

WRECK VICTIMS DASHED TO DEATH

Passengers of Ill-Fated Ship Tossed on Rocks by Breakers

GRAPHIC STORY TOLD

One Survivor Tells of Fights Among Drowning for Vantage Points on Rocks

CORUNNA, Spain, Jan. 5.—Most of the 80 odd persons removed from the wreck of the Spanish steamer Santa Isabel, which went aground near Villa Garcia early Sunday with the loss of 214 lives, were still in such a condition of exhaustion that they were unable today to supply details of the shipwreck or their experiences afterward. The most graphic narrative was given by Fernandez Alvarez of Avila, who, although he was unable to throw any new light on the circumstances leading to the disaster, drew a striking picture of the desperate struggle for life by the passengers and crew thrown into the sea by the waves after the vessel crashed. Alvarez said he found himself in the water being tossed about by terrific breakers in pitch darkness. Many of those who went overboard were killed, he said, by being hurled against the rocky shore while vainly trying to obtain a foothold on the slippery sea-covered stones. Others were able to grasp projections and hold on, exhausted and half covered with icy water.

In some cases several persons tried to seize the same projection, a struggle for life ensuing in which the weaker swimmers succumbed, slipped away and drowned. The cries of the women and children could be heard on all sides for some time, Alvarez said, but one by one the struggling victims were silenced by the waves.

Many of those who were rescued are in such a weak state and suffering so severely from exposure that the physicians fear death from pneumonia will be numerous among them.

No Navy Alliance With Canada. WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—The United States has no plans for a naval alliance with Canada on the Pacific, Secretary of the Navy Daniels stated today. Reports current in London have stated that a newly created Canadian navy is to cooperate with the United States navy in the Pacific, using American naval bases. These are entirely unfounded, Secretary Daniels said today.

WOMEN NEED SWAMP-ROOT

Thousands of women have kidney and bladder trouble and never suspect it.

Women's complaints often prove to be nothing else but kidney trouble or the result of kidney or bladder disease. If the kidneys are not in a healthy condition, they may cause the other organs to become diseased. Pain in the back, headache, loss of ambition, nervousness, are often times symptoms of kidney trouble. Don't delay starting treatment. Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, a physician's prescription, obtained at any drug store, may be just the remedy needed to overcome such conditions. Get a medium or large size bottle immediately from any drug store. However, if you wish to test this great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention this paper.—Adv.

Quaker Minister Is Grateful to Tanlac

Nearly everybody in Southwest Missouri either knows or has heard of the Rev. Parker Moon, who for a full half century has devoted his life and talents to Sunday school and organization work for the Society of Friends or Quakers. He resides at 628 Howard avenue, Carthage, Mo. "Uncle Parker," as he is more familiarly known, came from fine old rugged Quaker stock, and there is not a better known or more highly respected citizen in that part of the state. In referring to his remarkable restoration to health by Tanlac, he said: "About five years ago I suffered a general breakdown. My principal trouble was nervous indigestion. My appetite was very poor and my food seldom agreed with me, and I had to live on a very restricted diet. I suffered a great deal from headaches and dizzy spells. I had severe pains across the small of my back and was badly constipated most of the time. In fact, I was so weak and rundown I was not able to attend to my duties. "This condition made me very nervous and I could not sleep at night. Frequently I would lie awake most all night and was in that condition more or less for five years. My physician said he could not do anything for me and suggested a change of climate. I then moved to Texas and went back and forth three times but did not get the relief I had hoped for. Finally, I got so bad off I was not able to get around with any degree of comfort. I was also told I had heart trouble. "I had read about Tanlac and, as it had been very highly recommended to me, I decided to try it. I got a bottle and had taken only a few doses until I could notice a marked improvement in my condition. I noticed especially that I was not troubled any more with sour stomach after eating, which was a great relief. "I kept on taking Tanlac until I fully regained my health. My appetite is splendid; I enjoy my meals and I do not find it necessary now to take any laxative medicines of any kind. I can sleep much better and am not nearly so nervous. "I take great pleasure in recommending Tanlac to anyone who needs a good system builder, or who suffers with stomach trouble. I have recommended Tanlac to a great many of my friends and am pleased to reach others by giving this statement for publication. "Tanlac is sold in Tulsa exclusively by the Quaker and Puritan Drug Companies.—Adv.

The Inspiration for a Great Novel

TOWARD sunset of a California evening, Peter B. Kyne and I—no man ever had a better companion than Peter B. Kyne—drove up to one of those picturesque old missions in southern California. A hooded and sandaled padre welcomed us. We strolled into the churchyard just as the evening bells were tolling.

We were studying the old Spanish names on the gravestones and musing on the California that was when we came upon one stone that startled us to attention.

Sacred to the Memory of Patrick O'Reilly of County Cork

The dates on the headstone went back two generations.

I turned to Peter.

"What under the sun do you suppose led Patrick O'Reilly, of County Cork, into this Spanish settlement?"

With that wonderful Irish smile of his, he answered:

"What leads an Irishman anywhere? 'Twas a pair of flashing black eyes, to be sure."

He and I have talked about the gravestone a number of times since; it fascinated both of us. Finally, early this spring, while we were after trout in the northern part of California, it gave Peter Kyne the inspiration for the best novel he has written.

It's a novel which has to do with the days of the old ranches, the days of guitars in the moonlight, the days of beautiful Spanish women, and men gallant and brave. Also, it has to do very vitally with the California of today, and with a California question which is so far-reaching that it affects every man, woman and child in the United States.

The novel begins in the January issue of Cosmopolitan. I want every reader of Cosmopolitan to begin at the beginning, because, in the course of one of the most remarkably fine love-stories I ever read, I have learned more about one part of my country than I could have from any other source.
