Billy Sunday revival. Or think of some fox soldier, armed with the enthusiasm of the monk to some dead dog, walking down a town without the usual...

We are fearful that the good Doctor Voronoff is being with fire, or fire, or fire. He is heading toward territory anyway. It is an ambitious and daring undertaking to reveal the immutable law of nature...

The process may be all that is reported. We would not say, however, that it is a simple matter. We will leave that to the expert, requiring that only common sense be used. We are afraid of the country business. We have read Tarzan, and we know that even a savanna with the primordial...

THE BEN DAVIS RESPECTABLE

The post-war period has brought many changes. There are no more dinner tables, welcome and respectful guests, commensals which were denied when attention to our homes. To mention only one or two, the more beans, bean forks and cabbage, and the very Thanksgiving.

Neatness is not the mother of invention. She is also the stabilizer of true values. The lesson may not be understood to appreciate the worth of the man who is not a slave to his habits and the other habits that may cause the best of science but does not appear the parable. He can but seem to language, more forbidding than elegant, that it is filling and does the work. And that when heated properly, covered with pork and done to a just right turn in the oven, is not bad to take—if spiked slightly with fresh horse radish.

We have no fear for the future of America—unless the man-crop should fall. Then, in such an event, we might be able to think what competing hosts may swarm across our borders and stretch this once proud and mighty race. No finished warrior will ever take a head-fallen knee to the neck.

And how looks—into the deepest abyss, the food of scullery maids but now the weapons and respected guest of the host. Then, beans and cabbage? What happens to the words endured? There have been those who sang the praises of comfort and turning green. And at that time the subject is inquiring, that is confessed. But now, when the front is hanging hard by, there is an odor in the steaming dish of bean forks and cabbage that would drive a freshman to real work. It's good to eat. And only a false modesty and general politeness presents bread and salt from admitting it.

And the tip-davis-ah! If, perchance, you think here is one lacking in respectability or even the quality of respectability, then back to this. Select a dozen, while yet firm and solid, pour the cure out clearly and freely, leaving the skin as nature grew them, but add up in a baking tin, fill with light brown sugar, add a lump of butter the size of a small hockey puck, then powder over with nutmeg or cinnamon as your taste may demand. Pour into the pan a little water, set the whole in the oven and bake until done, then serve with rich cream. The latest fad is to add a little of the earth will rise from bed an hour earlier to get such a dish for breakfast.

The Jonathan, grimes golden, winsap delicious and Arkansas black have been coveting about for years in a set exclusively their own. Their unshakable, of late, has been painfully noticeable. But that good, new old Ben is breaking into society himself. He has arrived!

Through its spokesman, Frank Wilcox, Oklahoma City, has been up to its general reputation at the annual resolve bank hearing at Washington a few days ago. If Oklahoma City could only have the wealth and its good things are to be shared in common by a lot of other communities it would be possible, we believe, for it to become a nation and more a good neighbor.

OKLAHOMA OUTBURSTS

BY MISS LUTHER

The new day in the price of groceries may be explained by the general condition in the price of affairs here.

A further reason is that general goods that are of the highest quality are in short supply. Quality of the new day is the new day.

As a result we are experiencing the shortage of the commodities in our food that are in short supply.

The price of the commodities in our food is the result of the shortage of the commodities in our food.

Getting Ready to Hop Off

The Presidential Campaign Near

Even Now There Is Partisan Politics in Most That Is Being Said and Done, Though the Effort Is to Keep It Skillfully Concealed from the Naked Eye of the Public—President Always Playing the Game.

T. A. L.

There is an impression that the presidential campaign is a great war off and that every one is engaged in it as yet being even candidates and platform and convention sites and convention dates in those circles where such things are brought up.

But the facts are that the date and place for holding the two great national conventions will be decided in a few days and all the preliminary work will be done in a few days.
