

CAUCUS CALLED FOR THURSDAY

House Democrats Approve Senate's Action.

THREE DECLARE IT WRONG

Majority Members of Senate and House Will Meet at 2 O'Clock in Afternoon of Day Named and Select Candidate for United States Senator—Speaker Vining Outlines His Policy and Declares for Fulfillment of Party Pledges.

Columbus, O., Jan. 3.—A caucus of Democrats in the house of representatives action was taken to concur with the senate Democrats in the call for a joint senatorial caucus Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock. This is one day earlier than requested by Atlee Pomerene of Canton and E. W. Hanley of Dayton, both candidates for Senator Dick's toga.

Representatives Winter of Erie county, Smith of Putler county and White of Sandusky county opposed the action, holding that it was wrong to have a caucus previous to the voting at the session of the assembly next Tuesday, set for the election of a United States senator. An effort to have the caucus held next Monday failed.

The promises contained in the Democratic state platform are as follows: A law fixing the maximum tax rate at 10 mills; a public utilities law; ratification of the income tax amendment to the federal constitution; to aid in securing a constitutional convention of the states to adopt an amendment providing for the election of United States senators by direct vote of the people. The platform says the Democratic party favors a uniform schoolbook law, the principle of the initiative and referendum, the extension of the teaching of agriculture, the promotion of a nonpartisan judiciary by the placing of the names of all judicial candidates on a separate ballot without party distinction, and a law limiting the hours of labor of employed women.

VINING GOES ON RECORD

House Speaker Says Pledges Must Be Fulfilled.

Columbus, O., Jan. 3.—Samuel J. Vining, speaker of the lower house in the Seventy-ninth General assembly, has declared himself on the question of platform pledges. He says that it is the plain duty of the Democratic members of the legislature to make good every promise contained in the party platform; that if they do not the people will decide that the Democratic party went into power in Ohio under false pretenses.

In his opening address before the house he deprecated partisanship in legislation, criticized professional lobbyists and declared emphatically that no bill should be pigeonholed in committee, but that the fate of every bill should be decided openly upon the floor of the house. He urged special attention to legislation in behalf of agriculture, labor and the moral welfare of the state, and urged economy in all directions.

He said the session should be as short as possible, consistent with carrying out the platform pledges and making needed changes in other laws. He declared for "equal rights for all, special privileges for none." Certain senators who have been severely criticized by newspapers because of their legislative records in former sessions are believed to be behind the movement which resulted in changing the senate rules so that newspaper men can be more easily barred from the floor in that branch.

The resolution, which carried, provides that newspaper reporters and stenographers are to receive their credentials hereafter from the standing committee on privileges and elections, instead of from the president of the senate, as has been the custom up to this time.

Franz Josef Prepares to Abdicate. Vienna, Jan. 3.—The report that Emperor Franz Josef of the Austro-Hungarian empire is planning to abdicate in favor of Archduke Ferdinand was received by news of the serious illness of the emperor and the consequent cancellation of all official engagements. While it was announced that the emperor is suffering from a severe cold it is known that he is unable to leave his bed and a court physician is constantly in attendance.

Not Sisters

Now and again you see two women passing down the street who look like sisters. You are astonished to learn that they are mother and daughter, and you realize that a woman at forty or forty-five ought to be as fair as her finest and fairest. Why isn't it so? The general health of woman is so intimately associated with the health of the essentially feminine organs that there can be no red cheeks and round form where there is female weakness.

Women who have suffered from this trouble have found prompt relief and cure in the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It gives vigor and vitality to the organs of womanhood. It clears the complexion, brightens the eyes and reddens the cheeks.

No alcohol, or habit-forming drugs is contained in "Favorite Prescription." Any sick woman may consult Dr. Pierce by letter, free. Every letter is answered as a sacredly confidential, and answered in a plain envelope. Address: Dr. J. C. Rusk, Dispensary Medical Association, Dr. R. V. Pierce, Pres., Buffalo, N. Y.

DESPERADOES MAKE DASH FOR LIBERTY

Sandbag Guard and Escape From Atlanta Jail.

Atlanta, Jan. 3.—After knocking out a guard, five desperate hold-up men escaped from the Atlanta jail, which is considered one of the strongest in Georgia. The men are Charles Sutton, A. H. Knox, James Woodson, Henry Bowman and Charles Langdon. All were held under heavy bonds on charges of highway robbery and attempted murder.

For three weeks they terrorized Atlanta nightly by their hold-ups. A week ago they were captured and lodged in jail. Some friend succeeded in passing them saws and they cut the bars of a window of their cell on the fourth floor of the jail, made a rope of blankets, let themselves down and escaped.

They were discovered as they were about to get away by a guard, but they sandbagged, bound and gagged him and then descended from the window. The prisoners had been gone an hour when the escape was discovered and bloodhounds put on the trail.

Woman Watches Duel. Oklahoma City, Okla., Jan. 3.—To determine which should be the favored suit of a woman G. F. Robinson and J. E. Smith fought a fist duel on a bridge in the outskirts of Lawton. The woman stood on the banks of the river and watched the progress of the combat. It was a terrible hand-to-hand battle and Robinson was so badly beaten that he is now dying.

RADLEY HAS CLOSE CALL

Monoplane Tilted but is Righted by Aviator's Alertness.

Los Angeles, Jan. 3.—James Radley, the English aviator, speed king of the aviation meet, narrowly escaped a fate like Hoxsey's when a gust of wind which struck the right wing of his Blériot monoplane tilted it to a dangerous angle. Only Radley's alertness, the result of a warning to be careful at that point, averted an accident. He succeeded in righting his machine and making a safe landing.

Parmalee and Brookina, with the memory of Huxsey still vivid, gave farewell thrills, including the spiral dive and ocean wave. All the awards have not been made. It is certain that if Hoxsey had lived he would have taken both the height and endurance prizes.

Balloon Lost in Baltic

Berlin, Jan. 3.—The spherical balloon Hildebrandt, which ascended a short distance from this city last Thursday with four passengers, who intended making a 49-hour trip, has not yet been reported. The balloon when last seen was headed in the direction of the Baltic, and it is the belief in aviation circles here that the airman probably came to grief in that sea.

Captain Eastman, Disciple of Mrs. Eddy, Dies in Somerville. Boston, Jan. 3.—Captain Joseph S. Eastman, one of Mrs. Eddy's original students, and for 25 years a Christian Science healer, is dead at his home in Somerville. His widow says that her husband's death was due largely to the recent death of Mrs. Eddy. Captain Eastman took the church leader's death greatly to heart, and a week later began to fail. His grief was such that no ministrations were successful in averting the end, and it came early next week from the night Mrs. Eddy died.

INDICTMENTS NUMBER 1431

Adams County Grand Jury Breaks Record.

COUNTY SEAT IS CROWDED

People From Rural Districts Come in Droves to West Union to Confess Having Sold Their Votes and Receive Punishment at Hands of Judge Blair—Hospitality of Citizens Tested by Influx of Strangers. Court Holds Late Session.

West Union, O., Jan. 3.—Judge A. Z. Blair held court late in order to receive confessions of those corrupted in election bribery. At the regular hour for closing the court session over 300 persons indicted had been arraigned. As the town was filled with offenders anxious to get in their pleas, it was decided to continue the court session as late as possible. All hotel, boarding and rooming-house space was taxed and many private homes were turned open to visitors.

Although Prosecutor Shively and Sheriff J. P. Williams, both newly-elected, assumed office for the first time, there was no cessation in the remarkable activity displayed in the bribery cases. The grand jury reported 132 new indictments, a new record for one day, which brings the total indicted up to 1,431.

Judge Blair again was called upon to disfranchise a boyhood playmate, the son of a man who had befriended him in his youth.

Bonilla Re-enters Honduras

New Orleans, Jan. 3.—Re-entering the country over which he formerly ruled, and from which he was practically banished after being deposed three years ago, Manuel Bonilla proclaimed himself "constitutional president of the republic of Honduras." News of the landing of the Bonilla revolutionary forces on the Atlantic coast of Honduras, near Puerto Cortez, and of the issuance of the former president's proclamation, was received by a member of the Bonilla junta here, in a cable from Puerto Barrios. A combined naval and land attack upon a Puerto Cortez is expected at any moment.

INSURGENTS DISORGANIZED

Mexican Revolution Resolves Itself into Give-and-Take Game.

El Paso, Tex., Jan. 3.—With the rebels disorganized and working only in small bands throughout western Chihuahua and eastern Sonora, the war has resolved itself into a sort of give-and-take game. Reports bring fresh information of the capture of Batopilas by the federals from the rebels and the repulse at Casas Grandes of the rebels by the federals who attacked the place. Both these towns are in Chihuahua.

From La Trinidad, Sonora, comes the verified report that the rebels have captured the mining camps of Ocampo and La Republica, and from Torreon comes the report of the looting by rebels of the Matamoros ranch in the Matamoros municipality and the San Ramon ranch in the Lerdo municipality. Chihuahua reports only an occasional brush west of there with the rebels, but no serious fighting.

Gold Strike May Cause Bloodshed

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Jan. 3.—Fear is felt among the authorities here that the discovery of a rich vein of gold and silver ore on a farm at Holmes, Dutchess county, may lead to bloodshed. Everett R. Davis claims to have first discovered the ore on his own farm, but a dozen or more hunters and mountaineers have staked off claims on the property and say they will protect their claims with gunshot.

Five Children Die in Fire

Pottsville, Pa., Jan. 3.—The five children of John Maskavage lost their lives at Minersville, near here, in a fire which destroyed three houses in the foreign quarter of the town. The children ranged in age from two months to eight years. The infant was burned almost to a crisp, while the other four were slightly burned, death having been caused by suffocation.

SIX KILLED WHEN ENGINE HITS CARS

Men Riding on Pilot Unable to Jump in Time.

Lexington, Ky., Jan. 3.—A wild train of coal cars and an accommodation passenger train collided on the Millers Creek branch of the Chesapeake & Ohio railroad, killing six men. The men were riding on the pilot of the engine and the train was turning a sharp curve when it met the loose cars, and there was not time for the men to jump, all being caught unawares and crushed to death. The dead are: William Akers, brakeman, Catlettsburg; John Wokers, conductor, Louisville; L. E. Vinson, F. U. Fugate and Lemuel Mills, Van Lear; L. A. Smeltzer, Ironton, O.

FOG BLOCKADES NEW YORK

Battleship Fleet Could Not Have Done Better Job.

New York, Jan. 3.—A fleet of battleships could not have blockaded the port of New York more successfully than did the fog. For more than 24 hours the gray pall that overhung the bays and rivers and the sound and extended far out to sea had bottled up traffic by water so well that only one vessel, the El Sol, from Galveston, succeeded in getting by quarantine, though there were nearly a dozen steamers outside the bar all day waiting for a lift of the fog. Not a vessel left the port. There were only three ships scheduled to sail, but none of them dared leave her moorings.

KNABENSHUE HAS THEORY

Says Hoxsey Died From Heart Disease at High Altitude.

Los Angeles, Jan. 3.—Roy Knabenshue, manager of the Wright aviation exhibition troupe, made the startling assertion that Arch Hoxsey, who was killed on Saturday, died from heart disease while 2,000 feet in the air. To this he attributes the apparently uncontrolled rush of the machine to the ground, which caused its complete destruction. Hubert Latham and Glenn H. Curtiss, both of whom studied the descent very closely, are inclined to agree with Knabenshue or to think that Hoxsey lost consciousness while at a great height owing to an attack of "mountain sickness."

MINOR LEAGUES IN UGLY MOOD

DEMAND HIGHER RATING

National Baseball Commission Now Threatened With Open Revolt on Part of Eastern League and American Association if Requests Are Turned Down—Census Figures Show They Are in Position to Invade Major League Territory.

Cincinnati, O., Jan. 3.—When the national baseball commission met in Cincinnati today, it was predicted that the Eastern league and the American association will be turned down in response to their joint demand for a higher classification. If they take the bull by the horns and withdraw from the National Association of Minor Leagues, the commission will declare that they are outlaws and have forfeited a right to protection under the national agreement which governs organized baseball. These big minor leagues have grown so rapidly that the commission and the two major leagues regard them with apprehension. It is feared that if they are permitted to break away from the other minor leagues it will be a difficult task to keep them in subjection, and that in due time they will summon up enough courage to invade major league territory. The new census shows that the Eastern league and the American association control thickly-populated territory, and that there is sufficient patronage to make all of the clubs in those circuits more valuable than ever before. The association embraces Kansas City, Indianapolis, Milwaukee, Louisville, Columbus, Toledo and St. Paul. Of these Kansas City, Indianapolis, Louisville and several in the Eastern league are former National league cities, and are believed to be hankering again for major league ball. By the process of expansion both circuits can be greatly strengthened, and that is the principle reason why the big fellows do not want to grant even the smallest concessions. The association men have often discussed the probable result of an invasion of Chicago, Cleveland, Pittsburgh, Cincinnati or Detroit, while baseball sharps have frequently predicted that some of these days the Eastern league would try to locate new clubs in New York and Brooklyn. If such invasions should materialize, it is pointed out that a combination of the best cities in the two circuits would form a new and powerful major league which would have to be crushed or admitted to the charmed circle with the National and American leagues. The growth of baseball, it is argued by advocates of the big minors, wants a wider scope in the promotion of major league ball, and as more young players are springing up now than in former years, it is believed that the necessary high-class talent would not be hard to find. The American association and the Eastern league are naturally anxious to better themselves by securing a new status that will elevate them higher above the other minor leagues than now, just as the American league did, and which will place them just below the big leagues in point of class and importance. These powerful minors believe that they are entitled to recognition and are prepared to fight for their rights if the moguls at Cincinnati refuse to grant their appeals.

NORRIS STOCK GOES UP

Montana Governor Has Good Chance For Senatorship.

Helena, Mont., Jan. 3.—The senatorial situation shows a decided tendency toward the selection of Governor Edwin L. Norris as Thomas H. Carter's successor. It is generally believed that neither Walsh nor Conrad will secure the vote, the former because of corporate opposition and the latter owing to the belief that, while he has acquired a fortune, he is hardly what is desired respecting senatorial qualifications. In consequence, the stock of Governor Norris as a dark horse is rising rapidly and, while not an avowed candidate, he would accept if elected.

New System Costly.

Columbus, O., Jan. 3.—The abolishing of the fee system in county offices in Huron county was not a success financially. The report of State Examiner Ralph H. Cope shows that it cost the county $5,552.71 more than the fee system would have done. The examiner found discrepancies in the county accounts which amounted to $1,954.08. This amount, he says, should be refunded.

GAS SUPPLY GIVES OUT

Kansas City Coal Dealers Unable to Supply Demand.

Kansas City, Mo., Jan. 3.—With a temperature of 5 degrees below zero, Kansas City is facing a famine in natural gas, which is generally used for heating and lighting, and coal dealers are swamped with orders. The gas company has warned consumers in the outlying portions, covering an area of probably 30 square miles, that they will be almost wholly without gas.

The temperature fell 50 degrees in eight hours. The prediction of the weather bureau is that the temperature will hover around the zero mark for three days and possibly more.

In the cattle country northwest of Salina a strong, bitter wind from the north prevailed, blowing a light snow into drifts. There is much suffering among the cattle on the ranges, where the temperature fell to 10 below zero.

Six Trains Stalled.

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 3.—The worst storm of several winters has the northwest in its grip. Trains are from two to seven hours late, street-cars are having their difficulties, and the storm handicaps both telephone and telegraph service. A 40-mile-an-hour gale and a heavy fall of snow have made traffic difficult. Six trains are reported stalled on the Illinois Central between Sioux City and Port Dodge. Several trains to South Dakota points have been abandoned and those arriving are from six to eight hours late.

Fire Accompanies Blizzard.

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 3.—As a result of the blizzard which involved this section of the northwest, it is estimated that $1,000,000 has been lost through fires. The Columbia hotel, valued at $150,000, at Moorehead, Minn., was completely destroyed. The Metropolitan block in Duluth, valued at $200,000, was burned. The business section of Bismarck was swept by a $50,000 blaze, and there were scores of smaller fires throughout the three states with at least $50,000 loss.

Mexicans Feel Wintry Blasts.

San Antonio, Tex., Jan. 3.—With furious blasts of snow, one of the severest blizzards in many years is sweeping this section of Texas. The temperature reached 15 degrees below, a record for January. In Mexico the frost is reported as far south as Saltillo, and ice is reported as far south as Monterey. With practically no clothes and without fires the suffering among the poor in old Mexico is great. The deaths from exposure will at least number 100.
