TATE BRADY CALLED DOWN BY POLICE COURT JUDGE

Fined $25 for Failure to Pay Occupation Tax; Attempts to Walk Out of Courtroom.

Tate Brady found yesterday afternoon that it was just as necessary to "watch your step" when facing the Tulsa municipal court as during trial in any other judicial assembly. Brady's attempt to walk from the courtroom after he had been fined $25 for failure to pay occupation tax, when he had only $20 up as bond, caused him to be halted back "before the mahogany," where he was sharply called down by Judge Duncan.

"Mr. Brady, I know you only by reputation, and while you are before this court you are just the same as any citizen," the judge said.

"I know that, but I have a house with nine men—started Brady, but the judge interrupted with "I don't care if you have a house with nine hundred men in it, you cannot walk out of this court before you have made arrangements relative to your fine."

Complaint had been made by John Esley, city license inspector, that Brady had not paid occupation tax on his store, which had been due for some time. Brady refused to make any defense in the case, only stating that it was a persecution on Esley's part for an old grievance he had against him and that he was going to carry it to a higher court.

Light Breakfasts

Thoughtful people these days are urging economy in eating, and many are even advocating "no breakfast."

The "no breakfast" plan may agree with some, but most people feel better and work better on at least a light breakfast.

A great many have found that a liberal dish of Grape-Nuts, served with cream, milk, or fruit juice furnishes ample morning nourishment, is easily digested and promotes buoyancy and clearness of mind.

Grape-Nuts

contains all the nourishing goodness of wheat and barley, including the vital mineral salts of the grain, and is a most delicious food.
