

SOCIALISTS ORGANIZE NEW GERMAN CABINET

Majority and Independent Parties Divide Powers, Each Having Three Members of Government.

REVOLUTION IS SPREADING

East Prussia Brought Within Grip of Revolt—Order Maintained Says Report From Berlin.

COPENHAGEN, Nov. 14.—(AP) The new German government has been organized with the following cabinet members:

Premier and Minister Interior and Military Affairs—Friedrich Ebert. Foreign Affairs—Hugo Haase.

Finance and Colonies—Philipp Scheidemann. Transport, Justice and Health—Wilhelm Dittmann.

Publicity, Art and Literature—Herr Landsberg. Social Policy—Richard Barth.

Announcement of the membership of the new German government confirms previous reports that the cabinet would be composed entirely of socialists.

The majority socialists who supported the imperial government during the war, are represented by Ebert, Scheidemann and Landsberg, while the independent socialists are Haase, Dittmann and Barth.

Herr Dittmann, who acts as the Reichstag as a deputy from Hamburg, was sentenced to imprisonment last February in connection with labor troubles in Berlin.

It was reported through Copenhagen under date of Monday that he had resigned from the government after a stormy meeting of the cabinet.

BERN, Wednesday, Nov. 13.—The new Berlin government, according to the Frankfort Zeitung, after some resistance from the independent socialists, has resolved that as soon as the business program has been settled it will take up the question of the convocation of the national assembly.

News reaching here seems to show that a serious effort is being made in Berlin to maintain order and to prevent the movement from degenerating into anarchy.

The Vosstische Zeitung publishes a notice to the public that persons again will be permitted in the streets after dark until 8 p. m.

notice to the public that persons again will be permitted in the streets after dark until 8 p. m. This same newspaper announces the arrest of two civilians and three soldiers for pillaging. They were sentenced to death.

In the south the movement has taken on a more democratic than subversive character. At Stuttgart a purely socialist government was formed at first, but now three representatives of the bourgeoisie have joined the ministry. The city is orderly.

BASEL, Wednesday, Nov. 13.—The revolutionary government is spreading strongly in east Prussia. A semi-official dispatch from Berlin reports that Koenigsberg, Allenstein, Insterburg, Gumbinnen and Irgauen are in the hands of the revolutionists.

Governor von Danneberg, former German food minister, has put himself at the disposal of the revolutionists.

BASEL, Wednesday, Nov. 13.—The revolutionary government at Mannheim, Badst and Heidelberg has announced the Grand Duke of Baden to abdicate.

COPENHAGEN, Wednesday, Nov. 13.—The abolition of Leopold IV, Prince of Lippe, and Duke Leopold of Anhalt, are reported from Berlin. The latter has signed the throne in favor of his son, Joachim Ernst, who was born January 11, 1901.

CAUTION TO BE FOLLOWED IN CANCELLING CONTRACTS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—Munitions contracts for the army are to be cancelled with utmost caution so as to safeguard the interests of both labor and capital. All portions of the war department, it was learned today, are making a careful survey of the outstanding contracts and recommendations are being formulated to cover the industrial demobilization involved in the cessation of work on guns, shells and equipment.

Officials said today that thus far only one contract has been terminated, it being an order for motor truck equipment upon which work had not been started and to the cancellation of which all parties were agreeable.

Paris Censorship Eased. PARIS, Nov. 14.—It is understood that there is to be no further political censorship on press dispatches leaving Paris, and that there is to be full recognition of the principle of open diplomacy.

Premier Clemenceau has expressed himself positively in favor of there being the freest of press telegraphic facilities, now that military precautions are unnecessary.

PEORIA, Ill., Nov. 14.—War between the major leagues and the minor organizations of the country threatens to develop as a result of action taken at the annual meeting of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues here today protesting against the drafting of players from the minors.

Thomas J. Hickey, president of the American association, urged the minor league organizations to withdraw from the national agreement with the majors if the demand is refused. A committee consisting of Holland, Tearey and Joe Tinker, owner of the Columbus club of the American league, was appointed to present the protest to the national baseball commission at its first meeting.

"We shall demand the right to dispose of our young stars to whom we see fit instead of the major league clubs at prices ranging from $2,500 down to $750 as prevail under existing conditions," President Tearey said.

The minor leagues however, desire to reserve the privilege of drafting players within their own organization, high leagues drawing from lower class organizations under present regulations.
