IS WANTED AT WASHINGTON

Fight Against Unreserved Ratification Needs Leader at Helm.

LINCOLN, Neb., Sept. 18.—As Senator Hiram Johnson of California continues slowly the middle west on "the trail of President Wilson," it becomes more evident that the people of the states of the country are regarding the league of nations and the peace pact as a primary issue to be solved, rather than as a subject to be accepted because it sounds good.

Today the senator received scores of telegrams urging him to present his arguments against the league in cities not on his schedule. But one of these invitations—that from Julius Schmahl, secretary of state for Minnesota, has been accepted. The Minnesota legislature had passed a joint resolution asking Senator Johnson to address the legislature Friday morning at St. Paul.

The senator addressed the Lincoln commercial club at noon today. His speech followed the general lines followed by the senator since he left Washington. He was warmly received.

Senator Johnson has been receiving daily reports on the fight for and against the league of nations and the Versailles treaty, both from Washington and the California coast where President Wilson is carrying his fight for the ratification of the treaty without amendments or reservations.

The senator's colleagues are urging him to hasten his return to the nation's capital to aid in the fight against unreserved acceptance of the treaty and the league covenant.

His friends on the California coast are urging him to extend his trip to California. According to one report received by the senator today, the attitude of the golden state on the treaty is in doubt.

As yet Senator Johnson has not decided whether to return to Washington or continue on to the Pacific coast after completing his present schedule in Minneapolis Saturday night.

"I want to go to California," he said, "but I do not want to risk losing any of our voting strength in the senate.

"The first amendment to the covenant that would call for a vote is the one I presented and calling for equal voting powers in the league between the United States and Great Britain, which now has six votes to our one.

"This amendment probably can be carried over until my return, but as things now stand in Washington there can be nothing foreseen with absolute certainty."

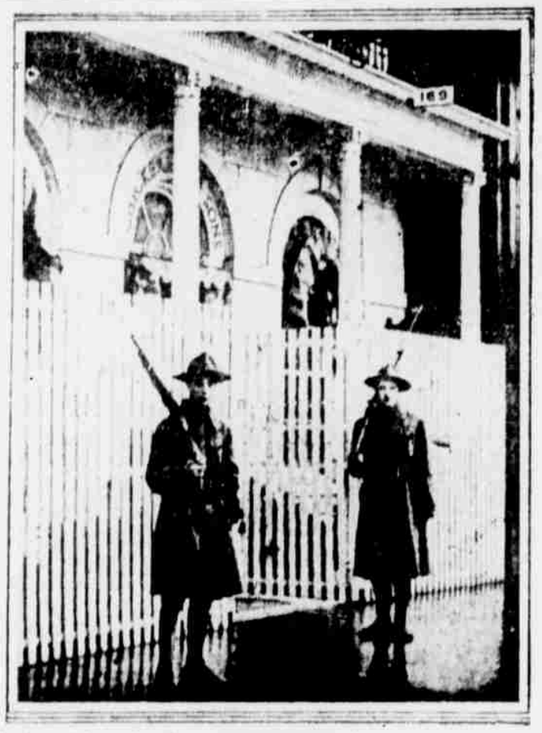
Leading Banks of Boston Construct Barricade Against Possible Robbery



Fearing violence by the roaming mobs of hoodlums and thieves it was deemed necessary to barricade the entrances to the leading banks of Boston. Looters and looting have flourished in the city since the policemen left their posts. The banks are also protected by armed guards.

OPPOSES PROPOSED LAW FOR WATER CARRIERS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—Opposing those features of proposed legislation for railroad organization which would place water carriers under the control of the interstate commerce commission, W. E. Clark of Seattle, Wash., representing the Pacific Steamship company, today told the house interstate commerce committee such legislation "might result in delegating American shipping to the boneyard."

"Except for the railroads," he declared "the public has generally believed its interests well served by water lines."

Mr. Clark also asserted that European diplomatic methods included "insidious propaganda," designed to prevent American shipping from successful competition with foreign ships.

Legislation to benefit water lines, Mr. Clark urged, should permit a free hand in competitive foreign commerce, including Alaska, and provision for export and import rates on American rail lines applying only to water freight moved by American ships.

JOHNSON DENOUNCES LEAGUE AS INFAMOUS

Senator Trailing President Delivers Address at Lincoln, Neb., Opposing Treaty.

INDEPENDENCE IS DENIED

Country Is Thrown Into International Confederation—Americanism Is Put Into Discard.

LINCOLN, Neb., Sept. 18.—In addressing a large and enthusiastic gathering here last night, senator Hiram W. Johnson of California denounced the league of nations covenant as an infamous document and declared that its adoption would result in the destruction of the country's independence and its submergence into an international confederation and require the expenditure of the future independence of action. It would be well, said he, to pay money to maintain the American army.

Senator Johnson said:

"The president has made and asked the senate to approve a league covenant that is to be bigger than our constitution. Except the sovereign people, no power on earth can legally change our constitution, or make another to override it. None but the people should be permitted to throw this independent republic into an international confederation where it will necessarily lose its independence of action. The people in no line, but no public servant or servants of those people should be permitted to do it. It is admitted by the president that we lose our independence in the league. Misty internationalism has been substituted for Americanism.

After enumerating the various burdens which the peace pact imposes on the United States, Senator Johnson said:

"The great, fundamental question which every American father and mother should answer is this: Shall American boys' police the world? Shall American blood uphold, maintain and preserve old world governments and the territorial integrity of the nations which have immensely increased their boundaries?"

Dress Contortions Are Blamed on Men and the Garment Trust

NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—Man in general, and "a great trust of garment manufacturers in particular," are responsible for the "contortions" which women undergo in order to wear so called fashionable clothes, the international conference of women physicians was told today by Mrs. Beatrice Forbes-Robertson Hale.

Man, according to Mrs. Hale, "has to have a little surface fun among the ladies," to flatter his conceit that he can afford such a luxury.

While man was castigated by Mrs. Hale as the primary cause of "women's follies a different explanation of society was offered by Dr. Edith Hale Swift of Boston. Doctor Swift found the origin of the extravagance and unwholesome style to appear in the woman who makes "an exaggerated sex appeal for leaps and bounds."

The money produced for this type of woman, asserted Doctor Swift, are squandered by the unthinking women of leisure in search of the easiest way to charm and show off her unearned money.

In turn, Doctor Swift held, the woman of leisure is feebly copied by the great mass of women workers.

EIGHT ARE INDICTED IN OIL STOCK PROBE

Twenty-Five Persons Charged With Participation in "Unsecured" Sales Netting Million Dollars.

CHICAGO, Sept. 18.—Eight indictments charging 25 members of a clique with participation in the sale of "unsecured" oil and mine stocks throughout the country which is said to have netted the crooks more than $1,000,000 were to be reported before Chief Justice Crowe in criminal court today.

The charges in the indictments range from obtaining money under false pretenses to operating a confidence game and embezzlement, and in the lobby pages appear the names of bankers, brokers, lawyers, politicians and men prominent in New York, Pittsburgh, Philadelphia, Montclair, N. J., and Chicago.

The keystone charge is that Charles W. French, alleged leader of the clique, entered into a conspiracy to swindle the public by organizing stock companies and marketing stock certificates without having securities to back them.

The following true bills were voted late yesterday:

Charles W. French, Henry H. Leggett said to be legal adviser of the crowd; Alva E. Harshaw, president of the American Transit company; Charles W. Deacke, president of the Tegeas Securities exhibition; George R. Kent, former cashier of the Bank of Commerce and Savings; H. L. Thornburgh, trustee of the Transit Securities company; Daniel Sisler, cashier of the Mount Carmel (Illinois) Trust and Savings bank; V. N. Travis, trustee Transit Securities company; George E. Burroughs, New York broker; Frank H. Collins, broker; C. Lawrence Paul, W. Crosby, Cleveland; Owen T. Evans, formerly employed in the office of the National Bank Examiners; David H. Bodine, attorney; E. W. Bassett and John Aasgren of Indianapolis; George V. Moss and Markwood Cooper, Frankford, Ind.; James L. Adams, former Pennsylvania state senator and Pittsburgh attorney.
