

In Society • Woman's World and Work

By Lina Crawford Perkins

From out the vibrant mystery of night,
On the wings of the wind, my dreams come flocking
And the desolate hours of loneliness
Is filled with new hope that seems cruelly mocking.
But today is a-gone down the road of my past,
Tomorrow looms somewhere ahead in the mist,
If tonight is of bitterness and solitary brooding
I pray the morn comes to me, dew-kissed
With a sunrise of splendor, a sky crystal blue
And a heart that goes forward with faith all anew.
—Mary Smith Baker.

"Merode" and "Harvard Mills" Underwear

You'll enjoy every crisp, sparkling fall and winter day if you wear "Merode" or "Harvard Mills" hand-finished underwear—it keeps you so cozily warm! Yet it fits so perfectly and is finished so well that it won't make the lines of your suit made with the finish that will

Elizabeth Ann Looks About Town and She Says--

Hallow'een—relic of pagan times—when witches came with their wild and mysterious influence, cutting capers with the mere earthly mortals. Even now Hallow'een is looked forward to as a night for hilarious sports, when Fancies and some whom we hesitate to call Fairy folk go out playing pranks on their neighbors. However, in this age of the "safe and sane Fourth" we are more inclined to celebrate this eve of All-Saints Day by giving merry, jolly parties, where ghosts are given a hearty welcome and the witch with her magic charm is the center of attraction, and here's hoping she brings an excitingly happy message to you.

The Elizabeth Ann Toddler is a very popular character in the club members and the club members were very much interested in the club members.
