO.,
New York and Chicago.

BIRD CHORUS IN CHURCH.

Fifteen Hundred Sparrows Take Part in the Services on Sunday.

Philadelphia.—It is not every church that can have a bird chorus in addition to its regular choir and its congregational singing. While it cannot be said that Bethany temple, at Fifty-fourth and Spruce streets, enjoys this distinction, yet it is true, nevertheless, that the services are accompanied by the singing of 1,500 English sparrows.

It was while the windows were being put in place and after the roof had been completed that the birds made their ingress to the church. The workmen paid little attention to them, thinking they would go out as they came, but the birds are still there and their presence causes no little worriment to the officers of the church.

They nest up on the big joists that brace the roof and during the day fly about the church, keeping up a continual twitter.

Were it not necessary to open the windows occasionally to ventilate the edifice the birds might be starved out, but this seems to be impossible. Every time a window is opened 20 or 30 fly out and go in search of food. If the windows are all closed when they return they wait another opportunity to reenter.

Evening services are never disturbed, for the birds have then gone to nest, and the church singing evidently does not arouse them.

It is while prayer is being offered or a sermon preached that the real annoyance comes. The speaker has to talk continuously against a twittering chorus.

Last week the engineer planned to drive the birds out by burning sulphur. But some one suggested that perhaps the birds would die and that would be wholesale slaughter. The plan was abandoned.

TALK ACROSS CONTINENT.

Device Invented Which Will Make Such a Performance Possible.

Chicago.—The reported invention of a telephone repeater which will make it possible to talk from coast to coast was discussed lately by electricians. David C. St. Charles, of San Francisco, is the inventor, and the clew to his discovery is said to have been furnished by combining the echo in nature with the sounding board of a violin.

"I cannot tell from the description exactly what has been done," said J. L. McQuarrie, assistant chief engineer of the Western Electric company, "but repeaters already have been operated successfully. The Bell Telephone company is using one invented last year by a Mr. Shreeve.

"If this device gets a louder result than Shreeve's it will be useful, but it already is feasible to talk from Boston to Omaha. Every now and then we hear of a wonderful new repeater, so we are not overexcited."

"The St. Charles invention will not change the possibility of talking from here to San Francisco," said J. S. Larned, superintendent of the Chicago Telephone company. "It is possible now, but the question is whether it would pay to build a line or not. On account of the business day ending earlier in New York and Chicago than in San Francisco there might not be enough 'talks' to make it a commercial success.

"A line from here to New York costs $360,000, and from here to San Francisco would cost many times more, as a heavier wire would have to be used. This new invention, if successful, undoubtedly will hasten the construction of a coast-to-coast system, but it will not revolutionize telephoning, as the repeater already is in fair working order."

TO INSURE LAWBREAKERS.

Company May Be Formed to Pay Penalties of Maine Prohibition.

Biddeford, Me.—A company to insure the Maine liquor sellers and particularly druggists and hotel-keepers, against penalties for violation of the prohibitory law may be the outgrowth of attempts to enforce the statute.

The promoter of the company is interviewing druggists and hotel men throughout the state, and if enough will agree to go into the enterprise, he promises that a company will be organized to assume all the liabilities of the prohibitory law.

The promoter argues that if the proposed company should spend money enough to fight liquor cases through the courts of last resort, practical nullification of the prohibitory law would result.

Ivy Mountain Tower Burned.

Vandals are supposed to have burned Ivy Mountain tower in Goshen, the second highest in Connecticut, and formerly used as a coast survey station. It was a wooden structure 70 feet in height, and was built in 1881 on a base 1,642 feet above sea level. The Catskills could be seen from it, and under favorable atmospheric conditions New Haven harbor. This is the second tower in Litchfield county to be mysteriously destroyed in a few years. The highest tower in the state still stands of Bear mountain in Salisbury.

Food Is High.

Vesuvius threw fire, cinders and molten rock to a height of two miles, but food prices in Naples are reported to be soaring even higher than that.

SEE AMERICA FIRST.

MOTTO OF A LEAGUE THAT IS FORMING IN THE WEST.

Patriotic Americans Who Advocate Visiting Home Scenes Before Seeking Those of Foreign Lands.

Chicago.—The movement started out west to persuade easterners to visit the natural wonders of their own country, instead of going to Europe to spend their vacations, is gaining strength, according to reports received from beyond the Mississippi. "See Europe if you will, but see America first," has been adopted as the motto of the "See America First" league, which advances the doctrine that citizens of the United States should visit the Thousand Islands, Niagara, the Rockies, the Yosemite, the Yellowstone and other beauty spots in the United States before they go abroad to do the Rhine, the Alps and the Scottish lakes.

The league declares that its purpose is purely patriotic. One of the arguments it advances is the desirability of retaining in this country the large amount of money spent each year by Americans in European travel. Last year such expenditures are said to have amounted to $200,000,000.

The financial objection to vacations in Europe is, however, represented as incidental. It is a mistake, say the organizers of the league, to permit children to get the idea that all the beauty spots are on the farther side of the Atlantic; that their native country has eminence only in commercial and political lines. The children should be taught, they argue, that Nature was as generous in supplying America with fine scenery as in equipping any other country, with the mental capacity to cope with foreigners in the affairs of the world.

Nor is this lesson to be taught to the children alone. That some people in the east believe that the Alleghenies stand near the barrier marking the western limit of civilization, and that beyond Chicago the cowboy and the Indian vie with each other in imperiling the life of the occasional traveler, is a mighty thorn in the flesh of the westerner. The argument is advanced that Americans generally will be broader and better when they have cultivated a better acquaintance with one another; when the Kansas man forms the habit of paying visits to New York, and when the New Englander sees Colorado occasionally.

The league does not contemplate community or special advertising. That its purpose is not mercenary is shown by the character of the men who are taking an active interest in the work that is proposed. The executive committee is composed of Dr. Nathan C. Schaeffer, president of the National Educational association; Dr. David Starr Jordan, president of the University of California; David R. Francis, who was president of the St. Louis world's fair; Irving Howbert, of Colorado; Robert L. McCormick, of Washington, and Fisher Harris, of Salt Lake City.

The first conference held in Salt Lake City, in January, was attended by delegates from 15 states. Those who were present are now organizing subordinate leagues in their home states.

The men behind the movement have no idea that it will be possible to keep people from going to Europe if they want to, nor do they propose to catch the intending tourist by the throat and drag him to the west, but they do propose to put the thought which lies at the base of the movement before the American people that they will grow to consider it a public, patriotic, and, indeed, a selfish duty to see first all they can of their native land before searching out the attractions of foreign countries.

BABY WEIGHS 200 POUNDS.

Young Hippopotamus in Cincinnati Zoo Consumes Gallons of Milk.

Cincinnati.—Cincy, the baby hippopotamus, one of the latest attractions at the Cincinnati zoo is taking kindly to his new home and promises to thrive and wax big and strong under the care of those to whom he has been intrusted.

Though only three months old, this interesting infant, which is the youngest of its species ever seen in America, weighs a little over 200 pounds, and is growing rapidly.

Its healthy condition is attested by the fact that it requires five gallons of milk daily to satisfy its ravenous appetite, the nourishment being taken from a mammoth nursing bottle capable of holding eight gallons.

Simplon Museum.

A museum will be one of the features of the inaugural fetes at the Simplon Alpine tunnel in May. It includes a section devoted to an assortment of weapons with which murderous crimes have been committed by the workmen during the boring operations. Stilettos of rare workmanship, highly tempered daggers, hatchets, hammers, guns and pistols of all kinds, bombs and an instrument to strangle persons are found in this weird collection of relics.

Cure for Nagging.

Having advertised as a widower in search of wife No. 2, a man of St. Gall, Switzerland, showed the 50 replies and photographs which he had received to his wife and, stating that if she did not want him there were others who did, he effectively cured her of her "nagging" habits.

"Eureka!" exclaimed the shade of Darwin. "I have discovered it at last."

"Discovered what?" queered the shade of Huxley.

HAS TAME TIMBER WOLF.

Montana Man Is Followed About Town by Thoroughly Domesticated Animal.

Anaconda, Mont.—A full-blooded timber wolf runs the streets of Anaconda, Mont., every day, following the horse and buggy of Fred Gangner or trotting at the heels of his master like a huge dog, and answering to his whistle or call just as faithfully.

"Jack" is the name he goes by. He is restless, but never ranges far from his master's buggy. Strange dogs that take liberties or try to form his acquaintance usually regret it, for Jack has strong white fangs, and a vicious snap, and has been known to whip a whole pack of unwise city dogs that thought they were dealing with some pariah.

Yet Jack is as gentle as my lady's lap dog, and is particularly fond of Frank and Earl, the young sons of Mr. Gangner. The boys have taught him to fetch and carry and to draw them in their wagon or on their sleds in a harness similar to that used on the dogs in Alaska.

As a watchman the wolf is a perfect guardian of the home, and on camping trips he stays at the camp, and trouble ensues for intruders.

Jack was captured at the Gravell ranch in the Big Hole country two years ago when he was one day old. He was at once taken to Anaconda, and became the property of his present master.

He was adopted by the children, who fed him with milk from a nursing bottle till he was old enough to lap up the milk for himself and at last take kindly to a stronger diet.

He wears a collar now, and every year a tag from the city is placed on it, as is done with dogs. Jack is a faithful fellow, and recently exhibited a wonderful homing instinct that endeared him more than ever to the Gangner family.

He was given to Joseph Desjardin, who lives 15 miles up the hills east of Deer Lodge, Mont. Mr. Desjardin took him in an express car to Deer Lodge, and from there led him behind the wagon to his new home. Jack was gone from Anaconda four days. At the end of that time he scratched at the door of his old home, where he was welcomed joyfully by the children.

The wolf had come home across the country 50 miles; and though wet, dirty, footsore and lame, gave every demonstration of joy on being again in his old quarters, and it will be long before he is banished again.

TELEPHONE IN BATHTUB.

Philadelphia Physician Who Is Hustled Even Out of His Bath.

Philadelphia.—"If all the doctors have been blessed with work as I have the past six months there is certainly room for more men of medicine in Philadelphia," said a North Tenth street doctor the other day. "The fact is that I have had so much to do that I have been nights without sleep at all and on the average I have had three sours' sleep in 24 since the start of winter. Unreasonableness of the season has been the cause of so much more sickness than usual. As a result lots of the doctors are patients themselves. What I started to tell you will probably be doubted, but if you want substantiation you may come up to my house. The number of my patients has so increased, giving me no time to myself at all, that I must hold myself ready to answer a call at my office or outside at any moment. To help me out I had a telephone system arranged in my house that at first covered every room except the bathroom, so that a patient could be put in communication with me wherever I might be, in or out of bed. Well, it got so that I could not even take my bath without having to hustle out of the water and slipping on my robe and rushing to the nearest 'phone. I had to have another 'phone put in, and it is affixed to the bathtub. Not once since I have had it there have I missed being called up to prescribe something for somebody until I could call in person. Maybe my life is not strenuous."

Suicide in Germany.

Official returns give some curious information regarding suicide in Germany. Between 1895 and 1905 the number of suicides has steadily increased, and among women the increase has been relatively greater than among men. This latter fact is attributed to the larger share which women are gradually taking in commercial life and wage-earning. Among men the most common methods of suicide are shooting and drowning, and among women drowning and poisoning. Few women shoot themselves.

County Buys Bloodhound.

A full-blooded bloodhound, the purchase of which has been authorized by the Mackinac county board of supervisors, has been ordered from a fancier at Eagle Lage, Tex., and arrived recently. The dog answers to the name of Jeff Davis. Jeff is a full-grown, trained man-trailer, and cost the county $125 and express charges. The canine will be used in running down criminals. An epidemic of small robberies committed at St. Ignace last summer and fall induced the purchase of the dog.

Even in Japan.

Over in Japan the claim is now being made that Gen. Kodama was the man who really defeated the Russians and that Oyama did nothing but draw the salary.

A certain Pittsburg millionaire visited Philadelphia's academy of the natural sciences. Its collection of stuffed birds is considered one of the finest in America. The custodian could not help praising it. "I've never figured it out," said he, "but it is safe to say, at a guess, that these stuffed birds are worth not less than $200,000." "Heavens!" exclaimed the man of money. "Is it possible! What are they stuffed with?"
