

WAR WITHOUT FAILURE
DECLARES GEN. HAAN

Replies to Questions Before House Committee and Disputes Claim of Unnecessary Losses.

LIKES YOUNG SOLDIER BEST

Boys Better Able to Withstand the Rigors of Warfare, He Asserts—Outlines Force Needed.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—There were no great failures of the American armies in this war. They accomplished wonderful results victoriously asserted Gen. William Haan this afternoon before the House Military Affairs committee.
General Haan commended a division of Wood's and Mickey's regiment guards, which saw service in these little fronts in France.

Representative Hall Iowa, had said the failures of the war department were getting supplies to the front and doing for two years in getting guns and ammunition.

"The general staff had sufficient power to have provided such supplies. It did not do so and I can imagine there were the failures," he said.

"You can't get these supplies without money, and it takes time to get them with money," retorted General Haan. "The greatest need was for officers. I think I had the best training division in the war. It made no failures."

In reply to questions General Haan said that 300,000 of 18 and 19 made the best soldiers.

"I want the young men," he said.
"They can stand more. None of my men of 20 fell out during the fight, but few of 35 years stood up during the 20 days continuous fighting we waged. Many nights the troops stood in the open rain-soaked field, getting not more than two hours sleep at night. The young men recovered quickly, the older men could not."

"Did their training in the national guard help them?" asked representative Field.

"Their organization and discipline did, but their training helped them but little," said General Haan.
"Money for a reorganized army submitted by General Haan were war department staff and organization duties, 4,000 officers and 25,000 men, outfitting service, 2,700 officers, 66,000 men; home coast artillery, 250 officers, 8,000 men; training force for overseas military training, 5,000 officers, 100,000 men; overseas service for division corps, citizen organizations, etc., 1,400 officers, 6,000 men; border service, 3,000 officers, 45,000 men; total, 21,500 officers, 285,000 men.

CHICAGO MAN TORTURED
TO DEATH POLICE THINK

CHICAGO, Sept. 24.—That W. H.
Purcell, who was found dead in his apartment on the north side last Monday, died from heart failure while he was being tortured in an effort to make him disclose the hidden place of a fortune in securities and cash, was the new theory on which the police started work today in their effort to clear up the death of the wealthy song writer and real estate man.

The new explanation of the crime was advanced following the discovery that $25,000 in Liberty bonds which Purcell had secreted in his apartment were missing.

Purcell's body was bound with ropes and there was a rag in his mouth when the police entered the flat.

CONSUMERS CAN
RULE SAYS CLARK

Missouri Congressman Talks to Convention of Advertising Men at New Orleans.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 24.—Warning by Champ Clark, Missouri congressman, that the balance of power in the capital and labor controversies of the present-day was with the consumers if organized, the nomination of vice presidents and the launching of a boom by the Oregon delegation for Arthur G. Newmeyer of New Orleans for president of the association, marked the second day's activities at the fifteenth annual convention of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World here yesterday.

"The 110,000,000 of consumers in the United States are the real power," said the former speaker of the house.
"They are not organized but they can be organized. When the consumers form into an unified organization with a common purpose they will run things."

The eight men nominated for vice presidents of the organization and reported by the committee included Reuben H. Dunneley, Chicago, and John King, Jr., St. Louis. Their election is practically assured.
The convention's conference of departments continued through the day. A boat trip in the harbor and pageant picturing New Orleans before the civil war were the principal activities of the night.

WAR VESSELS ARE TIED UP

Eleven Held in New York Due to Shortage of Enlisted Men.

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—Eleven U.
S. war vessels are tied up at the New York navy yard without crews sufficiently large to man them, and it was said today that as a result of a shortage of enlisted men and the possibility of many resignations because of salaries, among the officers, the annual fall and winter maneuvers of the Atlantic fleet may have to be abandoned.

PRESIDENT GROWING
BITTER OVER TREATY

Accepts Issue in Address at Salt Lake City and Says He Will Fight for League Until the Last.

COMPROMISE IS TALKED OF

Incorporation of Interpretations in Ratification Resolution May Be Basis of Every Action.

ON BOARD PRESIDENT WILSON'S SPECIAL TRAIN EN ROUTE TO CHERRY HILLS, N.Y., Sept. 24.
With a determination of war in his mind and a demand that the senate ratify the league of nations without the loss of ratification of the treaty of Versailles as a guarantee peace or the war must continue, President Wilson moved seaward today.

The president has decided that the issue has been raised by his government. Last night in the sacred tabernacle of the Mormon church Mr.
Wilson explained his position. It effect he said.

"Any rejection of this treaty leaves the United States as an ally of Germany."
"Amendments to this treaty which make necessary results in an obligatory power, including Germany's defeat the objects of the war."

"Opponents of the treaty must consider whether they intend to maintain the republic's position without their believing that this is Lafayette."

"The president was extremely bitter last night. He approved the peace of the world's national peace. No one could doubt that. While he did not make any issue of the campaign to come, he made it plain that he would not accept the treaty, and the bleeding heart of the world depends upon America."

The president was very much disheartened by the events of last night in the house of Representatives. The Mormons that mean integrity, honor and Americanism—he cited statements of the leaders of the church which spontaneously he said were accepted as a criticism of the senior senator of the state. Yet he did not criticize Mr. Rusk, neither did he criticize Senator Hurrah.
The president is going to carry the war straight home to the senators who now are opposing him on political lines. He said last night that he could not understand their position.
I know of my own knowledge that the president has not yet accepted the fact that the members of his Special to The World.

CHICAGO, Sept. 24.—At a mass meeting held at the county court house, Grady county citizens adopted resolutions urging the immediate ratification of the peace treaty, including the league of nations.

own party in the senate are opposing him for avoiding that political purpose.
The president today declared emphatically, "I don't care what the American people want (the treaty ratified)." Then he said that in his opinion the opposition came from the pro-Germans in America. You must argue with the president of the United States.

In Push Fight, it is possible to say that President Wilson is not arguing today with any one. He ended his argument last night in Salt Lake. He won't let anyone else argue for or against the league of nations.
The response apparently satisfied him.
He is on his way back to Cherry Hills.
He has a final fight on the Pacific coast. He will be in the congress in Washington.

The president personally plans to force the fighting in the senate. If the senate of Versailles immediately upon his arrival in Washington next week. For the four or five days there has been an almost constant exchange of resolutions between Mr.
Wilson and the Democratic leaders also are handled in the senate. The floor of the upper house of congress.
Every move that has transpired on the floor of the senate immediately has been reported to the president by Senator Charles McNary, his chief counsel or by Rudolph Prester, his assistant secretary in the white house. The president has not argued about any suggestion made by either source. But he has insisted in all his messages that he will not permit any argument that is not founded upon a basis of facts.

There was a well defined report today that negotiations are in progress in Washington between administration leaders in the senate and the republican senators looking to an agreement that would have the sanction of the president, which would absolutely insure ratification.
No one seems to be president would discuss this report in any of its aspects. However, the gist of the plan as understood here, was to have the obligatory provisions that the president has designated as a separate resolution from that ratifying the treaty, proposed in such a manner that they would not have to be re-submitted to the senate lowered so that they would be a part of the ratification resolution. Such action it was said would satisfy a great number of republican members and ensure speedy ratification. If the plan is put through it is claimed that it will mean a speedy voting down of all textual amendments and confirmation within the coming three weeks.

The general public is at the present time more or less confused and perplexed with all the agitation, etc., re-

By talking around and in generalities by the local mer-
