

CARL ADAMS SHAKES JINX AND OILERS WIN FROM SAINTS, 5 TO 2

Davis, Connelly and Brannon Get 7 of Oilers' 9 Safe Hits

Connelly Gets a Home Run; Davis Hits 3 in 3 Trips.

BRANNON BATS TIMELY

Two Blows Drive in Runs; Brilliant Fielding Features Game.

By LARRY DAILEY

Carl Adams put his left shoe on first yesterday, walked to the ball park by a new route, and the god of fortune smiled on the crack Oilers right hander, and aided by his mates he was able to break the jinx that has persistently dogged the Oilers by beating the Saints, 5 to 2, in the first game of the series from St. Joseph, 5 to 2.

Yesterday's game was one of the postponed affairs which lined out in the first southern trip of the Saints to Oklahoma City and Omaha at Tulsa yesterday. The game was played Sunday, thus giving the Oilers and St. Joseph the opportunity to play a game and also Omaha and Oklahoma City, which have rained out games.

Adams Tied in Pinches.

Adams pitched his usual effective game, holding the champions to eight hits, seven of them singles, and struck out six. Only one run, Brubaker's home run in the first inning, was earned by the Saints, an error giving them the chance to score their second run in the fifth inning. Adams was in especially fine form when the Saints threatened and he had enough in reserve to turn them back when the Oilers were in danger. All of Adams' strikeouts were registered with men on bases, two of them retiring the Saints for the third out.

The lower half of the Oilers' batting order batted out yesterday's victory over St. Joseph. "Yank" Davis got three hits in as many trips, including a double and triple. Connelly a home run and single in three times up and Brannon a double and single in a trio of efforts. Adams singled and scored in three times up. The other hit of the Oilers' nine was made by Burke. The Oilers made splendid use of their hits, seven of the nine contributing to the score. Four of those nine were for extra bases.

Stewart was accorded splendid support by the Saints, only one error being made by them while three misplays were made by Adams' help, one being responsible for a run. Brilliant fielding plays by both clubs aided the pitchers in keeping down the score.

Oilers Take Lead in Second After Brubaker's home run had put the Saints one run ahead in the first the Oilers took the lead in the second by scoring two. One was won when Connelly singled to right. Davis crashed the right field wall for two bases, the Oilers' lead to left and Connelly and Davis scored, the latter showing some great base running by getting off fast and sprinting home close behind Connelly.

The Abbots made three and three final runs in the fourth frame. Connelly hunted foul and then swung sending the ball over the right field barrier for a home run. Davis hit the center field wall for three bases and scored on Brannon's smashing double to left. Adams sacrificed. Conroy to Connelly. Brannon went to third. Burke grounded to Connelly. Brubaker juggled Graham's bouncer and Brannon scored. One more of the last of the game, was scored by the Saints in the fifth. Cleveland fumbled Crosby's grounder, Stewart singled to center. Crosby going to second. Emerich's long single to left scored Crosby.

Notes of the Game

Today is ladies' day at McNulty park. The fair farmers have shown their appreciation of the courtesy of the free gate every Tuesday by a large attendance.

Ray Richmond is the likely Tulsa pitching selection. "Mut" Williams will probably toil on the slab for the Saints. Connelly's fielding on Brubaker's single in the third inning held the Saint infielder on first base.

Tierney hit in hard luck yesterday, all his three hit balls going to deep fields.

Kelleher's throw from deep short, catching Cleveland at first in the third inning got a big hand.

Johnny, incidentally, is one of the best infielders outside the major league.

Graham's catch of Cleveland's throw of Conroy's grounder in the fourth inning was a continuation of the splendid fielding the big first baseman has been showing all season.

McManus made a spectacular one-hand leaving catch of Conroy's liner in the sixth inning.

Scout Bob Haller of the Pittsburgh Pirates watched yesterday's game. Haller is the fifth scout who has been here this season.
